TILLAMOOK JOTTINGS.

The editor wishes every citizen in Tillamook county a Happy New Year, and may success and prosperity attend their labors during the ensuing year. We wish to thank them for the kindly treatment and liberal patronage we have received during the short time we have been in Tillamook. The many congratulations which we have received is an assurance that the effort to make the HEADLIGHT a bright and newsy county newspaper is gradually being appreciated and recognized by all, especially by those who are interested in the growth and prosperity of Tillamook county.

New Year's Cards, at Sturgeon's.
Blank Books, all sizes, at Sturgeon's.
Choice Line of Toilet Soap, at Sturgeon's.

Mr. James Ducham has arrived from Bay City, Mich.

One hundred thousand shingles wanted at Cohn & Co.'s.

Captain Geo. Hunt was up from the lighthouse on Friday.

Clro Kolo, the great Blood Builder and nerve tonic.—For sale by Sturgeon's.

Mr. E. Quick came from Forest Grove on Sunday, who is to have charge of the livery barn.

We have been informed that a serious offence was committed the other night by a certain young man.

The prize drawing at Cohn & Co.'s for $25 worth of merchandise will come off on Friday afternoon.

Mr. W. H. H. Carry returned to the city on Friday after a business trip of several weeks in Portland.

We hear that Tillamook is to have another Benedict added to its number. Query: Who is the happy couple?

Alfonso Sibley and Howard Edmunds are home for the holidays from Forest Grove, where they are attending college.

Perey Wiley is home from attending the academy in Portland for the holidays, and will return next week to resume his studies.

Those who want to see Dr. Wise will bear in mind that he is now at his Tillamook office, to remain only as long as he is kept busy.

Mr. John McNamer has made arrangements with Mr. Quick to manage the livery barn, left on Wednesday with John Cronin for Forest Grove.

We have received, through the kindness of Representative Tongue, a copy of the consular reports just issued, bearing on commerce, manufactures, etc.

A dance will be given on Saturday evening at the opera house by Mr. C. E. Reynolds. Good music and floor management. Everybody invited. Don't miss it.

The steamer Coquille River will sail from Hobsonville for San Francisco on Friday, Dec. 30th, at noon. She has superior passenger accommodation. Truckee Lumber Co., agents.

In looking over the Allen house register we find that Mr. A. Zwicker, of the firm of Wolf & Zwicker, who built the torpedo boat Davis, is registered as a deck hand on that vessel.

Lost, on the 18th inst., between the Tillamook bridge and the green timber hill, two packages. The person who lost the packages desires the finder to leave them at the HEADLIGHT, to whom they will pay a reward.

We have a farm of 200 acres located in Klickitat county, Wash., four miles from Goldendale, the county seat. All under cultivation; good house, barn and orchard and well watered. We will exchange this property for Tillamook county property. For further particulars Bros., Tillamook.

Rev. J. E. Snyder, of Portland, will begin a series of meetings at the Court house on Sunday evening, which will be continued every evening until further notice. The rev. gentleman will preach at Bay City on Sunday morning.

The band boys cleared $30 by their entertainment on Friday, but some of the boys are wondering why they had to pay so much for the use of the hall and piano in proportion to other parties. Well, it does look like a conundrum.

A nicely printed letter head and bill head shows that a business man is wide awake in his business. The HEADLIGHT turns out nothing but first class job work which is a credit to the profession as well as a satisfaction to those who order it.

City Recorder Drew imposed a fine of $15 and $4 cost on Saturday upon Jack Griswell for being intoxicated and with insulting the marshal the previous day. It is getting expensive to get on such tutes, but the fine is none too severe.

The shooting match between Billy Martin and A. Letcher did not come off as arranged owing to the latter being under the weather. However, Eugene Jenkins took his place, and on Sunday Martin killed all his birds, while Jenkins lost two.

Mr. L. G. Freeman, who was selected to superintend the construction of the U. B. church building, will soon be ready to go to work. Mr. Freeman is a skilled mechanic, so this structure will undoubtedly add greatly to the appearance of our thrifty and progressive city.

Mr. Nel Thompeon has made a cabinet so that some of the books in the county clerk's office can be nicely arranged, easily found and preserved. The first attorney detected leaving these books strewn all over the office the county judge should tax him the value of the cabinet.

