

MILLINERY OPENING

March 21-22,
At Mrs. TODD'S, opposite P.O.

The Ladies of Tillamook and vicinity are cordially invited to attend the Spring Opening of Sailor's, Street and Pattern Hats. Everything along the Millinery Line. Easter will soon be here, so be ready.

NEHALEM.

There were more people out to the funeral of Miss Anna Tehl than have been together on Nehalem for a long time.

There was a surprise party at Mr. R. Crawford's on the evening of the 8th., in honor of Misses Beckey and Rachael, who will soon be leaving home.

The graduating exercises at the Union Peak school on Saturday eve passed off very pleasantly. All candidates were successful with one exception.

On Saturday afternoon about 100 feet of the dock at Wheeler and Co's saw-mill collapsed, taking down with it about 200 feet of lumber, principally dressed stuff.

More work for the pile driver. "Tis an ill wind etc."

Viewers for one of the prospective railroads are said to be at Mishawaka.

Born, on the 6th inst., to the wife of Frank Lundburg, a daughter.

COULSONBURG.

Thos. Richards was down from Blaine yesterday and called on citizens here.

A number from this place have been attending the series of meetings in Congress at Beaver conducted by Rev. Moore, of Missouri.

Thos. Coulson has a severe attack of La Grippe at this writing.

At the recent school meeting held at this place, Mr. Norman Dye and Mr. Ed. Kinnaman were elected directors, and C. N. Johnson as clerk.

After one week of vacation Miss Fannie is again teaching school at this place.

The Dye boys are again working at Blaine.

Miss Rachel Wood is visiting friends in this locality at present.

N. Coulson has his onion seed all planted.

BOULDER CREEK.

Miss Linnie Nicklans, of Upper Boulder, was visiting her many friends in this neighborhood, and that of Brown's last week.

J. L. Brady went to Beaver Saturday evening for the purpose of attending the meetings now in progress at that place.

Miss Lena Bays and Messrs. Marcus and Maurice Bays spent Sunday with their sister, Mrs. Della Jensen.

John Borba has built a commodious shed for the accommodation of his young stock.

Mrs. Grace Smith and children visited Mrs. Roza Borba last Tuesday.

R. C. Richard was traversing this section of country, late one evening last week, and in answer to a question as to whether he was bound, answered that he was hunting a wife. We wish him all possible success in his quest.

H. A. Chopard and C. A. Smith were carpentering for Jno. Borba last week.

Misses Abbie and Linnie Coulson passed our burg Friday, en route to Blaine.

A certain young man from Beaver, who is often seen on Boulder now a days, is just a little reckless, according to the staid and sober residents of this place. He fords the Nestucca at a depth that makes older and cooler heads shake warningly. We think the trail over the mountains a much safer route when the river is high. "A word to the wise is sufficient."

Mr. Noah Coulson, of Coulsonburg, passed through Boulder last Monday.

C. A. Smith and son are constructing a canal above Little Niagara Falls.

Rev. Reuben Blalock filled his usual appointment at Brown school-house Sunday, March 10th.

BARNEGAT.

Joe Hauxhurst has been rusticated at Barnegat the past two weeks.

H. M. Sampson is visiting his old friends at Barnegat.

Captain Hunt went to the hub Tuesday; also Bert Biggs and son, returning the next day.

Our old March weather seems to have set in in good shape.

At our school meeting Joe Hauxhurst was elected director and Herman Grossman clerk.

Army officers at headquarters of the Department of the Lakes express the opinion that rioting at Highwood, near Fort Sheridan, during which a number of soldiers were injured, was due entirely to the abolition of the Army canteen. General Oris, in command of the department, said: "I was strongly opposed to the Army canteen when first proposed, but from investigation I found it worked so much better than I expected that I was compelled to indorse it. Under that system the profits went to buy delicacies for the men's tables. Now the men spend more and the profits go to the owners of private gin mills."

It is reported upon trustworthy authority that Russia has notified China that unless the Manchurian convention is signed at an early named date, she (Russia) will withdraw the convention and substitute harder terms in its place. Li Hung Chang declares that he is powerless to resist and has appealed to the United States, Great Britain, Germany and Japan to intervene in China's behalf. Considerable uneasiness, in consequence of the extreme friction, is believed to exist between the Yang-tse Viceroy and Li Hung Chang.

England Says "No."

