The board of county commissioners is attending to county affairs this week, with County Judge G. W. Sappington and Commissioners C. Ray and L. Parrish present, a full report of which will appear in our next issue.
Star Lodge, A.O.U.W., took in a number of new members on Monday evening and will do so again next Monday, and we are asked to announce that those who are eligible for initiation to present themselves that evening.
To expedite the construction of the North Yamhill-Tillamook telephone line, the company is desirous of employing a dozen more men to dig holes and raise poles, paying $35 a month and board or $2 a day without board.
There's going to be heavy rain on the 8th Sept. if wind is S.W., also on the 15th, and light rain on the 23rd. Weather Prophet Dawson is responsible for this prediction, and it's enough to give one the blues to think that he's trying to hurry up the wet season.
J. S. McDonald, plaintiff, vs. Otto Johnson, defendant, was a case tried before County Judge Sappington and a jury, in which plaintiff claimed $105 for 52½ days work, labor and services performed for the defendant in salting and packing salmon. The jury found for the defendant.

Mr. A. W. Fletcher was in from Oretown on Wednesday and reports that the damage done by the army worm in that part of the county was more so than in the middle part of the county, but since they made their disappearance the clover is again beginning to grow.
The transfer of timber land during the month of August amounted to 15 quarter sections, the bulk of which was purchased by the Stinchfield, Remick & Whitney concern, of Detroit, Mich. It was all spruce timber. The above company now hold five-eighths of the standing spruce in Tillamook county.
Mr. J. Teft has made arrangements with the Tillamook Lumber Co. and the Pacific Mill to handle the cut of the two mills, both for the home market and for shipping. The latter mill is to be kept busy manufacturing, Mr. Teft furnishing the logs and paying the mill a certain price for cutting the lumber.
Messrs. Duval & Anderck, of Little Rock, Ark., informs us they are preparing to organize a company for colonization and are looking toward the Pacific Coast as the objective point, and in addition to this are desirous of obtaining what information they can regarding Tillamook county.
City Attorney Eddy told the city dads on Monday that all the streets should be named. That's a good idea, for most of the residents cannot tell the name of the street they reside in. Would it not also be a good idea for the council to have a plan of the city prepared with all streets named thereon.
Morgan, Mudge & Co. have employed Mr. D. R. Readaway to do their wagon work at their shops. Mr. Readaway is lately from Manitoba, where he worked in the largest carriage shops for 23 years, and can do your work in all the latest styles. Come and get our prices before going elsewhere.
Parties who have camped or stopped this year at the Cliff house at Slub Creek speak in the highest praise of the accommodation obtained there, it being one of the best places in the county for campers and others to enjoy themselves. Mrs. J. S. Bosley has made it pleasant for the visitors at the hotel who have gone down there to be near the briny ocean, drink in the pure air and feed sumptuously upon the fat of the land.
With increased revenue and with a saving of $10 per month in water rent, it seems to us that the city council should be in a position financially to place electric lights in the residence portion of the city this winter. Here is something that is badly needed, just as much as improvement on roads, and as the council is dipping into the funds to "fix up" certain streets, we hope it will not blow in too much money that way before it takes up the light question.
One of the McMinnville papers says: "Why not borrow this: Tillamook ghost Skookum for our carnival. Seems like some persons at Tillamook would like to dispose of him." We emphatically object to any such thing, for we've worked up a scheme for the Skookum ghost to make nocturnal visits to the fakirs, book and insurance agents, the quack doctors who come near murdering people, etc., directly they come to this county. That's the only way to scare them out.

Mr. Lee Commons was in the city on Wednesday. He has sold his place, comprising a quarter section, to Mr. O. H. Wood, from Southern Texas, the consideration being $3,000. He will remove to Portland and reside there for a time. Mr. Commons called in to compliment the editor for the consistent manner in which the Headlight advocated what was for the best interest of the republican party in this county previous to the June election.
President McKinley, after successfully holding the reins of government, has not fallen into the luck that Hobson did. It appears, because the president has wine at the White house, the ladies belonging to the W.C.T.U. have taken exception, so much so that they are making a crusade against him, praying to Almighty God for his defeat. This appears to us to be altogether unjust and unreasonable, but there's no telling what the dear sisters will do when they get an idea in their heads, for they made themselves ridiculous "slobbering" Hobson and sending flowers to Durrant.
Quite a large quantity of fruit from the valley was brought into this county the past month, which found a ready sale. The farmers who brought it in say the planked road in the south part of the county enabled them to do so, otherwise they could have only hauled small loads. Tillamookers were glad to get the fruit and the farmers who brought it in were glad to get into a country where they could get cash for their products, and as one of them remark, "Tillamook is the best county I've seen for a long time and where the farmers have plenty of money," and then he went on to tell how hard it was even to trade in the valley owing to the hessian fly destroying the wheat crop in some parts.
It's surprising the number of pressing invitations the business men of Portland have sent out persuading people to attend the carnival in that city. What a trap to do business. When Tillamook holds a carnival and wants a little magnetism to draw the hay-seeds to this city it's well to be brief, pointed and truthful about it and say "Come and have your leg pulled!" What with all manner of fakirs—good, bad and indifferent—worrying the life out of the dairymen this summer trying to turn their pockets inside-out and now the excitement over the carnival is elongating the leg-pulling business to perfection. Gee, we hope these leg-pulling times won't cause nervous prostration and a return to democratic hard times and business failure to the county merchant.
The Republican National Committee has made arrangements with the American Type Founders Co. at Portland to furnish a supplement to the republican newspapers of the state made up of political matter. We have refused to take it because it is printed by a trust and it imposes expenses upon us. Besides, the republican editors of Oregon are just as intelligent and able to write on political subjects as those who are manipulating these supplements. If the national committee is desirous of doing what is right it should deal with the editors individually or collectively. Another thing, editors have experienced what additional costs the type trust and the paper syndicate have imposed upon them the past few years, and it is only reasonable that the editors who object to trusts should resent the attempt to make them the "cheap guys" while the trust company gets handsomely paid for what work it does for the national committee.
A city council meeting was held Monday evening with all the members present. Bills ordered paid were: Marshal, $50; recorder, $10; livery barn, $4.50. The council took up some time in discussing improvements to streets, side walks and cross walks, ordering a number of them to be fixed, and to repair the cross walks the marshal was taken off night duty and his hours fixed from 10 a.m. till mid night. The city attorney drew up a contract with the water company and submitted it to the council, which was in accord with a previous decision of the city council to pay the water company $30 per month for a term of three years. The contract was not signed, however, as the council was desirous of having the water flumed from above the barn to the reservoir, and provided this would be done the council was willing to have the contract dated from May and pay rent from that time.

Regarding the prohibition party's prospects of success, Mr. Woolley says: "The Prohibition party is a party of hope. We do not hope for victory in the present campaign, but we do hope to get 500,000 votes to demonstrate the strength of our ideas. We are a party of conscience. Every man in the party is imbued with the one idea, 'Kill the saloon; kill the liquor traffic.' Our party takes no stand on the political questions of the day. We fight, 'expansion,' but it is the expansion of the saloon—the extension of the liquor traffic in our new possessions. We favor 'protection'—but it is the protection of the home from the curse of the saloon. We have a plank on the 'money question'—but it does not weigh the merits of the gold standard nor the advantages of the free coinage of silver, but points out the annual waste of the thousands of millions of dollars that pass over the saloon bars. All these questions with us are one question, 'How shall we destroy the saloon?' We could not last for a minute as a National party with other methods."
