Charley Smith had intended going to Marshfield on the last trip of the steamer Harrison, but, having missed the boat, left for valley points via the Forest Grove stage.

Severance's mill, at Netarts, is busy cutting lumber at the rate of from 10,000 to 12,000 feet per day. A schooner is expected from San Francisco in about two weeks. It will carry away upwards of 150,000 feet of lumber.

Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Steinhilber and the Misses Lura and Mildred Emson of Yamhill have been camping on the beach for a week near the light house. They returned yesterday and report having had a delightful time.

Orr Nolan, deputy District Attorney went over to Sand Lake yesterday to try a couple of wife-beating cases. We do not know whether the parties charged with the offense are guilty or not but if so they should be given the full extent of the law. No one but a brute will raise his hand to strike a woman.

T. H. Goynne is now ready for business in his new office opposite the Court House and you may rest assured that any matters entrusted to his care will be well attended to. Besides his work as an attorney at law, he will draw deeds, mortgages etc., rent or sell houses and lands, or collect rents for you.

Quite an extraordinary clam was on exhibition at Cohn & Co.'s store on Tuesday. It was of the razor-shell variety, and the shell was about 6 inches in length. In the dish with the clam were two eggs about as large as quail eggs, of which Doc Linton avers, on the word of a scientific gentleman, the clam is the progenitor. The doctor's scientific lecture in connection with the exhibition of the animal was very interesting indeed, several of the gentlemen present, as the eloquent doctor dwelt on the maternal instincts of the clam, being moved almost to tears.

We publish in this issue the new ad of Nels Thompson our local furniture dealer and cabinet maker. Mr. Thompson carries a very nice line of goods and, what is more, sells away below the price you can find furniture here from Portland or San Francisco. In addition to this he has a finely equipped shop, in which he is able to manufacture any thing desired, to order. Read his ad, and when you want any thing in Mr. Thompson's line, give him a call.

Judge Sappington informs us that there are two bands of China pheasants on his place, and he desires to have them left alone. The original birds from which these are descended were turned loose about two years ago, and now it seems that instead of having perished as was supposed, they have done well, and laid the foundation for a fine supply of this toothsome game-bird. Any one shooting any of these birds will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

If you are in need of dental work don't forget that Dr. Wise is now at his office ready to attend to any work in his line. If you need false teeth, either a few or a full set, the doctor is ready to make them in the best style of the art. The editor of this paper has had work done by several dentists, eminent in their profession, but never by any that gave such excellent satisfaction as the work done Dr. Wise. Try him for bridge work, and you will see why we speak so highly of his work.

The case of the Firemen's Fund Insurance Co., vs William Olsen came up before a Sheriff's Jury last Saturday. The ostensible object in view was to decide the ownership of a box of candles, which had been taken in charge by the sheriff under a writ of attachment. Plaintiff was represented by Messrs. Thayer, Hambley, and May, and Louis Olsen, claimant of the property by B. L. Eddy. The box of candles was taken from Louis Olsen's store and was claimed by him. The trial occupied the greater part of the day. The Jury brought in a verdict for Louis Olsen as being the owner of the property aforesaid.

Mr. Pearce, one of the proprietors of the North Yamhill Record is rusticiating in Tillamook County and made this office a call on Wednesday. Mr. Pearce came awheel over the Trask Toll Road. He is much pleased and agreeably surprised over what he has seen here. Tillamook is much more of a place than he had supposed.

People who own fruit and berry orchards are complaining that a lot of boys are stealing and carrying away their fruit. It is perhaps unnecessary to remind these youngsters that in thus stealing the property of other people, they are laying themselves liable to the law and that should they continue their depredations they will probably have a taste of it. There comes a time occasionally when forbearance ceases to be a virtue and the people above referred to, think that time has come so far as regards the depredations of the boys referred to. The boys are all well known.

Mrs. Walker's Death.

