Will there be any business in McMinnville next summer? It looks exactly like it. Two churches will be erected at an aggregate cost of $11,000, to say nothing of the numerous fruit dryers that are more than likely to spring up in advance of the coming crop. A number of residences are also to be built in 1898. McMinnville is rapidly learning the secret that home improvement and investment is the surest harbinger of prosperity. She is now and is destined to be a thriving town.—Yamhill Reporter.

Hugh Cronen recently discovered a fine specimen of Nehalem beeswax, on the sand spit which weighed 12 pounds and was inscribed with odd characters. P. W. Todd, of Tillamook, purchased it for a Mr. Rogers, of McMinnville, who is writing a book on the traditions of the Nehalem mountain treasure and the Nehalem beeswax ship. He intends to photograph specimens of the wax for illustrating his book and will have some seal work in wax on the covers of the books. The idea is quite original and the books will no doubt sell very fast.—Nehalem Times.

Last Monday morning at eight o'clock David Fitzpatrick and Katrina Purcell were married at the Catholic Church, by Rev. Father Schell. According to the customs of the Catholic Church the marriage followed the celebration of mass. Mr. Fitzpatrick is a young man of sterling worth and Miss Purcell one of Tillamook's fairest daughters. The young people have the best wishes of all. The HEADLIGHT extends its usual congratulations. The marriage of Mr. Fitzpatrick and Miss Purcell was the first marriage celebrated in the Catholic Church here, but Father Schell assures us it will not be the last.

A very unfortunate affair occurred here on Wednesday night, March 2d. Some time ago the HEADLIGHT predicted that some of the boys in the town would carry their lawless pranks too far and get into trouble. It seems our prediction has been verified. On the night mentioned "the gang", as they are known in town, had arranged for a grand chicken steal and a late chicken supper. The chickens were secured from a convenient roost, and in order to have everything handy the chickens were taken to the Hardman residence, and a forcible entry effected, after which the boys went in and made themselves at home, preparing for their feast. While they were making merry, a gentleman passed who happened to know that Mrs. Hardman was not at home, reported to the Marshal, that some one was in the house. The Marshal went to the house, and found three of the boys there. They were not arrested, but afterward warrants were sworn out against them, charging them with housebreaking, and the boys hearing about it left for parts unknown. The unfortunate part of the affair is that two of the boys charged with the offense are not members of the gang, but are excellent boys who consented only after the utmost persuasion to taking any part in the affair, and, as usually happens, they were the ones to suffer whilst the boys who planned the affair will probably for the most part go unpunished. This community has determined to suppress the petty lawlessness that has already prevailed far too long here, and the boys had better take warning. The editor of this paper has naught but friendly feelings, both toward the boys and their parents and will not wound the latter by mentioning names.

Peter Langhart of Nehalem has discovered a fine vein of coal near a city which he proposes to prospect.

Councilmen P. McIntosh and Frank McCormack left last week for the Klondike country. Billy Williams left later via North Yamhill to join his brother Jack, and both will proceed together to Alaska.

The will of Daniel German was admitted to probate in the county court on Tuesday. The property bequeathed in the will consists of real estate situated mainly in Santa Clara County California. Mrs. Elizabeth J. Hunter was named in the will as executrix of the estate. G. O. Nolan and B. L. Eddy are attys. for the executrix.

G. A. Brinn came in on Friday from Portland. Mr Brinn was so unfortunate as to miss the steamer at Astoria but declares walking to be first class down the beach road.

C. Knudson will leave in a few days for Alaska. Mr. Knudson has accepted a very good position and his many friends here wish him success in his new venture. While in Tillamook Mr. Knudson has made many very warm friends and all feel sorry to see him leave.

George W. Bacon the liveryman from Forest Grove was in town yesterday arranging for the opening of the Forest Grove and Tillamook Stage line for travel. Mr. Bacon says that the road is in excellent condition and as soon as the bridges can be repaired which will be about the middle of next month, stages will be put on and travel resumed. The line will be operated by Messrs Bacon and John McNamer. The public will be pleased to see the line once more in operation.
