

SNAKES! SNAKES!!

Inspired, Watson Saw Jupiter and Mars Fighting Snakes while the Sun was Shining.

Bro. Watson, editor of the Herald, was under an inspiration this week, or to put it more correctly, has had a jag on, loaded up to such an extent that he had snakes in his eyes, snakes in his shoes and snakes in his body. While in this jagged condition on the Main street Wednesday afternoon, Watson became inspired, and he was heard to say: "This is a funny world—come and have a drink—Jupiter and Mars—come and have a drink, come along—Jupiter and Mars are fighting snakes—come along, have a drink—Jupiter and Mars—come into Hadley's, come into Lamar's!" Those luminaries failed to "Come and have a drink." The inspiration had not only greatly affected Watson's equipoise, but Jupiter and Mars must have come in contact with that which inebriated him and made it ferment. Talk about a will barrel, Watson's breath so polluted the atmosphere that had the health officer been around he would have been justified in putting him in quarantine.

As Watson went off with another invitation of "Come and have a drink," one of the boys remarked, "Watson is well jagged up today," while another chimed in, "He's been load up nearly all the week."

What, this supposed exponent of public morals, sobriety, and moulder of public opinion, inebriated again, yes, and he has an idea he's the biggest toad in the puddle when in that condition!

Card of Thanks.

The family of the late Mrs. Alendorf wish to thank those who showed so much kindness and sympathy in their sad bereavement.

The Spanish government has sold the Havana floating dock for $800,000 to a syndicate of Vera Cruz merchants. Several New York firms have been asked for terms for conveying the dock to Vera Cruz. The purchasers wish to take it away about the beginning of next month.

SOUTH PRAIRIE.

Mrs. S. A. Daniel has gone to visit relatives at Balm.

Mrs. J. D. Wallace, of Beaver, and others were out Sunday to take in the dedication services at Tillamook.

John Marolf has returned from Portland, where he has been visiting relatives and the Oregon "hub."

John Simmons has nearly completed his contract of logging on the Neiger place.

Owners of grain are waiting with whatever patience they can command for the advent of the thrasher.

Mr. and Mrs. David Fitzpatrick are to be congratulated as possessors of the coziest little home in Tillamook county. The inside finish and furnishing of their residence is a marvel of taste and workmanship.

James Sanders has the contract of erecting the woodshed at the school house of District No. 2. The work is to be done soon.

This from New Orleans Picayune of Sept 18th: "There can be no questioning the fact that the country as a whole is at the present time enjoying a season of the greatest prosperity." How is that for a solid democratic opinion during a republic administration?

NEHALEM.

Salmon has been running pretty well the past week, and the cannery is being taxed to its utmost capacity. 2600 were delivered one day.

Robt. Krebs has quite a crew at work, making and delivering salmon boxes.

A number of boys find employment in the cannery, wrapping and packing salmon.

W. Blackburn made the last move into the Krebs timber with the donkey engine on Monday. He is sending logs down as fast as they can be rafted.

Mrs. Lendtkie is said to be dangerously ill.

Dick Sales is chief engineer at the cannery.

Miss Daisy Sales was married to a Mr. Smith, of Warrenton.

Mr. H. W. Phelan took in Nehalem last week. He is looking after the interests of Jones. "He pays the freight."

Himble and Wheeler's sawmill remains shut down.

They are building a scow for carrying lumber to Portland.

COULSONBURG.

Here we are again after so long a time.

Mr. N. Coulson and wife made a trip to Tillamook last week.

Mr. Harlin Fowlund was in our burg Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Dollarhide visited in the burg Monday and Tuesday.

Mr. David has moved into his new home.

Mr. C. Mill and wife, of Beaver, and his daughter, Mrs. Daniels and children, of Nehalem, visited at N. Coulson's Thursday.

Mr. N. Coulson made a flying trip to Blaine Wednesday.

Mr. R. O. Richard passed through the burg en route for Tillamook Wednesday.

