TILLAMOOK, OREGON, SEPTEMBER 7, 1899.

$1.50 per year.

TILLAMOOK JOTTINGS.

Dr. Wise, resident dentist.
The rain is trying its hand at perpetual motion.

Mr. Oak Nolan left today for San Francisco.

The fine weather of the past few days feel congenial.

Today the latest in ladies' neckwear at Mrs. Sturgeon's.

Mr. and Mrs. Sales were in the city on Thursday from Foley.

Mr. Alex. McDonald was in the city on Wednesday from Nehalem.

Dr. J. Withycombe and Mr. T. Paulsen left on the stage Saturday.

Nels. Thompson is making an attractive cabinet for Barber Latimer.

Wise Bros., dentists, will keep their office open constantly from this on.

A full line of ladies' and children's underwear just received by J. A. Todd & Co.

The steamer Elmore came in from Astoria on Tuesday and reached this city the next day.

On receipt of one dollar we will mail 12 copies of the special illustrated edition to any address.

Examine our ladies' and children's underwear and hosiery before buying.—J. A. Todd & Co.

Wanted, Bee's wax. Will pay 20c per pound cash for same.—W. H. Cary, Tillamook, Ore.

Rev. A. R. Griggs, formerly pastor of the Presbyterian church here, came in on a visit on Tuesday.

Union suits in underwear in wool and cotton for ladies and children, 25c. to $2.50 at J. A. Todd & Co's.

Mrs. Nels Thomson is putting up a neat cottage near the court house, and Mr. J. S. Lamar is preparing to do the same.

We gave G. Nelson a number of copies of the special edition to take to Sweden with him, who has left to visit the old country.

Unclaimed letters at the post office are for Mrs. Lizzie Maschen West, Mrs. Chas. Dunall, Wm. Bolton, Christ Bohren, John Plennour.

Sheriff Henry Alderman, with Miss Queeny Kelly, who has been on a visit to her sister, Mrs. Alderman, leave for Portland Friday.

The professors from the agricultural college think Tillamook is the ideal place for dairying and a county where cheap feed can be raised.

If you want your watches and clocks cleaned or repaired, call upon Eugene Jenkins. First class work guaranteed. At Letcher's store.

Street Commissioner Lahmon is putting in a cross walk to the wharf, which is a great improvement and convenience to those who have business there.

Go to the Pacific Lumber Co.'s yard if you want lumber. The number of teams hauling lumber from there proves that people have found out where to get a good class of lumber.

B. H. Bunn has a general job shop in Bailey's building, where he is prepared to do all kinds of repairs in tin, etc., as well as fixtures and fittings neatly done. Work guaranteed first class.

Fred R. Smith and Emmett Quick have dissolved partnership as hotel runners and proprietors of the Tillamook hotel. Emmett will continue in the business, having quit at the livery barn.

Supt. G. B. Lamb has called a meeting of the Tillamook County Teachers' Association to be held at Nehalem on Saturday, September 16, for which an interesting program will be arranged.

Mr. J. W. Atwater, while wrestling with some of the boys last Sunday, had the misfortune to be caught in a twist, resulting in the breaking of one of his legs. He is getting along as well as could be hoped for.

What's the trouble with the mail to Tillamook city? Every few days it is switched in a different direction and there is no telling over which route it will come. Again the mail carrier from the south end of the county has to pack the mail to this city.

Mr. O. R. Chamberlain is in the city. He is agent for the Best Incandescent Lamp Co. and will canvass the county with a nice lamp which will give one hundred candle power at a cost of only one cent per hour.

Woods is wanting telephone connection with Tillamook's metropolis, and Mr. J. E. Tuttle is stretching his cranium whether to put it in or not. No doubt if Mr. Tuttle saw enough inducements he would not be long making up his mind.

Mr. John Hathaway returned, after a few weeks visit, from Southern Oregon, convinced that Tillamook cannot be surpassed for a dairying county and where the farmers are prosperous in comparison with those in other sections.

Just fancy, the county has purchased a $1.25 alarm clock, and, no doubt, the taxpayers will wonder who the officials are that the county have to provide an alarm clock to get them up in the morning. Why not provide them with some "soothing syrup" when they go to bed as well?

