

THEIR JOINT DEBATE.

Captain Johnson Was No Orator, but Got There Just the Same.

Before the war Captain Jefferson Johnson was one of the representative citizens of Marion county, Mo., a man of wealth and influence, but little learning. He decided that he would like to go to the legislature. There was no Republican party in Marion county then, and usually a number of Democrats ran against each other independently. In this canvass Captain Johnson was opposed by a man named Graham, who had recently come from Pennsylvania. Graham was a schoolmaster and a man of unusual learning for those times. He was also a ready and forcible talker and entered the race against Captain Johnson, whose education did not extend much beyond ability to write his name, with confidence of an easy victory.

The campaign was scarcely under way before Graham proposed a joint debate. When this proposition was carried to Captain Johnson, he hesitated. Captain Johnson was not exactly certain in his own mind just what a debate was, but his friends assured him that he could not well decline his opponent's offer.

"All right," said Johnson in his easy, good natured way. "I don't know much about debating, but if I other fellow kin do it I reckon I kin too."

So the debate was arranged. It was to open at a big barbecue and picnic at Lige Jones', on the edge of Lane's Prairie. The day arrived and with it about half the population of the county. Graham went to Captain Johnson and intimated that he would like to open and close the debate. Johnson assented.

"You're welcome to take first whirl at it," he said. "I guess I kin make out with what's left."

It was agreed that Graham was to have an hour to open and half an hour to rejoin, while Johnson was to speak for an hour and a half without interruption. The people assembled about the stand to hear the flow of oratory. Graham made a splendid speech, full of good arguments and humor. When his time was up, he sat down, feeling that he was already elected. Then Captain Johnson rose.

"I don't know 'zactly what I'm expected to do," he said. "But as Mr. Graham has made you a speech, an a mighty fine one, I guess I'll do something else. So I've made up my min ter let him do the speakin in this here debate an I'll do the trottin. If you fellers'll jst go over thar behind that clump o' bushes, you'll find my wagon, an in it you'll find a kog of no line apple brandy as you ever tasted. Take the tin cup off the hook an help yer-selves."

And Johnson sat down. The voters drunk and ate at his expense for the hour he was supposed to have spoken, and when the time came for Graham's rejoinder it was discovered that he had left the grounds. It is almost unnecessary to add that Captain Johnson was elected by an enormous majority.—St. Louis Republic.

"Old Hoss" Hoey's Grim Joke. William J. Scanlan, the Irish comedian, and "Old Hoss" Hoey, both victims of paresis, wore warm personal friends, and since the latter's death it is recalled that on one occasion several years ago he started to say one afternoon by wearing a hat of erp on his arm and telling his theatrical acquaintances that Scanlan was dead. When Scanlan heard of this, as he did within an hour, he was very much astonished and furiously angry. He lost no time in finding Hoey and demanding an explanation.

A Child's Recovery

FROM PARALYSIS AND SIX YEARS OF CONVULSIONS.

Little Fannie Adams, of Umatilla, Cured of a Dreadful Malady A Cure of Unusual Interest—A Reporter Investigates.

From the Lake Region, Exalt, Fla.

For some time past the Lake Region has been receiving reports from Umatilla, Fla., of an almost miraculous cure that had been effected in the case of Fannie Adams, a daughter of A. J. Adams, of that place, and last Saturday a representative of this paper made a trip to Umatilla for the purpose of determining the authenticity of the same. The family live a short distance from the village, where it was found that the people were cognizant of the cure which had been effected, and were rejoicing with the family in their new found happiness. The father, A. J. Adams, is a hard-working honest farmer from east Tennessee, and the family came to Florida four years ago in the hope that a change of climate would be of benefit to their afflicted child. Much of their earnings have gone for doctors' bills, whose services proved unavailing. The representative was greeted by Mrs. Adams, from whom he gained the story of her great trial.

Fannie, the youngest child, was born in east Tennessee, and was seven years old on the third day of February, 1897. When ten months old she was stricken with paralysis, which affected the entire left side. This stroke of paralysis was followed by convulsions, and from the time little Fannie was ten months old until February, 1897, there was not a single day or a night that she did not have spasms of the most distressing nature. Not a single convulsion, but always three or four, and sometimes as high as ten in one day.

The family was all broken down with care, and Mrs. Adams states that for one year she did not go into her kitchen to superintend her household work. All the fingers of the right hand of the little girl are enlarged and misshapen, caused by her hitting them during the fearful sufferings, and she baffled the skill of the best physicians, and they were frank to say that they could not determine the cause, or prescribe a remedy to aid the afflicted child.

But what a change now in that household! For little Fannie has recently been released from her six years of agony, which brings the light of happiness to the faces of the parents. In January, this year, Mrs. Adams, who had purchased some of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People for her fourteen year old daughter, determined to try their effect upon little Fannie. After three or four doses, she noted an improvement and she then told the father what she had done. He at once went to the village and bought another box, and up to this time six boxes have been used. The first pills, Mrs. Adams states, were given in January, the latter part, and certainly not earlier than the fifteenth or twentieth, and the child had her last convulsion on February 2d, nearly three months ago. Her general condition has improved in every way, and it was not a month after the first pills were taken when she began to walk without assistance.

The pills were bought at the drug store of Dr. Shelton, in Umatilla. In answer to the question, did he, to his personal knowledge, know that the remedy had benefited Fannie Adams, as was stated by her parents, the doctor said that he was a regular practicing physician, and as such was loth to recommend any proprietary medicine, but still he knew that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People had benefited Fannie Adams, and he volunteered the information that he knew of other children in the village who had been benefited by their use.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are sold by all dealers, or will be sent post paid on receipt of price, 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 (they are never sold in bulk, or by the 100) by addressing Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.