Mr. W. Bays and Mr. G. Smith were seen on our streets Friday.

Mr. West, formerly of New York, but now of this place, went to Tillamook Friday, returning Sunday.

E. Haag was in the burg Saturday.

Miss A. M. Coulson, who has been working at the logging camp, returned home Sunday.

Mr. Dan Murphy, of Tillamook, was in our burg Sunday.

BARNEGAT.

Mrs. Squires and Mrs. Richardson, of Garibaldi, were over on the Sand Spit Monday, and left Tuesday.

Bert Biggs and A. W. Quick went to the city Tuesday.

Mr. H. M. Sampson returned to Tillamook Friday.

Mrs. Esther Bramer was called away Monday to her daughter's, Mrs. Wilson's, to help care for their children, as they are down with the whooping cough.

Mr. F. Tomlinson was at Barnegat Monday on business.

NETARTS.

Several loads of campers have arrived in the last few days, and the prospect is if the weather continues good there will be quite a lot on the bench yet this fall.

Mr. B. O'Hara left for Portland last Friday where he will remain for a short time on business.

J. H. Jackson is expected home from California in a few days.

Geo. W. Phelps spent Friday and Saturday in Tillamook city on business.

Wm. Hewey and wife, of Hoquartion prairie, was at Netarts the fore part of the week.

"This year's corn crop will be one of the largest in our history," said Secretary of Agriculture Wilson. "The total yield as estimated will be between 2,800,000 and 3,000,000 bushels. The high prices offered for meats will induce the farmers to use their crop for feeding purposes."

What the Pencil Pushers Say.

Yaquina Bay News: When Aguinaldo gets a little out of breath he demands a conference.

Roseburg Plaindealer: Most of the retired soldiers will vote next year as they shot this year and last—for the United States and the American flag.

Astoria Budget: There is one trouble about a rainy season in the Philippines. It rains too much for land operations and not enough to permit the navy to sail inland.

Woodburn Independent: Before he spouts too much on anti-expansion Bryan should consider the fate of Jerry Simpson, who was hissed off the stage at Wichita when he expressed sympathy for Aguinaldo.

Gervais Star: War between England and the Boers does not seem necessary. The Boers sought seclusion from unfriendly home influences, and all they ask is to be let alone in the enjoyment of their seclusion and happiness. When the clash comes the sturdy Boers will not be found wanting either in valor or in success. England is great on the sea, but not so great on land.

Oregon City Enterprise: Aguinaldo has again entered the field of diplomacy and is now trying to get his so-called government recognized by Otis to the extent of entering into negotiations. He will not get the recognition, but will be treated as the leader of the insurgent forces. He had better confine himself to the "sprints," as they are the only events in which he shines.

Coquille City Bulletin: Out in the Willamette valley they are shipping in hogs from Nebraska. Here in Coos county we annually export hundreds of the finest porkers in the land to a California market. With the railroad through to Roseburg, we could do a great deal toward supplying our Willamette neighbors with many of the product they now import. In other words, we would become a part of Oregon, in fact as well as in name. Ninety per cent of the county's productions are at present marketed in San Francisco. It is a good field, all right, but we would feel better if we could patronize home industry.

Oregonian: Excitement in the United States over the Anglo-Venezuelan dispute, four years ago, when President Cleveland sent to congress a message which his critics called a "declaration of war," was an outward manifestation of this country's cumulative feeling against England from 1776 to 1865, intensified by wanton assertions of partisan politicians that Great Britain had by corrupt means brought about a change in the financial legislation of the United States. Now the boundary commission has made its award, and there is so little interest in the matter that not one American in a dozen can make a more definite statement of the outcome than that "Venezuela holds the mouth of the Orinoco." Also, in the same time, the country has learned that England took no hand in our financial legislation, and that, if she had helped us to the gold standard, we ought to be thankful. The sudden decadence of hostility and quick growth of friendship between the two great English-speaking nations is one of the striking phenomena of the nineteenth century's close, and augurs well for peace and civilization. Yet the United States is as ready now as then to assert and maintain the Monroe doctrine.

