As the republican county ticket is composed of persons who are sober, intelligent and have done much to purify politics, we fail to see why the prohibition party cannot endorse most of these nominees.

Railroad gossip in this county is no new thing, in fact, any old thing of a railroad rumor is freely discussed, and this is how we size them up: Pro-Procrastina. Procrastina. Procrastination. We're now ready to discuss railroad gossip once more. Next, please.

Who can beat this? Mr. C. H. Blake, of Nestocon, has a heifer just three years old which has dropped four calves—one pair of twins March, 1899, and another pair last Thursday, April 12th. Surely the bovine of this county must want to be in harmony with republican prosperity.

Calamity howlers in Tillamook county have had their wind shut off by the fact that dairymen are receiving unusually high prices for butter fat and all kinds of cattle fetch figures away up. In fact, dairymen in this county never participated in better times. And for that reason they will vote the republican ticket for a continuance of prosperity.

Tillamook county has another experienced butter and cheese maker who won a premium at the world's fair, the Tillamook Creamery Company having engaged Mr. Joseph Latta, who arrived from Ontario, Canada, on Saturday. Having had 17 years' experience in butter and cheese making, he is another valuable acquisition to that creamery company, the product from this factory being turned out in splendid condition.

Pettys; third grade, Misses Ruth Cooper, Pearl White, Amanda Tinnersted, Carrie Judd, Selma Allen, and Mrs. Blanche Hurlburt.

The democrats held primaries in this city on Saturday, when the following delegates to the county convention were chosen: Hoquartan—J. D. Edwards, J. A. Todd, T. Coates, J. Lahmon, Peter Heisen, John Erickson and C. Hunt; road supervisor, Peter Heisen. Tillamook—D. C. Pierce, J. G. Day, J. W. Latimer, P. W. Todd, Geo. Cohn, Fred Tomlinson, B. S. Thompson, G. W. Grayson and C. H. Woolfe; road supervisor, Gus Wickland. At Fairview the delegates chosen were John Emblum, T. Jenkins, H. F. Holden, H. Ellison, John Morgan and Ed. Evans.

The Endeavorers belonging to the Christian church on Saturday gave an Easter social in Todd's hall, which was packed to its fullest capacity. It turned out a pleasant affair, to say nothing of the artistic rope baskets which contained supper. Besides music by the string orchestra, the audience was entertained with songs by Misses Fae Todd, Nevada Grayson and Pauline Alderman and recitations by Miss Ruth Eddie, Mrs. Edith King and Mr. R. R. Imbler. Mr. Albert Plank was the winner of the prize at the bean board, Miss Nevada Grayson won the egg race prize, and the booby prize was awarded to Mr. R. Imbler. All went home greatly pleased with the evening's enjoyment and the dainty refreshments.

Take the districts which have no cheese factories and the difference between the districts which have them may be seen. Those which do not have them do not have the improved land, the amount of cattle, buildings or other improvements which the other does. The farmer who lives near a factory may consider himself fortunate. He is doing well and making money.—Ocean Wave. Yes, when manufacturing industries are buzzing there is plenty of money changing hands and very little opportunity for calamity howlers to do a jaw-bone business. The prosperity in Tillamook is due, in a large measure, to those who have been instrumental in erecting cheese factories and creameries, but the high price the dairymen are receiving for butter fat they cannot thank the populists for, for it is republican prosperity which brought this about.

The nomination of Mr. B. L. Eddy for joint representative is a source of gratification to Tillamookers, for he is worthy of the honor conferred upon him by the republican party. Being industrious, progressive, and scrupulously honest and straight-forward in his dealings, he will use his energies for the best interest of this county, and should anything come up in the state legislature which will be advantageous to Tillamook county we can rest assured that he will leave no stone unturned to accomplish. Besides, the name of Mr. Eddy upon the republican ticket already nominated in this county adds strength to it, for the nominees are all popular and in whom the citizens have implicit confidence in, as their opponents, to their sorrow, we predict, will find out when the votes are cast June next, and we may add further that no one will regret voting the republican ticket this year, for it stands for pure politics and the best interest of the taxpayers.

A prohibition meeting was held at the court house on Friday evening, when the speakers were Revs. F. H. Neff and R. V. Blalock, who did not scruple to arraign the republican and democratic parties for their connection with the saloon element, and who, the speakers said, were responsible for the wretchedness which existed in the country and for filling the asylums with lunatics and the prisons with criminals. For every dollar of revenue that was received from saloons it cost twenty-one dollars to care for and prosecute their products. They even criticised President McKinley and county officials who were inebriated, closing with the remark that Christian people were not true to their God or their profession if they did not vote the prohibition ticket. After the speaking, which was interspersed with singing, a prohibition club was formed with Rev. F. H. Neff as president and Mrs. J. D. Edwards secretary. A committee was appointed, composed of Mrs. Geo. A. Edmunds, Mr. Monroe and Mrs. J. D. Edwards, to arrange a program for a rally in this city the evening previous to the prohibition county convention.