The city council will undergo the old year out process this evening, when it will hold its last meeting. The retiring city dads should have no fear, for amongst the city officers elect is an obliging undertaker who is ready to consign them to the warm climate of private citizenship.

Mr. Henry Crenshaw has sold out his harness establishment to Mr. Addison Harris, and will be employed by the electric light company. Henry is quite a genius in anything that he takes in hand, going about his work with a vim and practical style that soon shows he means business.

Rev. M. Neff, while enjoying his family circle, was agreeably surprised last Monday evening by the lay members of the U. B. Church. All enjoyed a pleasant social gathering and on departing the members left many presents for their pastor and family as tokens of gratitude for their faithful services.

We understand a petition is to be circulated praying that the salary of the county treasurer, who now receives but $250 a year, be raised to $500 or $600 a year. There is considerable clerical work connected with the office, and it is the opinion of those who have had experience that the county treasurer is not receiving enough compensation for the work he has to perform and the position of trust he holds.

The parties who have been tearing up the side walk running out north of the city should not be surprised if they are quietly informed by an officer of the law that they are wanted. The side walk was torn up on Sunday and again on Monday, and as it was a part of the sidewalk which went over a slough, it made it exceedingly dangerous for pedestrians after dark. We echo the sentiment of the citizens when we say that the guilty parties should be severely dealt with for their foolishness and destructiveness. We will gamble they are hoodlums.

We find that quite a number of citizens in other districts are taking an interest in the proposal to create a Port of Tillamook Commission in this city, particularly those who have produce to ship to market. If people outside the city limits for miles round can see what a great benefit it will be to them, surely those living inside the city limits should be able to realize what a great benefit it will to the citizens of this city.

The editor was surprised to receive a notification informing him that he had been elected a member of the Tillamook hose company. Having filled the offices of editor, publisher, reporter, ad. solicitor, type sticker, job printer and binder, and last, but not least, the printer's devil, if the boys belonging to the hose company can stand that proverbial imp, then we are ready to pitch in with the boys and fight any old thing of a conflagration and even the hot place if necessary.

A citizens' meeting is called for Saturday evening at 7:30 p.m. at the court house by Mayor B. L. Eddy to discuss the pros and cons of the proposed bill to be introduced in the state legislature creating a Port of Tillamook Commission, a copy of which we published in our last week's issue. As this is a measure of far reaching importance not only to Tillamook city but to a large proportion of Tillamook county as well, it is essential that every section of the bill should be thoroughly discussed, and Saturday evening will be the time to raise any objections or suggest any improvements.

The reason the HEADLIGHT contained the Port of Tillamook Commission bill last Thursday was because the editor was sticking type the previous night when the majority of people had gone to bed. For being thus industrious and persevering, our contemporary calls it "small selfishness" because we refused to loan our type of the bill to be used in another newspaper. To have done so we should have been violating typographical union rules. We have no objection to a fair and gentlemanly criticism, for we expect to be keenly criticised, but this one savors more of petty jealousy than criticism, so we shall ignore them in future as below our dignity.

County Judge G. W. Sappington will hold court next Tuesday, and the commissioners will meet on Wednesday. At this session of the county commissioners the question of purchasing a portable saw mill will be decided, and which is to be used to saw out plank to be used on county roads where it is necessary and more economical than gravel to do so. We believe the board of county commissioners are acting wisely by investing in a portable saw mill, and if we judge correctly we believe as soon as it is purchased the county judge and the commissioners will have a peck of trouble upon their hands, so great will be the demand to send it into all road districts at the same time.

The torpedo boat Davis, which left Portland for California last week, put into Hobsonville on Saturday owing to indications of bad weather at sea. It was a novelty for a vessel of this description to come into the bay. The builders, Wolf & Zwicker, were under contract to deliver the boat to the government in California, and Captain Thos. Neal, who is in command, did not propose running any risk encountering the heavy storms which are prevalent at this season of the year. Finding Christmas day somewhat monotonous in the vicinity of Hobsonville, Mr. A. Zwicker, and several others, came up to Tillamook city, where Host and Hostess J. P. Allen, of the Allen house, did everything to entertain them and make Christmas day as pleasant as possible. Those of the crew who came to Tillamook were Mr. A. Zwicker, one of the builders, F. Wolfram, A. Bartholomew, O. Uhlig, R. Whlman, J. Harrison, M. Walch, R. Shawcross, C. W. Grubb, W. J. Zimmerman, J. F. Duthie, Matt Brown, and J. E. Wolff. Quite a number of Tillamookers have inspected the torpedo boat.

