The Gem of Golconda, a pure India tea, recognized by English tea drinkers as a pure blend of tea, is on sale at McIntosh and McNair's.
Call early and buy your children some good heavy shoes, as they are being sold out fast. You can save money by purchasing of Alfred Letcher.
There's nothing like efficient county officials to look after the taxpayers' interests, so vote for the popular candidates on the republican ticket.
Mr. B. L. Eddy will leave Saturday for the purpose of making a number of political speeches in old Yamhill county and help along the republican cause.
Letcher will do his own watch, clock and jewelry repairing himself in future, having purchased a first class set of watchmaker's tools for that purpose.
The agency for Spalding's base ball and athletic goods for Tillamook county has been placed with B. C. Lamb, who will carry a full line of base balls, bats, etc.
Mr. Julius N. Hart, republican nominee for district attorney, was in the city last week. He expects that the republicans will make a clean sweep in Oregon next month.

Colonel J. B. Eddy's appointments for speaking are Friday evening at Hobsonville; Saturday evening at the opera house, Tillamook city; Monday, at two p. m., at Hebo.
A deed was placed on file on Wednesday transferring from Mrs. E. T. Davies to the Astoria Company 5643 acres for $20,000, the property being in 2 N 9, 3 N 9 and 3 N 10.
Mrs. T. E. Allen, who has made a successful principal of the public school in this city, will remove to San Francisco to join her husband, who is studying for the ministry in that city.
Having purchased the stock of shoes and hats of Mr. Phelps at a very low figure, I will give the people of Tillamook the benefit of the bargain by selling them out below cost.—A. Letcher.
Mrs. L. G. Freeman returned on the stage from Astoria on Wednesday on account of the sickness of her husband. We are glad to hear that Mr. Freeman has somewhat improved in health.
We raise our protest to any more grip, thinking it should be confined to political candidates. However, the editor extends sympathy with those who have had the grip or likely to get it.
The school board having engaged Prof. B. O. Snuffer, of Amity, for principal of the public school will contract with the other teachers to be engaged at a meeting of the board to be held tomorrow.
Mr. L. Parrish has the ability to make a first class county commissioner, and it is a foregone conclusion that economy will be his policy and the expenditure of public money where it will do the most good. Give him a vote.
"A subscriber" wants to know why a railroad cannot start into business like any other business enterprise and pay its own way. The editor hardly knows, with the exception that people who construct railroads don't appear to be built that way.
Dr. W. Tyler Smith, republican nominee for joint senator, has been visiting the people in the different parts of the county, who became favorably impressed with him and Mr. B. L. Eddy, candidate for joint representative. These gentlemen have been doing some good work in the county for the republican party.
Memorial day on May 30th will be observed by a short program in the opera house, beginning at 1.30 p. m. All who have born arms in defence of the Red, White and Blue are respectfully requested to fall in with the old boys of 1861, and any ex-confederate who wishes to join will be welcomed in the ranks.—By order of the committee.
Mr. J. S. Stephens has aimed to do the right thing in assessing the property in the county. He has been fortunate in giving general satisfaction, with but few complaints, while the system he adopted in the office made everything systematic and business like. Give Mr. Stephens a vote and let the good work in the assessor's office be continued.
Perfection dyes, diamond dyes and Angel's dainty dyes at Sturgeon's.
Census Supervisor Winn appointed the enumerators for the first congressional district, those in Tillamook county being Francis M. Lamb, Tillamook; A. M. Hare, Bay City; Absalom I. Hembree, Sandlake; Arthur G. Reynolds, Hoquar-ton; Samuel H. Rock, Oretown; Charles Pye, Nehalem. Acceptances have been filed and the appointments approved by the department at Washington.

Superintendent G. B. Lamb has no opponent on the official ballot, consequently he has a walk over. It will be necessary to vote for him, however. He has made a good school superintendent, and we predict for the next four years he will devote himself to the duties of the office with greater zeal, making the schools of the county as efficient as it is possible to make them.
Cameras and camera supplies at Sturgeon's.
Mr. H. H. Alderman, Tillamook's efficient sheriff, should be re-elected, for he has carried out the duties with credit to the taxpayers and honor to himself. He has attended strictly to business, been obliging to all who have called at the office for information, and in every way given satisfaction to the taxpayers. A vote for Mr. Alderman is an assurance that everything is going to be carried out in an efficient manner in the sheriff's office, and being exceedingly popular all over the county, Mr. Alderman's friends are going to elect him again.
Get your prescriptions filled at Sturgeon's.
The taxpayers of Tillamook county should re-elect Mr. Homer Mason, for it is to the interest of the county that he remain county clerk for another two years. He has proved himself worthy of the confidence placed in him two years ago, with the result that he has made a capable county clerk. This is acknowledged on all sides, and although the democrats are making a strong fight to defeat him, it behooves republicans to stand shoulder to shoulder and vote a straight ticket. Mr. Mason is deserving of your vote and support, and by casting your vote for him you are in favor of a county clerk running the office to the satisfaction of the taxpayers.

Grit of a Mother Saved Her Son.

Victor Glad, the little son of Mr. E. Glad, who lives on the Wilson river near the new cheese factory, had a narrow escape from drowning, and it was only the grit and promptness of his mother which saved the boy's life. The little fellow had the misfortune to fall down the well, which contained about nine feet of water. In falling the boy had taken with him the board which covered the well. Mrs. Glad, upon finding what had happened, advised the boy to cling to the board until she could secure a rope, which she proceeded to do, but fearing that the boy might drown before she returned. Mrs. Glad went into the well herself climbing down a pipe. With some assistance the boy was lifted out of the well, a rope being tied round him, but they could not get Mrs. Glad out. Some children had notified Mr. P. McIntosh at the creamery what had happened, who, with the assistance of Walter Baker, hustled up a ladder and rescued Mrs. Glad from her uncomfortable position in the well.

