NEHALEM.

Conny School Superintendent G. B. Lamb was up visiting schools the later part of last week.
Julius Lundtke is quite sick and under the doctor's care.
The Nehalem Creamery is now running. It received the first lot of cream on Saturday.
Blackburn Bros' logging camp started up again on Tuesday, and the steam whistle is again making music for the South Forkers.
Himple & Wheeler's mill, which has been closed for a short time for repairs, will resume operations in a few days.
Tillamook Pomona Grange will meet at Nehalem on Thursday the 19th inst. with White Clover Grange, at H. H. Lubessing's hall on the South Fork.
Teamsters have been quite busy on the beach, hauling up supplies, and etc. from Garibaldi.

WILSON RIVER.

Mrs. E. Peterson and children have the sincere sympathy of friends in this community in their sad trouble.
Gust Boquist had one of those nice hark's come in on the last boat.
Services will be held as usual at the Wilson River school house as soon as the protracted meetings at Tillamook close.
Mrs. Peterson and daughter Bertha is stopping with friends until they have decided where they will make their home.
Most of the gardens are planted in spite of rain and cool weather, and some oats are already up.
Gust Wickland and E. Erickson went upon the Wilson River last Sunday.
Mrs. E. Peterson went upon the Miami on Tuesday to look after her property.

BEAVER.

J. R. Dillow, of Blaine, was a pleasant caller at C. Mill's, Saturday last, stopping over night at J. R. Finley's, of this place.
Charles Flinn, who has been employed in the city of Pittsburg, Pa., as a boy's keeper and cashier, is now at Sheridan, where J. R. Finley, of this place, has gone to bring him and his wife and two children to Beaver, where they intend to make their future home. Mrs. Flinn is a sister of Lena Finley, our assistant post-mistress.
Pearley Hiatt and family moved away from Beaver last week to make their future home in Tillamook city. Their many friends wish them peace and prosperity.
Wm. Hiatt goes to Monmouth in a few days to do team work, where he is engaged for some two months.
Rev. Armstrong and little daughter Ruth have been on the sick list, but are now convalescing nicely.
Rev. Bukey, of this place, is now in route to Portland to return in about two weeks, accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Eddie. Four or five other families are expected to come along, all of whom expect to make permanent homes in and around Beaver.
Mr. Patrick, who is a rancher in no small way, near Salem, Ore., is a guest of his son-in-law, Jos. Bixby. He will return to his home in a few days and bring his family to Beaver, where they will make their future home.

COULSONBURG.

The fine weather of the past week put a broad smile on the faces of our citizens, and quite a bit of garden was planted.
Our school is progressing nicely, and our wish is that it will continue to do so.
Messrs. John Brady and Herbert Chapman, of Blaine, also a man from Eastern Oregon, passed through here Monday en route for the Netarts logging camp.
Rev. R. H. Dollarhide, of Beaver, was a pleasant caller at this place the first of the week.
Mr. G. T. Coulson is working for Mrs. Foland's at present.
Work on the new cheese factory has begun, and it will soon be completed. Then patrons bring on your milk.

SANDLAKE.

H. M. Farmer is running his saw mill to its full capacity, and turning out a good grade of lumber.
Wall Harris is ditching, slashing, burning logs, and otherwise improving his father's place. He has indeed made some very substantial improvements. He expects to continue the work throughout the summer.
Jeff Wallace was through this section of the country last week and bought up quite a herd of cattle, cows and two year olds.
Some of our people are planting their gardens for the second time, the long continued cold rains have rotted the first planting.
Mrs. Phelps and Mrs. Harris were visiting at the upper end of the Lake last week.
W. C. King still has some very fine cranberries on hand, which are keeping remarkably good for this time of the year. He expects to go out with a load for sale as soon as the roads are improved.
Rev. Ginn held services at our school house Sunday last.

HOBSONVILLE.

Perley Coulson and family, of Blaine, visited with friends at this place Saturday and Sunday.
Mr. Clark Bundy, of Browns, was the guest of N. Coulson, Sunday.
Lost—A hog about as large as a good sized rat, anyone knowing of its whereabouts will please keep it and say nothing about it.

BARNEGAT.

Bert Biggs and son went to the city Wednesday.
Mrs. Carrie Hauxhuast left Sunday eve on the Harrison for Vancouver, Washington, on a visit, and Miss Clara Biggs is deputy postmaster in her absence while Joe will keep a bachelor's hall.
The Barneget school will start Monday, the 15th, with Miss Ida Watson, of Tillamook, as teacher.
Bert Biggs and J. R. Harter made a flying trip to the hub Saturday.
Mr. Quick, of Blaine, is timber faller in F. Reynolds' camp at Barneget. Wm. Roberts, of Washington Co., is forman in camp, good for you R.
Mr. Tom Whaley, the teamster in R. camp is thinking of starting a mussel ranch near Barneget; he thinks they will do well here as there is a good demand for shell fish in the summer season.
Wm. Roberts is also thinking of farming a little, he will raise corn.
Ho! Ho! and Miss Maude has a beau.