This community was greatly pained on Tuesday to hear of the death of Mrs. Elva C. Walker the estimable wife of our efficient County Superintendent of Schools. Mrs. Walker had been ill for several months and at one time her life had been despaired of but the last few days had brought an apparent improvement and death came unexpected. The disease of which Mrs. Walker died is known in Medical books as "Cholelithiasis," commonly known as "Gall Stones" and when once firmly seated is practically incurable. The deceased suffered from the disease for upwards of eight years. Mrs. Walker's maiden name was Clay. She was born near Painesville Ohio Aug 10 1851 and was one of seven children. During her early girlhood the family moved west, residing for a time in Chicago where she received an excellent education in the high schools of that city. Later on the family moved to Hillsdale Michigan. It was at that place that on Aug. 10, 1881 she was married to Mr. G. A. Walker the devoted husband who with his three children remains to mourn her loss. Early in life Mrs. Walker entered upon her chosen profession of teaching and at the time of her marriage had already achieved most flattering success. After her marriage she continued almost uninterruptedly in her work, and at the time of her death she had few equals as a primary department teacher in the State. Mrs. Walker was a woman of marked intelligence. She possessed a strong, well stored mind and had both the ability and courage to think for herself; consequently she was, while not a visionary theorist yet an advanced thinker on all subjects, with whom it was a pleasure to talk and associate—not a new woman by any means but an intelligent affectionate wife and mother with but one object in life and that to render her life a blessing to others. The funeral took place from the family residence on Wednesday afternoon, Rev. Corner of the M. E. Church officiating. The remains were buried in the Cemetery near town. Mr. Walker and his children have the profound sympathy of all in their affliction.

Pianos and Organs.

The Wiley B. Allen Co., of Portland, have shipped to Tillamook a fine stock of pianos and organs, which they are going to sell at the very lowest prices and on easy terms. Here is a chance to buy a first-class piano or organ, fully guaranteed, direct from the oldest and largest music house in the northwest, and at much lower prices than can be given by any one else. Mr. Frank Anrys, of the Wiley B. Allen Co., is here to sell these goods, but as he has but a short time to stay, big inducements will be given to make quick sales. Old instruments will be taken in part payment of new ones. Call at Williams' drug store to see the instruments and get prices.

Town Council Notes.

A regular meeting of the Common Council, of Tillamook City, was held at the City Hall on Monday evening, all being present.

The Recorder's report for the first half of the current year was read. It showed cash receipts from all sources to be $869 50, expenditures by warrants drawn $771.69, balance on hand $91.81.

The report showed the amount of City Taxes in the hands of the county treasurer derived from the 2 mill levy for general purposes and the 2 mill road tax to amount to $102.02, one half of which belongs to the road fund.

The City Attorney was ordered to draw up an ordinance to regulate the licensing of all trades, callings and employments. It was found necessary to do this in order to obtain funds whereby to meet the city's expenses. Considerable discussion was had on this subject, and the general opinion was that no favoritism should be shown, but a general and reasonable license fee be made.

Bills were allowed and warrants ordered drawn to the amount of $108.45.

Wedding Bells.

Sunday's Oregonian contains the announcement on Wednesday evening, July 14, of Dr. C. E. Hawke of this city to Miss Olive V. McBride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. McBride of 87, E 27th street, Portland, Oregon. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Chas. E. Locke, pastor of the Taylor Street M. E. Church. Mr. and Mrs. Hawke left on the following day for Harrisburg, Ore., where they remained for a few days and then returned to Portland and from that place started for Tillamook where they expect to arrive this evening. Dr. Hawke is one of our best known young professional men and deservedly popular. Miss McBride comes of one of the best families of Portland and has ever been a great social favorite, highly esteemed for her many good qualities of mind and heart. The doctor and his estimable bride will find many friends here to wish them long lives, replete with joy and gladness. The HEADLIGHT extends the usual congratulations.

GENERAL NEWS.

The mining excitement related to the Clondyke district is on the increase. One hundred men took passage yesterday for the new gold fields on the A1-Ki. Other vessels that are expected to sail in the near future have their passenger accommodations all engaged. It is estimated that over 2,000 men will leave New York, alone during the season for the mines. There is no denying that the new find is extraordinarily rich but unless one is well provided with funds and provisions he will do well to remain at home.

SAN MATEO, Cal. July 17.—Colonel C. F. Crocker, first vice-president of the Southern Pacific, stricken with apoplexy and paralysis at his dinner table eight days ago, died this evening.

