SOUTH PRAIRIE.

The building for the new Austin Veatch creamery is making progress.

Layman Lamb was visiting relatives at Beaver and Hebo a few days last week.

Tom Lyster is contemplating a trip to Portland in the near future to be absent one month.

We learn that Frank Ely contemplates returning to Tillamook, not finding California entirely satisfactory.

The new saw mill of Wist & Co. we suppose will soon be running, as we learn all the machinery is now on the ground.

We do not know yet how true the report is which we are hearing through private sources from Portland that additional articles have been filed by the Portland, Nehalem & Tillamook R.R. Co. calling for the western terminus of the road to be at Wellsville on South Prairie —not Tillamook City, as previously announced. And, further, that passenger and shipping facilities will be very meagerly furnished the letter place, simply a side track, water tank, woodshed and a platform dump for passengers, cabbage, etc., passenger trains not stopping at that place at all, traffic on this line to be accommodated by caboose cars attached to freight trains. We suspect it to be an infernal scheme of a blood-sucking corporation to buy up Tillamook city for a song and turn its site into a dairy ranch. [We must apologise for our correspondent's imagination running wild, but we do not anticipate that he can scare the citizens of Tillamook into the belief that this city is going to be left out in the cold when a railroad strikes this county. If our respected correspondent has any faith in his predictions he should not delay in buying up real estate at Wellsville and become the promoter of a town boom for that pl ce—Ed.]

NETARTS.

James Starek is moving from the Maxwell place on the beach here to his place north of Tillamook. The people of Netarts are very sorry to have to loose Mr. Starek and his family from their midst, as they are a very nice family and neighbors. May success go with them

Mr. Ben O'Hara left for Portland last Thursday, to be gone only a short time. If report is correct he will bring a bride with him when he returns.

Frank Elliot, of Tillamook, was at Netarts last Sunday.

Ira Tomilson, the Tillamook cattle buyer, was at Netarts Friday, and purchased 10 head of cattle from Chas. Desmond.

The Hodgdon brothers went to the hub Saturday with a four horse team, returning the next day.

BEAVER.

Four weeks since we had any rainfall.

Beaver school commenced on Monday with Mrs. Armstrong's brother at the desk.

Rev. A. McGinn is busy hauling in bees, hay, etc. He expects to build temporarily on his claim.

Messrs. Davidson and Savage, of Hopewell, have built on their claims.

If Sandlakers would do but a very few days work west from Mr. Wolfe's house to the summit they would have a good trail direct to Beaver and Sheridan.

In a letter written to your correspondent from the secretary of the Phoenix Oil and Fuel Company of San Francisco, the writer says he saw surface indications of oil from Bay City to Astoria. Oil seapage crops out on J. R. Finley's place at Beaver, also on C. Mill's place.

On the evening of March 4th, at our school house, will be presidential inauguration exercises. A good program and all invited.

GLENORA.

Miss Maggie Smith went to Portland last week.

Mr. J. T. Reeher returned from Forest Grove on Wednesday.

Leopold Peterson came in after salmon last week.

Mr. Reeher lost a nice young cow a few days ago. She caught her foot in a crevice of a log, then threw herself and perished miserably.

The salmon bite pretty well at present and the boys enjoy catching them.

The weather has been fine so there must be something wrong with the Oregon climate.

EMMA.

The house of Stephen Bauer caught fire the 8th inst., and burned to the ground before any thing could be saved. The little two year old child was left asleep while its mother was working some distance from the house. Mrs. Bauer on seeing the smoke ran to the house to find it partly in flames. She smashed the window in and jumped into the burning room and rescued the child before it was burned. Mr. Bauer was out looking for his cattle and returned home shortly after the fire caught, but too late to save anything. They are with neighbors at present, who are glad to help them in their trouble.

John Crowley and Lula Dickens passed through this vicinity on their way to Salmon river last week.

T. J. Weckert left for Eastern Oregon, where he intends to herd sheep.

H. M. Caitwood returned from the Grand Round, where he spent Christmas and New Year's with friends. He brought a wife with him, who was hear tely welcomed by his neighbors.

