TILLAMOOK JOTTINGS.

Dr. Wise, resident dentist.
Mr. J. P. Allen is quite sick again.
Mrs. I. F. Larsen is reported quite ill.
Mr. W. W. Conder was in the city this week.
Rev. A. R. Griggs returned to Kelso last week.
Addison Harris came in from Milton on Monday.
Mr. C. B. Handy was in from Nehalem on Monday.
Mr. Albert Zimmerman was in from Nehalem last week.
Congressman T. H. Tongue left on the stage Friday evening.
A marriage license was issued to Geo. W. Worthington and Eva Stewart.
A suit was filed in the county court, Carl P. Knudson vs. H. B. Johnson, for $98 on a note.
It's Mean(s) of Bert not to tell the editor when the Severance is to be held. But they can't fool Cupid.
Mr. M. V. Farmer, from Cottage Grove, has bought the two lots and small house belonging to C. R. Hodgdon.
A marriage license was issued on Tuesday to Nay Polian Alley and Ulrika Alvina Ludtke, both of Nehalem.
If, as one of our correspondents report, the army worm is going into the butterfly or moth state, what dimensions will the army worm assume next year?
Dr. Wise will return from Nehalem about Aug. 22, and will be at the Tillamook office until the 1st of Sept., when he will leave for Portland, to be absent two or three weeks.
They unanimously admit now in the East, and even in diplomatic circles, that Sheng, Chinese director of telegraphs at Shanghai, is a liar. That's what every tent puller in Tillamook believed over six weeks ago.
The Astoria Company, as will be seen by the transfers, continues to buy timber claims, and though it may appear in the transfers that they are paying from $400 to $800 for claims, this is by no means the correct consideration, for $1,000 and over is more like the money actually paid for them.
F. Fowlen has resigned his position with the Truckee Lumber Co. as Master Mechanic and has accepted a position in Oak Nolan's machine shop. Mr. Fowlen is an expert horse shoer and wagon maker. His reputation is unequalled in the state of California, and needs no comment. The public should feel gratified to have a man with his experience to serve them.

The annual convention of the Tillamook County S.S. Association will be held at the U. B. church in Tillamook City, on August 31st. All Sunday schools are requested to send delegates to this convention and assist in the work. The programme will be published next week. All who are interested in this work are invited to attend.
The quarterly meeting of the United Brethren will be held at their church in this city August 18-20. Preaching Sunday morning, after which holy communion will be observed. In the evening preaching at 8 o'clock, and the quarterly conference on Monday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, over which the presiding elder, Rev. C. C. Bell, will preside.
At the teachers' examination in this city last week the following person secured certificates: Misses Pearl Buff, Grace Craven, Belle Watts, Alice Payne and Frances Myer. It will be several weeks before those who took the examination for state papers know the result, viz.: Misses Tacy Wilkinson, Maggie Tone, Mamie Means, Mrs. N. M. Dawson and Mrs. Davies.
The Forest Groveites on the beach at Garibaldi are gaying, good temperedly of course, the Tillamookers, saying that they come down there once a week to wash their feet. Why, that's nothing, for their critics have to travel 75 miles for the same purpose and only get them washed once a year. Now, by way of retort, there's hardly a clam left on the beach since the Forest Groveites arrived there. The size of their feet spreading over so much sand they have nearly exterminated them. Next please.
No wonder the valley wheat raisers are casting their optics in the direction of Tillamook when the yield of wheat is far below the average and in some places it will not run more than three or four bushels to the acre. Dairy farms in Tillamook are valuable compared with the farms in the valley counties, for while the farmers in those sections bemoan a failure of crops Tillamook dairymen find no rest from teat pulling or going through the regular routine of receiving their checks, thus making their wad or banking account bigger every month.
The hessian fly is reported to be doing some damage to the wheat crop in some of the wheat counties of Oregon, and by the look of things the wheat raisers will not have much spare change after they have totaled up their expenses, which is in marked contrast to the prosperous dairymen of Tillamook county, where they have a balance on the right side every month, not once a year like the wheat raisers. Give Tillamook the same facilities for transportation as the valley counties and the thrifty dairymen would be in better circumstances than what they are now.
Deputy Grand Master Waggoner, of the A. O. U. W., who is visiting this county in the interest of that fraternal order, has been very successful in getting a number of applications, some dozen names being proposed at the regular meeting of Star Lodge on Monday, with the prospect of that number being more than duplicated before many days. As the A. O. U. W. is recognized to be the safest and leading fraternal life insurance order in the United States, this is a good opportunity to those who have no protection in case of their death for their wives and families to join this order.

