SIR .- Many contradictory and slanderous reports are reaching me from over Oregon, containing my removal and dsparture from Tillamook in the near future; others have it about my excommunication and about other slanderous falsehoods. Many are astonished to see me here yet. It took my own consent to bring me to Tillamook and it takes m own consent for my departure. Wien I refused my active and moral support to be used as a tool by some usurers and money sharks against the honest and poorer class of people they thought themselves able to go ahead and succeed in spite of me, but found out their mistake. They are therefore determined to have me removed. They used every means and got everything ex cept my own consent. They found and got even decayed Catholics and used them as weapons against me. Poor weapons in the hands of cowards achieve little. I hereby offer the sum of $25,00 to pay anyone for his trouble who wants my removal from Tillamook and who shows and proves before the competent judge that his motives are honest and that therefrom he is an honest man. As for the time being 1 can say to my anxious friends that, notwithstanding all reports, they will enjoy my company in Tillamook, and to my dear opponents that I'll enjoy their company very much and more so in the future than I have in the past.