NEHALEM.

Coal!

Coal-oil!

There are two springs upon the claim of Mr. Boles at the mouth of Foley Creek which have quite a coating of petroleum upon the surface, and he is making preparation to bore, and determing what is beneath.

Dan Cronen is getting out piling for the Mill Co. Piling on the Nehalem very seldom needs renewing as the toredo does not attack them.

Messrs. Linkhart and Easom are billed to give exhibitions with their moving pictures and talking machines on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings.

Mr. Philebaum, the administrator of the estate of the late G. W. Fearnside is in for the purpose of settling it up; and Chas. Pye, Alex McDonald and D. S. Boyakin have been appointed appraisers of the same.

There was a surprise dance at Herman Tohl's Saturday night, to which the young people flocked from far and near.

COULSONBURG.

The nice weather of the past few weeks has caused this vicinity to look quite smokey, as a result of burning logs and other rubbish.

N. Coulson has his garden and potatoe ground plowed and if the fine weather continues we expect that he will be planting the same.

School at this place is progressing nicely with Miss Fannie Smith as teacher.

Mrs. Albert Kinnaman visited her sister, Mrs. Dye, of this place last week.

Mr. D. Swabb is working for C. N. Johnson at this writing.

Mr. Dawson, of Cloverdale, was a caller at the Rev. R. Y. Blalock's home Sunday.

Frank and Connie Dye are home again after having worked several weeks for R. O. Richards, of Blaine.

It seems as though N. Coulson's grandchildren in the east are determined that Grandpa shall have all the walnut kernels he wants for once, for he received a large package of them through the mail last week, this time from the children of L. E. Baily, of Pennsville, Ohio. But Mr. Coulson is not a bit selfish with the kernels but passed them around and even the Great Uncle and Aunt of the Bailey children partook of them and all declared they tasted very old-fashioned and reminded them of other days.

Hurrah, for Tillamook's prospect for a railroad. Wonder if there is any danger of having one over this way?

Miss Linnie Coulson is staying with Mrs. E. T. Coulson while Mr. E. T. is working at the county mill.

The followers of General Maximo Gomez have triumphed in the Cuban constitutional convention. The clause making him eligible to the Presidency of the republic was adopted by a vote of 15 to 14.

Simultaneously with the accession of King Edward VII. (whom incidentally the golfers refer to as the first sovereign who has played golf since James II.), the waters of the Nile have been turned back. Sir John Aird cabled this week: "The last channel has been closed at Assuan. You can now walk across the Nile." This will solve the problem of providing corn in Egypt. The excellent piece of dam construction will have to withstand a severe strain when the Nile rises with the next floods.

Tayabas, the first southern province pacified in the Philippines, will probably be the fourth in which a provincial government will be established. Colonel Gardner, of the Thirtieth Regiment, which is at Manila on its way home from Tayabas, will be Governor of the province. The United States Commission desires Colonel Gardner to accept, and General MacArthur has intimated that the Colonel might be released for that purpose. When the committee is on its way southward, it is likely to touch at Lucenae and establish the Tayabas government.

There is a growing anxiety among members of Congress lest the river and harbor bill may fail. For three weeks the bill has been under consideration by the commerce committee, and is as yet not half finished. Usually this committee reports the bill in two weeks. It is stated by several minority members of the committee that its consideration is being purposely delayed by the chairman, and some of the Republican members who are partisans of the subsidy bill among them Senator Hanna, in hopes by threatening the defeat of the river and harbor bill they may force a collapse on the opposition to their pet measure, but even at those odds, the opponents of the shipping bill remain firm and will not give in. Furthermore, it is feared that there will be another attempt to attach an irrigation amendment to the river and harbor bill, if reported to the Senate, and this, if true, will prove a further obstacle.

A World-Wide Crusade.

