After a dead-lock of nearly a month's duration the legislature, of Florida, has elected Stephen R. Mallory to succeed Senator Call. This year has been unusually prolific in dead-locks. Would that it been prolific in methods to avoid them. The only method that we can suggest that we could recommend as a specific is to take the election of United States Senator out of the hands of the legislatures and give it to the people.

It is hoped that President McKinley's forthcoming message on Cuban affairs may reflect something of the feeling of the American people. Not even in the most absolute monachy could the people and their rulers be farther apart than were the people of the United States and the last administration on the Cuban question. President McKinley has always been a man of the people, and it is to be hoped that in dealing with the Cuban question he will remember the wishes of those who elected him.

Every man with a particle of christian sympathy or humanity in his make up must be saddened by the disastrous failure of the Greeks in their war with Turkey. The latter country, the dispatches state, has now grown arrogant and almost defiant of "the powers," and demands the cession of the Greek fleet as an essential condition of peace. Whether or not "the powers" will give their consent to the despoiling of Greece by her bloodthirsty foe remains to be seen, but they may be depended on to do whatever self interest dictates.

Many republicans in both branches of Congress that are dissatisfied with portions of the amended Dingley tarriff bill, last week reported to the Senate, but they are not disposed to publicly criticise the bill because they feel confident that changes which will be made will remove most, if not all, of its objectionable features. The bill is to be taken by the Senate on the 18th, and pushed through that body as rapidly as possible. Many changes are likely to be made before it passes the Senate, and still more before it gets out of he Conferance Committee. No fears are felt that the bill will not be as good a measure as can possibly get through the Senate in the absence of a straight republican majority, when it finally goes to President McKinley for his signature.

Memorial Day

One week from next Sunday will be Memorial Day. We do not know what arrangements have been made for the celebration of the day, but we trust it is to be fittingly observed. The people of this country cannot afford to forget the sacrifices of those who preserved it for them one and undivided, and to devote one day of each year to their memory in the observance of appropriate exercises and strewing of flowers on the graves of the dead is the least we can possibly do to prove that we are not unmindful of them.

A Foolish Measure Beaten.

The failure of the arbitration treaty between England and the United States to pass the United States Senate is the cause of much shedding of tears amongst religious sentimentalists who saw in this treaty the inauguration of the millenium. But amongst hard headed men of affairs there is more joy than grief. The fact is, there was no need whatever of the treaty as there is not now any obstacle in the way of special arbitration of any question of difference between the two nations. There is considerable reason to doubt the sincerity of England in the matter anyway, as she was never before so diligent in the work of constructing fortifications along the southern Canada line as during the period in which this measure was pending. The tendency of the treaty would have been to lull the unsuspecting American people to sleep, and in case of trouble with Great Britain and the certain failure of that boasted arbitration we should have found ourselves face to face with military preparations on the part of our hereditary foe that could have resulted only disastrously to us.

Celebrate the 4th Of July

The action taken by the Hose Co. here to secure for this city a proper celebration of the anniversary of our birth as a nation is both timely and proper. And what the Hose Company did for Tillamook some one should do for every community of sufficient population to celebrate in the entire county. Nehalem, Netarts, Bay City, Beaver, Woods and perhaps other points should all have their celebrations, at which the people may not only amuse themselves but at which the fires of patriotism may be rekindled upon the altars of all true American hearts, and the young and rising generation especially taught to properly appreciate the glorious heritage bequeathed to us by the wisdom, sacrifices and suffering of our forefathers. In these days there is altogether too little of real patriotism and too much partisanship, too much grumbling and too little gratitude for what we have and are. Let us forget our partisan differences and predjudices and unite in celebration's that will be a credit to our county, and they cannot fail to have a salutary influence upon our people.

The Armor Plate Problem.

