Cohn & Co. are figuring upon putting in a small electric light plant for their store building, to be run by water power.
Mr. Geo. Cohn went out on the stage Wednesday evening on a business trip to Portland to buy holiday and winter goods.
The steam schooner Cleone has been chartered by the J. A. Taft Co. to load lumber at this city. She was to have left San Francisco on Thursday.
If you want a No. 1 good pair of full Stock Shoes for your boy, D. T. Edmunds has them at 25c. per pair. Cheaper than they can be bought elsewhere.
Mrs. Bosley had the misfortune to spill a kettle of boiling water over her feet severely scalding both of them, which caused her a great deal of pain.
Mr. D. M. Oliver's son Edgar, who was quite sick with typhoid fever in California, and where Mrs. Oliver has gone to nurse him, is reported much better.
Mr. John McNamer is able to be out again after his sick spell, but is not looking stout enough yet to tackle the fighting editor. He expects to go out on the steamer.
The electric light plant has closed down and the city is in darkness. May it not be very long before another plant is put in to replace the one which is said to have petered out.
Messrs. Drew & Monroe gave an entertainment at the opera house with their new graphophone grand and stereopticon machines, which they are going to travel with for several months.
Miss Denver, a stylish and first class millinery trimmer from Portland, will assist Mrs. Sturgeon in her millinery department, and all orders will be executed promptly in first class style.
Only 18 prohibition votes in Tillamook and Hoquarton precincts, which includes Tillamook city. Evidently the prohibition advocates have not been able to whip the church people into line.
New members continue to ride the "goat" at every meeting of the Workman's lodge in this city of late, and a number of other candidates are ready to go through that mystic ordeal.
Mr. R. Crawford is in the city from Nehalem to see his wife off on the boat. He informs us that he has leased his place to his son, Robert A. Crawford, and for the first time in thirty years feels himself foot loose.
The Yellow Fir Lumber Company has purchased the saw mill machinery of the Cooperage company which operated a few years ago at Bay City, and are making preparation to move it to the south part of the county.
West & Thayer have opened a blacksmith and wagon shop next to Goyne's office, where they are now prepared to do first class work at low prices. Call and see us if you want shoeing, blacksmithing or wagon work done.
Mrs. Maggie Simpson will leave with her sister, Mrs. R. Crawford, on the steamer on Saturday, for Ohio, on account of the serious sickness of a brother. Mrs. Simpson has been stopping with Mrs. Crawford at Nehalem for the past two months.
J. W. Roth, plaintiff, vs. H. T. Withrow and wife, defendants, was a jury case tried before County Judge G. W. Sapington. This was a case to recover the value of some merchandise furnished the defendants, and the jury found for the plaintiff in the sum of $25.

Mr. L. N. Barnes, the new butcher who will open a shop in the second hand store recently used by Mr. Page on Main street, will carry an assortment of prime meats and will manufacture all kinds of sausages and keep in stock smoked meat and corned beef. Remember the place, at Page's old stand.
In lots from five thousand up we will print the butter paper for the creameries at 50c. a thousand, and guarantee good work. All things being equal, patronize the home printer and don't send to Portland in future to get this class of work done. Remember the Headlight office is the place to get cheap printing.
Mr. John Sheets met with an accident on Tuesday. He was tightening up a barrel, when the windlass broke and the handle struck him a severe blow on the right arm. He thought at first the force of the blow had seriously crippled his arm, but beyond being badly bruised and painful no serious results will follow.
Died, on the 6th inst., at McMinnville, Oregon, Jack Burton, who had been sick with typhoid fever for the past three months at the home of his cousin, Mrs. R. L. Miller, in that city. Deceased was aged 21 years and 26 days. He was born in Tillamook county, and was a land owner and stock raiser on Salmon river.
The entertainment to be given by the teachers of the public school is to take place on Saturday, the 8th of December, the proceeds of which will be used to purchase books for the school library. As this is a worthy object and the entertainment will be a pleasing evening's enjoyment, we hope it will be largely attended.
Does the Tillamook McKinley Club know there's been an election and that its patron saint has been re-elected to the presidency? Someone might resurrect the corpse for a few moments and notify it before it becomes totally defunct and turns into a political mummy, for that was its normal condition during the recent election.
Rev. C. P. Metzler is expected to leave New York on the 20th inst. for this city, where he will become pastor of the Presbyterian church and that of Bay City. The ladies of the Presbyterian church are making preparations for a public entertainment in a few weeks, and we understand that quite an interesting programme has been prepared.
Now that Beaver is a prohibition precinct, free drinks can now be obtained from any of the creeks in that vicinity. Having reached that stage of progression, how long will it be before Beaver is petitioning the county court for a saloon license, for we should not be surprised to find that this is the next order of business at some future date?
A few whist players met at the residence of Mr. A. J. Cohn on Friday evening and organized a whist club, which will meet twice a month in Todd's hall for progressive whist, a social time and refreshments to be served by the ladies. Mr. A. J. Cohn was elected president, Mrs. B. O. Snuffer vice-president, Miss Myers secretary and Mrs. Solomon treasurer.
Dr. C. E. Hawke leaves this city on the steamer for Portland, where he will locate, having sold out his practice here to Dr. I. M. Smith. Dr. Hawke made a number of friends while he resided here and worked up a good practice, but owing to the sickness of his wife found it necessary to make a change. We wish him well in his new location.

