The steam schooner under construction at Supple's shipyard for Elmore & Schrader, of Astoria, is nearing completion, and will be launched in a few days. The hull of the craft is practically finished, and the deck framework is in place. This craft, which will be sea-going, is strongly constructed. Although a steamer, she will be provided with two masts, the sticks of these having been received and are being shaped. Her engine is being built at the Willamette Iron Works. The schooner will be placed on the Astoria-Tillamook route, and will be a passenger and freight carrier, and will be prepared to go out in all kinds of weather. In the former shipyard of Hale & Kern a tug, under the direction of C. H. Wheeler, is under construction. It will be strongly built, as the frame for the hull now indicates. She is 100ft. long.—Oregonian.

It is fair to presume that the visit of Mr. Wm. Reid to this city and county was one of more than ordinary significance. He is a man who has accomplished much in the state of Oregon, and it is presumed has large interests yet intact, although he suffered with so many others in the troubles of the nineties. It was Mr. Reid's intention to give Tillamook a railroad some years ago, and he constructed the railroad from Portland to Sheridan with that intention, and his visit at this time may have something to do with carrying out the original plans. But it is a little premature at present to make any predictions, with the exception of remarking that the railroad may be extended sooner than some people imagine. Mr. Reid is in close touch with Mr. Huntington, of the Southern Pacific Railroad, and is undoubtedly in line with him on the recent railroad proposition. His visit establishes almost beyond doubt Mr. Huntington's active consideration and possibilities of the extension of the railroad from Sheridan to Tillamook City. That such a railroad will elevate the price of both farm and city property goes without saying. The man who says "I told you so" will, of course, get left as usual, while the one who says nothing but quietly buys in advance will likely reap rich gain. Mr. Reid made a hazardous and laborious trip from Seaside, one that stamps him as a remarkable man for his years and sedentary occupation.

Cohn voted "No," so the motion was declared lost. Mr. Cooper asked the city council if it wanted to sell the hydrants, and on the roll being called each councilman voted "No."

Answer to Correspondence.

J.C.C., Blaine.—In answer to your questions:

Are census enumerators supposed to take an accurate enumeration of the inhabitants? Decidedly, for that is what they are employed for; and they have until the end of the month to do so if they cannot get through before.

Can they take the census on Sunday and is it legal? There is nothing to stop the enumerator from doing so. He has to report daily each day's work, which is supposed to be ten hours. Although these report cards contain the name of each day of the week, there are none for Sunday.

Can one neighbor give another neighbor's census? Enumerators are expected to procure the census from each person or the head of a family. In case he cannot secure the necessary information he can, if possible, get it from neighbors or those who can furnish it.

And is he supposed to take the enumeration of stock? Yes; and all questions as to number and valuations must be answered. Census takers are not allowed to divulge any of the information, which is treated as strictly private, and enumerators are subject to a heavy fine if they do so.

There is but one avowed candidate in the field, at present, for United States Senator, to be elected at the next Legislature, remarks the Telegram. This is George W. McBride, Oregon's present senior Senator, whose term will expire next Spring. There are several names coupled with Senatorial talk, but in nearly every case the individuals concerned have made statements at one time or another to the effect that they would not be candidates. Those mentioned besides McBride, are John H. Mitchell, former Senator; State Senator Charles Fulton, of Astoria, and Governor T. T. Geer.

A raft, containing 10,000 piles, is being rolled into a cigar shape at Stella, and it will be started for San Francisco by July 15. The company is also preparing a raft on Puget Sound to be shipped about the same time, this to contain 12,000 piles. The construction of the raft at Stella will involve the expenditure of $40,000 in that vicinity.

F. L. Washburn, state biologist, has submitted to Governor Geer a report of his investigations in regard to the spawning habits of the razor clam and recommendations in regard to measures to be taken for its protection, as the rapacity of the persons who dig these clams for market threatens their extermination. During the past few months the energy of competing clam diggers has resulted a number of times in the Portland market being overstocked and razor clams being sold at 10 cents and sometimes as low as 5 cents per dozen. It will be remembered that a bill providing for the protection of razor clams was introduced in the last Legislature. It provided for a close season between the 1st day of June and the 15th of July, and another between the 15th of October and the 15th of December of each year, and also forbade the taking of razor clams less than two and one-half inches in length. The bill failed to become a law, and the Astoria-Progressive Commercial Association asked Professor Washburn to make an examination of clams which would be sent him from time to time to determine the season of spawning. As the result of his investigations, Professor Washburn recommends that if the razor clam needs protection the close season should be during April and May or possibly from March 15 to June 15, in order to give the clams every advantage of the variation of seasons.

