It is reported that ex-President Harrison is at the point of death.
Grant Short and Dan Powell were in the city from Washougal, Wash.
Mr. A. J. Cohn went out on a business trip to Portland and San Francisco on Monday.
Each dollar's purchase, at Todd's, entitles you to one chance in their $150.00 drawing.
Mr. A. Letcher has traded his farm and building in this city for Mr. R. H. Holmes' farm at Woods.
Tillamook hose company will meet this (Thursday) evening, at 8 o'clock, at the city hall, for business.
Percy Wiley went out on the stage on Monday to resume his studies at the university at Forest Grove.
The electric light company is putting in poles and making arrangements to light the residence portion of the city with electric lights.
Mrs. Sturgeon returned from a business trip to San Francisco on Wednesday, and came across the mountain from Fairdale to this city on horseback.
Dr. T. P. Wise left on the stage Monday for Portland, to be gone a week or so to assist his brother, who is moving into new offices in that city.
A new business building is being erected between Bailey's implement warehouse and Letcher's, to be occupied by Mr. W. Olsen, who is going into business again.
Dr. W. Tatom, the painless dentist, will remain in the city for a short time, and those requiring first-class dentistry work should call upon him at the Larsen house at once.
Born, on the 11th inst., to the wife of Mr. C. G. Sowers, a son; and there is rejoicing in the home, for it looked as if the numerous daughters were never to have a brother.

We notice that some of the county courts in Oregon have directed the sheriff to return the money collected under the bicycle tax law which has been declared unconstitutional.
Miss Catherine Myers returned to this city on Sunday from Forest Grove, where she had gone to attend the wedding of her sister, Miss Anna Myers to Mr. Neill J. Sorensen, a mining man of Sumpter.
The lumber schooner C. H. Wheeler and the tug Geo. R. Vosburg arrived at San Francisco on Thursday of last week, and as they only left here the previous Sunday, they made another good passage.

A postal card from C. F. Keller, at Garibaldi, states that there will be a free lecture at the court house in Tillamook City on Monday, March 18th, at 7:30 p.m. Subject, "Law and Order." Ladies especially invited.
The Presbyterian church will devote its evening service next Sunday to the cause of home and foreign missions. An interesting program has been prepared by the ladies of the missionary society connected with the church. All are cordially invited.
Wm. Schlotter, of Nestocton, was bound over to the circuit court last week on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon upon George Parrish. This is the only criminal case, and not a very serious one either, to come before the circuit court next month.
A surprise party was given on Friday evening to Miss Lulu Barnes by the young people of this city, when a pleasant time was, as usual, participated in, making this another pleasing affair where the young people enjoyed themselves. Refreshments were served and altogether a most pleasant, sociable evening was spent.
There is a possibility that the defeat of the river and harbor bill will not interfere with the survey of Tillamook bar and the cost of preparing an estimate for its improvement. We expected to be able to throw some light on this in this issue, but up to the time of going to press we have not received an answer to our inquiries.
Mr. J. G. Day, one of Tillamook's early settlers, who has sold his property in this city, is about to pull up stakes and expects to leave with his family in a week or so for California. He has an idea that those who take newspapers and then squirm out of paying for them will never inhabit the better land, so is going to settle up before he leaves.
The steam lumber schooner Acme came in on Tuesday to load lumber at the Truckee mill, which made three lumber schooners loading at Hobsonville at one time, and each having a carrying capacity over 400,000 feet. If the channel on the bar would continue at the same depth and in the same place as it is now, there would not be much difficulty in getting vessels to load here, for 24 feet of water and a straight channel is reported. This means a scene of industrial activity at the saw mill, and we hope that it will continue so.
The Amaceta Club had another pleasant evening's enjoyment on Friday, the special feature being made up of a program of vocal and instrumental music, which brought out the musical ability of the young people and afforded plenty of good amusement to those present. This was followed by a chicken supper and other dainties, and as dancing appears to be one of the attractions for young people, this was indulged in before the club adjourned. There was a large attendance, and several ladies who have provided refreshments and chaperoned the young people say the club is admirably conducted.
Mr. O. G. Nolan came near finding a watery grave in Hoquarton slough on Tuesday. He was on some small logs which commenced turning, and in making a dash to get off fell into the water. As he had heavy boots and coat on he found he could not swim, and had considerable trouble to keep his head above water. Every time he sank his feet touched bottom, when we would give a spring, which brought his head above the surface. Then he would call for help and taken in some fresh air. After a time he was heard in the saw mill, and Jack Burdick looked out to see what the trouble was, but Nolan had disappeared. Hearing the call for help again, he looked a second time into the slough, when he saw Nolan's hands just above the water, and it was only a few moments after that when he was pulled out, and none too soon, for Nolan was beginning to lose consciousness.