Mr. A. W. Severance has been appointed postmaster of Tillamook city. This brings to a close the political leg-pulling by those who panted a good seat at the political pie counter. Mr. Severance is the lucky man, and in all probability he will make a good and obliging postmaster. Miss Laura Hunt has made a first class postmaster, for she has given general satisfaction, and quite a number of people in the city wished that she might be continued in office. However that may be, Miss Hunt is deserving of the respect and admiration of the citizens of Tillamook city for the obliging and business-like manner in which she has conducted the post office during her term. Those who have had any experience in post office work know full well that it is not what it is cracked up to be, and if a person can retire after four years experience without inheriting some of the cranky dispositions of the patrons they certainly are in luck.

Christmas passed off quietly in Tillamook city. The entertainment given by the band boys was a success, which drew a large audience to the opera house to hear the local talent. The instrumental music by the band, the character sketch, the farce and the cornet solo deserve to be specially mentioned. Mr. Mark Miner has been instrumental in forming a nice band with a good average musical ability in it, and the audience on Friday night thoroughly appreciated his efforts and all those who took part in the program. A nice select dance followed. On Saturday night another large audience filled the opera house to participate in the unior. Christmas tree. The choirs of the several churches rendered two anthems in a most creditable style and other appropriate exercises were given by the Sunday school children. After Rev. R. E. Dunlap had delivered a short address the numerous presents were distributed. The churches drew large congregations on Christmas, and the dances, one at Fairview on Friday and the other on Monday night in Bailey's new building attracted large crowds.

The future prosperity of Tillamook county depends largely upon united effort. There are, however, many details to be thought out and worked out and intricate problems solved before the wonderful resources of Tillamook county can be developed. We ask one practical question for the sole purpose of setting our many Tillamook friends to thinking, and it is this: "What united effort is being made to induce manufacturing industries to locate in the county and develop our resources?" What is everybody's business is nobody's business. Let Tillamook county be up to date and have a Chamber of Commerce to look after the industrial interests of the county. A body of shrewd business men can accomplish wonders for this county. Getting our products to market, freight rates and shipping and stage accommodations, encouraging the patronage of home manufacture, encouraging industries to locate here, and a hundred and one other matters a Chamber of Commerce could take up which would be a permanent benefit to Tillamook county. If we want to progress we must adopt some of the methods used in other cities to do so. A successful man studies well the small details of his business, and it is the same way with a county like this, it requires somebody to look after the minor details we have partly enumerated. A Chamber of Commerce in this city could act also in the capacity of a board of immigration, and this, too, is a most important thing to look after, for it is more population that is wanted in this county, and if a board of this character can be instrumental in inducing a desirable class of citizens to locate here, it will be accomplishing a long felt want.

Senator McBride has offered an amendment to the naval bills, which provides for the construction of a stone drydock on the Columbia river and appropriates $200,000 for immediate use in beginning the work. According to the provisions of the amendment, the dock shall be 700 feet in length, and its other dimensions shall be such as to accommodate the large vessels in the regular auxiliary navy, either, existing at the present time, or likely to be constructed in the future. The cost of the drydock is not to exceed $1,025,000. Provision is also made for a board of naval officers, to be appointed by the secretary of the navy, to select a suitable location for the dock. $1000 being set aside to defray the expenses of such a board.

It is stated "if a newspaper man knew how many 'knocks' he received behind his back he would adopt another calling," remarked a citizen the other day. The newspaper man who succeeds, excepts to be maligned by every lawbreaker, swindler and hypocrite, every carping critic and every lover of notoriety who is ignored, and in fact by all persons who do not agree with him on all public and private questions. The newspaper man who expects to go through life without being misrepresented and unjustly censured should make arrangements to die young.

Eight hundred million dollars "cash down" and about two hundred millions a year for all time to come is the price that careful Washington correspondents estimates that we must pay for the glory of "imperial expansion." Do the people of this country want to pay "that price for that whistle?" asks the N. Y. World.

Hon. Justin S. Morrill, the senior United States senator from Vermont, died at 20 minutes past 1 Wednesday morning, in the 89th year of his age, after an illness of less than a week.