"It is said that Editor Baker, of the Tillamook Headlight is drafting plans to be used in the construction of a gas (not gasoline) launch to be used during the fall, winter and spring months for delivering the Headlight to his country subscribers. It is believed, and doubtless correctly, that by making the launch of very light draft, when it is not raining the vessel will be able to readily navigate on the dense fogs which prevail in that section. . . . Brother Baker, however, will not undertake to navigate the Wilson river route. The shoals and shifting sands (shifting, draw bridges) draw bridges because they are apt to 'draw' a fellow into trouble if he don't 'keep off of them'—are not the kind of a proposition that a man gifted with the enterprising public and good judgment of Editor Baker is likely to tackle."—North Yamhill Record.
If fake doctors call upon you, use a little every day common sense and then they won't succeed in making a success out of you. But, no doubt, they will succeed in relieving a number of people of their wad, who will see eventually how easily they fell a prey to fakirs. By all means let something be done to keep fakirs out of the county, for owing to the fact that Tillamook is known on the outside to be in a prosperous condition, it is acting like a magnet to fakirs and others who try to impose upon the farming community with all manner of impositions and swindling schemes. We believe the county and city authorities should take the bull by the horns and license these people so heavily that they will not come into the county, for the nuisance is getting intolerable and the farming community is being imposed upon.
At the Christian church last Sunday evening Elder Lister began a series of addresses on the "Evidences of Christianity." His first paper was given to trace the history of the new testament books back to their accredited authors. He began from the accepted testimony of the Sinaitic MS which contains a complete manuscript of the new testament and tracing the history through ecclesiastical councils and writers of repute. He showed that all the books of the new testament have been catalogued and so copiously quoted from generation to generation that the testimony is clear and indisputable. The evidence submitted showed the books of the new testament to be a matter of record and appeal from the life and times of the apostles of Christ to the present day, and in all the generations to have circulated in the churches in Asia, Egypt, Africa and Europe. He announced for next Sunday evening that he would submit the history of manuscripts and versions, and Mr. Lister cordially invites all to attend the services.
The improvement of Tillamook bar is as important to the dairymen of this county as it is to the lumbering industry. As no one will dispute this, it is in order to ask what are the dairymen intend doing to help the matter along? Now is the time for work if anything is to be accomplished, and as the dairymen have been complaining for a number of years about the irregularity of getting their products to market, surely they should be able to put their grievances into a petition and have every teat puller in the county sign it, with a request to have the bar improved. This is no time to sit down, chew the rag and whittle wood, for that is what we have been suffering from for so long, consequently we have not made much progress. Neither do we deserve any improvements if we neglect to formulate our grievances in a proper form and send them to our representatives in congress. We hope the dairymen, the dairy associations, will take this kindly hint. In different parts of the county they should get together and devise what is best to be done. A levy from ten to twenty five cents from each dairymen would not be out of place, for we may say in this connection that about $150 have already been subscribed by a few persons to pay expenses already incurred. Now let us see whether the dairymen are sincere and ready to put their shoulder to the wheel.

Free Lectures.
Mrs. M. E. Hoxter, of Portland, is in this city in behalf of the refuge home, an institution in Portland which provides home and shelter for unfortunate among women.
Mrs. Hoxter will hold a meeting in the United Brethren church on Friday evening at 8 o'clock, to which the general public is invited to a lecture by that lady explaining the nature and results of the work reclaiming to paths of virtue of unfortunate women, and she will try to arouse an interest in this line of home missionary work.
Sunday afternoon, at the same church, at 3 o'clock, there will be a meeting held for women only, to which girls over 13 years of age are invited, as well as their mothers.

The Law on Wide Tires.
In answer to several inquires in regard to when the county court will pay for wide tires on wagons, we may state that the county court is only authorized to make a rebate on the road tax of persons using wagons with tires of certain dimensions, and, no doubt, the court will do this at any term of court after being satisfied that the applicant is complying with the law. For the benefit of those who are using wide tires, we give below the law:

"That from and after the first day of January, A. D. 1900, the county court or county board of each county within this state is hereby authorized to make a rebate each year, for four years, on the road tax of each person within its county who shall own and have in habitual use on the highways of this state wagons or other vehicles for the transportation of freight and other heavy articles, the tires of which are not less than three inches in width,—of one dollar for each wheel of such vehicle; and provided, further, that the owner of each vehicle having tires of not less than four inches in width upon which there is a difference of at least eight inches in the length of the front and rear axle, so constructed that the front and rear wheels will not come in contact with the same road surface while the vehicle is moving in a straight line, shall receive, in addition to the aforesaid rebate, a further rebate for four years in his or her road tax as aforesaid of two dollars for each vehicle of this class for each and every year during said period that said vehicle is habitually used upon the highways of this state."

Pugilism.
The pretence that the spectacle of a prize-fight helps to make a people pugnacious, courageous and instinct with virtues of warlike hardihood is absurd. On the contrary, the training and the spectacle of combats of this sort, while they cultivate brutality, do not cultivate the kind of courage that is essential to furnish military valor and spirit. The prize-fighter is an exceptionally stalwart man, who can easily get beef and bread in America for honest industry, but prefers to prostitute his noble body to an utterly non-industrial, non-productive, lawless calling, to a life whose sole fame is its burning shame, base purpose and brutalizing education and example. For a strong man to get beef and bread through the sale of the sanctity of his exceptionally fine body is as shameful as it would be for a nobly organized woman, easily capable of upright self-support, to sell her charms in open market. Boiled down to his lowest terms, a prize-fighter is a creature that has dived to the lowest depth of human nature. His type and temperament corresponds to that of a woman who under no temptation of poverty, no stress of public scandal, nevertheless because of sheer indolence and love of lawless social freedom and low company voluntary prefers the life of a harlot to that of a decent, industrious woman. This is your prize-fighter. He would live lower than he does if there was a lower level of physical and moral degradation to reach. He sells his body so far as there is any market for its abuse.—Oregonian.
