Richardson Sentinel, Lee Roberts Picket, and C. H. Hicks L. C. Hon. W. M. Ramsey, of McMinnville was recently married at Westerville, O., to Mrs. Julia Snyder. They will visit Niagara falls and all the principal cities of the east, stopping for some time at New Bedford, Mass., and Washington, D. C. An extensive trip through the south and California will follow, and they expect to reach their home at McMinnville about the last of June. Mrs. Snyder is a daughter of Dr. Johnson, formerly of this place. When the trial of Mrs. Mrs. May came up Tuesday morning the complaint was missing, and Messrs. Selph and Handley attorneys for the prosecution, had to ask for a postponement. Judge Mansby claims he lost that all important paper, but it looks rather queer that he should attempt to proceed with the trial without the complaint, knowing that such a proceeding would count for naught. We do not believe the prosecution was justified in the beginning, but that seemed a queer way to attempt to dispose of it. The board of health of Cincinnati, St. Louis and number of other cities are proceeding against men who supply milk for filthy dairies kept in the city limits. A great many enemies of filth and uncleanness are crowding to the front these days the filthy dairy farmer who cares not what condition his stable may be in, is going to be crowded out of all associated dairy work one of these days. Only those creameries which are supplied with milk from clean dairies will be able to hold the market under the competition to low prices. Only such milk will produce fine flavored butter.—Hoard's Dairyman. Stokes & Hughes have already expended $200 in putting the telegraph line up, and placing it directly on the road. It will be in better shape than ever, easier to keep up, and a good service is expected this year. Mr. Hughes and party are now this side of Illingworth's with the work and expect to have it clear through in a few days. They have been at work over ten days already. The line will be operated only as a telephone line at first, and all the time, if satisfactory to the patrons, but if not, the telegraph will be used. The rates will be as low as possible and the line should be liberally patronized. The office of the long distance phone will be at Tuttle & Cary local system switch board.

Jewelry and silverware at Sturgeon's. The Forest Grove stage arrived in good shape Wednesday. Those who are organizing the Woodmen's circle here will meet soon to perfect the organization. "Revenge on the academy, though it be necessary to cast suspicion on every young girl in town," seems to be the motto of a few who profess to be devout Christians. When a man packs a convention and selects his own choice on the ticket nearly all the way through he ought to stand by it and not swap nearly all off to save one or two. It is childish to hold a grudge against a fool or a crank, or to persecute them persistently. But a man cannot be blamed for harboring a permanent ill feeling against a man of sense who maliciously and continually remains an enemy. The Headlight man cannot hold a permanent grudge against the persons who are so actively condemning him at present. It has been reported that Mr. Barker had to send outside for a man to attend to the business of the treasurer's office. Mr. Barker informs us that the new man in the Tillamook Lumbering Co's office never has had anything to do with the treasurer's books, and is there only for the purpose of attending to the books of the Mill Co. of which Mr. Barker is one of the five directors. Mr. Barker is working for the republican ticket faithfully and deserves the support of the republicans. There will be deep sea fishing here in a few days if the weather should be favorable. The water is usual smooth on the south side of the cape in the summer, so the fishermen have no difficulty in getting out to sea with fish boats and returning again. There is a good deal of sport in these adventures but sometimes it is attended with a little danger. Fish of numerous kinds are quite plenty out a mile or two from shore and often takes a short time to catch a boat load or as many as are wanted. The varieties caught at this place are mostly of a good quality for salt water fish.—Ocean Wave. Summary of the trial:—State vs Carrie May for whipping Amelia Freeman; Prosecutors Selph and Handley, defense Thayer and May, trial before Judge Mansby; large crowd of boys and half-headed men in attendance, boys throwing paper wads at Judge when he went to sleep; farcical proceeding, bitter wrangles, a lot of young girls dragged into court and made to relate and listen to a lot of evidence that was anything but elevating. Result:—Strife, hatred, tarnished reputations, general turmoil in the community, shame for the town, and unsated revenge. Decision to be rendered tomorrow morning. The prosecution of Mrs. May is a very deplorable affair. Several young ladies have been dragged into court and many unpleasant things have been more fully aired to a large and eager audience. It is much worse for the girls and no good is obtained. We can't agree that corporal punishment is always justified, but the persistent manner in which this matter is followed up savors of persecution—an attempt to injure the academy. The same thing could have been done in the public schools, and no prosecutions would have been made—not so vigorous anyway. In this case it seems that some were not satisfied with Mr. Selph alone, and procured the services of Mr. Handley. Messrs. Selph and Handley of course are acting as attorneys, making the best they can of the case, but the fact is the complainants were urged into the prosecution by a faction who are actively stirring up trouble and strife in the community. That faction is willing to blacken the character of every girl in the academy in order to work their spite against the institution. The parents of these girls at a sober second thought, would have acted differently, if not influenced by others, and the attorneys could not well refuse their cases, for they would have gone elsewhere for attorneys. Parents might well reflect upon their own relations with their families before acting too hastily. As we write this the case is pending and not yet decided, but it matters little which way it is decided. A conviction will do the girls and their parents no good, and no harm to Mrs. May and the academy. It will survive it easily—in fact persecution will assist almost anything.