WASHINGTON, March 11.—The long expected answer from the British Government to the State Department's communication reciting the action of the Senate upon the Hay-Pauncefote treaty was returned at noon today. Lord Pauncefote, the British Ambassador, had already acquainted Secretary Hay with the fact that he had received a communication from his government on the subject and it had been in his possession for several days. Secretary Hay had acquired a general knowledge of the character of the British response. Lord Pauncefote came to the State Department at noon by appointment. He brought the answer with him and read it to Secretary Hay. It was in the form of instructions from Lord Lansdowne, the British Minister of Foreign Affairs, to Lord Pauncefote, and he left a copy of these instructions with Secretary Hay. The Secretary and the Ambassador were closeted for half an hour. At the conclusion of the conference, it was stated that the instructions to Lord Pauncefote were to notify the Government of the United States that the British Government did not see its way clear to accept the Senate amendments.

Smallpox Epidemic.

BUTTE, MONT., March 11.—In an interview in the Iner-Mountain, this evening A. A. Campbell, of Pryor, who is in charge of the Pryor Creek subagency, on the Crow reservation, states that there are 600 cases of smallpox in the vicinity of Pryor, and that strenuous efforts are being made to stamp the disease out. He asserts that Billings has 40 cases of the disease, and that with its own cases and the reservation cases, the detention hospital there has become so overcrowded that hundreds of cases are being cared for privately. The epidemic has reached a point where the County Commissioners have determined to erect a pesthouse near Pryor. A singular fact in this connection is that up to date not a single Indian has contracted the disease.

"On Pryor Creek and the Crow reservation, about 600 persons are quarantined," said Mr. Campbell. "The first case broke out in Timothy's Camp two months ago. Then the disease extended to McShane's camp, and soon after to O'Connor's. As yet, every case has been of a mild character. Everything possible is being done to keep the men from leaving work and scattering smallpox throughout the state. The Indians were all taken up Pryor Creek when the disease first broke out, but now they will have to be moved, as smallpox has made its appearance on the upper part of the reservation."

Smallpox Closed Joints.

WEIR CITY, Kan., March 11.—All the joints of this place have been closed by order of the Mayor on account of the smallpox epidemic. They must remain closed until April 1. The schools were closed early in December, and early last week an order was issued closing all the churches, lodges and other public gatherings indefinitely. The temperance people say the joints must stay closed, even after April 1.

Cannery Will Grow Peas.

SALEM, OR., March 8.—The Allen Packing Company, of this city, is already preparing for the season's pack of green peas. Manager D. V. Allen has remodeled a grain drill so that it will plant peas, and expects to put in 100 acres for the company. In addition to this the cannery will take all the peas the farmers of this vicinity have to sell and will probably find it necessary to import some from other sections of the Willamette Valley.

One of the principal objects of the company in planting peas is to test the various soils and methods of planting and cultivation, so as to teach the farmers how best to raise this vegetable. At this season of the year the company contracts with farmers for the purchase of the peas they may raise for the cannery, so that the farmer is sure of his market and the company knows how large a product can be depended upon. Last season the Allen Packing Company put up about 3600 cases of peas and could have found ready sale for more than that amount. The entire pack was worth $7500 and was but the beginning of the company's run for the season. A larger quantity will be put up this season if possible.

Proctor Goes to Cuba.

NEW YORK, March 12.—Senator Redfield Proctor, of Vermont, has, it is announced, gone to Cuba, and will be absent about two weeks. According to a special from Washington to the Herald, Senator Proctor's visit to Cuba is taken to mean that the Administration is not entirely satisfied with the official reports it is getting regarding the sentiment of the island towards the United States. Reports that systematic agitation is being carried on in the island do not accord with dispatches the War Department has been receiving from General Wood and Horatio S. Reubens, who has a civil office under the military government.

Following the destruction of the Maine, in 1898, when war was pending, Senator Proctor made an extended trip over the islands, reported to the President and later made a speech in the Senate, drawing conclusions from his investigation. It is understood Mr. Proctor will now make a similar investigation.

Emperor in Washington.

NEW YORK, March 11.—A special to the Times from Boston quotes President Arthur T. Hadley, of Yale University, as saying:

"We shall have an Emperor in Washington within 25 years unless we can create a public sentiment, which regardless of legislation, will regulate the trusts."

