Mr. Harry C. Borland and Miss Myra Reynolds were married December 24, at Polo, Pennsylvania. The bride is well known here as she is the daughter of C. E. Reynolds.

The creameries are complaining about the delay in shipping being very disastrous to their interests. They say that the Portland dealers are sending to California for their butter supply.

The steamer Elmore arrived Tuesday evening after a long delay. She was hailed with delight by those who had goods on her, the HEADLIGHT's paper was on board and came in time for this week's issue.

On Tuesday night the Odd Fellows installed their new officers, the names of which have been given heretofore. As D. D. Grand Master Fred E. was not present, the installation ceremonies were performed by Past Grand N. P. Roberts.

Dr. Gue is to deliver the new M. E. church at Nehalem next Sunday. According to program he was to speak at Bay City last night. His lecture Tuesday night on "Mistakes" was well worth hearing. He held the M. E. quarterly meeting here last Sunday.

Ben Perry keeps boats to let. He has several different kinds, and can fit you out with a light row boat, or a sail boat. He also has a hand-power stern wheeler which will carry a number of persons and make good time. Boats let by the day or week, at reasonable rates.

J. B. Pape, Robt. Hansen, James Hansen, Henry Shupp, W. Y. Thornburg, Nels Hansen, T. G. Moore, Felix Roy, Robt. Crawford and John Bolin, all of Nehalem, were in the city this week. Several of them were filing on land in 2 north 8 west, and some were taking out first citizens papers. Mr. Thornburg was here to get a saloon license.

The May Academy has been sold to the Catholics. The college will be conducted for a while the same as usual, Mrs. May remaining at the head of the school. The church will be moved from the lot in the south end of the town, to the academy grounds and other buildings will be erected there. A hospital will be erected in the eastern suburbs of the town also.

A deed dated in 1894, signed "John Latin," conveying the Latin place near Garibaldi to one S. Logan, has been sent to the Clerk's office for record. The deed is evidently a forgery as the signature is not in Latin's hand writing, and the name is spelled wrong, besides there are other evidences of forgery. The matter is likely to be investigated. Latin died in Portland last year.

Some of our democratic friends of the Eastern states (of the North) who went to Canada during the late war to keep from fighting against the South will probably go to Mexico in case we should conclude to invade Canada. The chivalrous Southerner will be on hand to do service for Uncle Sam now. Many will remember how numerous northern democrats stayed in Canada from 1861 to 1865 to escape the draft and who preferred Canada to fighting or paying substitutes to go to the front.

Mr. Sturgeon received some watches from a Chicago house this week which were in rather bad condition. Evidently they had been in a railroad wreck. Some gold cases, a nickel case, and some Bartlett works were washed into smithereens. They looked as if a car wheel had run over them. The outside box was not crushed and it is evident they were repacked on the way as the wrapper had different seals placed on it. It is supposed the Express Co. will make good the loss.

The steamer Truckee has reduced passenger rates, and is making favorable rates for freight. She runs direct between San Francisco and Tillamook every ten days, the weather permitting. Her accommodations for passengers are first class, and a good table is set for those who take transportation on that boat. Every attention is paid to the wants and conveniences of passengers. The rates now are $10 for cabin one way, or $18 for round trip. Second class fare is $7 one way. For further information call on or write to J. S. Kimball, 22 Market St., San Francisco, or to H. C. Thomas, Master, at Hobsonville. See advertisement next week.

The Advocate is not likely to appear any more owing to attachments for rent, suits for possession and other financial difficulties. It seems that the creditors here are getting impatient and the Portland firm that furnished supplies to the paper has not been paid for some time. Mr. A. W. Severance is trying to get possession, Mr. Handley doesn't seem to let go, and the Tillamook Lumbering Co. wants the rent for the building occupied by the Advocate. An effort is being made to issue the paper a few times, and it is not known if it will be successful. The Stoddards refuse to work and if the paper is issued it will be filled up with some plates and turned out to complete the publication of some legal notices. No doubt it will be taken by somebody and published during the coming campaign however, as some aspiring politician is likely to want an organ to boost himself into office. As a business investment, though, it is a failure. Its patronage has fallen off to nothing and it is hard to support two papers here even if both are managed well.

You just can't afford to do without it. This is no advertisement. Everybody almost in this county are dairymen, and few of them are taking a good dairy or creamery paper. The HEADLIGHT will publish articles from time to time from Hoad's Dairyman, but in making selections we do not know where to stop. We can't reproduce the whole journal, and can only advise you to get it—only $1 per year. It tells all about creameries, dairies, cheese factories, milk tests, various breeds of cows, best kinds of feed, latest kinds of appliances and machinery shows you how to test the milk of your own cows, and has advertisements of all the leading firms in the United States that furnish dairy machinery and supplies. You can't do without it. It will help every dairyman in this county, and we are all dairymen directly or indirectly. We want to see this paper taken here in order to see the industry developed. This is all. We offer clubbing rates, but would prefer that you send $1 direct to Hoad's Dairyman, Fort Atkinson, Wis. It will save us money and benefit you. Will try to show you sample copies, but somebody carries them away almost as fast as they come. See Joe Harrison, Bob Hays, J. D. Hecker, P. McIntosh, H. Rogers or some one who knows about the paper. An interesting resume of the dairy business of this region will appear in Hoad's Dairyman soon.

Selley Kellow has transferred forty acres of his farm on Three Rivers for a saloon in Sheridan.

We understand that M. C. Kellow has lost three sheep and seven hogs during the last year; some of the stock was and the others simply came up missing. He says he will give $20 for evidence leading to the conviction of any and all parties concerned in the affair.

Steelhead salmon are quite plentiful in Sand creek, coming this year earlier than usual.

English papers were disposed to sneer at America for our bold stand on the Monroe doctrine. They have found that there is no "jingoism" about it, and that the Americans will bitterly resist any encroachment on American soil. England might just as well know now as any other time that her power on this continent is on the wane. She must eventually give up Canada. It is hard, but it must go. She will not increase her domain here, but will gradually lose it.