Up-to-date citizens have electric lights in their business establishments and their private residences. It's cleaner, cheaper, brighter and safer than any light that can be obtained. There's no fear of spontaneous combustion. See the Tillamook Lumber Company about the cost of electric lights.

Most Rev. A. Christie, Archbishop of Oregon City, arrived here on Saturday and preached at the Academy on Sunday morning. He was much surprised to see that Tillamook county had so much undeveloped resources. After transacting important business, the rev. prelate left the city on Monday.

There was a good attendance this week at the opening of the public school, when 160 pupils were enrolled. The interior of the school building during the recess was painted throughout, giving the classrooms a nice clean appearance. From present indications it looks as though this district is going to have a successful school this winter.

Rev. W. S. Holt, D.D., Synodical Missionary of the Presbyterian church in Oregon, will hold a preparatory service in the court house this (Thursday) evening and at Bay City Presbyterian church on Friday evening. Dr. Holt will preach at Bay City on Sunday morning and in this city in the evening, at both of which places he will administer the ordinance of the Lord's supper.

The rain in Oregon this year is doing considerable damage, especially to the crops of the wheat growers. Although Tillamook county has had an unusual amount of rain, the farmers here have not experienced the losses those in other sections of the country have from the same cause, thus proving the fact that Tillamook is a desirable county for people to settle in if they want to avoid bad weather and where crop failures are not known.

Captain J. J. Dawson having sent one of the special editions to Weather Observer B. S. Pague, received this reply: "I have to acknowledge the receipt of it to thank you for the illustrated edition of the Headlight. It is a most excellent paper, and it reflects great credit, not only on the publisher, but also upon the energetic citizens of your county. Your article (referring to the weather) is perfect; it is prepared in an interesting and instructive manner."

The visit made to Tillamook county last week by several members of the faculty of the Oregon Agricultural College should convince farmers that any old place will not do for a cow barn. The drift of their whole arguments in the care of cows and the handling of milk turned to cleanliness, ventilation and proper sanitary arrangements where cows and milk are kept. While in Portland the editor met Dairy and Food Commissioner Bailey, who intended visiting this county last week. It is Mr. Bailey's duty to inquire into the sanitary condition of barns, creameries, cheese factories, etc.

The city council met on Monday with Councilmen C. E. Hawke, L. Olsen and J. A. Cohn present. The following bills were allowed: Tillamook Lumber Co., $15.08; water, $40; S. Anderson, $2; Pacific Lumber Co., $13.96; recorder's salary, $10. Mr. F. R. Beals made a proposition to the council to have Second Avenue East graveled, which would cost $180, the property owners being willing to pay half this amount if the council would pay the other half. This was left over for a full attendance of the council. Mr. Beals presented a petition to have Second street, between Third Avenue

West and Third Avenue East, ordered improved. This was deferred for the same reason.

Tillamook county had a matrimonial boom since our last issue, County Clerk H. Mason having issued the following marriage licenses:

Scham A. Cox, age 22, and Iva A. Nodine, age 19.
Ollie Osburn, 24, and Ella W. Christenson, 17.
Edward L. Kinnaman, 28, and Lena Finley, 28.
Charles Lundquist, 24, and Emma E. Nelson.

Lawrence E. Sanders, 30, and Gertrude A. E. Lyster, 18.
Reuben Y. Blalock, 32, to May Donaldson, 23.

The county commissioners, in the matter of a change in the location of a public road or in that of a petition to open a new road, have generally a most difficult problem to solve, viz., that of the legion of people who put in claims for damages. There are case where just claims are made and should be paid, but we are inclined to think that in a majority of cases for damages it is not right to pester the county commissioners with them, and, further, they are often so exorbitant to make them ridiculous. When the citizens of a certain section want a new road it should be their aim not to jeopardize it with claims for damages, for the commissioners have not an abundance of money to burn for that purpose; in fact, they have to be exceedingly economical with the small amount of money at their disposal for road work.

