Wise Bros., dentists, will keep their office open constantly from this on.
Mr. Morris Leach is having electric lights fixed in his private residence.
Mr. Thayer has engaged two schooners for carrying lumber to San Francisco.
Mr. T. S. Townsend is in the city from Portland and stopping at the Larsen house.
Joe Gandrau, of Hobsonville, was a passenger on the stage leaving this city on Monday.
The new United Brethren church is nearly completed, work having been resumed upon it.
Wanted, Bee's wax. Will pay 20c. per pound cash for same.—W. H. Cary, Tillamook, Ore.
The band boys' social proved a financial success and a most enjoyable event on Friday evening.
The Tillamook Lumber Co.'s mill has been thoroughly rehabilitated, the entire week having been spent in that work.
Mr. Geo. Edmund's store building has been moved from Main street to the corner opposite Nel. Thompson's furniture store.
Mrs. Sturgeon has gone to San Francisco, via Portland, and on her return you will find the latest styles displayed in her millinery parlors.
The mail, which was coming in by way of the south part of the county, was changed on Tuesday to the old route over the North Yamhill road.
Mr. R. M. Watson returned to the city on Sunday on the steamer from Portland. He attended the meeting of the Oregon Press Association and became a member.
Dr. James Withycombe, Prof. F. L. Kent and John Fulton, of the State Agricultural College at Corvallis, and Mr. Thomas Paulsen, of Garden House, came in on Tuesday.

Dr. Wise, resident dentist.
Go to the Pacific Lumber Co.'s yard if you want lumber. The number of teams hauling lumber from there proves that people have found out where to get a good class of lumber.
B. H. Bunn has a general job shop in Bailey's building, where he is prepared to do all kinds of repairs in tin, etc., as well as fixtures and fittings neatly done. Work guaranteed first class.
Kinney's and Wist's canneries have both been sold to a combine and will be operated together. Mr. E. C. E. Wist will probably retain a large block of the stock and continue his interest in the management.
The new steamer Ann Irene came into the bay under tow from Astoria on Saturday evening. She immediately went on to the regular route on the bay and will also tow logs for the Tillamook Logging Co.
Mr. Geo. Himes, secretary of the Oregon Historical Association, having seen a copy of the special edition of the Headlight, requested the editor to furnish him with a copy to place with the archives of that association.
Private Charles Newman, of the Second Oregon, came in on the steamer Sunday from Warrenton, where he has been visiting his sister, Mrs. Dr. Linton. A letter, giving his views of the condition of affairs in the Philippines appears in another page.
Died, on Tuesday, at Fairview, after a lingering illness, Miss Emma Tinnerstedt, daughter of Mr. W. Tinnerstedt, aged 25 years. The remains were buried in the Oddfellows' cemetery on Wednesday, when quite a number of sympathizing friends attended the funeral.
We understand there is some probability of Rev. Mr. George, of Hillsboro, being selected to fill the vacancy in the pastorate of the Presbyterian Church in this city on the expiration of Mr. Allen's four months' appointment. The reverend gentleman preached in the city about three weeks since.
Congressman Thos. Tongue has notified the editor that he will take a copy of the special edition of the Headlight to Washington when he returns, which he says he will find very valuable in securing appropriations for government improvements in Tillamook county from the rivers and harbors committee.
Mr. Norman Darling came in from Portland on Monday with Mrs. Hutchins. He was a resident of this city some years ago, having clerked for Mr. G. W. Miller, leaving the city in 1874. Mr. Darling was surprised to find that nearly all the old land-marks had been removed and in their places modern business houses had been erected.
The barn belonging to the Jos. Donaldson's estate, containing 170 loads of hay, was burned Monday night. It is supposed that the over-heated hay caused the loss. It may be feared that other barns will meet a like fate, as so much ily cured hay has been housed. The loss of the barn and hay amounted to over $2500. There was an insurance of $600 on the barn.

"I guess I can't tell Tillamook farmers anything about cheese making," remarked one of the professors of the Oregon Agricultural College after tasting the cheese while dining at the toll gate on his way in on Tuesday. "No," said another professor and a connoisseur of that article, "there's a flavor and a richness in Tillamook cheese which cannot be found in that manufactured in other places."
The sum available for the improvement of Tillamook bay and bar is $24,597. Proposals for constructing the short spur dikes provided for in the approved project and for making repairs to other dikes built in past years were opened on July 18, and the proposal of G. O. Nolan, of Tillamook City, Or., was accepted. He was to enter upon his contract early in August.—Captain Hart's report.
Rev. W. S. Holt, D.D., Synodical Missionary of the Presbyterian church in Oregon, will be in this city Thursday, September 7, and will hold a Preparatory service in the court house on the evening of that day, and in Bay City Presbyterian church on the evening of Friday, September 8. Sunday, September 10, at 11 a.m., he will conduct the ordinance of the Lord's Supper at Bay City, and in the court house of this city at 8 o'clock p.m. of the same day.
One thousand copies of the special edition of the Headlight sent to parties looking for good locations in this section of the country would do more good than a dozen pens sent on a junketing expedition east to advertise Tillamook county, and which, in comparison, would cost nothing to trips of that description. We have several thousand copies of the edition still on hand, and to those who want to see something for the county here is an opportunity if they are sincere in their desire to be in a few hundred dollars.
Mr. Fred C. Baker returned to the city on Tuesday on the stage after attending the Oregon Press Association, of which he was re-elected treasurer, and visiting friends in Portland. The editor invited the association to visit Tillamook next year, but owing to the desire of the editors to visit the southern part of the state, Ashland was chosen as the next place of meeting. The editor then had an invitation spread on the minutes of the association to visit Tillamook in 1901. Citizens of Oregon now realize what amount of advertising this state received on account of the visit of the National Editorial Association, and for the same reason the editor invited the Oregon Press Association to visit Tillamook so that other parts of the state may become better acquainted with the dairying and lumber resources of this county through the newspapers of the state. Having heard considerable about Tillamook county, nearly all the editors attending the association this year signified their desire to come to Tillamook the year after the association's visit to Ashland.