MANY SOLDIERS DROWNED.

Luzon Rivers Claimed More Lives Than Bullets.

MANILA, Sept. 4, via San Francisco, Oct. 9.—The army in Luzon has lost more men during the past fortnight by drowning than by bullets. All the little streams which in dry weather are mere creeks have become swift, wide rivers, with unexpected and treacherous currents and eddies. Ten colored soldiers of the Twenty-fourth infantry were drowned in the Marquina river August 22, in an accident exactly duplicating the loss of five soldiers in the Pasig river three months ago. Soldiers are conveyed across streams on bamboo rafts, whose motive power in a rope stretched between the banks. In both cases the rope broke, the rafts were overturned, and part of the soldiers, weighed down with guns, haversacks and heavy ammunition, were unable to reach the shore. Private J. E. Poole, of the Twenty-fourth, lost his life in attempting to rescue his comrades. The last of the bodies of the 10 soldiers were recovered in the river this week, and all have been buried with military honors.

Four men of the Third infantry, stationed at Quingua, were drowned in the Bagbag river before daylight the morning of the 17th, when the regiment was starting against the forces of Pilar, which were threatening the railroads near Malolos. Corporal Peter Larson was the hero of this accident. He was drowned in an effort to save others. Lieutenant Chauncey B. Humphreys rescued several of his men by great effort, and was himself nearly drowned during the work. The regiment started from Quingua at 3 o'clock in the morning and swam the Bagbag river, carrying their guns, 140 rounds of ammunition, and haversacks. The river is wide and shallow and most of the distance was fordable, but the current had become so swift that many were carried off their feet. Seventeen were compelled to drop their guns to get across. Corporal Larson had reached the farther shore, when he heard the cries of the drowning men, and plunged back with his gun still strapped to his back. He carried one of his company to safety, and turned back a second time. He was heard to say, "I don't think I can make it but I'll try." He reached midstream, and was struggling to bring out another helpless private, when both sank and were lost. Most of the men took off their shoes before crossing, and marched and fought all day in their socks, a most uncomfortable experience in the jungle country.

T. S. Martens, of Leavenworth, Kan., a private of the Twentieth infantry, was drowned in the Pasig on the 23d. He was boarding a schooner in front of the office of the captain of the port, when a rope to which he was holding broke, and he fell into the river. He rose once, but before help could reach him he disappeared.

An attempt will shortly be made to connect Havana and Key West by the Marconi system of wireless telegraphy. It is claimed that if this is successful it will reduce the expense of cabling to New York more than one-half.

Freeman Strait, a well-known real estate dealer and insurance agent, with an office on Lower Broadway, N. Y., has been arrested charged with defrauding the government by selling war revenue stamps chemically restored after cancellation. It is stated by treasury special agents that Strait and his associates have cheated the government out of $100,000. Strait, they say, has been clearing $2000 a week. At his home were found a large number of stamps in various stages of restoration, also the chemicals used in the process.

Timber Land, Act June 3, 1898.—NOTICE FOR PUBLICATION. United States Land Office, Oregon City Oregon.

Notice is hereby given that in compliance with the provisions of the act of Congress of June 3, 1898, entitled "An act for the sale of timber lands in the State of California, Oregon, Nevada and Washington Territory," as extended by the Public Land States by act of August 4, 1897.

AGUSTA McLEAN, of Portland, county of Multnomah State of Oregon, has this day filed in this office her sworn statement No. 504 for the purchase of the S 1/4 of section 25, in T 7 N, R 2 E, Range 7 W, and will offer a portion thereof to be land sought for more valuable for its timber or some other agricultural purposes. It is established her claim to said land before the Register and Receiver of the said day of January 1900. She names as witnesses:

Walter Smith, W. M. Hillingworth and Frank Stevington, of Wilson, Or.; John E. Tuttle, of Tillamook, Or.