The naval armor question seems to be getting into a state of hopeless entanglement, and the proposal of Senator Chandler that the government shall forcibly seize the plant of the Bethlehem Iron Company and proceed to make its own armor plate therewith simply makes "confusion worse confounded." The law by which the government would be enabled to take possession of these works for the manufacture of war material is intended to cover cases of emergency in time of war but it has never been construed to give the government the same right in a period of profound peace such as the present. It is reassuring to learn that the bill is likely to receive very little, if any, support. Secretary Long's letter to Congress relative to the bids in answer to the department's advertisement of March 10th, states that the department did not feel justified in accepting or rejecting the bid of the Illinois Steel Company, and points out that the government is liable to incur heavy expense due to the delay in furnishing armor for the three battleships recently laid down if some steps are not immediately taken to procure the needed supply. The secretary closes by recommending that authority be given the department to make contracts at a price not exceeding $400 per ton, "the rate recommended by our predecessor." This figure was arrived at as being a just price after the question had been carefully investigated by a board of experts, and under the circumstances it looks as though the recommendation of Secretary Long was the easiest way out of the deadlock.—Scientific American.

If Mr. U'Ren is correct, and he ought to know, the Oregon populists who hold office are peculiar in their corruption practices. He says that the populist members of the legislature received from $50 to $80 apiece from the "enemies of Mitchell" (i e., Corbett) when Mitchell offered them from $2,000 to $5,000. As the fact that they took bribes at all, precludes them from claiming any consideration of honor, it is evident that they were idiots in not taking the larger amounts or that they lie in claiming that the larger amounts were offered.

—Corvallis Gazette.

Fortunes of war in Cuba.

The war in Cuba proceeds with varying fortunes for each side. The spaniards have recaptured Banes, the seaport, which had been for a few weeks past in the insergents hands. On the other hand, the insurgents appear to have been successful in a few recent skirmishes, and are making demonstrations in the neighborhood of Havana. The situation remains virtually the same as it has been for over a year past. Neither side gains any successes which count. Obviously, though, under such conditions, the government loses its prestige and the rebels gain. The one important fact which stands out with prominance is that Spain after two years of trial, has not put down the rebellion.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

According to the newswapers, an Ohio husband became the happy father of seven children not long ago. Of the seven all lived but one. It is hoped he laid in a good supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, the only sure cure for croup, whooping-cough, colds and coughs, and so insured his children against these diseases. For sale by S. J. Sturgeon.

"It is the best in the world."

That is what Edwards & Parker, merchants of Plain, Ga., say of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, for rheumatism, lame back, deep seated and muscular pains. Sold by S. J. Sturgeon.

The Best Remedy for Rheumatism.

From the Fairhaven (N. Y.) Register.

Mr. James Rowland of this village, states that for 25 years his wife has been a sufferer from rheumatism. A few nights ago she was in such pain that she was nearly crazy. She sent Mr. Rowland for the doctor, but he had read of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and instead of going for the physician he went to the store and secured a bottle of it His wife did not approve of his purchase at first, but nevertheless applied the Balm thoroughly, and in an hour's time was able to go to sleep She now applies it whenever she feels an ache or a pain, and finds that it always gives relief. He says that no medicine which she had ever used did as much good. The 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by S. J. Sturgeon.

Notice to Taxpayers.

The law requires that each male between the ages of 21 and 50 years living within the county shall pay a poll tax of one dollar ($1) at the time of assessment, and if not so paid, to be reported to the sheriff of the county, with added costs, for collection, at once. The law allows no exemption for poll tax, except to active members of the Oregon National Guard, and all active firemen who have been members of any company, for one year next preceding the time of assessment, and exempt firemen. That there may be no cause for complaint I ask that each person liable to poll tax be prepared to pay the same to the assessor, or his deputy, at the time of making the assessment. I ask the aid of every person in the county, that the law may be strictly complied with. Persons exempt will be required to show their certificate of exemption.

A drowning man would have little for a method of rescue which would require days. A dyspeptic doesn't want to bother with a remedy that is going to take weeks to show its beneficial effects. The Mount Lebanon Shaker are offering a product under the name of Shaker Digestive Cordial which yields immediate relief. The very first dose proves beneficial in most cases; and it is owing to their unbounded confidence, that they have put 10 cent sample bottles on the market. These can be had through any druggist; and it will repay the afflicted to invest the triffling sum necessary to make a trial.

The Shaker Digestive Cordial relieves by resting the stomach and aiding the digestion of food.

Laxol is the best medicine for children. Doctors recommend it in place of Caster Oil.