President Hadley uttered these words at the Old South Church last night, the report explains, before a congregation largely made up of the richest church society in New England. He was delivering the third in a Lenten address by college presidents, and his specific topic was "The Development of a Public Conscience." In the course of his address he said:

"How do things stand as regards the need of public conscience in this country today? The American standard of personal morality is, on the whole, high as compared with other nations and other ages. We have developed personal virtues through individual conscience very well. But our actions in politics and in a social and business sense prove that our moral standard in those directions is desperately low. There is an appalling contrast between our methods of dealing with each other as individuals and the low standard in dealings between different parts of the whole organization of society.

"Competition used to prevent a man from practicing great extortion upon his neighbor even if he wanted to, and in politics we once had at least a rough form of relative justice. But today with our industries organized into trusts and the imperialistic spirit developed in politics, the general development of the principle of trusts will become appalling unless we cultivate a higher standard of morality than ever before.

"Legislation will never protect us from the evils of trusts, of deteriorated politics. The essence of a trust is that you must trust the head of it to exercise his power wisely or to abuse it, according to the kind of conscience he possesses. Trusts have got to be regulated by public sentiment and that public sentiment is not merely the opinion of any particular part of the whole people, but is a readiness to accept, in behalf of the country, restrictions, independent of the question of whether you or I shall be personally harmed by those restrictions.

"You say that the community will not be governed by this principle. We must expect that the community will, however, for the alternative is an Emperor in Washington within 25 years. Public affairs can no longer be played as a game, but must be directed as an intelligent and active public conscience. Individual effort is helpless and hopeless."

Oregon Opinions.

Ione Post: Only those who have been forced from the public trough can fully appreciate the feelings of the Congressional returned to private life. While there may be some consolation in the prefix "Hon.," it will not compensate for the loss of salary and perqs.

Bandon Recorder: It is possible that Senator Hanna's ire was behind Carter's opposition to the river and harbor bill. That worthy citizen many have concluded that as ships were not subsidized, there was no necessity of having places for them to land, hence the improvement of harbors was useless.

Aurora Borealis: The Indian war veterans have reason to feel abused by both Congress and the Oregon Legislature.

St. Helen's Mist: Last Monday Teddy Roosevelt laid down the rifle and bowie knife to pick up the Senatorial gavel, and hereafter, instead of playing mountain lions, he will devote his time to killing the aspirations of ambitious Senators who hope to congeal themselves to their constituents by securing large appropriations.

Yaquina Bay News: The country is behind President McKinley's demand that Congress shall assume its share of the responsibility of deciding upon the future relations between Cuba and the United States.

Independence West Side: The truth of the matter is that Uncle Sam lost the gratitude of Cuba because he interfered with its cockfighting, Sunday wine-drinking and other national idiosyncracies. Puritanism often comes high.

Newberg Graphic: Senator Carter, of Montana, would have stood much better before the American people if his last few hours in the United States Senate had not been spent in a 13-hour harangue against the river and harbor bill and which resulted in the defeat of that measure. The fact that Montana has no harbors or rivers to improve makes it appear that he acted from narrow, sectional motives, and the people had thought better of him than this.

Salem Statesman: Up through the Inland Empire they have established telephone exchanges by means of wire fences, and neighbor talks to neighbor in that region of magnificent distances without the least trouble. The bars on the wires only help to give point to the remarks that pass over them. Some editors ought to do their writing over a barb wire fence.

Eugene Register: We should not be too hard on the merchant at Manila who turned traitor to the American flag. He had many illustrious examples to follow not 12,000 miles from home.

Albany Herald: President McKinley has retained his former Cabinet throughout. The ship of state has been sailing very smoothly and a continuance of existing conditions being all that is desired, the retention of the Cabinet is the logical course to pursue.

An Afton preacher took a novel method of preventing members of his flock from attending a dance. He purchased a ticket and attended the function himself. If the plan continues to work he might solve another problem by moving his study near the back door of the village saloon.

Andrew Carnegie has offered to give $50,000 for a public library building for Vancouver, B. C., the only condition being the city furnish a suitable site and agree to contribute $5000 annually for its maintenance. As the present public library with inadequate accommodations has necessitated an annual expenditure of $5600, Carnegie's condition presents no difficult features. The announcement was made by George R. Maxwell, member of Parliament for that district, he having received a letter from Mr. Carnegie. The matter has been turned over to the Mayor of Vancouver for official action.
