Mrs. Sturgeon has bobinet and laces for neck scarfs.
More crash suits and skirts on the way for Mrs. Sturgeon.
Mrs. Dr. Hawke remains quite sick and confined to her bed.
Born, on Sunday, to the wife of Mr. William Shaw, a son.
Mr. M. Perkins returned home last week from Southern Oregon.
Dr. W. J. May returned to the city on Friday from Portland.
Mr. H. H. Downing was down from Nehalem on Wednesday.
A fine lot of second hand furniture just received at W. E. Page's store.
Mr. I. Simler had his finger knocked out of joint playing ball Thursday.
Miss Q. Kelly came in on visit to her sister, Mrs. H. Alderman, on Wednesday.
Brevity should be the soul of wit in addresses and lectures at teachers' institutes.
Dr. Wise has returned from Nehalem and will be at his office until next Tuesday.
Mr. E. D. Huntington, of Carrollton, Wash., is visiting his sister, Mrs. W. E. Davies.
Andy Nolan returned from San Francisco on Sunday, where he had gone on a visit.
Dan Pike, who left for the Klondike about two years ago, returned last week from that country.
Call and see the big bargains in crockery and bed room sets, stoves and tinware at W. E. Page's.
No wonder the city officials lost the ball game, they forgot the Headlight, the official newspaper.
The tug Roberts came in on Thursday from Yaquina loaded with flour and feed for Mr. Geo. Edmunds.
Mr. Maxwell Jones, Miss M. Davis and Mrs. Sheldon were in the city Wednesday from Hobsonville.
Mr. J. H. Jackson left Sunday for California to look up some mining prospects he discovered some years ago.
Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cohn and Councilman L. Olsen left on the steamer Luella on Sunday on a visit to San Francisco.
Anyone wishing repairs for mowers in the way of sections, guards, guard plates or knife heads can get them at W. H. H. Cary's.
Judge Cooper lost his pocket book on the ball ground on Friday and would be obliged to the finder to have it returned to him.

The best mower on the market for sale at Cary's hardware store. He has the exclusive agency for The McCormick Mower.
The Fraternal Union will have a social time on Saturday night to commemorate the introduction of the order in this city.
Tillamook cranberries are still on sale and in fine condition in this city, showing that those raised in this county are fine keepers.
Mr. J. Todd, of McMinnville, with his son and daughter, Miss Mattie and Mr. George Todd, are in on a visit to their relatives in this city.
Theodore Karp had a jury trial Tuesday for the larceny of a bicycle tag from A. Letcher's store and was found guilty and fined $25 and cost.
The steamer Elmore came in on Saturday and left again on Tuesday, and the steamer Harrison came in on Tuesday and left the next evening.
Harness, leather, lace leather, and shoe thread, wire harness needles, awls, shoe nails and all kinds of shoe filling at lowest prices at Page's.
Quite an improvement has been made at Cohn & Co's. dock, it having been enlarged and a new shed is to be built, making quite an improvement.
The county and city officials created a lot of fun for spectators in a game of ball on Friday, the county winning with a score of 62 to 51 by the city fathers.
If you want your pianos or organs tuned or repaired, now is the time to have it done for F. C. Shanahan will not remain much longer in this county.
Lost, a lady's grip on the Trask river road on Monday. The finder will confer a favor if they will return the same to Miss Pearl Sappington, at the Larsen house, Tillamook.
Go to the Pacific Lumber Co.'s yard if you want lumber. The number of teams hauling lumber from there proves that people have found out where to get a good class of lumber.
B. H. Bunn has a general job shop in Bailey's building, where he is prepared to do all kinds of repairs in tin, etc., as well as fixtures and fittings neatly done. Work guaranteed first class.
We have just received the exclusive agency for the "Little Samson" school shoe, which is guaranteed to be the best shoe on earth for little folks.—Cohn & Co., The Leading Merchants.
The 15 cases of shoes received by Cohn & Co., on the last steamer are the greatest line that ever struck the city. Our men's working shoes from $1.50 to $2.00 are the best thing ever shown.
The social time at the opera house on Tuesday evening after State Supt. J. H. Ackerman's lecture, when the ladies of the Presbyterian church served refreshments, was the means of passing a pleasant time.
Rev. — Lindsay, of Portland academy, accompanied by two noted singing evangelists (Webb and wife) will commence a series of meetings at the Christian church this (Thursday) evening. All lovers of oratory and vocal music are cordially invited.

