A GALA DAY

CELEBRATION OF WASH- INGTON'S BIRTHDAY.

Never has there been such a crowd in Tillamook city as there was last Saturday, the 22nd, celebrating the anniversary of the birth of George Washington.
No such show of patriotism has ever been made here before, even on the Fourth of July. The day was fine for an outdoor celebration, and the streets were thronged with people from morning until night, and general order was preserved throughout the whole proceedings.

At 1 o'clock the procession was formed in front of the Beals block, music being furnished by the Tillamook band, assisted by members of the Bay City band. The G. A. R. headed the procession, and they were followed by the A. P. A. In all there were 200 men in line, and about 150 school children, with the teachers, joined in the procession.
After marching up and down First street, the parade headed for the public school building.

There was music, patriotic songs, declamations, and speeches. A. W. Severance made an eloquent speech, and Hon.
T. B. Handley made a speech which had the true ring of patriotism. Rev.
Wilson, of Bay City, who is an interesting talker, gave an appropriate address, and in the course of his remarks paid a glowing compliment to the HEADLIGHT.
Mayor W. H. Reynolds, on behalf of the A. P. A., presented a large and beautiful flag to the school with proper ceremonies.

After the exercises were over the procession marched back to the main street and disbanded, after which the band gave an open air concert.

It seems that everybody, regardless of sect, creed, or party, vied with his neighbor in displaying the most patriotism.
Most of the business houses were profusely decorated with flags, and everybody was imbued with the spirit of loyal American citizens. The Catholic college had an immense flag unfurled to the breeze, and we understand they had appropriate patriotic ceremonies on the occasion.

NOTES.

The old soldiers are all somewhat grizzled with age, and many of them do not walk as spry as they did when they were marching with Sherman from Atlanta to the sea. It has now been 32 years since the war closed, and perhaps as many have fallen since the war as fell in battle. Their ranks are thinned, and they are getting fewer all the time.
They call each other boys yet, and many of them would be anxious to fight for their country again should occasion demand it.

People in the eastern and central states would hardly think it possible to have an outdoor celebration on the 22nd of February. However, it is possible here, and oftentimes an outdoor picnic could be held on the 1st of January. The day was pleasant here, warm enough to be comfortable, and no sweltering heat, such as has to be endured in summer picnics in the eastern states.

The A. P. A. was out in pretty full force, the majority of them being in the parade. Most of them seemed proud of it, however a few looked somewhat timid and ashamed, and a few did not show up in the procession, preferring to look on as spectators.

A good story, abounding in considerable truth, is told regarding the raising of the first flag on the school house in the morning. There was considerable rivalry as to who could show the most patriotism, and some prankish individuals swiped the flag from the steamer Garfield, and in the still hours of night hied to the school house, intending to run the flag up on the staff, and surprise the town with a flag floating on the school house early in the morning.

Not finding the halyards in reach they stealthily climbed to the belfry, risking their necks on rickety ladders, and in dark attics. On reaching the belfry they found the halyards out of reach. They started to descend, when, lo, and behold, one of the ladders was taken away! Another individual had come to put up a flag, with silent tread had entered the building and gone to the second story to put his flag on the halyards which, it was ascertained, were tied in at one of the windows on the second story. He heard whispers above, and took down the ladder, thinking perhaps he had caught some burglarious inclined night prowlers. After an explanation and a little coaxing by the would-be wags who were treed in the belfry, the party below agreed to put the ladder up, but in so doing it fell and broke. The men in the loft, however, had taken some precaution, and had carried the bell rope up with them, which they expected to use in case of an emergency. The rope was made fast and they slid down hand over hand to the second floor, and after an exchange of compliments, and easing off about 400 pounds of suppressed laughter both parties retired from the scene.
The G. A. R. flag was floating over the building in the morning, and soon various rumors and accounts were made.
Of course everybody denies any knowledge of the affair. Some people think nothing of the kind happened.

A large delegation of Bay City people were in attendance at the celebration.

Political Gossip.

Since publishing an article a week before last, several other candidates have been mentioned.

W. L. Brooks and Lester P. Smith are talked of for joint representative, and the name of Mr. Brooks is also mentioned for clerk. George Mizner of Oregon, is also spoken of as a candidate for clerk, as well as that of Myron Trowbridge.