MUSCATINE, Iowa, Feb. 11.—Mrs. Nation arrived here at noon today and was met at the train by 4000 people. A squad of police was on hand, as she had requested, to escort her to her hotel. The crowd, however, was peaceable and evidently turned out through curiosity, for less than 500 people attended her meeting tonight. After the meeting closed and the receipts of the evening were counted, the financial manager of Mrs. Nation dissolved partnership with her and he, with four of the six women who accompanied her, returned to Kansas City. He said: "My management of Mrs. Nation ends here. I return to Topeka tonight, and four of the six women go with me. The women will return to their homes, and Mrs. Nation, I understand, will proceed to Chicago."

Mrs. Nation says: "I am in the hands of the Lord and will leave for Chicago to-morrow morning. I will do no smashing in Iowa, or any other state, until all the hell holes in my own state are wiped out of existence. Then I will organize a band of women who will smash all of the saloons in the world. The United States first, Europe next."

Saloons Must Go.

Topeka, Kan., Feb. 10.—A meeting of the citizens of Topeka this afternoon, at which 3000 were present, decided that the "joints" of the city must go at once. Friday, February 15, is named as the time when the cleansing of the city must be made complete. If it is not done by that time an army of 1000 men will immediately move upon the "joints," and remove them by force.

The meeting this afternoon was remarkable in every respect. It was called by a committee of the Law Enforcement League, and was attended by nearly all the prominent business men of the city Conservative men, who have heretofore advocated moderation, insist that the people of Topeka shall take the law in their own hands. An ultimatum was passed commanding the officers of the city and county to perform their duty regarding the closing of the "joints." The property-owners on whose premises the "joints" are kept were warned that they had better abate the nuisances at once, or the people of Topeka would not be responsible for the damages that might ensue to the buildings.

CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—Dr. John P. Brushingham preached at the First Methodist Episcopal Church last night on "The Strenuous Spiritual Life," and in the course of his sermon he said that "the crusade of Mrs. Nation, beginning in anarchy, may crystallize temperance sentiment into a catapult of orderly power to turn the dram shop into a benefaction.

"Certain forces of enthusiasm which begin in confusion become modified and refined into mighty forces for moral and social betterment," the preacher continued, "Mrs. Nation, the Joan of Arch of modern times, is sincere. We can afford to wait the outcome with patience. Mrs. Nation is to the whisky rebellion what John Brown was to the slaveowners' rebellion. There is in this republic a deep undercurrent of protests against drunkard-making which is liable to break forth at any time."

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—Mrs. Julia Gates, recording secretary for New York County, Woman's Christian Temperance Union, discussing the methods of fighting saloons adopted by Mrs. Carrie Nation, said:

"I do not approve of Mrs. Nation's battleax methods. While she may not be technically violating the law, according to the way it is interpreted in Kansas, still as a matter of fact the course is one opposed to law and order, and therefore is to be condemned by the union, because our whole fight is against lawlessness. For the union at large to indorse the methods of Mrs. Nation cannot be consistent with our constitution. If we are ever to succeed in crushing the power of the saloons, it must be by legislation, not by the hatchet.

"It will be impossible for Mrs. Nation to smash saloons in New York as she has in Kansas, as she would be arrested immediately and would be forced to pay for the damage she had done. She could not hope for any help from the local branches of the union."

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—Senator-elect Joseph R. Burton, of Kansas, when asked about Mrs. Nation's saloon-smashing, said:

"It is a matter of surprise to the people of Kansas that so much notice is paid to Carrie Nation by the Eastern papers. She is a molehill in Kansas and a towering peak in New York. We have put the badge of illegality on the saloons in Kansas, and when the people get tired of having them they can close them up. When it comes to smashing them, however, Mrs. Nation has no more legal right to attack them with an ax than she has to constitute herself judge and jury and attack anything else. It is quite likely that her so-called crusade will awaken people in many parts of the state to the undesirableness of the saloon as a feature of town and country life, and will close a good many of them up."

For Sale.

Tillamook Dairy Association.