The following officers were installed Tuesday evening, in the Oddfellows lodge by Deputy Grand Master Alfred Dean: Noble grand, W. Olsen; vice-grand, J. S. Diehl; recording secretary, G. W. Cohn; treasurer, I. F. Larsen; permanent secretary, W. J. May.
What's the matter with the gentlemen of Tillamook city? They have flopped right over to 16 to 1. That was about the ratio of ladies over gentlemen at the institute on Tuesday evening. We fail to see why the latter should not be just as enthusiastic as the ladies in school matters.
Howard Cary had the misfortune to get the thumb of his right hand knocked out of joint with a ball while catching in the ball game on Friday, and A. M. Austin, who foolishly undertook to catch without a mask, was hit on the side of the face with a ball and received a painful blow, thus rendering both hors de combat.
Mayor Eddy, on Monday evening, at the teachers' institute, when he asked the teachers how many could write a letter which was above criticism, touched a tender spot. Well, those who are in the habit of receiving letters from teachers know to what extent they err in dictation, and the mayor's remarks on this point was a just criticism.
Tillamook City's second team went to Bay City on Sunday and played a like team a game of ball there, in which the kids of the boom city managed to beat the kids from the metropolis with a score of 23 to 14. If they were defeated, the kids, on their return home, said they had played the most interesting game of ball this season. The contest between these teams will be renewed in this city Sunday afternoon.
One of the crew of the Elmore, who had got on a drunk and was left behind, took a bath in Hoquarton slough on Wednesday. After the Harrison had turned and was steaming past the dock the man—more drunk than sober—rushed down with the purpose of getting on board. He jumped on the Louise, slipped and fell into the water. The hauling it required to pull him out showed he was well filled up with tangle-foot and it would not have taken him long to have drowned had not prompt assistance been given him.
Mrs. Annie Marolf, wife of Mr. Embert Marolf, died on Monday, aged 75 years. The deceased lady was born in Switzerland and came to this county from that country sixteen years ago, with her husband and eleven children, all of whom have grown up. Five are residents of this county, viz., John, Fred, Godfried, Alex, and Albert, while Alfred Marolf resides in California and Mrs. Annie Metzger and Mrs. Mary Meyers reside in Portland. The Marolfs are respected and enterprising citizens of this county, having made a host of friends since locating here. Mrs. Marolf had been sick for the past six months. Rev. R. E. Dunlap conducted the funeral service at the house and the remains were buried in the Oddfellows' cemetery on Tuesday, a large number of friends attending the funeral as a token of respect to the deceased lady and bereaved family.

