The second Mondays in April and November are the dates set for holding the two terms of the circuit court in Tillamook county. The amendment to the code was altered four times before the state legislature agreed to the change.

month in the interest of the Bankers' Life Association of Des Moines, Iowa, and several parties took out policies while he Saturday evening and tied his horse up, but to his surprise later in the evening he found that someone had gone off with it.

On Sunday it was found coming down the Wilson river road with the bridle tied to the saddle.

Attorney A. W. Severance returned to Tillamook on the North Yamhill stage on Monday night. He was called away on business about two weeks previous. He spent a week at Salem, and while there was convinced that the state legislature did some practical work.

THE HEADLIGHT appears today with a new dress of type, which is another improvement in Tillamook's leading newspaper. The HEADLIGHT is all home print, and, therefore, is appreciated. The new management will continue to make improvements in the newspaper from time to time.

How is it that people who drive out of Tillamook into the country say that the roads within the corporation limits are in bad condition compared to those kept up by the county? Perhaps the city dads can explain why people drive into mud holes directly they strike the city limits on their return.

Dr. W. J. May and Mrs. May returned on Wednesday from Portland. Their family reached home a few days previous.
The friends of Mrs. May will be glad to know that she is much improved in health since the operation on her skull and the fatiguing journey home did not distress her a great deal.

One of the horses attached to the North Yamhill stage, which left Tillamook on Saturday morning, was lame when it started on the journey. The editor of the HEADLIGHT watched the poor animal limp along up the road, and although he is not given to slang phrases, his righteous indignation made him say "It's a damn shame!"

The half block on the opposite corner of the Tillamook hotel is to be occupied with business houses. Mr. C. B. Hadley will move his empty saloon building to the corner of the block. Mr. C. A. Bailey is making preparations to put up a building, which he will use for his farm implement warehouse and this will make a valuable addition to the business houses of the city. It is reported a feed store is to be erected there as well.

Justice T. H. Goyné had a jury case on Monday in which C. B. Hadley sued L.
L. Smith on a note of $29.60, with interest and attorney's fees. Smith made the plea that his signature to the note was procured while he was under the influence of drink. The jury gave Hadley a verdict of $50.40, which included interest and attorney's fees.

Chas. Lunquist met with an accident on Friday while working in the yard of the Truckee Lumbering Company. He was trucking heavy timber, and one of the pieces fell upon his right leg, which fractured it. Dr. M. R. Madison set the injured limb, and under Dr. Hawke's care we are glad to hear the injured man is getting along nicely.

Emmet Quick, the crack whip on the Wilson river, made another trip from the Grove into Tillamook on Sunday. He left again on Monday, but could not accommodate all the passengers who were needing accommodation. The crack of Emmet's whip may be heard in Tillamook again on Saturday, and after that date his visits will be few and far between until the season opens up next year.

County Assessor Stephens has footed up the totals since the board of equalization adjourned, which give $1,090,918 taxable property in the county and $96,495 in the city. Judge Sappington declines to sign the report of the board of equalization. He claims that a lot of property in Tillamook county is not assessed high enough. Unfortunately, the judge was sick and unable to attend when the board had the question under consideration.

The donation party at the parsonage of the M.E. church in Tillamook on Friday night gave the new pastor, Rev. R.
E. Dunlap, some idea of the large heartedness and liberality of his congregation.
Quite a number attended, and altogether the evening was most enjoyably spent.
It was truly a social gathering, where the bonds of Christian friendship were strengthened. The rev. gentleman and his estimable wife were delighted and thankful to meet with such hospitable friends, who wish Mr. Dunlap much success in his ministerial labors in Tillamook and the vicinity.

Mr. T. B. Handley, who is a member of the republican state committee, writes to the Oregonian in respect to the election of United States senator: "The election of Mr. Simon is received with quiet satisfaction. Sound-money men breathe easier with the assurance of a safe vote in the senate. No one has been defeated but the inflationists. Mr. Corbett's friends feel that this is the best they can do under the circumstances, while his opponents feel that it is also the best they could do under the same circumstances. We have thus occupied the middle ground where always lies the path of safety."

