Egyptian tea for sale at Sturgeons. Diamond dyes all shades at Sturgeons. Hats at half price at La Mode Millinery Parlors. Forest Drugs put up by an experienced Pharmacist at Williams' Drug Co. Cohn & Co. want eggs and have advanced their price to 12 1/2 cts per dozen. Rev. Mr. Mills from Beaver was in town on Tuesday and made the HEADLIGHT office a very pleasant call. J. W. Jennings, of Bay City, made a pleasant call at the HEADLIGHT office on Monday this week. Rev. Mr. Morgan of the Wesleyan church will preach Sunday forenoon at the Methodist Episcopal church in this city.

An interesting communication from F. M. Lamb was crowded out of this week's issue for want of space. It will appear in our next. Dr. Tatom, of Sheridan, the painless extractor and dentist, will be in Tillamook Aug. 1, and remain for one week. See his ad in another column. Wonderful cough remedy, White Pine Expectorant at Williams' Drug store. Try a bottle. Al. Letcher and wife left Wednesday morning for a trip to California points on a visit to relatives. They will remain for several weeks.

The school directors for the Tillamook Public Schools have elected Prof. W. S. Walker, principal and Mrs. Newman, Miss Petrie and Miss Mann as teachers of the city schools for the ensuing year. On another page will be found the advertisement of Dr. Tatom of Sheridan, Oregon, the painless tooth extractor and dentist. He will be in Tillamook, Aug. 1st and remain for one week. Mr. Munson, of Nestocton, madethis office a call on Wednesday. Mr. Munson says things are looking fine over that way. Everybody is busy harvesting.

Claude Thayer, deputy district attorney for this county has resigned the position and Orr Nolan has been appointed in his stead. This county loses an able officer in the resignation of Mr. Thayer, but the position will doubtless be well filled by Mr. Nolan.

Following are the names of the guests now stopping at the Trask House, which is kept by our genial friend G. W. Grayson: Harry Gordon, Rob. Jennings, Chas. Sliter, Mr. W. Conner, Mrs. Connor, Portland; Mr. Magee, Santa Barbara, Cal. Mr. and Mrs. Galt and daughters, and Dr. Penton of Portland, Mrs. Hunsecker, McMinnville.

Among the professional cards this week is that of T. H. Goyno, Attorney at law. Mr. Goyno recently passed an excellent examination and has built an office opposite the court house in which he will at once enter upon the practice of his profession. Mr. Goyno is well known as a careful and conscientious man and business entrusted to his care will receive faithful attention. Miss Lydia Eynon, well known here for several years, died in Portland, Sunday night. She had gone there to be treated for cancer of the stomach and died during a surgical operation. The body was brought in on the Forest Grove stage and was buried Wednesday. Miss Eynon was a native of Pennsylvania. She came to the coast seven years ago and resided here during the greater part of the time. She was an estimable lady and highly respected.

The dry goods merchant was explaining the situation to the new drummer he had just employed. "Your predecessor," he said, "has gotten his business all tangled up, and if you take his place you will have a difficult task getting order out of chaos." "I don't know who Chaos is," cheerfully replied the drummer, "but I bet I'll sell him a bill of goods if I have to hang on to him a week. Sunday was a red letter day in the M. E. church here and at Bay City. Dr. Gue, the P. E. of this district held quarterly conference here in the morning, and at Bay City in the afternoon. Bishop Cranston, who with his son arrived here on Saturday evening, preached at Bay City Sunday morning and here at night. Large crowds attended all the series, and every one was delighted with the able sermons of the bishop and Dr. Gue. The meetings were very enjoyable to all who attended.

Get your prescriptions filled and family receipts compounded at Sturgeons.

We understand, through our friend Mr. Gordon, of Portland, who is now stopping at the Trask House, that fishing is fine in that part of the county.

Mrs. Reanne, of Detroit, Mich., is visiting her daughter Mrs. S. J. Sturgeon.

McIntosh & Townsend will pay 12 1/2 cts cash for dairy butter delivered at their factory at Tillamook.

Some one mischievously inclined stole "Skookum" from his stall in our barn one night this week and hung him to Lamb's flag pole. Either the boys who hung him up or the party who took him down broke the animal quite badly. We do not object to fun but we consider it simple darn meanness to wantonly destroy a thing - like that, which belonged more to the children of Tillamook than to any one else, as it was built at great pains and considerable expense for their amusement.