HEBO.

Mrs. Sadie Knifong was buried May 7th, at the Godard burying ground. A large concourse of relatives and friends paid tribute of respect to one who has long lived among us. Her death was sudden and fears were entertained that she was not dead. The interment was deferred from Friday till all were convinced she was dead.
Saturday several men met at the school house and had a "wood bee." They cut, split and hauled five loads for church purposes.
May 14th a Sunday school will be organized at Hebo school house.
May 14th Rev. A. M. Ginn fills his regular appointment at Hebo school house.
The school is moving on harmoniously. Each pupil is deeply interested in his studies and seem to be trying to excel on all lines.
Report of Hebo school for the month ending April 28th, 1899. Enrolled, 25; average attendance 19; neither tardy nor absent, Lillie, Lizzie and Eddie Hansen, Alton Conner, Claude Lewallen and Jessie Wagner. We had 28 visitors. Directors visits 8. Average time spent, 2 hrs. each visit. Mrs. N. Martin Ginn, teacher.
Mrs. Sadie Knifong died last Thursday morning. She has not been very well for sometime. It is said she came very near dying while in a circle of the spiritualists sometime back, but has not been allowed to sit in one since then and has been able to work since. She was doing some work the morning she was taken ill and died very suddenly. She leaves several children and many relatives to mourn their loss.
There is great complaint of so much wet weather this spring. Some think he who sends it knows best what we need, and I guess he does.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to express our thanks for the sympathy shown us by the people of Bay City during the funeral services over the late Mrs. Margarette Balmer on Sunday last.
BALMER BROS.
To the Patrons of Husbandry.
Owing to the condition of the roads, the meeting of Pomona Grange, to be held at White Clover 279, is postponed to the third Thursday in June.
Fraternally yours,
FELIX ROV.

WANT TO BE LEADERS.

Pilipino Army Nearly Plunged Into Civil War.

MANILA, May 8.—The army gunboats Laguna de Bay and Cavadonga returned today from an expedition up the San Fernando river, where it was learned that just before the battle of San Tomas the insurgents were almost plunged into civil war.
General Luna, when an engagement with the Americans was inevitable, sent back to Bacolor to demand of General Mascardo reinforcements. Mascardo said he would take orders only from Aguinaldo, Luna, with a solitary regiment, made a forced march to Bacolor. Mascardo ordered his command to form in line of battle. Outside of the opposing forces the insurgent camp was all confusion.
Aguinaldo was terrified by the situation and ordered his chief of staff, Colonel Arguelles, to make peace at all hazards. The soldiers were waiting orders to fight when Arguelles called a conference with the rival generals. Aguinaldo begged Luna and Mascardo not to plunge the Filipino forces into civil strife at such a time.
His entreaties prevailed, Luna returned to the front with reinforcements, and Mascardo was court martialed for insubordination. The battle of San Tomas followed, and Luna received wounds in the shoulder and groin that will surely disable him for the rest of the campaign, and may cause his death.
Guagua was bombarded and carried by assault. The insurgents fired the town and abandoned a small gunboat of their own.
It was from the civil governor of the district, Jose Enfente, who stayed to welcome the Americans, that the news about Luna was received. He said that 5000 to 8000 natives had been killed since the beginning of hostilities, and 500 insurgents retreated from Guagua toward Bacolor when they heard the cannonading by the gunboats as they approached up the river. In the graveyard at Guagua are 400 newly made graves.
The insurgent forces have been divided, one body, under command of General Mascardo, going to the west of San Fernando, and the other, commanded by General Antonio Luna, moving north. Both these leaders claim supreme command of the Filipino army. General Luna will fall back to Terlac, and from that place move toward San Isador.
General MacArthur will make San Fernando his base of operations, sending out detachments of troops as they may be necessary.

Carnegie Sells Out.

NEW YORK, May 9.—A dispatch to the Tribune from London says: Andrew Carnegie, ask to give his reasons for selling his vast interest in the manufacture of iron and steel, referred with indorsement to an interview with him printed in a London paper today. In this interview Mr. Carnegie was asked if he had sold from fear or dislike of the trust, and was quoted as replying:
"The trusts have never frightened me, and the Carnegie Steel Company has no occasion to be afraid of them, as it is the greatest property of its kind the world has ever seen or perhaps ever will see. I did not sell out because business was not prosperous; it never was so prosperous, nor were its prospects ever so good. I sold in pursuance of a policy determined upon long ago not to spend my old age in business, struggling for more dollars. I believe in developing a dignified and unselfish life after 60."
Mr. Carnegie's attention was called to a paragraph in a London paper which referred to his famous declaration. "That to be rich is to die disgraced," and he was asked what he was going to do with the $100,000,000 he had amassed. "Tell that editor," replied Mr. Carnegie, "to watch and see. I hope I shall not justify the anthropist as a man with a great deal of money but very little sense."

