The Tillamook Creamery Company realized 14 cents for their March cheese so far as sold. This means something like $1.25 per hundred to the patrons of this excellently conducted institution.
The saloon keepers have promised to keep minors out of their saloons in future, and if this is complied with they will not be arrested for already having done so, a complaint having been entered against them to that effect.
It is expected that Judge R. P. Boise will call a special session of the circuit court to dispose of the equity cases in department No. 2, which, on account of a misunderstanding between the circuit judges, did not convene.
It will be seen by an advertisement in another column that the German Expert Specialists and Dr. Meyers & Co. will make monthly visits to Tillamook city, their first dates being arranged for May 8, 9 and 10 at the Larsen house.
Would the two young women and the two young men, who were out somewhat late one night recently in the south part of the city be surprised that someone took several snap shots at them. Say, girls, why was the bottle hurriedly placed under the sidewalk? We've heard all about it.

Engineer J. G. Holcombe left on Saturday for Portland. He had been here about three weeks making government surveys and soundings of Hoquartion slough and the bay. We understand he had two sealed bids for building the dredger and snag puller for the engineer's department.
"Don't you know Lisk?" Well, he's the genius who manufactures tinware that will not rust. Mr. J. E. Tuttle is the sole agent in Tillamook, and has just received a large consignment of these goods, including rustless boilers, kettles, coffee and tea pots, pans, in fact, everything in the tinware line.
The wheelmen of this county had a meeting on Saturday for the purpose of organizing a wheelmen's association for Tillamook. Mr. Oak Nolan was chosen chairman and Mr. B. C. Lamb secretary. Three trustees were elected to effect an organization, viz., Dr. W. J. May and Messrs. B. C. Lamb and C. E. Hadley.
Mr. David Fitzpatrick reports $50 70 per cow for the preceding year. This estimate includes one indifferent cow among his band, also the above figures do not include the making of 1000 lbs of pork from the offal. Whilst those figures are not yet a Duchess county, N. Y., record, still it indicates a rapid crawling upward of the Tillamook dairy cow.
Rev. J. M. Cole, Adventist minister, who failed to reach here on time for the meetings advertised for him, commenced them on Tuesday evening, which will be continued one week from that date at the Adventist church. All are cordially invited. Mr. Cole's subject on Sunday evening will be "Fiji Islands," where he was a missionary.
We publish to-day a story by Mrs. Mattie E. Buckley, a literary friend of editor's, who has gained some notoriety writing stories drawn from real life and coincidences gathered in some of our large cities, which have proved interesting on that account. This story was written specially for the HEADLIGHT, and will be followed later on by others.
The Astoria Herald says: "Potatoes are quoted at $2.25 per sack in Astoria. There are tons of potatoes in the Nehalem valley that cannot be brought to Astoria on account of there being no county roads, and yet Clatsop county has spent $20,000 in the past ten years in building roads to Nehalem valley. No wonder taxes are high in Clatsop county."
The Oddfellows commemorated their 80th anniversary of their order with a supper and social time on Wednesday evening in Bailey's hall. The principal speakers were Dr. W. J. May, Judges W. G. Sappington and W. H. Cooper and T. B. Handley. Several ladies took a prominent part in arranging the program for the evening, which turned out to be a most pleasant and fraternal gathering.

We have been asked by the secretary of the Oregon Press Association what Tillamook county is going to do in the way of a souvenir for the National Editorial Association, which meets in Portland in July. Perhaps it would be a good thing to give the visiting editors each a copy of the pictorial edition of Tillamook county we are making arrangement to issue.
Monday is Dewey's day. And it will be appropriately commemorated in this city on Monday evening at the opera house. The Tillamook hose company will meet this evening to arrange a suitable program and make other arrangements, so that this occasion may be patriotically observed. Let every citizen in the city and neighborhood participate.
It will be noticed in another column that the makers of the famous "Monroe head" $100 silver certificates have been captured. These bogus bills were in circulation over a year ago, one of which was brought to this county by Joseph Kelsch and his wife when they came from Kansas, which had been paid to them for hogs they sold before they left. They had also another $100 bill with them, both of which they handed to Father J. Schell to do some trading for them, not knowing that one was a bogus bill. The intrinsic value of the bill was found out when it became mixed up with post office funds.
The Willamette Valley Chautauqua Association has engaged some stars of great magnitude for the next meeting of the assembly, which will be held in Gladstone Park from July 18th to 29th, inclusive. Among them are Sam Jones, J. DeWitt Miller, Frank Beard and Camden Coburn, all platform entertainers of national reputation. This is the strongest array of talent ever engaged for this assembly. Arrangements are perfected to make the coming assembly at Gladstone Park a greater event than any kindred organization in the United States, except the parent Chautauqua in New York. It is expected that a daily attendance of 5,000 people from all parts of the Northwest will be present.
Who was it that supplied some of the boys with drink on Sunday, some of whom are reported to have imbibed too much, much to the disgust and indignation of their parents? It is incidents like these which create a sentiment in favor of prohibition when it is found the guilty parties are not arrested but only laugh at such things. Those who are not in favor of prohibition, but have boys lacking the will power to resist these easy temptations placed in their way by unscrupulous and designing persons, have a most serious problem confronting them if this is allowed to continue. It is a mean, despicable act on the part of anyone to get a lot of boys in a back building and supply them with drink. Some parents may be indifferent and unconcerned about things like this, but those who are concerned about their sons, and strive to keep them respectable and from growing up hoodlums and drunkards, have a right to demand that steps be taken to bring the guilty parties to justice.

