H. G. Wood, the government photographer on the Columbia river, was looking after Uncle Sam's interests in our city Monday and Tuesday.
Poor lights cause poor eye sight. Poor eye sight causes expense and head-aches and heart-aches. The best artificial light is none too good.
Go to the Pacific Lumber Co.'s yard if you want lumber. The number of teams hauling lumber from there proves that people have found out where to get a good class of lumber.
B. H. Bunn has a general job shop in Bailey's building, where he is prepared to do all kinds of repairs in tin, etc., as well as fixtures and fittings neatly done. Work guaranteed first class.
The Oregon Press Association meets on the 21st of this month at Astoria, and as the editor is the treasurer, he will attend, leaving the "imps" to paint the city red in his absence.
The Free Methodists will hold an old-fashioned camp meeting at Bay City, Oregon, commencing August 17th, 1899, and lasting over two Sundays, at which all are invited to participate.
H. J. Blaesing, representing the Blaesing Granite Co., of Portland, was in the city the first of the week. He is quite a cyclist, riding the entire distance from Portland to Tillamook in 14 hours.
It gives us pleasure to announce that the Rev. Mr. George, of Hillsboro, Ore., will preach in the court house next Sunday evening. He will also preach at Bay City Presbyterian church next Sunday morning.
On account of the special edition we have been unable to devote much time to this week's issue of the Headlight, as our staff was engaged several days binding. It will take about two weeks' work for our staff to finish binding the edition.
The visitors at Mrs. John Barker's are Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Morgan, parents, Mrs. F. E. Bishop and Mrs. H. D. Morgan, sisters of Mrs. Barker, and Clifford Moore, of Portland, and Misses Marie and Grace Trullinger, of North Yamhill.
The veracity of some of our best people is being stretched all out of shape, for troling is all the fashion. Mr. Todd and Mr. Perry have brought in the largest salmon yet, but those caught and sold down on the bay must be beauties if all accounts are true.
Mr. J. C. Corrier has been busily engaged in the arrangement of the box factory department for the Tillamook Lumber Co. He had to work after hours in order to fill some rush orders. The cheese and butter boxes turned out were highly satisfactory.

There are only two applicants for teachers' certificate at the examination in the city this week, viz: Madaline Wade, first grade, Tillamook; David Baxter, second grade, Dolph. The examiners are Supt. G. B. Lamb, Mrs. Carrie May and Mr. F. R. Smith.
Strangers are numerous in the city now-a-days. Some are here for business, some for pleasure and some looking for homes. One prominent business man, who has traveled all through the north-west the past six months, remarked that Tillamook was the prettiest and by far the liveliest town he had visited.
Mr. Ben Schofield, the manager of the State Fair exhibit of industries for this year, passed through Tillamook Sunday. Mr. Schofield desires an exhibit from Tillamook county, and the Port Commission will probably undertake furnishing it, and steps will be immediately taken for the formation of the first exhibit Tillamook county has ever undertaken. Farmers are requested to bear the exhibition in mind, and all information or assistance possible will be given to Mr. Thayer, Secretary of the Commission.
Rev. Arnald Lindsey, of Portland, has been holding a series of religious meetings at the Christian church, drawing large congregations. The rev. gentleman is a fluent and pleasant talker, being broad-minded in his ideas, and is delighted to find in Tillamook City such respectable, intelligent audiences. The subject for the next three nights is "The Prodigal's Son," divided up as follows: This (Thursday) evening, "His departure;" Friday, "His downfall;" Saturday, "His return." Sunday morning Mr. Lindsey's subject will be "Christ exalted." In the afternoon, at three o'clock, lectures to men only, and in the evening "The palm tree." All are cordially invited to attend.
Notice.
Wanted, a place for a girl 9 years' old to live permanently and work for her board and go to school. Her clothing will be furnished. Apply to Eli O. Mills, Beaver, Oregon, or to any G.A.R. man in Tillamook city.
SOUTH PRAIRIE.
Haying is about over we presume. Our district school began Monday, Miss Gladys Newell at the helm, The special edition of the Headlight is quite a treat. Give us another sometime. Stanley Lamb took a "wheeling" trip to the Normal school at Mounmonth last week.
George Overton and wife, also Mr. Hume and family, old acquaintances of F. M. Lamb, is rusticating at Netarts. They are citizens of Linn county.
Ethel Maroff spent a couple of weeks recently, pleasantly with her aunt, Mrs. J. D. Wallace, at Beaver.

