The band boys give an entertainment on Saturday evening, May 12th, when two farces, "Barney the Baron" and "A Male Cook," will be played, besides other attractions.
The Harrison has come and gone, but it left Wade & Briggs a large shipment direct from the east of granite steel ware, from which the people of Tillamook can supply their wants.
There appears to be quite a number of persons suffering with the grippe in the city. We thought it was candidates who had the grip malady about now, but we are greatly mistaken.
Fairview Grange, No. 273, will meet at Ackley's hall the second Friday in May, the 11th. All members are earnestly invited to be present.—L. S. MAYNARD, master.
The steamer Harrison, which came up on Saturday loaded with freight, left on Tuesday, taking out 9900 pounds of butter and 19,740 pounds of cheese, representing about $3,500.
Quite a number of barrels were taken down to the bay this morning, and they will be placed in the wrecked schooner Lila and Mattie for the purpose of getting her off the beach.
Mr. Henry Thorne, city passenger and ticket agent of the Nickel Plate railroad, Chicago, Ill., in writing for one of our special editions, says: "We are looking up a place for a summer outing."
Surveyor Austin was surveying a piece of land on the north side of the slough which the government may acquire and dredge out for the purpose of keeping the scows and forming a depot where government material is to be kept.
Has our untirred democratic friend, Mr. J. D. Edwards, a political surprise up his sleeve? Say, boys, John has been in politics a long time and he needs watching, for he's slipping around like an eel. Wonder whether he'd bet a new hat that some of the untirred nominees would be elected?

I will sell my entire stock of boots and shoes and men's hats and caps at cost for cash. I have about 250 pairs of shoes, prices ranging from 75c. to $2 per pair. Now is the time to buy cheap, as I want to close out my stock of shoes and hats. Geo. W. Phelps, Netarts, Or.
With the city council minus two councilmen, one of the two remaining councilmen can block any proposition by keeping mum. Now if there are any disgruntled office-seekers around with soreheads here's an opportunity for them to get into office. Don't all speak at once.
There is some talk of another livery barn being erected in this city, and if an opposition stage should be put on for the summer months over the Wilson river road, we understand "cut rates" will be resorted to, so that the traveling public will be able to cross the mountains at a nominal sum this summer.
If there was any prospect of constructing bicycle paths in this county with the money collected from the bicycle tax there would be some sense in continuing to collect that tax. But there is but very little hope of the money collected being able to amount to a sufficient sum for that purpose in this county for a number of years. The number of persons who paid the bicycle tax last year were 182, and for every tag sold the tax collector receives 25c., leaving the insignificant sum of $182 to build a bicycle path! The only person receiving any benefit from the bicycle tax in Tillamook is the tax-collector, and even what he receives after paying for tags, etc., would take but a few seconds to blow in the balance.
Julius N. Hart, republican candidate for district attorney, was born in Illinois thirty-one years ago. He came to Oregon at the age of sixteen, first settling in Marion and then in Polk county, where he has resided continuously since. He is a self-made man, having paid his own way through school, first finishing a literary course and then a law course. Mr. Hart has had five years of active and successful practice in the law, having practiced in all the state courts, as well as the federal courts, and has been connected with some of the most important litigation in Polk county, where he has the confidence of all the people, and where by his untiring energy and devotion to duty, he has won his way to the front rank of the legal profession. Mr. Hart will give the people a clean and competent administration of the affairs of the office of district attorney.

McKinley takes a little wine for his stomach sake and follows the advice of the good book the prohibitionists won't allow him to slide down their cellar door; begorrah, can't someone patent a milking machine to work like a pump-handle? begorrah, everybody appears to be getting new buggies to take their best girls driving; begorrah, who is this Barney the Baron the band boys are advertising? begorrah, it's time the political speakers got on the stump, for the Headlight don't want to hold the kobje all the time; begorrah, it's only people who like to be bottled-up who intend to vote the popocrat ticket; begorrah, we had better quit before inciting some fellow to pay up his subscription or wanting to mop the floor with the editor; begorrah, if you want letter heads, bill heads, envelopes, etc., the Headlight is the best place to go to have them artistically printed.

Slobbering and Dancing.
How church people do vary in their ideas of amusement. Taking up one of the Portland papers we noticed that a church in that city had a social dance. No doubt a number of church members look upon this as exceedingly worldly and un-Christian-like. The question then naturally arises why is it that some church members look upon dancing as something awfully wicked while others see no harm in the light fantastic? Perhaps many object to dancing because it is abused and often leads young people into gay company. Here's a question that is often asked: "Is it any more sinful to attend a properly conducted dance than to participate in a kissing bee gotten up to raise the parson's salary?" or as some young men pointedly put it: "The church people recognize it as etiquette for young men to kiss and slobber the faces of young girls—often the old ones as well who like that fun—at church socials, but are horrified with dancing." We will not attempt to decide which is right or which is wrong, for some people look with so much disfavor upon dancing that it is useless to try and convince them that a kissing bee is more nauseous than a well conducted dance.

He'll Mill Her, Gosh Durn Her.
"I went out to milk that cow of mine last night," said the old-timer, carefully nursing his arm, "and here before you are the remains I'll forget myself and assassinate that cow brute some day. As I said, I went out to milk her and she behaved all right, with the exception of wrapping her tail around my neck and then unwrapping it. This didn't last, however, and she inserted her hind hoof in the pail and looked around to see if I liked it. In a sudden spell of madness I yanked up a neckyoke and histed it at her and missed her and knocked over a row of chickens. Then I got excited and landed on her face with my right and unjointed every joint in my body. She, the cow, then became agitated and stood up on her hind legs and ran me in the hay-mow. I remained up there, occasionally telling her she might go to some place if the sulphur agreed with her health, until my wife came and chased her off. To, night I shall hog-tie her, blindfold her, and, with the assistance of a club, milk her, gosh durn her, to a finish."

Oregon Blood Purifier,
The King of Spring Medicines and Blood Purifier.

It purifies the blood and tones the digestive organs, takes away that dull heavy headache, pains in the back and general tired feeling. That's what it's made for; and when you have Rich Red Blood coursing through your veins your appetite is good, your digestion is sound and you are sure to feel sound and vigorous.
During the past year I have sold more Oregon Blood Purifier than all the rest of the Sarsaparillas and spring medicines put together. Don't that speak well for its merit? Comes in two sizes, 50c. and $1 per bottle.
