HEADLIGHT X-RAYS

Frank Norberg is making arrangements to go to Alaska.

Mr. F. L. Owens of Hebo won the 24 piece silver set at Letchers.

Mrs. Sturgeon carries a full line of children's hosiery and underwear.

Wood Alderman has just been placed on the police force at Portland, Oregon. He was appointed Sat. Jan. 8th.

The County Clerk desires the clerks of the different school districts to file their certificates of tax levied, on or before Feb. 1st. Clerks will please bear this in mind.

Several meetings of the school directors were held this week, one on Monday evening and one on Wednesday afternoon. M. W. Harrison resigned as a director. The former corps of teachers was re-elected. It was decided to reopen the schools on Monday.

Ocean Wave Lodge No. 7 D. of H. elected the following officers for 1898: C. of H., Edith Tuttle; L. of H., M. F. Draw; Recorder, A. W. Severance; Receiver, Mrs. A. W. Severance; Financier, Mrs. E. Alderman; L. N., Mrs. Rogers; O. W., H. H. Alderman; J. W., A. A. Ford.

Town was quite lively last Friday evening, with an entertainment at the Opera House, a dance at the Allen House hall and a Focscope exhibition. If opposition is the life of trade, things ought to be booming in the show business in Tillamook.

The grand ball given by Coas, Peterson and Warren Wade, at the Opera house last night, was a very pleasant affair. Owing to the storm the attendance was not as large as it would have been otherwise. The music was furnished by Miner and Jenkins. The supper given at the Alderman Hotel, by Mr. and Mrs. Allen was, like all meals at that excellent hotel, strictly first class.

Alex McNair was so unfortunate, about a week ago, as to be thrown from his cart and suffer quite serious injury to his right shoulder. He was driving along the road between Tillamook and Hobsonville, at an early hour in the morning, before daylight. The cart struck a stump by the side of the road and tilted enough to spill Mr. McNair out, throwing him with such violence as to dislocate his shoulder.

Parties desiring the Oregonian and HEADLIGHT will do well to subscribe at once. From now until February 1st, the price for both papers is only $1.30. THE HEADLIGHT.

Chickens wanted at the Tillamook Fish Market.

Ben Higginbotham is out in the country buying cattle.

The schooner, Volante, was towed to sea on Tuesday.

The tug Maggie while crossing the bar on Tuesday, encountered a huge breaker which came aboard and smashed the pilot house very badly.

A new advertisement for the Tillamook Fish Market, will appear in our next issue.

At the school election held on Monday of this week, Claude Thayer was elected to fill out the unexpired term of M. W. Harrison as director. A 10 mill tax was voted.

The general proprietor of the Olive Bowling Alley took out a license today to marry Miss J. C. Moreland. Though the wedding has not yet taken place, the HEADLIGHT ventures to assume it will, and hastens to congratulate the happy pair.

Star Lodge No. 76 A. O. U. W. installed the following officers for the year: P. M. W., J. E. Tuttle; M. W., Theo. Steinbilber; Foreman, F. N. Wilson; O. J. H. Mapes; Receiver, J. A. Mource; Financier, A. Letcher; Recorder, C. N. Drew; Guide, M. Perkins; I. W., T. J. Bowles; O. W., H. H. Alderman.

He now is privileged to contract with employers and receive his wages in like manner as if he had reached his majority. In consideration of this I am in no wise responsible for his contracts or agreements, implied or otherwise to pay money. Frank Doughty.

A Murderous Assault.

A most brutal assault was committed on Monday evening, by John Noline on C. C. Chipman. At about eight o'clock, Mr. Chipman was seated at a table in Bruin Bros. saloon, conversing with some friends. Noline, who had been in the saloon for about half an hour with a roll wrapped up in paper under his arm, approached Mr. Chipman from behind and before he could be prevented, struck Mr. Chipman a violent blow on the side of the head. When Mr. Chipman was struck his head fell forward on the table. Noline aimed another blow at Chipman's head, but was caught by Wm. Eberman, and the blow struck Chipman on the shoulder. Noline finding that he could inflict no further injury on Chipman, fled from the saloon and as it afterwards developed made his way to the tug Miami tied up alongside of the Tillamook Lumbering Company's dock, and there spent the night. An examination of the weapon used by Noline, proved to be a spruce limb wrapped up in a newspaper, and had not Mr. Chipman raised his head at the instant the blow was struck, he would probably have received it on his temple and been killed. As it was the blow fell on the side of his face, and though it knocked him unconscious for a time, it did not inflict any serious injury. Officers were at once sent in pursuit of Noline, but as it is believed he gave them the slip. Very early Tuesday morning he left town and up to the hour of going to press nothing has been heard of him. Noline claimed that Chipman owed him money, and hence the assault.

Who Is to Blame?

A rather young gone. Father Time has a turned the hands of his great time piece on more revolution, past the year mark and we are embarked upon the new year, Eighteen Hundred and Ninety Eight. Two more years and we finish the work of the greatest century of all ages. A few more years and the young men and women of today will be the old men and women of this great and glorious republic.

If in the hands of our young people must be placed the reins of this government, then their hands must have good training, else our nation will retrograde. A good education is found to be the first step in this training, and this one thing, education, the people of Tillamook County can not afford to slight.

In our country there are no very high institutions of learning, yet this should be no excuse why our young folks should not have as good an education as our facilities afford. In every district is a public school and in our metropolis is an academy. Who, then, is to blame because so many of our young people, from the ages of 15 to 20, have very little education, and some without any, in fact, have never been to school one day in their life. Is it the fault of the pupil, the parent or the teacher? The teacher, of course, I trust he generally gets the blame.

Conceding that is the fault of the teacher, let us see why it is so. A teacher is hired by the directors to teach a three, six, or nine months school. He enters the school with the intention to do the best he can and is willing to help every one. When school has been running one or two weeks, and often a many months, new pupils enter, and then the question arises, Where do they belong, and in what classes? If they are allowed to go into the classes they left at their last school, in nearly all cases they have to omit some important part of their study. If they are turned back with the lower classes, where the teacher is no good, and as a natural consequence, the pupil thinks the same. Again, children are sent to school the first day of the second year they must stay at home to help with the work, or at least, make their parents believe their help is needed, and in the course of a month they have been absent from five to ten or fifteen days and have not attempted to make up what they have thus omitted.

And so it goes, giving the teacher credit for not knowing his or her business. Parents seem to forget that when their children miss one day of school they are behind their classes just one day, and think because their children have to review a book several times more than some who are more regular in attendance, the teacher is incompetent.

Sometimes an incompetent teacher is hired, but not very often. In most cases, if the pupils attend regularly, and strive to advance and obey their teacher, at the end of the term those pupils will have nothing to regret and at the end of life's journey still less.

And now to the parents of the young men and women of Tillamook county, if you want your children to share in the success of the coming century, see that they attend school every term that is taught in your district and every day in each term. F. R. Smith.

Ordinance No. 92.

An ordinance to license keepers or proprietors of shows, circuses or other means of entertainment. The people of Tillamook City do ordain as follows: Sec. 1. That no person, firm, company or corporation shall be engaged in, prosecute or carry on any trade, business, or profession hereinafter mentioned within the limits of Tillamook City.
