The County Newspaper.

Only a few people appreciate the value of good papers to a town but these keep the press going and hope sustained. Week after week, year in and year out, the faithful paper hammers away, every issue taking to the world an advertisement of the paper.

Everything of local public moment appears in their columns, and the reading public is constantly talking of what they saw in the papers. The press is the starting point for nearly every matter of interest and use to the public, and even things that do not start with it are pushed along with increasing force by its constant, faithful exploitation. These are facts which the most callous will admit. The worst old fossil confesses that if the printing presses of the land were shut down for a year it would paralyze business interests more than internal war or the loss of a full crop.

Yet how few business men, even though depending day by day on the gratuitous work of the papers in their community ever help the papers for the help's sake. It must always promise them more than they give or they won't patronize it. They expect the press to work early and late from public spirited motives only, while for themselves there must be prospects of gain in plain view or they let us alone. This is due to false education and ready desire on the part of the paper man to be everybody's black horse. But because it is a free horse is it really good policy to ride it to death? May it not be killing the hen that lays the golden eggs?

Say a word for your home paper. Fill its columns with home advertising, though you may not get a big direct profit on the investment. When an advertisement is solicited don't insult the man as a common beggar, and if you want space don't cry him down—down—down from his rates until he must work for nothing as your slave. Hold up his hands—he will do you and yours good. He is always public spirited by nature and has his load to carry; don't pile more on him simply because you can. Keep him strong and brave and true and he will keep you in many a place where you cannot keep yourself.—Exchange.

"Sav," said Mr. Pursproud to the dealer in automobiles, "that there ottymobul you sold me won't run twenty feet after the current is shut off, even if it has a good start. What's the matter with the thing?"
"Nothing," answered the dealer, "it simply has not enough momentum."
"Well, you get the best momentum in the market and put it on that ottymobul and send the bill to me."

A Terrible Penalty.

LIMON, Colo., Nov. 16.—Chained to a railroad rail, set firmly in the ground, on the exact spot where his fiendish crime was committed, Preston Porter, jr., or as he was familiarly known, John Porter, this evening paid a terrible penalty for his deed. It was 6:23 o'clock when the father of the murdered girl touched the match to the fuel which had been piled around the negro, and 20 minutes later a last convulsive shudder told that life was extinct. What agony the doomed boy suffered while the flames shrivelled up his flesh could only be guessed by the terrible contortions of his face and the cries he gave from time to time.

The executioners, who numbered about 300 citizens of Limon County, had not the least semblance of the ordinary mob. Their every act was deliberate, and during all the preparations, as well as throughout the sufferings of the negro, hardly an unnecessary word was spoken. Grimly they stood in a circle about the fire until the body was entirely consumed and then quietly they took their way back to Limon, from whence they departed for their homes shortly afterward.

Preston Porter did not seem to realize the awful punishment that he was destined to undergo. As he had exhibited indifference to the enormity of his crime, so he seemed to lack all understanding of its terrible consequences. For more than an hour, while preparations for his execution were in progress, he stood mute and sullen among the avengers. When everything was ready he walked to the stake with a firm step, pausing as he reached the circle of broken boards to kneel in prayer. He was allowed to take his time. He arose and placed his back to the iron stake, and half a dozen men wound chains about his body and limbs.

On Fish and Fisheries.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—The annual report of the United States Commissioner of Fish and Fisheries, George M. Bowers, says the total number of fish distributed by the government in the past fiscal year was 1,154,336,854, an increase of about 100,000,000, principally of shad, cod, flatfish, whitefish and lake trout, over the previous year.

Cudahy Packing Combine.