Notice is hereby given that the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Tillamook Dairy Association will be held at the Court house in Tillamook City, Tillamook County, Oregon, on Monday, the 25th day of February, 1901, at 1 o'clock p.m., for the purpose of electing three directors, one treasurer and the transaction of such other business as may come before them.

Tillamook City, Or., Feb. 5, 1901.

S. SEVERANCE, Secretary.

Notice.

L. N. Barnes will pay cash for old rubber boots and shoes, or rubber of any kind, old copper wire, copper boiled bottoms, old brass, heavy fawcetts, valves and similar stock. Led pipe or led of any kind. Old rubber must be free from nails, eyelets, rivets, leather soles, etc.

Orders were prepared at the War Department for the organization, assembling and equipment of 10 additional regiments authorized by the Army reorganization law.

The Woodburn Independent: "Representative Pearce introduced a bill relative to the litigation between the State Land Board and Ellen Savage. He did so by request. Subsequently he learned that he had been used to work a graft, . . . and asked the Ways and Means Committee to report on the matter unfavorably." Mr. Pearce may well exclaim, "Defend me from my friends."

The travel to Copper River and the Klondike is now well started. Not less than two dozen sailing vessels will start for Nome and Bering Sea in April and May. The sawmills on the Yukon have resumed operations, and every town between Bennett and Dawson is building boats and steamers. Not less than 80 vessels will be engaged in the Alaska traffic during the coming summer, including those on the Upper and Lower Yukon, together with steamers sailing on regular routes from Puget Sound. The people of Southeastern Alaska have petitioned Senator Perkins of California, to aid them in securing a lighthouse and other means of protection for the inside route between the Sound and Skagway. The petition sets forth that 15,000 passengers, 200,000 tons of freight and $20,000,000 in treasure are annually transported over this route.

TO PREVENT DECAY.

Wood Preserver Used by Uncle Sam on Yamhill River Work.

Merits of Avenarius Carbolineum Recognized by National, State and Municipal Governments.

The fame of Avearius Carbolineum has steadily extended, as the only bona fide preserver of wood, since its discovery in Germany thirty years ago. It has stood all tests of climate, soil and water and steadily lived down all pretended rivals. Today it is not only employed in all countries for the preservation of wood used for household articles such as houses, barnes, fences, etc., but the national governments, both of Europe and America, have recognized its value in saving public constructions from decay. Following their example cities and counties have also adopted avenarius carbolineum for bridges, pavements, etc., and the leading ship builders and railroad companies have shown their faith in its merits by treating ship timbers, cars, telegraph holes and ties with the same never failing preventative against climatic decay and rapacious wood boring vermin, both of land and water.

Great bodies move slowly, and only act after mature deliberation. It may therefore be safely stated that governments and corporations did not employ avenarius carbolineum until fully convinced of its money saving as well as wood preserving qualities. Priyate individuals desirous of lengthening the life of wood work and at the same time curtailing expenses, need not fear to follow the precedents established.

Recent local examples proving the truth of the above statements are not wanting. The reconstructed Madison street bridge in Portland has been treated with avenarius carbolineum, as has also the pavement at the intersection of four streets in that city where the heaviest street car and wagon traffic converge. The latter use of the compound was made at the earnest solicitation of street car managers who confidently look for gratifying results.

The gentlemen in charge of the United States engineer department for Oregon are now applying avenerius carbolineum to the dams and lock work on the Yamhill river, a flattering tribute to its merits which was certainly not extended until searching investigation satisfied the authorities that it was a measure of practical economy.

With such examples before them it would appear that the individual is foolish and the official almost culpable who does not protect his own, or the taxpayer's pockets by using this compound, thus saving from decay, and lengthening the life of all frame structures for which thus saving from decay, and lengthening the life of all frame structures for which he is individualy or officially responsible.

Fisher, Thorsen & Co., of Portland, Or., are sole Pacific coast agents for avenarius carbolineum, and it can be found at WADE & BRIGGS, Tillamook, Or., who will gladly supply information regarding its accomplishments.
