The English have just taken forcible possession of the Inyak Islands in Delagoa bay. But when Greece seeks to annex Crete, the inhabitants of which are clamoring for annexation, England joins the concert of powers, and helps to spill christian blood to prevent the consummation of the act.

People who have the bangle fad, and who are fond of nailing coins to the sidewalks etc., should take note of the fact that a law passed by the last congress makes the defacing of a gold or silver coin of the United States a penal offense and lays the offender liable to a fine of $2000, and five years in prison.

Rev. J. Q. A. Henry of Chicago says: "The devil writes all the scrofulous literature and edits putrid newspapers etc. And now it would be in order for the reputed editors of that class of newspapers to tender a vote of thanks to Mr. Henry, though it is hardly fair to the devil to thus hold him responsible for the sins of mortals."

Affairs in the Hawaiian Islands are rapidly coming to a crisis. The deportation of a number of Japanese who had come to the islands in violation of the immigration laws seems to have stirred up the hostility of Japan, and if our government expects to adhere to its policy of resisting all outside interference in the affairs of the islands a conflict with Japan may result. Grover Cleveland's anti-annexation policy is liable to bear some unwelcome and unpleasant fruit.

Late dispatches render it almost absolutely certain that war will soon be declared between Greece and Turkey. Should such be the case, the powers would be compelled to cease their interference, and allow the combatants to fight it out alone. What the result would be can not be foretold. In wealth, number of fighting men, equipments etc. Turkey is much the superior power, and the only show for Greece would lie in uprisings in her favor in Macedonia and other small countries or in a secret alliance with Russia which country would probably be glad to assist in any secret way in the dismemberment of the Turkish empire. The sympathies of the entire civilized world will be with Greece in the struggle.

The resolutions put forth at the recent session of the Populist State Central Committee, considered in the light of recent events form a very remarkable document. Amongst other things the committee congratulates the public on the fact that the initiative and optional referendum has been introduced into several legislatures and voted upon etc. That is much like a hunter congratulating himself upon having had a number of fine shots at game, but missed them all. In all the populist legislatures in which the initiative and referendum was voted on, save alone in South Dakota it was defeated; the populist themselves seeming to realize that for a republic as large as this the scheme was utterly chimerical. And how, after the recent Oregon legislative scandals the populists can still call themselves a reform party and at the same time "heartily indorse the action of their members in the attempted session of the legislature" is a thing that an honest man finds it hard indeed to understand when these self same members who are thus heartily indorsed admit that will they did what they did for a money consideration. It is our opinion that the resolutions will prove a boomerang that will return and knock the party in the head that launched them.

Some one during our absence left on our table a curiosity in the shape of a salmon head of which the nose is about two inches too short, the lower jaw protruding to that extent beyond the upper. The head does not show any scar, and the reason for the singular formation is not therefor apparent.

The reason given by the County Court for withholding from the HEADLIGHT official notices is that the Court was afraid that we would charge extra for publishing them. Since the Court was careful to see that we filed a written contract to do the whole of the County printing for an insignificant specified sum before the printing was awarded to us that excuse sounds exceedingly lame.

On Sugar Beet Culture

Mr. Editor of the Tillamook HEADLIGHT.

Dear Sir:
Having seen your remarks in the HEADLIGHT relating to the raising of sugar beets and flax in Tillamook County, and asking for some one's experience in the growth of those articles here, and having some experience I beg leave to reply to your request. Knowing that Mr. W. N. Vaughn raised sugar beets last year. I inquired of him what the quality of those beets were; he said "I raised 1 acre of sugar beets last year. Some were sowed broad-cast and some were planted in rows. Those in the rows grew as large as the mangel wurtzel." Mr. Vaughn says he is in favor of the sugar beet for cows. They all conclude that there is more milk material and nutriment in the sugar beet than in the rutabagas, or mangel wurtzels. For the space of 4 months some writers and the Editor of the Oregonian have been urging on the people of Oregon to "again" start in the business of raising the sugar beet and flax, till they have brought about a revival. Who have the lands on which those articles will grow? It is known to the writer, that the lands in Tillamook Co. on which we have raised good oats, wheat, corn, barley and clover, will raise good flax and sugar beets, for it has been done here; but owing to the scarcity of population and cleared lands at that time, enough of those articles could not be raised to pay for machinery to be put up to utilize them, and make it profitable.