Any and all persons claiming adversely the above described land are requested to file their claims in this office on or before said 2nd day of January 1900.

CHAS. B. MOORE, Register.

FORCE THE ISSUE.

Boers Send an Ultimatum to England.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—The Transvaal government has sent an ultimatum to Great Britain demanding the withdrawal of British troops from the frontier, and requesting explicit assurance within 24 hours of the withdrawal of all British forces landed in South Africa since the Bloemfontein conference.

Government to Be Local.

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—A special from the Times-Herald from Washington says: Major-General Otis has informed the war department of his adoption of a comprehensive scheme of local government for all the cities and towns in Luzon occupied by the American forces. He has issued instructions directing that the system be put in force and places senior officers of the occupying troops in charge of the formation of such government.

In each town there will be a municipal council composed of a president and as many representatives or head men as there may be wards in the town, which shall be charged with the maintenance of public order and the regulation of municipal affairs. It will, by majority vote, through the adoption of ordinances or decrees, administer the municipal government, but no ordinance or decree shall be enforced until approved by the commanding officer of the troops. The president shall be elected by a viva voce vote of the commanding officer, and together with the head men shall hold office for one year. He shall be of native birth and parentage and a resident and property-owner of the town. The head men shall be elected by a viva voce vote of residents of their wards.

The president shall be the executive of the municipal council to execute its decrees, and the senior head man, or one designated by the council, shall be vice-president of the same, assistant to the president and ex-officio lieutenant of police. The council shall have no jurisdiction in civil cases, but on application of the parties in interest and their agreement in the writing to accept the award of the council it shall hear and decide cases involving property not exceeding $500 in value. In criminal matters the president, representing the council, shall make the preliminary examination, and according to the result discharge the prisoner or transfer him immediately to the custody of the military authorities for trial by provost court.

The steamer Tees, which has just brought $50,000 in gold from Alaska, reports that a stampede is now in earnest from Dawson to Nome. When the miners who arrived by the Tees left the Klondike, river steamers were being left without crews, and seamen deserting to join the great crowd hurrying down the river to the new Eldorado. Navigation will close next week on the upper river, and the steamers will go in to winter quarters near White Horse.

The British steamer Guelph, from Southampton, Sept 2, via Teneriff, September 8, has arrived at Lorenzo Marquez. It was reported she had ammunition on board consigned to the Transvaal authorities, and the British third-class cruiser Philomel sailed to intercept her. The Guelph, on being signaled to stop and to state what ammunition she was carrying, replied that she had none. She was therefore allowed to proceed. The Philomel followed her into the harbor. It appears that the ammunition was landed at Durban, Natal, as the owners learned that the cargo would be seized at Lorenzo Marquez.

The correspondent to the World hears that the British high commissioner in South Africa has been authorized to notify President Steyn, of the Orange Free State, that a "peaceful" settlement of the Transvaal difficulty can be made if Kruger will disarm his people, grant the desired franchise to the Uitlanders, and pay Great Britain indemnity for the cost of her military preparations, which now would be less than $1,000,000. Rumors are again prevalent that Lord Salisbury is working for peace.

For saving the life of an American soldier, Major-General Otis has granted a full pardon to Domingo Magno, a Filipino prisoner who was sentenced by a Spanish court in 1897 for penal servitude for six years for robbery. Magno suffered confinement for the alleged offense for four years prior to his trial and conviction. During the attack on Manila last February by insurgent sympathizers, the prisoner saved the life of an American soldier, and the provost marshal general reported that the prisoner had displayed good conduct during the time he had been under surveillance by Americans.

NORTHWEST NEWS.

In a write-up of a wedding, a Crook county correspondent describes the groom as "a respectful farmer."

Oyster bay is now shipping 500 sacks of oysters a week, and arrangements are being made to increase the catch.

