mer's challenge, although he may be honest in his research for truth. Infidels and agnostics there are plenty in the world who are ready to argue God out of existence, but it is strange, but nevertheless true, they leave a vague nothingness in the place of the bible. But a local newspaper should not discuss people's religious prejudices, beliefs or unbeliefs, for the editor of this newspaper is a mighty small lump of clay in this world to dispute the existence of a god.

For the next 30 days we will give a special discount for spot cash as follows: 10 per cent off on dry goods, boots and shoes; 5 per cent off on groceries, flour, feed and rubber boots and shoes. Our prices have been the lowest, and with the discounts we will give for the next 30 days you can save a year's interest on every dollar's purchase at D. T. EDMUNDS.

Died, on the 30th ultimo, at the residence of Mr. S. J. Sturgeon, in this city, Mrs. Katherine Ream, aged 75 years. Deceased was born in London, England. She was married twice and was the mother of eleven children, Mrs. Sturgeon being the only one out of that number alive. Mrs. Ream had been perfectly helpless for a long time, but in her declining days she was well cared for by a loving daughter and kind relatives, who spared no pains to make her life happy while she lingered on month after month. The remains were buried on Wednesday in the Oddfellows' cemetery, Rev. S. A. Smith conducting the religious services. Mrs. Sturgeon only returned on Sunday from Portland where her daughter, Mrs. Blanch Newman, had died one week previous, and this second bereavement following so closely upon the other is a sad blow to the sorrowing family, in which a large number of friends sympathize with them.

With so much water power in Tillamook going to waste, what a great advantage this will be to manufacturers when the county begins to develop. The question naturally arises, why burn slab wood in this city—which can secure a ready sale—when there is an abundance of water power only a few miles from the city? Tillamook City is admirably situated with many natural advantages—an abundance of pure water for municipal purposes, which can be used for electric light plants and for power; the city can have a drainage system at comparatively nominal cost. Hoquarton slough is another natural advantage to Tillamook City, which will eventually make this a shipping point of no mean dimensions, and being in about the center of the county it will continue to be the metropolis of the county. There are those who argue, and with good logic as well, that now is the time for the city to put in its own water, sewerage and electric light systems. But is the majority of the citizens who pay the most taxes in favor of this, for this is a matter which those who do not have to foot the bill should not be allowed to force upon those who do.

Should the various political bosses be unable to control the state legislature for the purpose of electing their choice for United States senator, there will be a dead lock, for the antipathy between the Corbett and Mitchell factions of the republican still exists and is just as uncompromising as ever. A rule or ruin policy is not likely to elect either of the republican aspirants, but it may be instrumental in a democrat capturing the prize. A letter has been published "explaining" why the republican legislative ticket in Multnomah county was defeated, which plainly shows that both factions are on the war path and not likely to bury the hatchet for several years to come. It's a case of Corbett and his henchmen trying to put the extinguisher upon Mitchell and his henchmen, and no doubt vice versa, but somehow they refuse to be extinguished.

If you want to keep the army worm out of your fruit trees tie "tanglefoot" round the bottom of the tree. This is no josh, and not intended to advertise fly paper.

Since the bicycle tax has been declared unconstitutional, it is not very probable that bicycle tax collectors will be rubbernecking to see whether cyclists have a '90 tax on.

We've heard people say it was like a hell upon earth, and we wonder if that did not represent the state of affairs in Pekin the past month. Perhaps the various legations thought so.

Our popocratic friends are opposed to militarism, and no wonder, when they see the armed forces of the army worm gobbling up their garden truck and doing no end of damage to vegetation.

Fairview Grange, No. 273, will meet in Ackley's hall on Friday, August 10, at 10 a.m. A full attendance is requested, as important business will come before the meeting.—L. S. MAYNARD, master.

The Tillamook Iron Works, which was doing business in the building opposite the mill office, is now located in the new building near the city hall and is being fitted up with all the appliances for a first class machine shop.

What surprises the oldest settlers in Tillamook, the ones who first helped to develop the county, that after living here forty years or so, Tillamook has never been troubled with a pest until the army worm made its appearance a few weeks since, and which, in all probability, will not do much damage.

Owing to the outside ball players wanting too much money to play a game on Saturday next, that has fell through. The hose company will have a fire drill and competition between the two hose carts on a bonfire near the livery barn that evening, after which there will be a display of fireworks and the cake walk and dance at the opera house.

If the city dads allow the county dads to build the new fence in front of the court house where the side walk should be, they will have no kick coming if other people do the same. Before building new residences, business premises, side walks and fences people should be satisfied that they are on the right line, for it will save a lot of annoyance, and expense as well, when those who have encroached a few feet are notified to set back their residences and fences, for this is bound to take place some day.

Mr. C. I. Clough, who went down to the Nehalem beach on Saturday for a week's camping, was taken sick on Sunday, and on Dr. James Wiley going down to the beach on Tuesday to camp, advised him to return home at once, which he did that day, and it will be a week or so before Mr. Clough is able to attend to business again.

Married, at the M.E. church, on Sunday evening, Mr. Edgar Latimer to Miss Augusta M. Stingle. Rev. S. A. Smith presided the nuptial knot after the evening service, when a large number of spectators were present. It is scarcely necessary to add that the happy couple carry with them into their married life the best wishes for their future happiness of a large circle of relatives and friends. Next please.

Citizens have been plagued somewhat of late with life insurance agents, both old line and fraternal, consequently they are almost plagued to death. Now give us a rest, and if you have not been caught going down in your jeans for the purpose of creating a big pile of money for others to manipulate and over which you have no control, join the A.O.U.W. and you will come getting life insurance at about near actual cost as it is possible to make it. And you don't have to pay a lot of money for other people to enjoy.

J. S. Lovel, of the Scow Bay Iron and Brass Works, came in on the Harrison Sunday to make inspection of the mills and logging camps, with a view of renewing or repairing machinery. After looking over our industries he made arrangements with Oak Nolan to handle the heavy castings and other machinery which can only be handled by a large and extensive foundry. These arrangements give our people a chance to deal with a home institution where they can see what they are paying for and materially reduces the cost.

Died, on Friday, the 27th ultimo, after a long illness, Jennie, wife of Mr. A. G. Reynolds, aged 30 years. The remains were buried on Sunday, when a large number of person attended the religious services at the United Brethren church, also the interment at the Oddfellows' cemetery, showing their token of respect for the wife and mother who had battled with sickness for many months until death relieved her sufferings, but which threw another family into mourning and to receive the sympathy of the community. A delegation from the W. of W. lodge attended the funeral.

From all parts of the county come reports that the army worm is doing more or less damage. Garden truck appears to have been the first vegetable to appease the appetite of the army worm. Potatoes and other vegetable then looked tempting, and now the pests are eating up some of the meadows, especially where there is red clover, and making a raid upon fruit trees. We are told that the army worm is a typical Tillamooker, for it loves to be near water, and if they fall into the streams they have sense enough to crawl out. As it is expected that the army worm will not remain long, it is very probable that it will not cause much more damage.

A public jangle on the authenticity of the bible or the existence of a Divine Being always engenders more or less ill-feeling and accomplishes no purpose, and for that reason we are glad that the ordained ministers of the gospel in this city do not intend to accept Mr. J. E. Hos-
