Probate Matters.

In the estate of Gotthilf Weys, Susan Weys was relieved as administratrix and Henry Koch appointed in her place.

In the estate of W. W. Curtis, S. V. Anderson was allowed to file final accounts and was discharged from his trust as administrator.

It appearing from the petition of Geo. Williams, the guardian of the persons and estate of Frederick M. Davidson and Marie V. Davidson, minors, that all of real estate described in said petition be sold, the court ordered that the next of kin and others interested appear before the court on the 10th April and file objections, if any.

NEHALEM.

This week we are sorry to have to record the death of Miss Anna Tohl, eldest daughter of Wm. Tohl. She had been suffering with pneumonia for several weeks, and in spite of medical care, and the best attention of friends and neighbors, gradually sank, and died about 3:0 p.m. Sunday afternoon.

The funeral took place at 2:0 p.m. Wednesday. The Rev. Sweeney preached the funeral sermon.

Miss Tohl was a member of a big family, and had a large circle of friends, who have the sympathy of the entire community.

There was no school the first three days of this week in dist. 5, on account of the death of Miss Anna Tohl.

John Hickey, of Foley, is putting in a 100 foot bridge for C. Pye, that was displaced by the high water.

The Rev. Sweeney preached at the church on Sunday afternoon, and at Nehalem City in the evening.

Steve Scovel and Rob Crawford are rustling up cattle on the Miami.

At the annual school meeting in dist. 28, Mrs. Ada Morrison was re-elected clerk, and Chas. Pye was elected director and librarian.

GARIBALDI.

Wm. Richardson and Grant Martial have just returned from Alaska, where they have been prospecting for a long time. They are going back soon.

The steamer Sue H. Elmore left at one o'clock on Tuesday for Alsea bay.

Miss Ethel York has been up to the city spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. C. Johnson.

The Truckee saw mill is running at full blast, and Mr. Sibley is giving employment to all the good men that wants work in this vicinity.

Mr. Frank Batter has been down and surveyed L. C. Smith's rock quarry, and it looks as if Uncle Sam was going to do something for us in the way of improving the bar.

At the annual school meeting, L. M. Alley was elected director, and William Brisco school clerk.

BEAVER.

Beaver is having protracted meetings, to continue over Sunday, conducted by Rev. Moore. Next Sunday Presiding Elder, Rev. J. J. Bell, will hold quarterly meeting.

At our school meeting Alva Finley was re-elected clerk and A. W. Bunn director.

J. D. Wallace is beginning to look around to see who has cattle for sale.

Plowing for oats and for gardens appear to be keeping people busy.

Five teams are engaged hauling plank to be used to plank the road towards Blaine.

We are sorry to hear that W. A. Saling for the past few days has been at Tillamook in charge of the doctor. It is to be hoped that he will be well again in a few days.

BOULDER CREEK.

H. L. Jensen's children have been quite sick for a few days.

School election passed off quietly in our district.

Auguste Chopard chored for C. N. Johnson last Tuesday and Wednesday.

Dudley Getchell came up from Cedar Creek, Monday, to slash on W. N. Bays' ranch.

Rev. Blalock was up from Coulsonburg last Wednesday.

Mrs. Roza Borba is slowly recovering from a severe attack of la grippe, which has confined her to her room for the past two weeks.

Mrs. Adella Jensen has been enjoying a week's visit from her uncle, Mr. H. Bays.

George Smith and wife, arrived from the valley last week.

Miss Nash, of Salem, will teach the spring term of school at Brown's, commencing the first Monday in April.

Mr. H. Bays visited Mr. and Mrs. Chopard Monday and Tuesday. Gardening will soon be in progress. The frog orchestra is again with us.

Mr. and Mrs. Dye and daughter, Elsie passed through our burg Monday.

NETARTS.

Chas. Desmond and family have moved to Pleasant Valley, where they intend making their home in the future, having bought a place in that neighborhood.

John Wilson, of Kelchis river, was visiting with Wm. Shaw, of this place, Saturday and Sunday.

Geo. W. Phelps made a trip to Tillamook City Tuesday on business.

John Hodgdon, who has been sick for some time, is able to be out again.

W. A. Shaw will soon move on his homestead near Cape Meares lighthouse.

Gravedigger Lost His Job.