Monday of last week Coquille creamery patrons were paid for their August product, about $4000 being distributed. The money was of new coinage silver.

Apples are falling from the trees in the vicinity of Dalles. This is said to have been caused by too much summer rains. However, many fine mature apples are coming to market.

In case of conviction of the Ontario-Westfall stagerobbers, Sheriff Lacey, of Malheur county, and Detective Jones, of the S.ort line will be entitled to a reward of $5000, says the Baker Democrat.

"With busted water mains and busted feed pipes at an electric station, inhabitants of South Bend have a time to get water for their toddy or lights to eat by," says a writer to the Pacific Journal.

Fishermen are throwing up the sponge and will quit fishing, says the Marshfield Sun. Never before was the run of salmon so light, and the season has been most disastrous for both cannerymen and fishermen.

A potato phenomenon is being displayed in Colfax. The growth consists of several large vines, on which there are scores of potatoes ranging in size from a bird's egg to a man's fist. The potatoes grow entirely above, instead of under, the ground.

Robert Young, foreman of Seaborg's cannery at Fairhaven, was in Astoria, and reports that his cannery has packed, so far this season, 63,000 cases, consisting of 54,000 cases of sockeyes, 7000 cases of silversides and 2000 cases of spring fish. The price being paid for silversides at present is 15 to 18 cents per fish. He says the combine among the canneries on the Sound and Fraser river will include about the same proportion of the plants as the combine of the Columbia river canneries does here. Several of the large institutions have refused to join the combine.

Two Clackamas county men have just returned from Dawson. They are Otto Gengelbach, ex constable at Clackamas, and John Officer, of Molalla. Gengelbach did a good business with a lunch counter at Dawson, and finally sold out his place. Officer stopped at Cape Nome for several days on his way out, and reports that the beach sands are of surprising richness. Men who went there without a cent are making from $30 to $50 per day with an ordinary rocker. Cold weather, however, will put a stop to the work, as there is no fuel, but a little driftwood washed ashore by the waves.

The schooner Jessie arrived at Astoria from her deep-sea fishing cruise. She has been out less than a week, and has been to the halibut banks off Cape Flattery. She brings 14 tons of halibut, and they will be shipped East at once. The fish were caught in half a day, which was the only time that fishing was possible on account of the severe weather. She will start out again a few days, and as this first trip has been a success, the company that sent her out on an experimental cruise, will engage in the business regularly. Their purpose is to keep two schooners on the banks, and have a steamer bring their catch here for shipment. The fish that the Jessie brought in are in the best of condition, and average about 40 pounds.

Hugh B. Borthwick, the well-known saw mill man of Globe, met with an accident Sunday afternoon, from the effects of which he died at St. Vincent's hospital. It seems that Mr. Borthwick went out to assist in opening a jam in the flume which carries the logs three miles to the mill. He was standing on a trestle working with the logs, when he slipped and fell to the ground several feet below. His arm was terribly fractured by the fall, but it was not thought at the time that he was seriously injured, until after he reached Portland. Dr. Caithorn then discovered that the unfortunate man had received internal injury of a serious nature. Everything possible was done to relieve him of his sufferings and save his life, but without avail.

The price of fall fish at Astoria, Or., was advanced again Sunday by both the cannerymen and cold-storage people. The original price fixed by all interested at the beginning of the fall season was 2 cents. The cannerymen paid a quarter of a cent in advance of this, and called it commission. When this was found out all the cold-storage interests raised the price to 2 1/2 cents. This price has been met by the cannerymen, both the combine and other canneries, and Sunday C. Alter has set the price at 3 cents, which the other cold-storage buyers will probably meet later. The only fish now delivered are silversides, and 3 cents a pound for them is as high as has ever been paid for fall fish. This price about equals that now being paid on the Puget sound, with an advantage locally as the fish can be packed cheaper here. There is still a good margin, and the price may yet go higher unless the cannerymen and cold-storage men shall get together. The run of fish is light, and there are very few caught except silversides.