REBEL STRONGHOLD.

May Be a Great Battle There.

MANILA, May 9.—Two companies of the Second Oregon troops, with the same number of Minnesota troops, discovered today the strongest fortifications and insurgent stronghold yet found by General Lawton's men. This is at San Isidoro, nine miles north of Baliuag. The position is so strong that it may be the place of a tremendous battle, if the insurgents hold the position. This and other indications show that the progress of General Lawton toward San Isidro will be contested every inch of the way. A mile of heavy earthworks with flanking trenches defends the town in such a way that a large body of troops will be required to take the place.
Thousands of half-starved natives rush into General Lawton's lines for succor, and all being fed on rice stores captured from the rebels by the Americans.
General Lawton has set up a Filipino municipal government at Baliuag, with a Filipino mayor, elected at a popular mass meeting.
Skirmish Near San Miguel.
MANILA, May 9.—6:35 P. M.—A reconnoitering party from Lawton's command consisting of two companies of the Minnesota regiment and two companies of the Oregon regiment, under command of Major Diggles, of the Minnesota regiment, advanced yesterday to a point near San Miguel, 12 miles north of Baliuag. The Americans were met with a volley from a force of rebels behind a trench. Major Diggles, who was wounded in the head, and a private, together with 10 typhoid patients, were brought by special train to Manila today.

The Don Jose, the last of the missing steamers under the American flag which were detained by the insurgents since the beginning of the war, and was found by the gunboat Manila at Batangas, arrived here today.

The navy department has selected a successor to Admiral Dewey to command the Asiatic station. Orders were issued today detaching Admiral Watson from the command of Mare Island navy yard, and ordering him to report to Admiral Dewey at Manila, to relieve that officer when he feels he can be spared there. Rear-Admiral Kempff, at present on waiting orders, has been ordered to succeed Admiral Watson, in command of the Mare Island navy yard.

It is authoritatively stated that the committee of the reichstag to which was referred the meat inspection bill which was substantially agreed upon by the imperial cabinet and the United States ambassador, Andrew D. White, has reported against the measure and in favor of hostile bills to American interests, and that the government will probably refuse to sanction it. The bill, as reported back, provides for an examination of American meats impossible to enforce without utterly destroying American trade with Germany.

It is persistently rumored that Major Marchand, leader of the famous Marchand expedition, which was returning from Fashoda, on the Nile, to the Red sea, en route to France, was killed by a band of marauders while on the way from Addis Abeba, the Abyssinian capital, to Ras Biboutil, the French post on the coast. It is also rumored that Captain Haratier, who brought Marchand's report regarding the Fashoda situation to Paris and subsequently returned to join in the retirement from Fashoda, was wounded in the same encounter.

There is a revival of the talk of an extra session of congress, which is more than idle gossip. The contingency of such a session has been discussed at a cabinet meeting, and a member of that body who was present is authority for the statement that the president's mind is strongly inclined toward such a move.

The United States and Great Britain will stand together in the advocacy of the adoption of a scheme for the settlement of the international disputes by arbitration, which will be presented to the disarmament conference at its meeting at The Hague on the 16th of the present month. The American delegates, headed by Ambassador White, are equipped with a fairly well digested plan for the execution of this long-cherished program while the British delegates are prepared with a plan which is almost identical with the American project.

Admiral Dewey, upon his return to the United States, is to be presented with a monster testimonial, consisting of autograph letters from nearly every member of President McKinley's cabinet, governors of states and prominent United States senators. The secretary of the treasury says, in his written opinion of Dewey, that he regards him as one of a galaxy of men who have made the American name honorable and illustrious. The secretary of state writes that no artificial commemoration of such a victory is at all needful to preserve it forever in the American heart. The secretary of the navy expresses similar views. The secretary of agriculture reminds Americans that Dewey, in a day, added an archipelago to the possessions of the United States. The secretary of war writes that he gladly adds his tribute of praise to Dewey, and the postmaster-general enthusiastically seconds the proposition to emphasize the gratitude of the people. While Admiral Dewey will be the recipient of many honors on his return home, this testimonial will be the first written evidence extended to him of the very widespread sentiment and gratitude on the part of Americans for the victory of Manila.