Antone Pfanner, the Forest Grove banker, whose mysterious disappearance some weeks ago led to the circulation of numerous rumors regarding his absence, is now at the home of his sister, Mrs. Leopold Huff, living at Woodland, Wash. Pfanner left Forest Grove on June 10th, enroute to Portland, and then mysteriously disappeared. One month later he was found by his brother-in-law in a Victoria B. C. hospital, mentally unbalanced and suffering severely from nervous prostration.

T. H. Adams, a well known merchant of Forest Grove, while on a business trip to Kalama, learned that Pfanner had been taken to the home of his sister at Woodland, and, desiring to see him, visited him at that place on Thursday. Mr. Adams, on returning to Portland Friday, stated that he found Pfanner in a state of nervous prostration, and bearing all the evidence of having passed through terrible suffering.

While Mr. Pfanner is not considered in a dangerous condition, it may be some time before he will be able to return to Forest Grove and face his creditors.

FISH LIAR'S CLUB.

While "Pull for the Shore" made them frantic to bite before the boats left them. One fellow played "A Hundred fathoms Deep" and forthwith they had to let out more line. One venturesome ens played "In the North Sea Lived a Whale" and forthwith there rose from the depths a monster whale, which, with cavernous mouth, approached the boat, and the boat, camp and all disappeared.

A dead silence succeeded. Not a leaf stirred, not a man stirred until Brother Billymartin got up to tell his eagle story. A dispute at once arose as to whether or not an eagle was a fish, and pending the investigation the club adjourned, sine die.

A Life Saved.
A FOND DAUGHTER WAS NIGH TO DEATH.
Frank B. Trout Tells a Reporter of How His Daughter's Life Was Saved. All Parents Should be Interested in This Narrative.

Using as a nucleus for his investigation the rumor that the life of the daughter of Frank B. Trout, well known in Detroit, Mich., real estate circles, had been saved, a reporter called on Mr. Trout at his office, 103 Griswold Avenue. Mr. Trout showed some hesitancy in giving his opinion for publication, but finally said: "Circumstances and a father's love for his child forced me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, but not until the whole medical profession had exhausted their skill. At the age of fourteen we had to take our daughter from school owing to her health. Before this she had been in the best of health, happy and in the best of spirits. She began to fall away and became pale and languid. She was so weak that she would fall down in a faint every time she tried to walk unsupported. The best of physicians attended her, but she continued to grow weaker and seemed to be gradually failing away."
"When she was fifteen she weighed only ninety pounds, and the doctors said it was anemic. Several physicians said she might outgrow it, but that it would no doubt terminate in consumption. No doctor we had could help her, and we concluded ourselves, we must lose our child, as she was growing weaker every day."
"We had tried all the well-known remedies, and finally about a year ago I bought a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and took them home. That day I had read of a case about the same as my daughter's, and decided to give them a trial, though I must confess I did not have much faith. Before she had taken all of the first box we noticed a change for the better. She, however, gained strength daily and looked brighter. Every one noticed the change, and I bought two more boxes for her."
"When she had taken two boxes she was strong enough to leave her bed, and in less than six months was something like herself. To-day she is entirely cured, and is a big, strong, healthy girl, weighing 130 pounds, and has never had a sick day since."
"I do not think she uses them now, though I always keep them in the house. My wife and I have recommended them to our neighbors, and sent a few to another young girl who seems to be in the same condition as my daughter. Had not Dr. Williams' Pink Pills saved my daughter's life, I would not recommend them to any one. I know they do all and more than is claimed for them, and I am glad to recommend them to the world. I know Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People saved my daughter's life, and that is enough for me."
F. B. TROUT.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this fourth day of March, 1897.
ROBERT E. HULL, JR., Notary Public, Wayne County, Michigan.

Dental Notice.
I wish to give notice to my patrons that I will be at my Tillamook office until Aug. 1st, and from Aug. 1st to Aug. 20th at my Nehalem office. From Aug. 20th, here again to remain as long as I am kept busy. From this date on I am going to adopt a strictly cash basis in my practice. I will give extra inducements in the way of prices for work to induce people to settle up at once either by cash, orders, produce or any thing that I can use to pay my bills. Those knowing themselves indebted to me will please call and settle as I need money, and to close all accounts.
Yours Truly
W. A. Wise.
