HEADLIGHT X-RAYS

Dr. C. E. Hawke left on Wednesday for Portland to be absent for about a week.

"Skookum" took a notion into his head to take a walk over the city, on Tuesday evening. He was attended by his friends, the boys, who tied fire crackers to his tail and otherwise contributed to making him feel frisky. During his progress he was fed pigs feet, soup bones, wads of paper, bottles and bombs. He is now laid up for repairs.

Cohn and Co have just obtained a lease of the Hutchins property and will erect thereon in the near future a handsome store building to accommodate their large and rapidly increasing business.

Mrs. Wall and Mrs. J. K. Harris of Hingsworth, mother and sister of Mrs. Williams of Lamode Millinery Parlors spent the fourth of July with the latter in the city.

This community is considerably agitated over the rivalry between Dr. Wise and C. E. Reynolds for dental honors. In the absence of Dr. Wise it seems Mr Reynolds got hold of the doctors tools and with them clandestinely manufactured a set of teeth for "Skookum". The teeth were a great success and when "Skookum" smiled they showed off to great advantage. As Reynolds learned the business from the doctor the latter considered himself entitled to the fee and presented his bill but it was rejected by the committee.