Close Fishing Season.
The close fishing season for Tillamook Bay and its tributaries will be found in the section of the law recently passed by the state legislature, which is as follows:
Sec. 7. It shall be unlawful to take or fish for salmon in the tributaries of Tillamook Bay above tide water at any time, by any means whatever, except with hook and line, commonly called angling, or in any of the water of Tillamook Bay or its tributaries, from 6 p.m. Saturday until 6 p.m. the Sunday following, in any week of any year, or in said bay or in any of the tributaries thereof below the points hereinafter named, between 6 a.m. on the 1st day of February and 6 p.m. on the 15th day of July of each year, or between 6 a.m. on the 20th day of November and 6 p.m. on the 1st day of December of each year, or in any of the following named streams, being tributaries of Tillamook Bay, from July 1 to November 15, above the points specified on each stream: Miamia River, at the intersection of said stream by the south line of section 11, in township 1 north of range 10 west of Willamette meridian; Kilchis River, at the intersection of said stream by the east line of section 12, in township 1 south of range 10 west of Willamette meridian; Wilson River, at the intersection of said stream by the quarter-section line running north and south through section 20, in township 1 south of range 9 west of Willamette meridian; Hoquarton Slough, at the intersection of said slough by the west line of section 24, in township 1 south of range 10 west of the Willamette meridian; Trask River, at the intersection of said river by the quarter-section line running east and west through section 26, in township 1 south of range 10 west of the Willamette meridian; Tillamook River, at the intersection of said stream by the west line of section 7, in township 2 south of range 9 west of the Willamette meridian.

Passing Comment.
Now that Mitchell is senator from Oregon there is some likelihood that he will not allow San Francisco to monopolize all the transport business to the Philippine islands, and we will gamble he will skim off some of the cream for Portland at the first opportunity.

The $100 per month county commissioners in Multnomah are hot in the collar because the state legislature cut off their "graft" and placed them on the same footing as commissioners in other counties. Political grafters die hard, but it is a good thing to kill them off as quickly as possible, even though they do squeal like a hog when it is being stuck.

The moral crusaders who were arrested in Portland for gambling when a raid was made on a gambling joint in that city last week are a pretty good sample of people who, with a lot of spasmodic bombast, start moral crusades and paint every community as black as hell. The man who talks so much about moral reform is on a par with the man who is continually talking about his own honesty, yet suspecting everybody else to be thieves, for they both need watching.

It will not be as easy in the future for school directors to employ their near relatives as teachers, for the new school law requires unanimous consent of the board before this can be done. We have no doubt but what this will have a tendency to make it harder for incompetent teachers to secure a school, for we have cases in mind where parents have become directors for the express purpose of getting a pull and on the inside track to get some relative in as teacher.

When the Port of Tillamook Commission holds its next meeting it should pass a resolution condemning the action of Carter in obstructing the passage of the river and harbor bill. And a resolution of that character cannot be too strongly worded, for it would show the true sentiment of every person in Tillamook. It is right that every member of the Oregon delegation should become acquainted with the people's indignation, and we do not know any better channel through which an expression of opinion for this section of country can be made as effective as by the Port of Tillamook Commission.

