SALVATION IS FREE!!!

Those of you who have starved on the wind swept plains of Kansas, watched your crops wither and die for the want of moisture, and if they do live, see them eaten by grasshoppers or chinchbugs, saw your potatoes and gardens destroyed by gophers and prairie dogs—those of you who have faced the famine in Nebraska, burned corn to keep from freezing to death, fed your cattle nine months out of the year—those who have weathered the withering blasts of the Dakotas, had your ears and feet frozen off, shivered by a red hot stove or with the death dealing zephyrs when the thermometer marked 60 degrees below zero—those who have had the uncertain and changeable frosts of old Iowa and Minnesota, dug through snow banks to get to your house to your barnyard, or witnessed your buildings go up in a cyclone—those who have shaken with the on the Wabash, coughed your lungs out in Chicago, wrestled with yellow fever in Memphis, or sneezed yourself silly on the alkali plains of Texas—saw your buildings, household goods, and crops floating placidly down the swollen Mississippi, saw your fodder rot in the shock, the weevil taking your wheat and the devil getting your nearest relatives—those who have seen crops fail seven years in succession, passed through a "busted" oil boom in Pennsylvania, the devastations of war in the South, the strikes in New York city, or tried to eke out a living on the yellow clay hills of Vermont—those who have worked hard for years, yet poor, everything mortgaged but the old woman and children, and still living from hand to mouth—those who are backsliders, weary of well doing, and discouraged in trying to earn a living honestly—if all these and many other afflictions have been your lot, why, at one fell swoop end all your troubles by coming to Oregon, and to Tillamook, where you will find salvation from most of the evils of the world.

TILLAMOOK COUNTY.

Great Wealth of Timber—The Dairying Industry.

The following is taken from the New Year Oregonian:

Tillamook bay is 40 miles south of the Columbia and 500 miles north from San Francisco. The county is about 70 miles long, lying on the coast, and is 20 to 30 miles wide. There are four bays—Nehalem, Tillamook, Netarts and Necanicum—in the county. There are many fine rivers, generally navigable several miles, and five of them empty into Tillamook bay. These streams have fine water power and are excellent for floating logs. Many small creeks are good for water power or floating logs. There are several fine lakes on Nehalem beach. Springs of pure water are found everywhere. Tillamook bay is a good harbor and the others will be with proper improvement. Coasting schooners visit all of them.

The larger part of the county is hilly or mountainous, and covered with valuable timber. There are some fine prairies in the valleys, some open hill land, much excellent woodland and a great deal of bottom land, the last requiring clearing. There is coal in places, but the timber is the greatest resource.

Here is the most valuable belt of timber in the United States, cedar, fir, spruce and hemlock being the leading varieties. Some of these trees are 10 to 12 feet through, and 200 to 300 feet in height, straight as an arrow, free from limbs, clear and sound. The average fir tree is four to six feet in diameter, and no denser forest is known to exist. There is enough timber here to keep a hundred large sawmills sawing a hundred years. There are several large mills and several small ones in operation, but this industry has barely commenced. The sawmills alone will cause a good city to grow up here, and will support thousands of people.

There is much fine farming land, and farming and stockraising pays, but dairying is the leading industry at present. The best butter and cheese on the coast is made here. The climate, water and feed being suited for it. There are several large creameries, besides many small dairies, and the county, though new, takes the lead of the state in the dairying business. There is grass here the year around. Hay can be easily produced, and root crops are enormous, so cattle can be kept with little expense. Small fruits and vegetables of all kinds yield abundantly. Apples, pears, prunes and plums will, and cherries thrive in some localities. Bee-keeping is profitable, and the honey is of exquisite flavor.

The fishing interests here are great, and the salmon canneries give employment to many. The output of salmon—canned, dried or salted amounts to more than the wheat crop of some of the interior counties.

Gold-mining is carried on quite extensively on the beach sands.

The scenery is magnificent beyond description, and the Tillamook coast is becoming a popular summer resort. The beaches, with their picturesque arched rocks and wide stretches of white sand, attract many visitors each year, many of them camping out all summer. Clams, crabs, oysters, mussels, all kinds of shell fish, flounders, rock cod and other fish are plentiful and easy to secure. Spotted trout are abundant in the streams. Deer, elk, bear, grouse, ducks, geese, snipe and other are plentiful.

The climate is mild, cool in summer, warm in winter, little or no snow, seldom any ice, no droughts, no cyclones, thunder storms rarely occur, and there is very little fog. Strawberries frequently ripen in December and January, and cattle roam the hills all winter without being fed. There is absolutely no malaria or ague, seldom any fevers; diphtheria and scarlet fever never known here, and consumption or rheumatic, fare as well as anywhere. There is no stagnant water, and the invigorating sea breeze keeps the atmosphere purified.

The county is new, and has just begun to develop, but is making rapid strides in the way of improvement. Good roads are being built, industries are being started, towns are growing up, and a railroad is expected soon. The percentage of increase is greater than any other county in the state, according to the state census of 1890, there being now about 4000 people. This will be doubled before another five years.

There is room for more industrious citizens who have means. It is not a good place for a poor man with a large family, unless he has an iron nerve and a good constitution for work. There is much government land yet subject to entry, but it is far back in the hills covered with brush or timber. Yet there are courageous energetic people taking places there all the time, clearing them up, and making homes. Land is cheap yet.

Tillamook city, on an arm of Tillamook bay, is the principal town and county seat. It has stores, sawmills, banks, newspapers, creameries, an academy, good schools, churches and lodges. The streets are well improved, and the town has electric lights. The population is about 1000, and it is building up fast. There is a daily mail, daily stages to North Yamhill, and in the summer to Forest Grove, on the Southern Pacific railroad. A boat makes weekly trips to Astoria, and one every two weeks to San Francisco, both carrying freight and passengers. There is a telegraph line from Tillamook to the Willamette valley.

Nehalem, Woods, Bay City, Beaver, Dolphin and Garibaldi are ambitious places which anticipate much in the future.

The United States government is spending a few thousand dollars every year to improve Tillamook harbor. Fifteen thousand dollars was expended here this year, and we expect $25,000 next season, besides a few thousand dollars to complete a road to the light house.

The best time to come here is in July, August or September. The transportation facilities are better and more regular during these months.