Tillamook Lodge of Odd Fellows had pleasant little social to which a few friends were invited, on Tuesday night. A large quantity of ice cream, strawberries and cake had been provided and everybody enjoyed the good things to the utmost. After supper Jeanie Jenkins, George and John Day, with violin, Mandolin and Guitar, provided most excellent music and a genuine old fashioned dance was kept up until midnight. Everybody danced and everybody had a good time.

Notice to Taxpayers Taxes in this county will positively become delinquent on July 31st 1897 and costs added, and all personal property not exempt will be levied upon and sold at once to satisfy said tax and costs. So please settle at once. J. H. Jackson Sheriff and Tax Collector.

Had Enough of Scenery. Charles H. Hoyt once journeyed to San Francisco with one of his own companies. Most of his companions got out very early one morning to have a look at the Rocky mountain scenery. Hoyt remained in his stateroom. One of the young women in her enthusiasm over the prospect ran excitedly to his door and thumped on it with vigor. "What's the row?" came from within. "Come out, Mr. Hoyt, come out and see the perfectly lovely scenery." "I don't want to see it," replied Hoyt. "I'm paying excess baggage now on a good deal of it. That's enough for me." -Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Emma Edward H. Sloan is at work for Geo. Neskowin. John S. Sloan has returned from Dallas with his health much improved. Dennis C. McNeil made a trip to Tillamook last week.

The recent rains have made the road to the valley almost impassible. Haying is the order of the day just now. Everybody at it. John Westerberger went out to the valley this week to do carpenter work. Joe Altenberger is out after a load of o' provisions for Wm. Grasshoff.

DIED. EYNON-In Portland, July 11th 1897, Miss Lydia Eynon, a native of England. Aged 59 years and 11 months.

Miss Jennie E. Smith our esteemed school teacher is making preparations for a gala day at the close of her term of school on the 23 inst.

Mrs. Lyons' health is very poorly this summer.

NETARTS

D. R. Harbut and son Leon left for San Francisco where he expects to spend a few days in the city.

F. W. Odell and family of Dayton Oregon, are spending a few days on the beach.

Fishing is good. Every one has a string of fish.

Monday and Tuesday mornings were the lowest tides at Netarts that there has been for a year.

The sawmill is running at full blast. They expect to have a cargo of lumber out soon, ready for shipment.

Sam Daley, our road supervisor is doing some splendid work on the Netarts and South Prairie road. Sam understands how to make good roads.

Haying is in full blast.

Mrs. Tuttle and two lady friends are taking in the sights at the head of the bay.

Quite a few campers are coming and going around the bay. Some take in Mr. Jackson's place; others go to Cape Lookout and the caves.

Quite a number of dead sea-lions in the bay and on the beach. That means more salmon for our fishermen.

Mrs. Dora Spraner, of Portland, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. West. She says that the Tillamook butter is getting the reputation of tasting somewhat fishy. Mr. West thinks that this is owing to the butter being placed too near salt or fresh fish for shipment. It should be carefully looked into.

BEAVER

Everybody is busy now harvesting.

On Thursday night of this week Rev. L. L. D. Bell is expected to commence a series of meetings to last over Sunday and on Sunday to have an all day Basket Dinner meeting at which time we hope to have the largest congregation that has ever met at Beaver, representing several different churches in this county. Rev. Bell holds his membership with the United Brethren in Christ. Come and bring your friends with you.

Mr. Pearce who has been holding services here for the past 10 days has, up to date baptized two. The majority of the people at Beaver seem to be in possession of that charity which beareth all things - hence no eggs were thrown.

Bay City

Mrs. Lem Parker goes East this week to make a visit to her old Michigan home.

Chas. Young returned from Astoria, but will remain here only a few days.

Fred Pye who is working at Wheeler and Himple's mill was quite seriously scalded last week by the bursting of a steam valve.

Robt. Watt has returned home and will remain until he recovers from his accident.

A number of Alder Camp of Tillamook attended Linn Camp at its last regular meeting.

Wm Reifenberg expects to start East Friday to make a visit to his mother.

Maurice Leach is increasing the force of workmen in his camp.

Birch Alderman has bought a half interest in Frank Severance's logging camp.

Rev. Gue favored us with a sermon Saturday evening after which quarterly conference was held.

