lot of talk going on about bonding the city and putting in a water system with iron pipes the cost of which is being ascertained. The city must have fire protection, and we hope everything will be satisfactorily arranged with the water company at the next meeting of the city council.

When a large number of dairymen in Tillamook county have tons of hay left over from last year and are in a dilemma to know where to store this year's large crop, it proves beyond a doubt that this county is the dairyman's paradise for raising an abundance of feed for cattle at little cost. Very little feed was required for dairy stock in Tillamook county last year, for stock was pastured most of the time, preferring that to being fed on hay. Consequently dairymen have more hay on hand than they know what to do with, which, if this county had a railroad or cheap water transportation, would realize quite a large amount of money. Perhaps people in the East would hardly believe that the dairy herds in Tillamook county are pastured nearly all the winter, but it is a fact, nevertheless.

Cary and Huden in Portland.

Tillamook is booming, according to Henry Huden and Captain W. H. H. Cary, who are in the city from that place. Mr. Cary says that the first electric saw mill to be established on the Coast, so far as he knows, has just been completed near Hobsonville. Mr. Huden is in the city securing a plant for a lathing and turning mill.

Mr. Cary is of the opinion that a railroad would be an excellent thing for developing Tillamook County, but he does not believe the Tillamook people will tumble over themselves in an effort to secure one. In other words, they will not give away anything to induce a railroad to build. There is plenty of business there to merit any railroad building, and the people think that should be inducement enough.

Mr. Cary said the new electric mill was completed and the first board sawed just before he left on the steamer. Power is obtained from a nearby waterfall to run the dynamo. Everything is to be of the most modern pattern, with a view to making as little waste as possible.

Mr. Cary never smiled when he said he understood trees were to be sawed by means of a live electric wire. He could not vouch for the truth of the statement, but was certain it did not originate from Governor Bowers, as the latter does not reside there any more. No tall stories have gone the rounds of Tillamook since the Governor departed, and therefore Mr. Cary thought there might be room for believing the thing true. Anyway, he gave it for what it was worth. In speaking of the crops, Mr. Cary said they are looking splendid. The creamery business is flourishing, and 1900 will prove a banner year in every respect.—Evening Telegram.

All the amendments to the constitution of Oregon were lost at the recent election. It is a satisfaction to know that the municipal indebtedness amendment did not pass for Tillamook county is plenty in debt without increasing it $20,000 or more. The equal suffrage amendment received 26,265 votes in favor of it, but with 28,402 persons voting against and those not voting at all, the amendment was lost by about 2 to 1.

Every city ordinance should be strictly enforced, and if there is one which now requires enforcing it is the bicycle ordinance, for a large number of cyclists are not complying with it while riding on the sidewalks. Furthermore, those who ride recklessly make it unsafe for pedestrians and children, and to avoid further accidents cyclists must be compelled to dismount when thirty feet from a person or made to pungle up a fine.

The commencement exercises at St. Alphonsus academy on Friday evening brought together a large audience. The students had been well trained and carried out their respective parts in a creditable manner, the entertainment proving a success in every particular. Father J. J. Burri complimented the students and praised the good Sisters for the good work they have done in their efforts to give the students a sound education.

The steamer Harrison made a quick trip to Astoria last week. Leaving this city on Thursday, she was back again on Saturday, consequently there is no kicking about tons of Tillamook freight being held up at Astoria and the Headlight is not criticizing Mr. S. Elmore for delays in delivering it. All that we hope is that this promptness will continue, to which every business man will say from the bottom of his heart "Amen."

We are glad to hear that the disagreement between the city council and the water company in regard to rent for water for fire protection is likely to be compromised at the next meeting of the city council. It seems as though the council will be willing to pay from $20 to $25 per month. There was quite a

PROGRAM FOR FOURTH.

The Boer envoys say that America defeated the Boers and that the great American mule did the work. Without his patient, plodding services Boer's army would never have been able to cross the Free State. To all of which the English say neigh, neigh.

It is reported that both the government troops and the revolutionists in Colombia are equipped with Mauser rifles and modern, quick-firing cannon. If the people of South America persist in using such weapons in their revolutions some one may get hurt the first thing they know.

TILLAMOOK
on JULY 4th.

At that time Every MAN AND BOY in TILLAMOOK will want a New Suit, Hat, Shoes, etc., to celebrate the occasion.

In Choosing a SUIT,

A person should use the same judgment as he would in selecting a horse or cow.

It costs as much to feed a scrub cow or horse as it does to feed a good one.

In making a suit, the work costs nearly as much on a cheap suit as it does on a good suit, hence the difference in price is in the material.

The same applies to HATS and SHOES:

We are well stocked up in all lines and are ready to Suit you, Shoe you or furnish you with a Hat.

We have an extra fine line of SHIRTS, TIES, etc., suitable for such occasions.

GROCERIES, FOUR and FEED.
Choice Bacon,
Hams and Lard always in Stock.

The steamer Harrison left on Tuesday for Nestucca for a cargo of canned salmon, but just before reaching that port she met a boat which had gone in there and loaded up with the freight, so the Harrison returned to this city to take on what freight there was here for Astoria. She is expected back on Monday.

The new steam schooner for the Astoria-Tillamook service, being built at Suple's shipyard in Portland for Mr. S. Elmore and Captain Schrader, will be launched on Saturday. She will be christened Sue H. Elmore. It is expected that she will be completed and ready to be put into service in about four weeks.

If ever a railroad is built into Tillamook county we wonder whether the citizens will ever be able to travel 100 miles for 25c, the same rate between Astoria and Portland? If Astorians had had their heads screwed on the right way and business sagacity in their feet they would have pungled up for a railroad to Tillamook instead of to Portland.

All the amendments to the constitution of Oregon were lost at the recent election. It is a satisfaction to know that the municipal indebtedness amendment did not pass for Tillamook county is plenty in debt without increasing it $20,000 or more.