Dr. James Withycombe, of the Oregon Agricultural College, in his lecture last week in this city on "Bovine Tuberculosis," surprised the majority of his audience when he asserted that that disease and consumption were not hereditary but contagious. In doing so he made a most logical argument in favor of his assertion, claiming that where cows had tuberculosis and were placed in unsanitary and badly ventilated barns with other cows, this was the principal cause of the spread of tuberculosis amongst cows. The same thing applied to persons suffering with consumption and the environments with which they were placed in with other people which caused consumption to be contagious. Dr. Withycombe did not think there was much fear of tuberculosis spreading in Tillamook county owing to climatic conditions, but during his short stay here he had visited some barns which were not ventilated as they should be.

Some of our friends in the south part of the county are trying to make a mountain out of a mole hill because we inadvertently stated in our special edition that Nestucca river did not admit coasting vessels fit to navigate the sea. We plead guilty to being misinformed, but it is strange that the same error was not detected in the literature sent out for many years by the state board of immigration. Previous to preparing the copy for the special edition we sent a number of letters to different parties in the south end of the county asking to be furnished with descriptive articles. Nearly all of these letters remained unanswered and there is no use kicking now, for we tried to treat all sections of the county alike. However, we are glad to know of the actual facts, and at the proper time the editor will call the matter to the attention of the Oregon delegation in Washington with a view to securing an appropriation for the improvement of Nestucca bar and river.

The Quakers Are Going to Leave.

After Saturday night the Quaker concerts will be a thing of the past, as they leave Monday for North Yamhill, where they have been before. Their concerts have been well attended here, and their medicines have given good satisfaction, and we have to thank them for giving us the pleasing free concerts they have for the past two weeks. Their medicines are good household remedies and of standard reputation, in fact, if all advertised medicines were as good as the Quaker Medicines really are, this would be a good world to live in. To-night is the pie eating contest by the boys, and the next night something else as an extra attraction, and Saturday night they promise the best entertainment of all, as it will be the last night.

Notice.

Mrs. C. N. Drew will take a limited number of scholars or teachers to board during the next term of school.

Commissioners' Court.

The board of county commissioners, with Judge C. W. Sappington and Commissioners G. Ray and C. H. Wheeler in attendance, were in session on Wednesday and Thursday morning.

In the matter of the petition of M. T. Chance for location and vacation of county roads, the viewers put in a favorable report and the court appointed viewers of damages Charles Kuntz, Grant Mills and James Hughey, to meet the 20th Sept.

In the matter of the road petition of H. M. Farmer, praying for a location of a county road leading from Sand Lake to Spruce, the viewers handed in a favorable report, and the court appointed viewers of damages Andrew Commons, Hy. Rogers and Richard Robede, to meet on the 20th inst.

In the matter of the road petition of L. Parish for a change of road from Tillamook city to Nehalem river was reported upon favorably by the viewers, and the court appointed viewers of damages C. H. Hicks, Alfred Dean and Miles Warren, to meet on the 20th inst.

In the matter of the road petition of P. D. Newell for a trail from Nehalem to the county line of Clatsop county, the viewers presented a favorable report and the court sanctioned making it a public trail.

Philippine Question From a Commercial Point of View.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—Senator Carter, of Montana, in an interview with a Post reporter today, said that, in his opinion, the war with the Philippines would be ended by January 1. Then, he said, would come the question of the future disposition of the islands. The republican party, he believes, would settle this question by insisting that the retention of the Philippines was a matter of business profit.

"This," added the senator, "is a practical age. We are going to deal with this question on a basis of dollars and cents. If the American people believe that the Philippines are going to help us, they will never let the islands go. If, on the other hand, they find them a constant drain and small returns, you will find the verdict of the people to be against permanent retention. Neither religion nor sentiment will have much influence in determining the verdict. The great question will be, will it pay? If we can show the country that it will, as I think we can, the American flag will never come down from the Philippines."

"What sort of a government should be devised?" "Three suggestions will undoubtedly be made. The first will be to abandon the islands entirely to the natives. I do not believe this will meet the approval of the American people. "The second will be to seize the islands in a firm grasp, assuring the people that we mean to give them a better government than they could enjoy under any other flag or could create for themselves, but that we are the masters and propose to remain so.

"Then, the third proposition will be to throw a loose string around the people holding their sea ports and custom-houses with our navy, but allowing them absolute freedom in their internal affairs. This freedom, in my judgment, would soon become anarchy, and we would have to rule anyway, so I should say that the second proposition is the one that ought to be adopted. The firmer we are in our administration, the more respect will those people have for us.