OUR SPECIAL EDITION.
"It's a Credit to Tillamook," appears to be the General Opinion.
We have issued our special edition, published in the interest of Tillamook county, and the consensus of opinion is that "It's a credit to Tillamook." The credit of its publication belongs as much to those who have given their support and patronage to the HEADLIGHT as to the man behind the gun. By this patronage and dint of economy we managed to save several hundred dollars which we expended on paper and pictures for this edition, because there was a demand for literary matter pertaining to Tillamook county. We have contended that the home newspaper can do more to advertise a county than any other means, and more support and patronage it receives at home, better equipped financially will it be to undertake an expensive edition like the one we issued on Saturday. But few people realize what an edition like that costs, yet see at a glance that it is a fine edition to advertise the county. Citizens of this county can do their part in advertising the county if they will send copies to their friends in the east, for this is one of the most effectual means to interest and secure a desirable class of settlers. The HEADLIGHT will make an effort for the next few years to advertise the county now that we have issued one edition for that purpose, therefore, those who support and bestow their patronage upon the HEADLIGHT will, in some measure, help to bear some of the expense which will naturally fall upon us. It is a source of satisfaction to know that the special edition came up to the expectation of the citizens. It would be an act of discourtesy if we failed to thank those who took a lively interest in its publication and supplied us with articles, which we take great pleasure in doing at this time, also to the Port of Tillamook Commission for the interest it took and the advertising it secured from the outside.
High School Studies.
TO THE EDITOR OF THE HEADLIGHT:
I think possibly your remarks in last week's Headlight with reference to the public school of this district were written without a full acquaintance with the facts. The truth is that a year ago the board introduced the higher studies which you deem so important. At that time the board made provision for teaching in the school the first and second year high school studies, and during the year just closed the first year high school course has been carried on. During the coming year, those pupils who have finished the first year's studies will be advanced into the second year high school course. We should all be glad if a four years high school course could be taught here, but in aiming at that object, the newspapers and the public at large ought not to overlook what has already been done.
On behalf of the school board and the teachers, I invite you to familiarize yourself with the actual conditions existing in our school, and then let us have your suggestions for improvement.

B. L. EDDY, Director.
[We are perfectly aware of the fact that the directors have introduced some of the high school studies, and our remarks were not intended as a disparagement to the directors or teachers, nor do we believe they were taken that way. No matter how accurately we may become familiar with the actual conditions, it revolves itself into this: The directors acted wisely in introducing some of the high school studies, but to introduce a regular high school it will require money to carry it on, and we hope the time is not far distant in this city when the citizens will liberally take this matter up with that object in view.]
NEHALEM.
Nehalem is to have a photographic artist.
Louis Lentke is very low with consumption.
Mrs. Grant Patton, who has been visiting her husband, returned to Portland on Monday.
Tom Blackburn, who is in poor health, will leave us shortly with his wife for Portland. We are sorry to see them go.
Saturday eve twenty young couple met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Pye, and celebrated the joint birthdays of their boys, George and Harry.
I am in receipt of a copy of the illustrated edition. It is well gotten up and a credit to all who have been engaged upon it and should do much to help build up this county.
WILSON RIVER.
School will begin next Monday with the Misses Berdie and Edith Perkins in charge.
Rev. Osbrink closed his meetings at the school house on Monday evening, and although people were busy haying there was a good attendance, the guitar and singing being especially enjoyed.
Miss Nelson, who has been visiting with her brother's family the past week, will leave for her home in Oakland, Cal., via Forest Grove and Portland.
Rev. Osbrink will leave for his home in Portland over the Wilson river road on Thursday morning.
The illustrated edition of the HEADLIGHT was a surprise. Most everyone say they must have copies to send to their friends.
BEAVER.
Our school is progressing nicely, with Miss Lena Wolf as teacher. No teacher has ever gives better satisfaction.
Rev. Dollerhide, on Tuesday of this week, went to Sheridan to bring in the new tabernacle which, as we learn, will first be set up at Bay City, where he and other able workers will hold a camp meeting, commencing August 15th.
On Tuesday of this week Mr. Paterson and wife passed in route to Newburg, where Mr. Paterson will again resume his duties as clerk in store, his family expect to return to their home in Blaine next spring. In very many particulars they love Tillamook county a home better than the Willamette valley.

Professor C. T. Eddy, of Amherst College, has had a large experience in teaching, and has served to teach in 12 weeks school at Beaver, providing 25 students can be secured. Recently we learned through Geo. B. Lamb, school superintendent, that he has made partial arrangements to procure his services to teach a summer school next summer of Tillamook.