About 1874, a Mr. Wilson living on Hoquart Prairie, on lands now owned by Sam Downs, planted and raised thereon, a fine field of flax. It exceeded his expectations so much in the amount of crop to the acre, and he not having machinery to work it, either for the seed, or fibre, he piled it in a stack, put a rough shanty around it, with a rough board roof over it, and on the ground.

A warm wet winter sweat rotted it, so that a large lot of it was only fit for manure. The writer of this article sees very plainly that the dairy business, like many other lines of business, is over run, till the supply of "Dairy made butter" is ten times more than the demand, on account of the higher class of creamery butter being now made in sufficient quantity to keep the Portland market well supplied with fresh butter at a fair price, while the "Poor Dairyman" must work early and late to fill his kegs of butter, send it to market and take just what the Portland Board of Commerce says it is worth. So while the creamery man gets from 15 to 25 cts per lb. for his butter, the dairy man is doing well if he gets 12 1/2 cts per lb. for his, and then pay all charges out of that. Is it, or is it not time to cast around and try some diversified farming that will pay us better, so that we can get a little more revenue, and be able to meet the Sheriff with a smiling face having the tax money in hand, instead of an aching void, and seeing our property sold for delinquency? By raising a class of crops that there is a demand for, and which we know can be raised in Tillamook Co. with little or no more expense to us than the keeping of a dairy, as it should be kept we can greatly improve ourselves and our County. Owing to the demand now for flax and sugar beets, if we could raise enough of either of them to start a small factory, the revenue according to what is published about them, will largely exceed what we get from butter making. Let the stock raisers and the dairy men of Tillamook Co look into this enterprise with the same energy and force that the people of the Willamette valley are doing now, and they will soon see that there is something to make a living at besides pulling cows teats, then driving with milk, through storm, mud and slush, to the creamery to find that one third of the butter fat has churned on the route, and is sticking to the sides of the cans. Where is the profits of their labor? The writer of this article has seen all of that part of the milk business transacted on a large scale.

Respectfully yours,
Capt. J. J. Dawson.

The Mount Lebanon Shakers have invented a great many valuable things. They were the first to make brooms by machinery; the first to put up seeds in little packages; the first to manufacture cut nails.
Now they are out with a method of curing Dyspepsia by resting the stomach. Their remedy is known as the Shaker Digestive Cordial. It supplies food in artificially digested form and at the same time aids the digestion of other foods in the stomach. In other words, by the use of the Shaker Digestive Cordial, a dyspeptic virtually gets along without the use of his stomach until it is restored to its natural strength and vigor. A single 10 cent bottle will oft-times give marked relief. Get a bottle from your druggist and try it.
Laxol is the best medicine for children. Doctors recommend it in place of Castor Oil.

Notice to Taxpayers.

The law requires that each male between the ages of 21 and 50 years living within the county shall pay a poll tax of one dollar ($1) at the time of assessment, and if not so paid, to be reported to the sheriff of the county, with added costs, for collection, at once. The law allows no exemption for poll tax, except to active members of the Oregon National Guard, and all active firemen who have been members of any company, for one year next preceding the time of assessment, and exempt firemen. That there may be no cause for complaint I ask that each person liable to poll tax be prepared to pay the same to the assessor, or his deputy, at the time of making the assessment. I ask the aid of every person in the county, that the law may be strictly complied with. Persons exempt will be required to show their certificate of exemption.