For a Big Fourth.

At a meeting of the Tillamook hose company, with President A. J. Cohn in the chair and a good number of the boys in attendance on Thursday evening, the company decided to undertake the necessary arrangements for holding a Fourth of July celebration in this city, making it one of the best celebrations ever held in Tillamook city, when the following committees were appointed:
Finance—C. I. Clough, Otto Heins, T. Coates, A. J. Cohn.
Parade—Geo. Grayson, Jack Jenkins, H. Wolfe, B. L. Eddy.
Programme—Oak Nolan, C. E. Hawke, Frank Kerremans, Fred C. Baker.
Music—Fred Sappington, P. W. Todd, West Morgan, Jean Jenkins.
Races, sports and other amusements—C. E. Hadley, John Barker, I. Simler, A. Page.

WHAT SHALL WE VOTE FOR. Five Amendments to the State Constitution.

As there appears to be some doubt in regard to the constitutional amendments which are to be voted upon next month, viz., municipal indebtedness amendment, judicial amendment, irrigation amendment, repealing amendment, and an amendment for equal suffrage, we repeat what we have already published and which is summoned up in this way:
Of these propositions the first abrogates the present section of the state constitution, which provides that no county shall incur an indebtedness exceeding in the aggregate sum of $5,000, and in its stead proposes to substitute a section that shall extend the limitation of indebtedness to cities, school districts and other municipal corporations, as well as counties, so that their aggregate indebtedness shall not exceed 5 per cent of the taxable property therein.
At present there are three justices of the state supreme court. If passed, the judiciary amendments will increase this number to five.
The irrigation amendment is an innovation in that passage will add another article to the state constitution. The constitution of 1857 contained eight articles which have been preserved. If it receives the sanction of the voters, the irrigation amendment will be known as Article XIX, and under its terms the necessary use of lands for the construction of reservoirs for purposes of irrigation, and for the construction of ditches and flumes to carry water, for the development of natural resources or the preservation of health, is declared to be a public use and subject to the control of the state. The right to appropriate from any natural stream, unappropriated waters, and shall not be denied. The use of waters now appropriated is declared to be a public use as above, subject to certain regulations. The right to collect compensation for use of water is made a franchise.
Section 35 of Article 1 of the state constitution provides that no negro, not living here at the time of its adoption, should ever hold land or be allowed to make contracts of maintain suits in the courts. Upon the passage of the Fourteenth amendment to the federal constitution this section becomes a dead letter, and the "Repealing Amendment" seeks to efface it from the organic law of the state.

In voting on the question of the "Equal Suffrage Amendment" the question to be determined is whether or not the constitution shall be amended as follows:

Article 1. The elective franchise in this state shall not hereafter be prohibited to any citizen on account of sex.

Article 1 of the constitution contains thirty-five sections but the joint resolutions as adopted proposing the amendment does not state which particular one it is desired to amend.

Sound Craft for Tillamook Trade.

Captain Schrader, of the Tillamook steamer line, who is superintending the construction of a new boat for his company at Joseph Supple's yard, on the East Side, is confident that he is going to have one of the soundest craft ever turned out on the Pacific Coast. He is having the boat built with special regard for the business he is going to enter. She will be large, stronger and faster than any boat that has ever been on the Tillamook run, and delays because of an unfavorable bar, or because the tide is not at the right stage, will be a thing of the past.

The new vessel has reached a stage so that visitors can see the care and strength with which she is being put together. She is braced throughout with natural oak knees, bolted through and through with galvanized bolts. Every part is securely bolted to the others, and the frames, or ribs, are so close together as to make an observer think that the vessel is going to be used to break ice jams.

Heretofore there has always been danger of losing a rudder in crossing the bar at Tillamook. This danger is entirely obviated by the use of a special design by Joseph Supple, in the new boat. It is built so that if the vessel squats down hard on the sand, no damage can be done.

A feature of the vessel is the way all parts will be fastened together with wooden pins. These pins are made of the best obtainable material. A hole is bored through the parts that are to be fastened, a pin driven through it and then a wedge is forced in each end. Hundreds of these pins are to go into the vessel.

She will probably be the strongest boat ever built on the coast. It has been common for the Elmore and Harrison to bump on the bar when crossing into or out of Tillamook Bay. This rendered the voyage extremely hazardous to those boats, but it will make no difference to the new vessel, as she is built so strongly that no harm will be done, no matter how hard she bumps.

Captain Schrader says that with the new boat he can start at a certain stage of the tide from Astoria, and get to Tillamook Bay in time to go right up to Tillamook City, on the same tide, without waiting, as has been the case with the Elmore and Harrison. The new vessel will carry as much as the two old ones together and have space left over, as she is 35 feet longer and six feet wider than the Elmore.

The boat will be launched by June 10. It will be necessary to put her in the water in an unfinished condition, as a hole must be left through which boiler and engines will be placed in her. She will be taken to the Willamette Iron Works for her machinery, and when that is installed will be taken back to Supple's to be completed. She is to be provided with a patent Case wheel, which proved such a success in the Reliance, the latest boat built by Mr. Supple.

Captain Schrader says he expects to run into Tillamook about the middle of July with his vessel on her first trip. A name for the boat has not yet been chosen.—Evening Telegram.