At that time Every MAN AND BOY in TILLAMOOK will want a New Suit, Hat, Shoes, etc., to celebrate the occasion.

In Choosing a SUIT,

A person should use the same judgment as he would in selecting a horse or cow.

It costs as much to feed a scrub cow or horse as it does to feed a good one.

In making a suit, the work costs nearly as much on a cheap suit as it does on a good suit, hence the difference in price is in the material.

The same applies to HATS and SHOES:

We are well stocked up in all lines and are ready to Suit you, Shoe you or furnish you with a Hat.

The effect of the verdict in the Tomlinson vs. Zuercher case is to knock out the county road west of the city and hoodoo for a time the idea of getting a road to the Netarts beach without having to travel round the globe to get there.

Did you ever take your best girl to a Bowery dance? Come to Tillamook on the Fourth and participate in the fun, for Henry Leach and Pate Wells have rented the opera house for this pleasing and attractive novelty.

Cyclists, while the city was without a marshal, paid very little attention to the ordinance governing riding on sidewalk. In fact, pedestrians have had to "get out of the way" for fear of being run into by cyclists who have taken too much liberty because the city was without a marshal.

Remember Dr. Lowe, the only optician in Oregon who has had medical training, will be in Tillamook from June the 27th to July 6th. Don't confuse him with peddlers. He has no agents. Don't fail to see him at the Allen House if you need glasses. Remember his name—Lowe, Lowe, Lowe.

It was reported to the Fourth of July celebration committee that the Bay City ball players were prepared to play an interesting game on the afternoon of the Fourth in this city, but not knowing of a nine to play the boom cityites, the committee will give two prizes—$10 to the winning team and $5 to the one which gets the stuff knocked out of it.

The third annual commencement of St. Alphonsus academy will take place tomorrow (Friday) evening, and an interesting programme is prepared for that occasion, which includes two dramas, one by the young men entitled "Major John Andre," and the other, "Vera's Vow," is given by the young ladies attending the academy. It is safe to predict that an enjoyable evening's entertainment is in store for those who contemplate being present. As the proceeds will be devoted to this admirable institution of learning, a large attendance is expected.

Arrangements have been made for a Bowery dance in the opera house on the afternoon of the Fourth, Henry Leach and Pate Wells being the managers. Be sure and take this in, for there's going to be a hot time in the old town the 4th. Come to the Bowery dance.

Some of the newly elected officials, such as road supervisors, justices and constables, will get left if they do not take a certificate of acceptance with the clerk in this city before the 1st of July; also file a bond for the July term of court to pass upon. We understand but few of the newly elected road supervisors, justices and constables have complied with this requirement.

Portuguese Joe was round with a petition on Saturday to be appointed city marshal, for he believed the joke that was being played upon him that if he circulated a petition he could get the job. He held up the soliciting committee for the Fourth and a wordy altercation ensued. The five boys promised to sign his petition if he would sign his name on the subscription list. After a time Joe caught onto the prevailing idea, that being a candidate for public office, it was expected that he should subscribe liberally. Much to everybody's surprise Joe pungled up fifty cents and was like a cat on hot bricks until the members of the committee signed his petition.

Mr. B. C. Lamb and Miss Charlotte Edie were married on Monday afternoon at the residence of Mayor D. Wiley, the nuptial knot being tied by the Rev. E. W. St. Pierre. After the ceremony the happy couple left for the Trask house, where they will spend their honeymoon.

Mr. Lamb, who is one of this city's enterprising business men, is to be complimented upon winning the hand and heart of so estimable a young lady, who has endeared herself to a large circle of friends on account of her unselfish character and devotion with which she attended, as a loving daughter, to the needs of those who required her care and attention.

The friends of the happy couple with one accord extend their congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Lamb, with an earnest desire that their path may be strewn with happiness.

The committee appointed to solicit for the Fourth of July celebration reported at a meeting of the Tillamook hose company on Saturday evening that the subscription list totaled up a little over two hundred dollars, which was thought a good sum for the patriotic business men and others to give to help celebrate the National holiday. Under the presidency of Mr. A. J. Cohn the "boys" formed themselves into a committee of the whole and formulated a programme for the day, which included a parade and the usual exercise in the morning. In the afternoon there will be plenty of fun for young and old, and a purse will be given for a ball game. Fireworks in the evening will be another attraction. There will be plenty of music throughout the day, for the Tillamook cornet band will discourse fine music. President A. J. Cohn, Chief Oak Nolan and F. C. Baker were appointed a committee of management to make all arrangements. Miss Nevada Grayson will be the goddess of liberty; Miss Lily Baker will recite the declaration of independence; and one of five boys, Representative-elect B. L. Eddy, will deliver the oration. See program next week.
