If you have a nice little property in Tillamook County be sure that you can better yourself before you sell out and leave. You may strike it rich in Klondike but it is nineteen to one that you dont. You may like it in California but when the hot summers come with their heat and drought and dust and discomfort you may rue the day in which you made the change. Tillamook County isn't paradise, but if you have a good living here for comparatively little exertion, you had better think twice before you leave it.

Nothing is more sad than the case in which popocratic orators find themselves, nowadays. If there was any one stock argument that the average popocrat had committed to memory better than another it was the argument relating to the decline of wheat and silver being co-ordinate and co-extensive "Cheap silver, cheap wheat- dear silver, dear wheat" was the campaign howl of 96. Alas! the stern logic of facts has knocked the argument out. Wheat is going up and silver is plunging downward. The silver in a Mexican dollar is now down to 43 cents while wheat is up to 83½ cents and still rising. In addition to other misfortunes of the pops, comes the certain fact of prosperity manifested in every possible way. Surely the occupation of the calamity howler is gone for good and he will either have to seek new pastures or go to work like other people and share in the general prosperity whether he is willing or not.

The gold hunters who are rushing off to the Klondike, number among them nearly all classes of people except those who have been there and got out alive. They do not seem to be rushing back there, not at this season of the year at least.—Albany Herald.

Since the barb wire fence is being utilized for telephone work it ought to command more respect than it has in the past. The Heppner telephone company has a barb wire service into Lexington, a distance of twenty miles, and it is said to be giving excellent satisfaction. In barb wire districts talking ought to be cheap between the farmers of a neighborhood. The world is moving.—Newberg Graphic

The latest political mention is that D. P. Thompson is spoken of as candidate for governor on a free silver ticket with H. R. Kincaid for secretary of state on the same ticket as running mate. Only a few short years ago D. P. Thompson when running on the republican ticket for governor was howled down as a "plutocrat" and a blood sucking "monopolist." It will make an interesting picture to see these same fellows during the next campaign, as they fall on D. P's neck and weep. —Ex

A banker sauntering home for his dinner saw a $10 bill lying on the curbstone. Of course he picked it up and took the numbers in order to find the owner. While at home, his wife remarked that the butcher had sent in a bill for meat amounting to $10. The only money he had with him was the bill which he had found, which he gave to her and she paid the butcher. The butcher paid it to a farmer for a calf and the farmer paid it to the merchant who in turn paid it to the washerwoman; and she, owing the banker a note of $10 went to the banker and paid her note. The banker recognized the bill as the one he had found, and which up to that time had settled $50 of debt. On a more careful examination he found the bill was counterfeit. Now will some of our financial friends tellus what had been lost in this transaction and by whom, if anything?—Brighton (Iowa) Enterprise.

The St. Louis convention which met and adjourned over a year ago declared in its platform that the civil service law was placed on the statute books by the Republican party and the party renewed its "repeated declarations that it should be thoroughly and honestly enforced and extended wherever practicable." President McKinley evidently took this platform and the seven million people who supported it at their word, and because of this declaration took the first opportunity to amend the civil service law by his recent order, which prohibits the removal of faithful men and woman without special charges and an opportunity to answer them. This action, while it distresses some who had hoped that positions might be opened to them by removals, is generally commended by the leading men and newspapers of the country.

The number of men who come home disappointed, disgusted and broken from the Klondike mining region in a few months will be in exact proportion to the number who rush thither this fall expecting to acquire fabulous wealth for the mere taking. The rush to California in a past era involved relatively little hardship, as the climate was mild, and the discovery of gold was preceded for many years by such cultivation of a generous soil as made food a possibility. Yet tales of hunger, destitution and despair have come down to us from that time, which prove that the rush of unprepared thousands to a region where primitive conditions exist and no accounnt is taken of a possible emergency is followed by starvation and suffering. Warning in such cases is, however, futile as is exhortation to courage and magnanimity in a case where a mass of human being is struggling for exit from a burning building. In the one case the crowd is determined to get in; in the other it is determined to get out; and counsels to reason exhortatons to courage fall alike upon unhearkening ears.—Oregonian.

"Bradstreets," which is recognized as a most conservative publication, summarizes the business situation:

"1. That the crops are good.

2 That the prices of wheat and cotton has so greatly advanced as to pour scores of millions of dollars into the laps of the farmers, while the prices of other staples have advanced in sympathy with these.

3. That short crops in Europe, India, and Argentina assure a continuance of these high prices during the market season.

4. That merchants everywhere are replenishing their stocks of goods as they have not done for several years past.

5. That in consequence railroad earnings everywhere show improvement.

6. That there are already signs of revival in industry, the manufacturers beginning to anticipate the new demand for goods.

7. That our exports for the last year have been so enormously in excess of our imports as to make us very heavily a creditor nation—a condition that does not guarantee prosperity but tends strongly to help it.

8. That there is everywhere among the farmers a feeling of hopefulness which has not existed for several years past."
