The Leading Merchants

Nehalem Ore., Apr. 17th, 1898. Editor HEADLIGHT:

The writer desires to pay a small tribute to the memory of the late Thos. F. Williams, whose shocking and untimely death, has robbed Tillamook of one of her most estimable citizens; and a wife and children of a loving and noble husband and father.

During an intimate acquaintance of almost twenty years, I never knew Tom to depart from his word, he was brave and cheerful under adversity and trouble was kind and generous, ever ready to extend a helping hand to the needy. He was very industrious, and had by hard work and frugality, built up a comfortable home for those dependent upon him for support, and I think I am safe in saying he had not an enemy in the world. Knowing him and his so well, I feel deeply for those left to mourn his loss.

Charles Eye.

Brown—"Do you say your prayers before going to bed?" Towne—"Certainly; I sleep in a folding bed."

Customer (in hardware store)—"Do you sell the Golden rule?" Clerk—"We don't even keep it."

Wife (enthusiastically)—"How much do you think we took in at the church fair?" Husband (quietly)—"How many, you mean?"

A Fond du Lac little girl had a present of a "child's Bible." After counting it a while, she was observed to count something on the first page. "I don't like that book," she said, "it's too God-dy for me."—EK.

A delegation of preachers from Chicago waited upon Lincoln to urge the issuance of the emancipation proclamation. The spokesman urged the claim with ecclesiastical dignity by saying: "The Lord sends this commission to you, President Lincoln." "Perhaps so," he replied, "but isn't it strange that he should send his message by the way of Chicago?" To another delegation urging immediate action, he said: "If you call the tail of a sheep a leg, how many legs will the sheep have?" "Five," replied the spokesman. "No," said the hothered president, "it would only have four. Calling the tail a leg would make it one." When a stately congressman from New Jersey presented two of his constituents by saying: "It gives me pleasure, Mr. President, to present to you two of the wealthiest men from the southern part of our state," he endured patiently some pompous compliments, and then, when he had retired, said: "I should think that end of the state would tilt up when they stepped off it."—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

HALL OF ALDER CAMP, W. O. W. TILLAMOOK, OREGON APRIL 15, 1898.

WHEREAS, Death has removed from our Camp and community, our much esteemed and dearly beloved neighbor, Thomas Williams.

AND WHEREAS he was one of whom this Camp was justly proud, a man whose devoted friendship and high standing in this community as a good and prosperous citizen, a kind and faithful father, a loving husband, who won for himself the respect and admiration of his associates.

BE IT THEREFORE RESOLVED: That this Camp has lost one of its best and most highly esteemed neighbors, and the community one of its most worthy citizens.

THAT a copy be furnished his family.

Theo. Steinhilber, Oak Nolan, John Barker, Committee.

When a person is losing flesh and wasting away there is cause for alarm. Nothing so worries a physician. Consumptives would never die if they could regain their usual weight. In fact there would be no consumption if there was no wasting of the system. The cause of this loss of flesh is a failure to properly digest the food eaten. Nine-tenths of all our diseases date back to some derangement of the stomach.

HOW TO FIND OUT.

Fill a bottle or common glass with urine and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys. When urine stains linen it is evident of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to urinate or pain in the back, is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

WHAT TO DO.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in relieving pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passages. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up many times during the night to urinate. The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists, price fifty cents and one dollar. You may have a sample bottle and pamphlet both sent free by mail. Mention HEADLIGHT and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The proprietors of this paper guarantee the genuineness of this offer.