Bishop Cranston honored Bay City with a visit Saturday A. M. preaching at 10:30 A. M. Rev. Corner and a goodly representation from Tillamook were in attendance. Those who were the fortunate possessors of "wheels" arrived in time to hear the Bishop, but those trusting to "boats" were only in time for the collection which was no small item as about $100.00 was raised to liquidate the remaining debt on the church building. We hope the Bishop will make us another visit now that he has found the way over the mountains.

Kellowsburg, July 11, 1897.

Editor HEADLIGHT: Perhaps a few items from our little village of tents might be of interest to your readers.

Mr. Royal & Son, the contractors for the bridge across Nestucca River at this point are here, the piling and false work are all delivered and the pile drive and hammer are here. Krebs Bros. have the lumber almost sawed and thirty thousand feet of it delivered above tide water and another raft the same size on the way. Mr. Royal has the most of his iron as far as the Grande Ronde store and it will be brought in as soon as the roads are passable. In a short time Tillamook County can boast of as fine a bridge as any of its size in the State. Mr. Bodysfelt is running his new mow-er day and night, and doing good work. Harrison Booth is running a crew of 7 men in his hay field. Harrison believes in making hay while the sun shines. He has erected a new smoke house. Thomas, George and Orrie Kellow are in their hay fields with a full crew of men. Steve Hill and Mr. Brawley are also busy haying. We can hear the hum of the mow-er in every direction. There are five tents at present in Ke'lowshurg and we expect four or five more in about two weeks. We did not get here in time to make any arrangements for the celebration of the fourth but we had a good time just the same, fishing and picking berries. The mountains are just covered with berries in this vicinity. G. T. SHAW.

Some Facts For Farmers.

In 1877 the average value of the hay crop in the United States was $8.60 per ton. The following year it dropped to $7.20, and in 1879, the year next ensuing, it jumped up to $9.32 per ton.

Again, in 1891, when this country was firmly on a gold basis, the average value of the hay crop was $8.40 per ton. In 1892 it fell to $6.73 per ton, and in 1893 it rose to $8.68 per ton. Last year the average value was $5.56 per ton.

Assuming that the fall in prices is due to the "crime of 1873," how are these fluctuations to be accounted for? Will some Bryanite explain also why it is that the average value of the hay crop per ton was greater in 1895, when we were on a gold basis, than it was in 1873, when gold was at a premium?

Hay has undoubtedly declined in price since 1873, but why should it not have done so? Apart from cheaper methods of production and cheaper rates of transportation, the annual hay crop increased from 25,085,100 tons in 1873 to 65,766,158 tons in 1895. Last year it amounted to about 47,000,000.

At the same time the number of horses in the United States increased only from 9,222,470 in 1873 to 15,898,318 in 1895. It is estimated that there are nearly 1,100,000 fewer horses in this country today than there were three years ago.

These plain facts and figures should not be hard to comprehend. Let the farmer study them before he allows himself to be hoodwinked by free silver demagogism.

An Object Lesson In Squashes.

Well, here I am, Maria! I'm back again, yer soon to be. That is, ez far as that's concerned, I'm back, what's left of me. The more I learn and more I see since all this talk began. Makes me the more inclined to be a Bryan silver man.

You know he sez in that thar speech I read to you last night. That produce hain't gone down a bit, but gold's up outer sight. Well, when I got to Louisville, at half past five o'clock, there wa'n't another man had squash but me on Pierce's dock.

I started in a-selling mine, ten cents apiece, I swar. And at that price I'd say that gold stood just about to par. 'Bout six o'clock three other teams came on the dock, by gosh. And every gal darned one of 'em was full of summer squash!

Well, then and there gold started up, and she began to rise. Five cents apiece for summer squash! I jumps right up and cries. By thunder, didn't gold go up as quick and slick as grass, For them thar fellers offered thers at just a cent apiece.

But still gold kept a-going up-a-kiting up she went. Till I sold out what I had left, two squashes, for a cent. You know darned well that squashes ain't apt to fluctuate. So Bryan's got the thing dead right-it's gold as sure as fate.

It stands to reason he is right when he sez it's because There's something out of kilter with them thar silver laws. So, darn the stuff, I'd full as lieve have old Bill Ketchum's note. And when election comes around Bill Bryan gets my vote.
