Wonder what the government of Spain now thinks of Cervera's wonderful strategy in hastening across the Atlantic and running his ships "safely" into Santiago Harbor? When Cervera succeeded in accomplishing that wonderful feat the queen sent her congratulations clean across the Ocean. It is quite possible that after Cervera's fleet is distroyed and he is captured, exchanged and returned to his own country, he may be arrested and shot for being a blundering fool. Cervera's fleet is nearing the hour of doom, and a rat in a trap is as much a subject for congratulation as is Cervera in his present position.

The Emperor William is stirring up considerable bad blood in his dominions. The socialist successes at the recent election so angered him that he threatened the socialists with fire and blood. His impudent claim that the theatres like the schools should be made an instrument for the enforcement of the authority of monarchs has stirred up a storm of indignation and the German newspapers have quit abusing America long enough to take a shy at their imperal lord and master, who will probably reward them by sending them to jail for having dared to question his infallibility.

The telegraphic accounts of Camara's fleet sailing from Cadiz in formidable array every few days and, as often returning, reminds one of the nursery rhyme "The King of France with fifty thousand men marched up the hill and then marched down again." But if recent dispatches be correct Camara will soon have other work than making a spectacular display of his warships before the gaping multitudes of Spain. With an American fleet in Spanish waters Spain will be compelled to either fight or quit.

Grover Cleveland has recently emerged from his inocuous disetude long enough to make a speech in which he strongly disapproves of the course of the administration in the present war, No one expected that Grover would approve of anything that any one else does but as he no longer encumbers the Presidential chair it does not matter much what he thinks. If it had'at been for Grover's obstinacy the war might never have happened and Hawaii would by this time be under the stars and stripes.

At last "Old Glory" waves on Cuban soil and a formidable American army rallies around it. Henceforth Blanco will have other battles to fight than the bloodless struggle hitherto engaged in over the wires. With him the time of mendacity and duplicity is over and the time of actual fighting has commenced. The hand writing is on the wall! If Spain intends to read it at all she should read quickly.

Since the army of invasion has commenced its work, reports that come from the front are far less pleasant reading. Henceforth there will be few victories of the Manila character. In our operations by land many brave American boys are certain to be killed, and many more wounded. But victory is certain to come at last.

The United States Senate seems to be able to talk almost anything to death. It is now trying its hand on the Hawaiian annexation resolution which it hopes to kill with senatorial wind.

The Sagasta Cabinet has gone to pieces and a new one is to be formed. What the foreign policy of the new cabinet is to be is not known. And as far as final results of the war with the United States is concerned it matters but little.

Colonel Bryan has about as vague and indefinite an idea as to what he is fighting for as an American volunteer as he had when fighting the political campaign of 1896.