A SMUTTY PREACHER
Who Uses Disgusting and Insulting Language.
Evangelist J. F. Naugle is holding protracted meeting at the M.E. church. He has an original and peculiar style of his own in preaching. It is generally conceded that some of Mr. Naugle's remarks are open to criticism and altogether out of place, and instead of producing reverence it creates a spirit of ridicule, as one citizen remarked, "When I go to a variety show I expect to hear vulgar talk and see vulgar pictures; but when I go to church I don't expect to hear such things as that." Besides, no preacher has a right to get up in a pulpit and insinuate that the citizens of Tillamook have heads like bass drums, they walked round like they had mountains on their back, or did not have the sense of an old goose. We have no compunction in saying that when Mr. Naugle makes statements like these he lies—he knows that he lies most infernally. We are here to defend the reputation of the citizens of Tillamook, and no one can assail them with impunity without meeting with our protest. If the gentleman is under the impression that Tillamookers are a lot of greenhorns and hayseeds he is greatly mistaken. A little investigation would soon convince him that we have just as bright intellects in this city as anywhere else in the United States, and citizens who are well-informed on most subjects, besides being well bred and refined in their public and private utterances, which cannot be claimed for Mr. Naugle if what he has been saying in this city is a criterion to go by. No one can deny, who heard Mr. Naugle on Sunday or Monday, that some of his remarks were smutty, disgusting and insulting. Take for instance the shaft he hurled at a certain denomination that they had better go and get circumcised, etc., is a specimen of some of his remarks, which are too filthy to publish in a respectable newspaper. What is most surprising to us is that the deacons and members of the M.E. church can tolerate it and do not taken a tumble to themselves, for Mr. Naugle is only bringing their church into disrepute and a place where ladies of refinement and cultured taste should not be found as long as Mr. Naugle is in the pulpit.
Dewey's Day.
A special meeting of The Tillamook Hose Company is called for this (Thursday) evening at the city hall for the purpose of making arrangements for a program for Dewey's day.

6ft. POST OF HUMAN FLESH
Stuck Headforemost in the Mud—Preacher C. Mills Rescues it from Suffocation.
From Beaver we are furnished with an interesting news item. Rev. C. Mills on his return home on Tuesday had a little experience to relate, and we give it verbatim. He says: "I have many good things to say for the Evangelist Johnny Naugle who is now holding revival services in Tillamook. I claim that neither Naugle nor myself are not in it now so far as cutting monkey shins, for my pure and modest wife, Samantha, just in one single performance on the road home was the cause of more real mirth than any two evangelists. It came about in this way. While returning home from Tillamook on horseback, and when in a very deep stiff mud hole, Samantha's horse made a quick blunder, and in falling threw Samantha head foremost, burying her head in the mud and actually standing her in almost an erect position with her back supported by a log." Mr. Mills adds: "Of course, in a moment I had hold of her, and with heroic effort grabbing my arms around the six foot post of human flesh succeeded in pulling it out before it had time to drown in the mud. Samantha was not hurt in the least, and we are still laughing and praising God that the mud was soft and not hard."
Teachers' Examination.
Notice is hereby given that for the purpose of making an examination of all persons who may offer themselves as candidates for teachers of the schools of this county, the County Superintendent thereof will hold a public examination at the Court House, in Tillamook City, commencing at One o'clock p.m., May 10th, 1899.
The following programme will be followed for state and county papers:
WEDNESDAY—Penmanship, history and spelling.
THURSDAY—Written arithmetic, theory of teaching and grammar.
FRIDAY—Geography, mental arithmetic, reading, physiology, composition, physical geography, book keeping, Oregon school law, general history, English literature, algebra.
