Odds and Ends.

Nobody Stopped the Stage.

The morning after the assassination of President Lincoln the telegraph operator of a small town in Ohio read a passing dispatch which conveyed the sorrowful news to him. This speedily spread through the surrounding country, and at 11 o'clock, when the mail-train was due nearly 100 men had congregated to buy a morning paper.

As a matter of course, not a single paper remained, and all were in dispair, until some one remembered that the postmaster was a regular sub criber, and that the mailbag must coutain a morning newspaper adressed to him.

The voice of the postmaster faltered more than once as he read the account, now so familiar to all Americans. Finally he reached the point where it was said of Booth that he" shrieked out 'Sic semper tyrannis,' leaped on the stage, and made his way escape."

Throwing his old poke hat upon the floor, the patrotic old man lifted his hands aloft and shouted:

"Good gracious! Why don't somebody have sense enough to stop the stage?"

For the soldier.

Cleveland Leader.

The bronzed soldier looked at the package addressed to him with moistened eyes. "Blessed angles," he said, "they do not for get us."

Then he took off the wrappings and found:

A nail brush.
An ornamental hair receiver.
A pair of tidies.
A small bottle of mixed pickles.
A tract.
A hand-painted blotting pad
And a pants stretcher.

A Compliment Wasted.

San Francisco Argonaut.

Lord Lytton, when viceroy of India, was seated one pay at dinner next to a lady whose name was Birch, and who, although very good looking, was not over intelligent. Said she to his excellency:

"Are you acquainted with any of the Birches?"

"Ch, yes," replied Lytton, "I knew several of them most intimately while at Eton—indeed, more intimately than I cared to."

"My lord," replied the lady, "you forget the Birches are relatives of mine."

"And they cut me," said the viceroy; "but" and he smiled his wonted smile, "I have never felt more inclined to kiss the rod than I do now."

Sad to say, Mrs Birch did not see the point, and told her husband his excellency had insulted her.

Big Guns and Little.

Chicago Chronicle.

According to the correspondent of the London Times, the bombardment of Manila afforded a fresh demostration of the fact that relatively small caliber rapid-fire guns are more destructive than the huge rifles of modern warships. The little gunboat Rapids, with her quick firing guns, was more effective than the big cruisers. The same fact was made manifest in the engagement off Cavite three months ago and in the naval battle at Santiago. In both cases the rapid-fire guns did the major part of the work—not only in the way of actual destruction, but in 'smothering" the enemy's fire. The eight-inch rifles of the Olympia and the 13-inch guns of the Oregon and the Iowa smashed whatever they hit, but their effectiveness was far from being proportionate to their size. The little gun fired rapidly is what does the business. The big cannon—like some big men—is more noisy than dangerous.

Baseball among the Ancients

A member of the Canton Theological school, who is intered in the great national game, has written a thesis on "baseball among the ancients." From this are gleamed the following interesting points which help to establish his contention:

The devil was the first coacher—he coached Eve, when she stole first—Adam stole second.

When Isaac met Rebecca at the well she was walking with a pitcher

Sampson struck out a great many times when he beat the Philistines.

Moses made his first run when he slew the Egyptain.

Cain made a base hit when he killed Abel.

Abraham made a sacrifice.

The prodigal son made a home run.

Moses shut out the Egyptians at the Red Sea.

Troubles of a Pastor's Wife

This woman was peculiarly afflicted; physicians could do nothing to relieve her, yet she was cured in a simple way. She now sends a message to suffering humanity which should be helpful.

Probably no other woman ever suffered just as Mrs. Adams did, the wife of Rev. A. R. Adams, pastor of the Christian church at Blandinsville, Ill. Physicians were baffled by her ailment, and for years she was compelled to live a life of torture.

To-day she is well and the story of her suffering and recovery will touch a responsive cord in the heart of every woman.

"About six years ago," said Mrs. Adams, "my health began to fail. The first trouble I noticed was with my stomach; food did not agree with me, and my appetite failed until I could scarcely eat.

"I would begin to bloat before I was through with a meal, and the food felt like a stone in my stomach.

"After eating I would have pains in my stomach with a smothered feeling which would finally extend into my throat and chest accompanied by a choking sensation.

"I began to bloat all over and my hands and feet commenced swelling until I thought I had dropsy.

"In a short time I had pain and soreness in my left side which extended across my back accompanied by dizziness, and then followed severe paroxysms of pain extending from the lower part of my stomach into the region of my heart.

"During these spells a hard ridge as large as my arm would appear in the left side of my stomach and around the left side.

"I had a feeling of heaviness in my head and at times could scarcely hold it up or keep my eyes open, yet when night came I could not sleep.

"I also suffered intensely from female trouble.

"I doctored with ten different physicians, but was not benefited. No two of the doctors diagnosed my case the same.

"One day my husband noticed an article regarding Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People in the newspaper, and induced me to try the pills.

"I began taking them, but experienced no relief until I had used the sixth box. I continued taking them and after using eleven boxes was greatly benefited.

"I was also troubled with nervous prostration and numbness of my right hand and arm. My hand hurt so at times, tingling and burning, that I could hardly endure the pain, but that has all passed away.

"I now know what it means to eat a good meal without suffering afterwards, and enjoy a good night's rest.

"I am again able to do my work, and have done more this summer than in all the last four years put together.

"I feel safe in saying that it is all due to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and consider it my duty to let people know what these pills have done for me, as it may be the means of relief for others who are suffering."

Diseases strange to physicians; symptoms that defied diagnosis, have succumbed to the potent influence of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Druggists everywhere consider them to be one of the most valuable remedial agents known to science.