Subscribers Attention!

Remember that if you pay up all you owe and for a year in advance before June 1st, you will get the $1.00 rate on what you owe and for the coming year. New subscribers and all who wish to subscribe for another year can get this rate. All old subscribers are invited to renew at this rate. This does not apply to those who pay in produce. The rate on time or in wood or produce is $1.50 per year. When you club with some other paper we must have enough cash to pay for the other paper. The time is short now—only until June 1st, and we should like to see a great many big silver dollars rolling in. The time is nearing when about 200 of our subscriptions will expire, June 6th, and at that time the paper will be 8 years old. The 200 are the original subscribers who started with the paper and we shall be pleased to have them all call or send before June 1st and get the benefit of the $1.00 rate. The margin of profit at $1.00 is very small, but a dollar goes a long way nowadays, and we can use a number of them to good advantage. HEADLIGHT CO.

Orator.

Messrs. Brooks, Jackson, Stephens and Kiger met the people of Little Nestucca in the store building at the bay last week, and entertained them with pleasant remarks and good speeches. Even the ladies were present to prove that they take an interest in politics even if they are refused a voice.

Mr. Rogers left for the valley last week. Mrs. Nash accompanied him on her way to a visit to Minnesota.

Hobo.

Mr. Kirkendall and Jeff Wallace passed here last Thursday with a drove of cattle.

T. J. Owens arrived here several days ago from the Cascade mountains where he has been trapping the past winter.

L. C. Marsters sold his farm to Mr. Geo. Rhoades.

Mrs. Lorance has gone to Eastern Oregon where she has a herd of horses which she intends to bring back with her.

Don't think because you are sick and nothing seems to give you relief that you can't be cured.

There must be cure for you somewhere. If your doctor can't cure you, perhaps he has mistaken the cause. Anybody is liable to make a mistake sometimes.

One in three of us suffer from indigestion, and one out of three dyspeptics does not know it. That is, he may know he is sick, but he blames it to something else.

Indigestion is the cause of half of our dangerous diseases.

Shaker Digestive Cordial, made from tonic medicinal roots and herbs, is the most natural cure for indigestion. It relieves the symptoms and cures the disease gently, naturally, efficiently, giving fresh life, strength and health to sick dyspeptics.

Our Weekly Sermon.

DEARLY BELOVED:—We wish to call your attention this evening to a few passages of holy scripture. The good book teaches us in divers and sundry places that man should walk uprightly in his daily avocations and do unto others as he wishes to be done by. Now I beseech you that you all speak the same thing and that there be no divisions among ye, but that ye be perfectly joined together in the same mind and in the same judgment. For ye are yet carnal, and whereas there is among you envy, strife and divisions, are ye not carnal? Let brethren dwell together in peace and unity that harmony may prevail. Bear not false witness against thy neighbor. Thou hypocrite, first cast the beam out of thine own eye; and then shalt thou see clearly to cast the mote out of your brother's eye. (See St. Matthew, Chapter VII, Verse 5, Page 231.) O, ye perverse and uncircumcised generation! Meditate on these things, and give heed unto them. Beware of false prophets which come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ravening wolves. Open rebuke is better than secret love and those who may be chastised should profit thereby. The rod and reproof give wisdom, but a child left to himself bringeth his mother shame. O, ye of small faith, hearken unto me. Rejoiceth not in iniquity but in the truth. Take up a collection and we'll sing the Doxology.