Mr. E. A. Snyder came in on Tuesday on the stage. He has just returned from Alaska.
Articles of incorporation of the Nebalom Packing Company were filed for record in the county clerk's office at Astoria. The incorporators are: Samuel Elmore, W. G. Goslin and John T. Lighter, and the capital stock is $50,000, divided into 500 shares of $100 each. The principle office of the company is to be in Astoria, and its objects are to buy and sell fish and to operate canneries and sawmills.
It is the opinion of Dr. James Withycombe, of the agricultural college, that the damage to the wheat by rain is over-estimated. After minute examination of several fields, he ventured the opinion that were grain in the shock had been properly cared for during the rainy spell, 99 per cent would be saved. There would of course, be loss where shocks had not been rebuilt or where bundles were allowed to lie for a considerable time on the ground. There would be loss also in fields where the forest growth prevented free circulation of wind. One of the worst features of the damage is believed to be the rust that has affected numerous fields of late grain. There is a general air of hopefulness over the present situation and prevailing conditions. Some farmers aver that the general injury will be partially, if not wholly, compensated for by resultant benefits. Pastures and hills on all sides are green with a new crop of grass that is already two or three inches high. Though some fields of late grain are rusted and in others standing grain has been knocked down all of such grain that was not too far advanced is undoubtedly much better filled.

Tillamook City Public School.
The public school at Tillamook City will open September fourth. Among the regulations recently adopted by the directors are the following:
Children under six years of age will not be admitted.
Pupils will not be admitted to the primary department after the expiration of two weeks from the beginning of the current term.
Regular attendance will be required of all pupils, and those who are absent without sufficient excuse will be liable to suspension.
Pupils from outside the district will be charged tuition as follows: $3 per half-year for each pupil in any grade below the eighth, and $5 per half-year for each pupil in any other grade.

Card of Thanks.
We wish to extend our thanks to the friends who kindly sympathized with us in our late bereavement, and to those who so kindly assisted us through the sickness, and with the burial of our son, Julius Suttke.
MR. AND MRS. AUGUST SUTTKE.

Public Spirited Citizens.
[TO EDITOR OF TILLAMOOK HEADLIGHT]
DEAR SIR,—Will you kindly publish the names of those people who assisted in the issuance of the special edition of the Headlight. In order that the citizens of Tillamook county may understand who, among the business men of the county, are willing to give their time and money toward the public welfare.
The merchants, particularly, who do this should receive their reward in the shape of public patronage. It has always been my opinion that those of our merchants who are willing to spend their money freely for the public good should always have first place and the most liberal patronage.
CLAUDE THAYER.
[This is not the first request we have received of this character. We prefer, however, not doing so in this issue, as we intend giving this matter prominence in the near future.]

The Quaker Medicine Co.
Representatives of the Q. M. Co. have arrived and hold forth at the Allen House corner every night at 8 p.m., much to the delight of the large crowds who attend. The Quaker lecture is a splendid talker and gives a lot of wholesome advice regarding health and how to keep it. The Comedian is a clever rag-time negro singer and dancer, and has the audience roaring with laughter each evening. The Quaker Remedies are a standard proprietary medicine, well known in the Eastern states where they have been sold for the past 35 or 40 years. For the past five years their Western headquarters have been in Portland, Oregon, and they have in the meantime advertised every large town in this state. The Quaker doctor is a well informed and travelled gentleman and expresses himself as well pleased with Tillamook and the prospects for his business here. They remain all this week and part of next, giving free concerts every night, so take in the show and try the remedies.

A Valuable Ally.
MANILA, Aug. 28, 7:23 P.M.—A report received here from Cebu says:
Dato Mundi, with his tribesmen, have taken the war path against the insurgents at Zamboanga, and has given them a warm battle. Mundi welcomed Gen. Bates, saying he was anxious to become an American citizen, and ask permission to fight insurgents. He was given an American flag.
General Bates will return to the Sulu archipelago to arrange for establishing an American garrison there.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—A dispatch was received at the war department from General Otis, stating that Dato Mundi, of Zamboanga, attacked and defeated the insurgents there August 26, killing 30.
