It is a source of gratification to the citizens of Tillamook city that only one case of typhoid fever has occurred this fall, and that not a very serious one. The purity of the water will in some measure account for this good showing.

Mrs. Maggie M. Cross and William A. Cross were in Tillamook on Monday for the purpose of making the necessary arrangements to prove up on their homesteads. William Eilers, father of Mrs. Cross, who is from Oregon City visiting his daughters, accompanied them.
The board of equalizations finished its duties on Saturday, and we are informed that the changes in the assessment will about balance, making the assessable property in Tillamook county figure out about the same as that prepared by Assessor J. S. Stephens.

G. O. Nolan has bought the stock in the Tillamook Lumbering Company belonging to John and William Barker and B. L. Eddy. The stock represented $10,800 shares, which gives Mr. Nolan the controlling interest. It is expected the mill will be kept buzzing in future.
On Saturday evening Father Thomas Briordy was stricken with paralysis. The stroke is not considered to be of a serious nature, although it was deemed advisable to send the rev. gentleman to Portland for medical treatment in the hospital there, and he left on the steamer Harrison on Tuesday. It was Father Briordy's left side which was paralyzed.

The steamers Harrison and Elmora reached Tillamook on Saturday from Astoria, after a rough voyage. They brought almost all the freight that was billed for Tillamook from that port, which the business men were anxiously looking for. The stores were out of flour, and the arrival of this commodity was a source of much satisfaction to them.
We are informed that Representative J. W. Maxwell and Senator Patterson have worked most energetically for the interest of Tillamook co. at the special meeting of the state legislature. They deserve the best thanks of their constituents for their efforts. Although there was not much legislation directly pertaining to Tillamook county, yet what was introduced was successfully carried through with a vim.

Good butter wanted at Cohn & Co's.
Representative J. W. Maxwell introduced a bill in the state legislature for the regulation of fees to be charged and collected by the county clerk of Tillamook county. Under suspension of rules the bill was read the first, second and third times and passed. It appears that some of the fees now charged in the county clerk's office are double those charged in other counties, and we presume the bill has reference to these.

The new presiding elder of the M. E. Church, Rev. Dr. Waters, preached two able sermons at the Methodist Church in Tillamook on Sunday, who came here for the first time to attend the quarterly conference and introduce the new pastor, Rev. R. E. Dunlap, who appears to be an energetic worker and able speaker. Next Sunday the rev. gentleman will preach in the morning at Bay City and in the evening at the M. E. Church in Tillamook.

Paul Erickson was arrested on Friday for being drunk and the city recorder fined him $6 and cost. O. W. Barnard was found in the same condition on Saturday night and placed in the cooler. He was bailed out on Sunday morning, and it did not take long for him to get inebriated again, forcing the constable for the second time to put him in durance vile. He got off light by paying $6, but the recorder warned him about his future conduct in plain words.

Representative Sherwin's bill to promote the sugar-beet industry by providing for a bounty of $1 per ton, to be paid the growers for a period of six years by the state, was opposed in the state legislature by Ross, upon the ground that the bounty might swamp the state treasury. He favored fostering the industry for perhaps two years, but did not know what a six years' bounty might lead to. Others took a hand in the discussion pro and con, and the bill was finally referred to the committee on commerce, with instructions to make a thorough investigation of the matter and report at the regular session.

Mrs. Brown, who came in on the stage on Thursday night met with an accident which at first was thought to be a fatal accident. She was riding beside the driver, and while she had both hands up adjusting her garments round her neck, the stage gave a sudden lurch and she suddenly took a header, pitching on her cranium. The passengers at once went to her assistance as soon as the stage could be stopped. She was senseless and unable to move, but to the surprise of all she soon recovered and was able to continue her journey. Mrs. Brown has felt terrible sore from the effects of the accident. She does not blame anyone for the accident, which, fortunately, resulted in no broken bones.

As we expected, the state legislature has passed upon the petition for two terms of court in Tillamook county, one in April and the other in November, consequently the code has been amended so as to provide for these semi-annual terms of the circuit court in Tillamook County. Representative J. W. Maxwell engineered the amendment through the legislature. The HEADLIGHT gave some of the reasons in the last issue of the paper why this was necessary. It is pleased to know the amendment passed the legislative at this special session. We are unable to determine whether a term of court will be held next month or not. If the emergency clause was stricken out of the amendment, as in all probability it was, there will be no court in November. The next term will be in April, which will give litigants plenty of time to prepare.

Quite a squabble occurs at district school elections about the interpretation of the law as to the qualifications of voters. In some districts the women are allowed to vote and in others they are not. A bill defining the qualifications of voters at school elections is before the state legislature. The property qualification of the present bill is only $100, which must stand on the assessment roll to the credit of the voters in the regular assessment prior to the election at which he or she is then qualified to vote. The new measures also provides that in school districts having less than 1000 inhabitants, a widow or male citizen, otherwise qualified, may vote without the property qualification, if he or she have children of school age in the district. From this it would appear that a man's wife will not be able to exercise the franchise at school elections. It appears that the bill which was introduced giving the suffrage to "male or female, married or unmarried, shall be entitled to vote at any school meeting or school election," was defeated.

BEAVER.
"The beautiful rain" is with us once more, and the fish are running nicely. Your correspondent saw 13 taken in a net, in the Big Nestucca. The fish weighed, collectively, nearly 300 lbs.
Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Lester, of Spruce, were the welcome guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. Mills on Monday of this week.
Mrs. Flor-nice Getchell, of Hebo, is the guest of her friend, Mrs. S. Mills.
Mr. Shortridge, of Dolph, was at Beaver recently.

The Christian Endeavor Society of this place, held an interesting service on the 9th instant. There was a number of earnest speakers.
Beaver citizens are all happy and prosperous, notwithstanding the rain.

NEHALEM.
The Elmora was in twice the past week, once from Astoria and once from Tillamook.
Mrs. F. Zaddach returned home from Clatsop last Tuesday.
Mrs. C. Pye and son Harry left for Tillamook and vicinity on Saturday to visit among friends.
Wm. Blackburn, the logger, has gone to Portland for a donkey engine of about 25 horse power. Mr. Blackburn is logging the Kinney and Kebbe timber. He has already put in about 3,000,000 feet.
C. W. Alley has moved his family to town again.
The Kickapooes are entertaining large and appreciative audiences.
The run of fish does not diminish. The canneries can not handle all the catch.
Dave Zaddach has been distributing his surplus fish among his friends, who are legion. That is much better than throwing them away.
The tug Maggie is in. She will tow out the Dewey when she leaves.
Nehalem's new minister, the Rev. Dill and wife, arrived last week and he gave his congregation a lecture on Sunday afternoon. They will occupy one of the vacant houses in upper town.
Alfred Anderson, while going down the river the other night with a strong ebb tide in a small boat, ran into a tightly stretched net and capsized. He is under obligations to Bessie Gervais for a timely rescue.

THE NEGLECTED WIFE.
SHE.
You used to kiss me fondly
When you came home to tea,
But now you read your paper
And hardly notice me;
You used to say you loved me,
You praised my eyes and hair,
But now you never tell me
That I am sweet or fair;
You used to take me strolling
At dusk beneath the trees,
And often, after dinner,
You held me on your knee;
You used to be so tender,
So thoughtful and so true,
And you were interested
In all I had to do;
But now you never listen
To what I have to say,
The love I had is only
A memory to-day.
HE.
Ah, foolish girl! 'Tis yours,
The love you're sighing for—
But there—keep still—I'm anxious
To read about the war.