There is a demand for good roads all over the country, and it is natural that the city of Tillamook should be demanding the same improvements. Good roads have proved to be the salvation to business men and the growth of some cities.
Not only is this true of business men and cities, but it enhances the value of property as well. There is, of course, some chronic kickers who never tire complaining about the horrible condition of the roads and the number of mud holes. To keep on kicking only aggravates people.
We are glad to learn that something sensible and practical is about to be undertaken to improve the roads leading into Tillamook city, particularly those south of here. Mr. George Cohn has set the ball rolling by subscribing $25 in cash to improve the roads. Two hundred and fifty dollars raised in Tillamook would go a long way in making improvements, for already quite a number of farmers have promised to assist either with money or labor. Public enterprise and united effort can accomplish the purpose. Good roads means much to the business men of Tillamook city, for if the roads are so bad that it is almost impossible to travel over, how can they expect farmers to trade here? Beside, every summer brings more visitors into Tillamook, and this, too, will greatly increase if our roads are kept in good condition.

PROPOUNDS A QUESTION.

TO THE EDITOR TILLAMOOK HEADLIGHT.
SIR.—My question as Nehalem correspondent regarding road work in this district brought forth a caustic article to which H. A. Bloom loans his name. Were it true I would let it pass, but as it is I feel called upon to notice only one portion of it, the balance is too well understood in this community to need comment.

I have worked roads with my neighbors for 20 years and never had exceptions taken to my work. In this particular case the Supervisor gave me a job of work to do and I did it; true, it was but pottering, like so much of the work done in this district, but I had no option. He came along when it was done and expressed approval of it and afterwards handed me a receipt for $3.75.

Now assuming that his story is true, does it not still further tend to prove his unfitness? What right has a person to be entrusted with the handling and judicious expenditure of funds if he gives a man credit for three days' work when but one has been performed? This would tend in some degree to account for its costing us over $1 for bossing every $4 worth of work done in this district. He says the commissioner will not enlighten me what is being done. That may be, but any one familiar with these coast counties knows that road work can not be done in the winter, and when the summer is allowed to pass, and with $700 or $800 on hand, no work done, and we are suffering on account of it, we have a right to ask why it is so and what is going to be done with the fund?
Much more could be said on this vexed road question but space forbids.

Nehalem has been for some time very unfortunate in the selection and appointment of those responsible for our road work. Our late Supervisor, an irresponsible and incompetent person, when no longer allowed to abuse the position, simply put on his hat and stepped into the next county with the remark that "He did not care, he had made $400 off us anyway."

There is not complaint without just cause.

CHARLES PYE.

Married.

BOWMAN-STODDARD—In Weiser, Idaho, on Sunday, Oct. 9th, 1898, by Justice Horace Newman, D. DeK. Bowman and Hattie C. Stoddard, both of Portland, Oregon.

The above is self explanatory. The divorce between Mr. Bowman and his former wife was granted some time ago.
It was a case of "incompatibility of temperament," the parties having been married when they were children in their teens. The separation and divorce were by mutual consent. Mr. Bowman voluntarily assuming all expense and liberal support of his minor children. Mr. Bowman and Mrs. Bowman (nee Mrs. Stoddard) are well known here and their many friends wish them happiness and success along life's uneven journey.

In all probability, the democrats will win a majority in the next congress.
But it might not be the worst thing that could happen. It will, indeed, give a chill to business, through apprehension of change of the money standard from gold to silver; but the money standard will not be changed. A demo-populist congress will, however, begin a raid for silver; and this will so alarm the country that in the presidential election two years hence, that the party will again be overwhelmed. The misfortune will be a setback that business will get, meantime.—Oregonian.

How Japs Launch Their Ships.

The Japanese apply one of their pretty ways to the launching of ships.
They use no wine. They hang over the ship's prow a large pasteboard cage full of birds, and the moment the ship is afloat a man pulls a string, when the cage opens and the birds fly away, making the air alive with music and the whirl of wings. The idea is that the birds thus welcome the ship as she begins her career as a thing of life.—Utica Observer.

Great Japanese Pyrotechnist.

In Nagasaki, Japan, there is a fireworks maker who manufactures pyro-technic birds of great size, which, when exploded, sail in a life-like manner through the air, and perform many movements exactly like those of living birds. The secret of making these wonderful things has been in the possession of the eldest child of the family of each generation for more than 400 years.