Those who want to create a boom in this county should start in right, for with that accomplished the victory is half won. We have been hunting around to find something to boom so that the boomers can get on a boomerang, but after searching high and low, east, west, north and south, the only thing we can find to boom, under present conditions, is the bovine. As the dairy ranches and the dairymen bring the money into the county, making themselves and the county wealthy and prosperous, it ought to be good cow sense and calflogic to boom the bovine, for that will insure a larger amount of industry of a permanent and profitable character.

In a write-up of some of the peculiarities and characteristics of the state legislators, the Evening Telegram, speaking of Representative B. L. Eddy, says: "The senate had more orators than the house, but it is doubtful whether it had any more effective debaters. In the house, Eddy was not only a leader, but a telling debater. . . . Eddy was perhaps the most eloquent orator in the house, and Whitney the most vigorous and vehement." All we need add to this, Tillamook was well and ably represented and the county ranks now with the counties which sent men with brains to the legislature to enact laws—and may Tillamook county continue to do so.

Commenting upon a little squib which appeared in the Headlight in reference to the repeated newspaper talk for the last four years about establishing a woolen mill in Portland, the Oregonian says: "Be gentle, neighbor. Remember you need a railroad and will be able to reduce the temperature of your pedaled extremities several degrees by helping it along." Oh, no, brother. We thought we had busted open the Portland railroad wind bladder wide enough a few weeks ago that it would be impossible to inflate it again. Not so, however, for here's one writer in Portland who is not aware that some of the bankers in that city look upon the whole affair of the scheme to build a railroad from Portland to Tillamook as preposterous.

Some of the Corbett newspapers continue to be a little wrathful, but the "28 republican stalwarts" no longer appear to be the whole thing in the republican party since they failed to deprive Oregon of one representative in the United States senate. Evidently they are now groaning under their "first, last and all the time" tactics, and feel lonesome now that they are left in the cold. The Oregonian, when it found, it was beaten immediately buried the hatchet, and although Harvey Scott had been Senator Mitchell's most embittered enemy, Mr. Scott shook hands with the senator with the understanding that there was to be no bad blood between them in the future. As Mr. Scott readily accepted the inevitable surely the small-fry politicians can do the same and drop their petty jealousies. Referring to this again, the Oregonian says: "The war is over, so let us have peace." By all means, and to which we say "Amen."

What a heaven below Tillamook would be if people would quit back-biting one another and desist indulging in gossip of a false character. There is always more or less of this going on in every small community, and generally the professing Christians are just as black sinners in this respect as those who make no profession of religion. We feel like writing an article and dedicating it to the gossip mongers, but our criticism, we are inclined to think, would be considered of too radical and stinging nature, so take this mild way of drawing attention to it and with the hope that it will do many of the gossip and scandal mongers out of a job. Even in our fraternal orders, where members have pledged themselves with a solemn obligation to protect the character of their brothers when assailed by slander, this often appears a useless formality to us when we hear members talk of each other in anything but a gentlemanly manner. We will not elongate this paragraph, but will ask every candid person to consider the demoralizing effect gossips and gossip-mongers have upon the community, especially when it is indulged in by those who pretend to be so sanctimonious. It is a good adage, if we cannot speak good of a person, never to speak evil of them. A little cultivation along these lines would be a great benefit to one and all and the community as well.

Overstocked.

We have just finished invoicing, and find we are overstocked in many lines.

We find that we can do business on a cash basis on a much smaller stock than it requires to do a credit business. We will make reductions all along the line for the next 60 days.

We want to close out our stock of Mackintoshes and Rubber Goods, and will sell them at a reduction of 10 to 20 per cent. See us for further reductions.

$150.00 in presents given away June 1st, 1901.

Call and get further particulars.

SPECTACLES

My System of Fitting

the eyes is different from most of dealers, especially those who sell the frames all ready fitted with the glasses. By the aid of a large complete trial or test case I can fit any eye, making it a very easy matter to detect any slight variation of the eyes by testing each eye separately.

The Lenses

or glasses are put into frames of your own selection, after the eyes have been thoroughly tested. The same quality of lenses is put into every frame sold, the difference in price being only in the frame.

If you don't want to use a pair of spectacles come in and try my system and see whether your eyes are all right or not, then

Let me fill your Prescriptions.