Tillamook's Pug editor fell all over himself last week trying to extol Claude Thayer. Now, Pug, if Claude is editing the special edition, you unwittingly a few weeks ago tried to prove him a notorious, ungrammatical ignoramus. We do not think Mr. Thayer claim either of these honors conferred upon him by a sniffling, cringing, contemptible Pug. Of course we cannot expect Pug Watson to give us any credit for putting several hundred dollars into the edition, for a snap and a snarl and a carouse in a saloon is more in his line of enterprise.
A bevy of old settlers congregated on the ball ground on Friday, who were seated on a bench together. There were eleven of them and their ages ranged from 79 to 68 years, and combined it reached 797 years. Most of these elderly gentlemen were as spry as ever, robust and bright intellectually, thus proving that Tillamook is an ideal county for longevity. We give below their names, the states and the year in which they were born:
J. J. McCoy, Missouri..... 1820
J. G. Day, New York..... 1822
N. B. Morey, Maine..... 1822
W. N. Vaughn, New York 1823
G. R. Edmunds, New York 1826
H. Herrington, Canada ... 1827
J. S. Elliott, New York..... 1830
A. Mapes, Ohio..... 1830
J. H. Nolan, Pennsylvania 1830
W. S. Hays, Pennsylvania 1831
A. Nichols, Michigan..... 1831
State Superintendent Ackerman rightly expressed the sentiment of the Headlight when he touched upon high schools and said Tillamook could, and should, have one. Having agitated the matter several times in these columns we hope the state superintendent's remarks will be instrumental in creating a sentiment in favor of introducing higher branches of study in the public school of this city. We hear a great deal about boys growing up hoodlums and their being allured by the enticing temptations of saloons and the gambling dens. Ministers of the gospel scold from the pulpit and parents are in a dilemma to know what to do. Can we look to the churches to interest young people after they have passed through the public school and to keep them in the path of virtue and temperance? We think not, for the shrinkage in the Sunday schools of young people from the age of 14 up proves that to be an impossibility unless a radical change is introduced. Young people, full of life, high spirited and naturally gay, cannot be expected to hold the same ideas as some of the staid members of our churches, hence the atmosphere is uncongenial and they drift away, becoming easy victims to the many temptations which beset them. And this at an age after young people have graduated from the public school and cannot find employment. The state superintendent hit the nail on the head when he logically pointed out what temptations these young people would be saved from were they being instructed in high school studies. Until the matter is thoroughly taken up and some enthusiasm aroused, we suppose nothing will be done to introduce high school studies in the public school of this district, the greatest objection being the financial condition of the school. In all seriousness, boys are not to be blamed for becoming hoodlums as much as their parents, for if their environments tend to lower rather than raise their moral characters, it shows that we lack in Tillamook city institutions to counteract the evil influences of idleness, the saloon and gambling.

Who was the Official—
Who looked like a gander in high grass?
Who caught a ball on the fly and then quit?
Who held the umpire up for contempt of court and made it stick?
Who tried to catch a ball on the fly with his mouth open and his hands six feet apart?
Who had a happy faculty of going down on his posterior when the ball slipped through his pods?
Who was awfully surprised when he found two men were not allowed on one base?
Who wanted an apron to catch the balls?
Who, after striking a ball, did not know enough that he had to run to the first base?
Who nursed his arm as though he had been initiated into nursing a baby?
Who muffed the balls as though his hands were buttered?
Who, after a collision, looked as though a rough and tumble scrimmage had knocked all the ball play out of him?
Who struck at the ball at the same gait as the tune to the "Dead March" in Saul.
Who tried to catch more balls with his feet than with his hands?
Who threw every ball twelve feet wide of the mark?
Who was not over-alled?
Who thought he was playing a scientific game according to rules by allowing every ball to pass through his legs and then turning round and wondering how he missed it?
Who surprised the spectators when he caught a ball?
Who looked more like a "peach" than a "puddin'" when running?
Who got as cranks as a bed bug when anything did not go according to his ideas?
Who won the admiration of the ladies?

ARE ALIVE AND WELL.
Message From Oregon Boys Supposed to Be Dead.
SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—There was rejoicing in the Oregon camp this morning when Captain Poorman, of company M, posted a cablegram from General Otis saying that Ralph McCoy, James E. Lawrence and Clarence Mills are still alive and well in the Philippines, though prisoners of the rebels.
Since April 28, these men have been given up as dead. On that date, at 6 in the morning, they were sent to reconnoiter territory adjacent to Marilao, near the company camp. All were heavily armed, and were to return at or before noon. That was the last heard of the trio until yesterday, when General Otis learned that they had been spared by the insurgents, who had taken them prisoners. No details were received.
Company M is jubilant tonight, and everybody feels like celebrating, for the men long mourned as dead will, it is thought, soon be on their way to the friendly shores of Oregon. All are members of company M, and many a day was spent by their anxious comrades in scouring the swamps and bamboo jungles to find some trace of them.
The remains of Private James Doyle, who died from dysentery Saturday night were buried with military honors this afternoon at the Presidio. Chaplain Gilbert performed the last rites at the hero's grave. A message was received from the brother of the deceased, in Prince George island, Canada, asking that the body be interred in the military cemetery.
The Oregon camp looks deserted, and everything belonging to the government has been removed, except beds in the tents.
The boys of the second regiment invited the Nebraska men to lunch with them today, and two hours of good cheer and fellowship were spent happily. The Oregonians have done their share in welcoming the returning volunteers, and met them in a body at the transport dock.