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—The John Cudahy Packing & Provision Company was incorporated at Springfield today as the first step in organizing a $10,000,000 corporation, embracing all of John Cudahy's packing interests. Almost at the same time the Cudahy Packing Company, which is controlled by Michael Cudahy, gave notice of an increase of capital from $3,500,000 to $5,000,000. When John Cudahy's deal is completed the brothers will have $17,000,000 interested in the packing houses. For the present, the John Cudahy Company will have a capital of $500,000. The principal office of the new company will be in Chicago, but the plant it will operate in is Wichita, Kan. John Cudahy also owns packing establishments in Louisville, Ky., and Nashville, Tenn., both of which are incorporated under the laws of the states in which they are located. The Kansas concern will be operated independently for a time.

He—Oh, promise to marry me. I know I'm not worthy of it, but it will make me so happy.
She—You drink, you smoke and you bet.
He—I've signed the pledge, honor bright. Now accept me.

He—Haven't smoke in a year. Now will you marry me?
She—You bet.

SECRET LEAKS OUT.

Treaty by Which Russia is to Occupy Manchuria.

LONDON, Nov. 17, 5 A. M.—Unconfirmed statements emanate from Paris and Odessa that a secret treaty has been concluded between Russia and China for the Russian occupation of Manchuria. There is no fresh news this morning throwing light on the actual situation. The Japanese Minister in London, who was interviewed yesterday, hinted at the possibility of the allies persuading the Chinese court into the inferior, if they desired, although they said it would be a long process.

Shanghai sends a report that the Empress Dowager, alarmed at the uprising in Kansu Province, now contemplates returning to Tai Yuan Fu. From Hankow comes a report that General Tung Fu Hsiang is at Sian Fu protecting the Empress Dowager, and that Prince Tuan has fled to Kansu, and that the whereabouts of Yu Hsian, Governor of Shan Si, is unknown.

It is said that Prince Ching will be sent to Germany to apologize for the murder of Baron von Ketteler.

"Opinion is strong here," says the Shanghai correspondent of the Daily Express, wiring today, "that the European commanders are doing more harm than good by the punitive expeditions which, by the destruction of villages, excite the Chinese to execute the foreigners, a feeling which it will take a century to eradicate."

BOXERS' FATE FIXED.

Princes Tuan and Chang Go to Prison for Life.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Minister Wu has received from Director-General Sheng the following cablegram, which he communicated to Secretary Hay to-day: "An imperial decree of November 13 deprives Prince Tuan and Prince Chang of their ranks and offices, and orders them to be imprisoned for life; Prince Yih and secondary Prince Lien to be imprisoned; secondary Prince Lien to be deprived of his rank; Duke Lan and Ining Nien to be degraded in rank; Kang Yi being dead, no penalty can be imposed upon him; Chao Shu Chiao to be degraded, but retained in office, and Yu Hsien to be exiled to the farthest boundary."

The Chinese officials mentioned in the decree are among the highest in China, and comprise most, if not all, of those against whom the powers demanded rigorous punishment. Prince Tuan stands at the head of the anti-foreign and Boxer movement. Previous edicts degraded him and took away his office and servants, but this judgment of life imprisonment is the most severe thus far given to any of the leaders responsible for the trouble. From a Chinese standpoint, it is an extreme penalty to a Prince of the blood, but it remains to be seen whether the powers will regard it as adequate to Prince Tuan's offense. The others mentioned were Tuan's active associates, and two of them were specifically mentioned for punishment, along with Tuan, in Secretary Hay's note of October 3, in which he advised the Chinese Government that this country would expect these officials to receive their just deserts.

John Wanamaker has contributed a fund of $50,000 to insure an honest election for municipal officers in Philadelphia next spring. With a republican majority of 100,000 in the city the local combine do things in a way that throw Tweed's best efforts in the shade.

The principle industry in the town of Mansfield O., these days, seems to be the ejection and persecutions of Dowie elders who have been beaten, tarred and feathered and otherwise despectfully handled. If these propagandists ever succeed in making a landing at Mansfield, look out for a great influx of converts to their doctrines. In all ages of the world the blood of the martyrs has been the seed of the church.