"When I was a boy," said the veteran to a New York Times man, "I remember there was an awful scandal in our town—a little country place—because a temporary gravedigger, who had been hired to do the work when the regular hand was ill, buried a man with his feet to the west. Ours was a religious, as well as a superstitious town. Among the older people there was a well-grounded belief that a person must be interred with his feet to the east, so that when Gabriel's trumpet should sound for the final awakening the dead should be able to face the angel arising. This new gravedigger couldn't have known the tradition, or he would not have flown in the face of superstition and buried his victim with his feet to the west. The thing made such a scandal that they actually disinterred the body and turned the coffin around so that the dead man should rest in the right position. Of course, the new gravedigger lost his job. I don't know that I have thought of the incident for a long time, until I had to go to Woodlawn cemetery a short time ago to attend the burial of a friend. Then, for the first time, it dawned on me that there had been a change in the superstition, and that it had probably been wholly lost to sight, as have so many of the old ones. I noticed that the direction in which bodies are buried now seems to be settled by the direction of the path in front of the plot you own; that is, that interments are made with the feet pointing toward the path, no matter in what compass direction they may point."

The Hay-Pauncetote treaty, intended to replace the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, relative to the construction of isthmian waterways, died at noon Monday. The death was caused technically by the fact that the last clause of the treaty allowed only the period of time up to March 4 for its ratification. Neither the Government of the United States nor of Great Britain appeared to have made any formal effort to extend that period.

H. G. Van Dusen, of Astoria, was appointed State Fish Warden, and Lewis Bean, of Roseburg, deputy, by the State Board of Fish Commissioners, at its first meeting. There were two candidates from Astoria for deputy warden—D. H. Welch and Fred Wickman. The board decided that since the Master Warden had been chosen from Astoria, the deputy must be selected from some other section, and Bean was elected. Mr. Bean is a brother of Chief Justice Bean, and was for several years connected with the Government hatcheries on the Siuslaw.

Hanna and his coterie threatened some weeks ago to kill the river and harbor bill unless the ship-subsidy steal went through. The ship-subsidy bill was such a rank, raw, rotten steal that it could not be forced through, but Hanna and his clique have made their threat good, and they have put disgruntled, despicable Tom Carter forward as the agent of their revenge. Now, Hanna, Elkins, Platt, Quay et al., are gloating over the country that has suffered this defeat and this wrong, and are saying: "Next time you will come to our terms, and pass our subsidy steals; for you see, if you refuse, what the consequence will be. We can always find a Tom Carter!"—Telegram.

William McKinley, of Ohio, on Monday was inducted into the Presidential office, being the eighth of the illustrious line of Presidents of the United States thus honored by the American people, with a second and consecutive term. Simultaneously, Theodore Roosevelt, of New York, became Vice-President of the United States. The ceremony that marked this second assumption by President McKinley by the cares of state, was most impressive and full of suggestions of the development of the republic during the past four years.

TO PREVENT DECAY.
Wood Preserver Used by Uncle Sam on Yamhill River Work.

Merits of Avenarius Carbolineum Recognized by National, State and Municipal Governments.

The fame of Avenarius Carbolineum has steadily extended, as the only bona fide preserver of wood, since its discovery in Germany thirty years ago. It has stood all tests of climate, soil and water and steadily lived down all pretended rivals. Today it is not only employed in all countries for the preservation of wood used for household articles such as houses, barns, fences, etc., but the national governments, both of Europe and America, have recognized its value in saving public constructions from decay.

Following their example cities and counties have also adopted Avenarius carbolineum for bridges, pavements, etc., and the leading ship builders and railroad companies have shown their faith in its merits by treating ship timbers, cars, telegraph poles and ties with the same never failing preventative against climatic decay and rapacious wood boring vermin, both of land and water.

Great bodies move slowly, and only act after mature deliberation. It may therefore be safely stated that governments and corporations did not employ Avenarius carbolineum until fully convinced of its money saving, etc., and wood preserving qualities. Private individuals desirous of lengthening the life of wood work and at the same time curtailing expenses, need not fear to follow the precedents established.

Fish & Thorsen & Co., of Portland, Or., are sole Pacific coast agents for Avenarius carbolineum, and it can be found at WADE & BRIGGS, Tillamook, Or., who will gladly supply information regarding its accomplishments.