It is said A. Arstill of Union, is a candidate for sheriff, and Frank Linville's friends are urging him to try for it.

L. Parish, of Miami, is spoken of favorably as a candidate for commissioner, and it is reported that P. D. Newell is an aspirant for the same place.

It is stated that Mayor W. H. Reynolds will probably get the nomination for J. P. in this precinct.

Among the populists J. W. Haskins, J. Hansen, G. R. Huff and Judge W. B.
Smith are talked of as likely candidates for various positions, and they expect to elect somebody this year.

The democrats think they have a fighting chance to elect the clerk or sheriff this year.

Notice.

I am representing C. F. Weber & Co for school supplies, and they are getting out a new map of the Pacific coast which will be in the market some time next week. It is now in the press and will be brought right down to date, geographically correct, well mounted, and in fact first class in every respect. Furthermore, the map will be sold at a reasonable price. They are also putting out a map of Oregon, according to a letter I have just received from the company. I am also representing the Home Mutual of San Francisco in insurance, and taking orders for the HEADLIGHT and collecting for the same.

Yours Very Respectfully,
J. S. STEPHENS.

In Justice to the Dog

Ed. HEADLIGHT:—I wish you would please correct a statement which appeared in your issue of February 13, in which you say a dog belonging to me killed some sheep belonging to Frank Norberg. My dog was caught in a trap by one of the dead sheep twenty-four hours after they were killed. No one saw him chasing the sheep, and I have never known him to run after them, consequently I deny that he killed the sheep and I trust that you will give this statement space. Respectfully, Woods, Ore. Feb. 14. Geo. G. MILES.

Harmony, harmony—yes harmony, let's have harmony if we have to fight for it, but let's have it without fighting if possible. This paper is ready to swallow some bitter pills and eat some tough crow for the sake of peace, but we expect the same spirit on the part of others. No use for us to get on our knees or offer to shake hands if you are not of the same disposition, and we shin't humble ourselves unless others will show a disposition to do the same.

The insurgents continue to close in Attention!

The date opposite your name printed on the margin of your paper or on the wrapper indicates the time your subscription expires, and you are invited to renew at that time. All papers sent to parties outside the county are promptly discontinued when their time expires and six months' arrearage is the limit within the county. In stopping your subscription, it is necessary first to pay all arrearages.

The foregoing shows the style of the addresses. The large figure six at the right indicates the year, that is 1896. A large seven at the right would indicate 1897, or a five would indicate 1895. The other figures denote the day of the month, and the month is indicated in small type. A cross mark in blue pencil indicates that you are away behind and should pay up.

soon occupy it with his hardware store.

O. Heins has received authority to organize an order here known as the Junior Brotherhood, and each member may take out a $500 insurance policy at very small cost.

Pardon us for mentioning it so often, but we can't well resist the temptation to tell how fast the HEADLIGHT subscription list is growing. It beats all previous records.

A lot of Tillamook butter, cheese, salt salmon and dried salmon, sent by the editor of this paper to his relatives and friends in Los Angeles, California, was highly appreciated there.

House moving is in order. Mr. A.
Letcher has his building in place next door to the P. O., and S. Hardman has bought J. Stewart's old house, moving it across the street on some heretofore vacant lots.

J. S. Stephens is authorized to take subscriptions, collect money and receipt for same for this paper. He is now in the south end of the county and any favors shown him will be appreciated by the proprietors of this paper.

The Weekly Oregonian is prospering in this vicinity. Six to ten subscriptions are sent through this office every week. If anyone who subscribes through this office doesn't get his paper within two weeks, notice should be given to us.

Did you ever notice the boys carrying the large basket of papers to the post office on Thursdays? Well, it is full of the "single list," papers in wrappers that go to regular HEADLIGHT subscribers outside this county, and the list is getting larger fast. It will soon be as large as the county list—more room to grow, you know.

In California butter is always pressed into 1½ pound rolls, and they sell as 2 pound rolls. Many people in Portland do not recognize this fact when they buy California butter, thinking they get it cheaper. By making Tillamook butter into 1½ pound rolls it can be sold readily at a profit in San Francisco.
Commission men there cannot use 2 lb. rolls, as they can get no more for it than for the short weight rolls, it being hard to make the California people understand the difference. The short weight scheme is a swindle, however, if Tillamook butter is put in competition with California butter it is necessary to make the same sized rolls.