The two lumber schooners which were chartered to load lumber at this city and at the Pacific mill, and which were outside the bar for over two weeks and were unable to get in owing to the recent storm and the want of a tug boat to tow them in, have turned up at other ports to load lumber. This demonstrates once more the necessity of a tug boat in the bay if the lumbermen have to depend upon sailing vessels to get their lumber to market.
The many friends of Mr. E. B. Chamberlain will be sorry to hear that gentleman died at the home of his son, Mr. O. R. Chamberlain, at Cape Lookout, on Wednesday. The deceased has been in poor health for some months, and his death was not unexpected. He had been in the county for about twelve years, coming from Iowa, and had great expectations of Cape Lookout becoming a city and a manufacturing and shipping point.
Now what's the matter with some of the dear brothers belonging to the prohibition party in this county? Last June that party polled 85 votes, while last week it fell down to 73 votes. And considering that the prohibition candidate lectured in this city in May, the decreased vote looks like throwing cold water in the face of Mr. Woolley already. Perhaps those who deserted the prohibition party helped to swell the republican figures.
Mr. C. B. Wily came near meeting with a serious accident. He was on the Benschmidt road on Friday, when the wind was blowing brisk. He was riding and leading another horse, when the animal he was riding gave a sudden start back which almost threw him off, at the same time about eighty feet of a large three fell, and it was only the horse backing as it did which save it from crushing Mr. Wily under it, as it was it struck his foot.
But very little is heard about the city election, which will take place next month. As our democratic friends have taken their recent defeat with good grace and smiling countenances we propose that each political party nominate a ticket and have the fight over again, for it will be a long time before the democrats will have the chance to undergo that experience again if they lose this opportunity—to be put up for the purpose of being knocked down. That will show whether they are still gritty or not.
Articles of incorporation were filed with the county clerk on Wednesday incorporating the Yellow Fir Lumber Company in the sum of $10,000, divided into 200 shares of $50 each. The incorporators are E. G. E. Wist, F. R. Beals and Peter Brant. The objects and business of this corporation is to construct and operate sawmills and engage in the business of manufacturing lumber and shingles, logging and rafting sawlogs, to construct flumes, tramways and logging roads, etc. The principal office and place of business of this corporation is to be Tillamook City.
Mr. John Malaney, senior, owner of Ocean Park camp grounds, who was in this city last week on business, and who left on Thursday for his home in the south part of the county, was found dead on Friday morning about 1 1/2 miles from Commissioner Ray's residence by A. B. Pollard, the mail carrier. The body was lying on the road with the team standing by the side of it. It appears that when Malaney reached Mr. Ray's place they persuaded him to remain overnight, but he declined and persisted in continuing his journey. This was between seven and eight o'clock in the evening, and it was soon after that time that Malaney fell off his wagon onto the hard road and broke his neck.
A report comes from Washington to this effect: "Commissioner Hermann, of the general land office, is a candidate to succeed McBride as senator for Oregon. The latter's term expires on March 4 next. Hermann is so confident that he can be elected senator that he has announced to President McKinley that he will retire from his present office within the next three months." Hermann appears to be exceedingly confident that he has enough votes stuffed away in his vest pocket to carry him through, and also acts like a man who has been slated for the position—but by what faction? It is no sure thing for Hermann, unless he has the endorsement of the Simon-Corbett-Scott faction.

Two juries were drawn to try cases at the circuit court on Monday. It is now over two years since a jury was drawn in that court, which plainly shows that Tillamook is a law-abiding county. This is as it should be, although it is not very profitable for attorneys and newspapers. Eliminate a few criminal cases from the dockets of the circuit court, justice court and recorder's court—most of which can be credited to quarrelsome, undesirable citizens—it is remarkable how few cases have come before these tribunals the past two years. "The only reason I can give for so little law business in Tillamook is that you must have a good class of citizen in the county and who use good business judgment in their transaction," remarked a visiting attorney on Monday who was surprised to hear from Judge Burnett that the jury drawn that day in his court was the first for over two years.
Notes by the Way.
Sir Thomas Lipton cleared a cool $350,000 in the trifling operation by which he put October pork up from $11 to $20 a barrel. Sir Thomas as a yachtsman has so far met more than his match in this country, but as a man who can go to Chicago and beat the best that can be brought against him in the speculative ring must have genuine sporting blood in his veins. The New York Yacht club might make a note of this.
The ship on which President Kruger is enroute to Europe is to be held at Port Said until the Dutch government can decide what is best to do with him. Long range sympathy is a fine thing in its way and usually one of the most plentiful of articles, but when it comes to doing something tangible—that is another story. Oom Paul should box up his big pipe and ship his herd of cattle to the prairies of the west, where he will find people who will not be afraid to receive him.
The question is not yet answered how the note clerk of a big New York bank could get away with close on $700,000 without being detected. Of course no such wholesale speculation could be perpetrated in any small institution, yet at the same time it must either have taken a marvel of ingenuity or the mere exercising responsible supervision must have been lax in the extreme. Since the bank has a surplus amounting into the millions and will stand the loss itself, no effort is likely to be made to trace responsibility further than the defaulting clerk, but had it collapsed as a result of defalcation a searching inquiry would unquestionably be insisted on by the creditor claimants.
The Linnton horse cannery, which was supposed to be closed for good, is to start up again for a brief season for the disposition of 1000 cvltus canyase ponies. Samuel Kinsman, the sole owner of this establishment now, states that it will be strictly an accommodation run, has no intention of further engaging in horse canning business. The industry here never has been a success, by reason of the fact that it was difficult to find a market in Europe for the output. It is Mr. Kinsman's intention to convert the horse cannery into a fruit cannery. The plant is admirably situated for the fruit canning industry, possessing the advantages of both rail and water transportation facilities.
