We are reliably informed in private letter which G. B. Lamb Republican candidate for Co.
Superintendent of schools wrote to a friend, that he is unalterably opposed to the present outrageous monopoly on school books in this state as enjoyed by the American Book Com-

Tillamook Celebrates.
Monday night the patriotic feelings of this community found vent in an impromptu celebration over the news of the gallant attack on and destruction of the Spanish fleet at Manila by Admiral Dewey and his gallant tars. Abe Cohn, Theo Steinhilber and other firemen took the matter in hand and the firemen turned out in a body. They constructed a huge pile of dry goods boxes on the vacant ground in front of the school building and procuring bombs, anvils and plenty of powder proceeded when night came to have a grand jubilation. Nearly the entire town assembled to assist in the general rejoicing. As the flames of the great bonfire began to light up the night bursting bombs and ringing anvils ushered in the rejoicings. Several fire balloons were sent up. Messrs. T. B.
Handley and Editor Bowman made short patriotic speeches and the great crowd cheered itself hoarse over the patriotic sentiments expressed. After the crowd had dispersed the celebration was moved down town and the boys continued it far into the night.

Accidentally shot.
Yesterday at about 6:15 p. m. Cleveland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Donaldson, was instantly killed while out hunting. Young Donaldson's sister is ill and in order to tempt her appetite and induce her to eat something he took a double barreled shot gun and saddling his horse rode over across Wilson River to find a quail or perchance a grouse.
As he did not return at nightfall his father became alarmed and arousing the neighbors, started out in search of him.
It was about 15 minutes past midnight when the body was found. Henry Olds one of the searchers, had crossed the river at the ford near the Donaldson home. Near the river he found young Donaldson's horse tied to a tree. A little further on he found his hat, and some yards further, his dead body, already stiff and cold, with a ragged gun shot wound, entering his left side under his arm pit, and emerging at the top of the shoulder near the neck. The gun was found standing against a large log about 20 feet away, both barrels discharged, and on top of the log a dead quail which the boy had shot.

It is supposed that the boy shot the quail before he came to the log. He picked it up, set down his gun and climbed over the log; then he took hold of the gun by the muzzle and attempted to draw it over after him, when it was accidentally discharged. After the boy was shot he jumped over the log and ran about 20 feet when he fell forward on his face and almost instantly expired from the shock and loss of blood.

The body was carried home by kindly hands and prepared for interment. The funeral will take place from the family residence to-morrow.
