

NEW STOCK OF SPRING GOODS.

We have by far the largest and best assorted stock of New Goods that has ever been imported into this city. Dress Goods, Foulards, Demities and Lawns in the Newest and Prettiest Patterns. New Silks and Sateens. Large assortment of Ladies' Collarets in new shapes and colors. French Gingham, Percales and Outing Flannels in the best summer styles and patterns. We are showing the largest and finest assortment of Ladies' Shirt Waists ever shown in the city.

COHN & CO., The

A Fine New Line of Wrappers and Belts. In fact, anything in the line of Dress or Fancy Goods. Our stock is strictly up to date.

A new stock of Shoes, both for Ladies and Gents. If you want style and durability in Clothing you must wear one of our New Suits. They are the best that money can buy.

Don't overlook the fact that we are "The King Pins" on Groceries, Feed and Provisions of all kinds. Our prices are low and in many cases lower than any in the city.

Leading Merchants.

Captain Thompson Dead.

Just as we were going to press a telephone message stated that Captain Thompson died to-day. He is the oldest person in Tillamook, being about 96 years of age.

There is no Place Like Tillamook

Arkansas City, Kansas,
March 28th, 1901.

[TO EDITOR OF TILLAMOOK HEADLIGHT.]
DEAR SIR,—I see in the Headlight very frequently something about Kansas and the hard times people are having here in winter on account of the cold snow storms and the chinch bugs and grasshoppers in summer. It is true we have some chinch bugs and a few grasshoppers in warm weather, but they do but very little damage to crops here, and as for snow storms, we never have them here in this part of Kansas. I live in Cowley county, on the Arkansas river, on the state line. Here we have mild winters, good crops in summer and nearly everybody has big white houses to live in and big red barns for their grain and stock. Every farmer has a fine buggy or else a fine carriage to ride in and every farmer has a piano or an organ in his house. I tell you people are doing well here, with no mud, no logs in their roads, no houses blowing down, no houses propped with poles to keep them from blowing down. No, no. We have good roads, good crops, good health and good times here. Our stock has kept fat on the wheat fields this winter. We live in the garden spot of world.

Now, Mr. Editor, if you think what I have said about this part of Kansas will do for your readers to see, you can put it in the Headlight, so that they can see that there is some fine country out side of Tillamook county. I once lived in Tillamook and I know all about it.

Yours truly,
LEVI HUDSON.

NEHALEM.

The tug Voshburg and barge arrived in from Frisco on Thursday last. The barge is loaded, and they will sail for Portland at the first opportunity.

Dr. Wiley came up on Sunday to attend Wm. Schollmeyer's oldest boy, who was in a critical condition with inflammation of the bowels. At present writing he is somewhat better.

Two gentlemen of the name of Nims were here last week looking at the Fearnside store property, with a view to purchasing. The household goods of the late Geo. W. Fearnside were sold at private sale on Saturday last.

The Ladies Circle W. of W. held their 4th anniversary celebration on Monday night. The hall was full, and a very nice program was rendered, followed by refreshments and dancing.

NETARTS.

Chas. Hobart, of Long Beach, Cal., arrived here last Thursday, and will remain here for some time.

James Starek, of Kelchis, was on the beach Sunday.

Joseph Kutchner has gone to Hobsonville to work in the Truckee mill for three months.

Our road supervisor is rebuilding the bridge on the Watkins place that was taken out by the high water during the winter.

Marian Phelps made a trip around the Bay Saturday.

J. M. Morgan's family, who have been sick for some time with the measles, are getting better at the present writing.

COULSONBURG.

Rev. Moore visited friends here last last week.

Mr. Connie Dye has been employed and is now working for Mr. Saunders, down the river.

Grandpa Woods who came here last fall from Mo., left here Friday morning for the above named state, but we think he will regret the change, especially at this time of the year.

Part of E. T. Coulson's family are still on the sick list.

Frank Dye is holding down the office of mail carrier at present.

Little Grace Swabb is quite sick at this writing.

Mr. Allie Poland was a pleasant caller at the burg Thursday.

G. T. Coulson made a flying trip to the city of Tillamook Tuesday.

Miss Tessa Bixby is staying with Mrs. Wm. Patrick, while Mr. Patrick is outside after his father and mother.

Miss Dora Swabb came home Saturday and returned to her work Sunday. Sunday school at this place will be at 3 o'clock p.m., instead of in the forenoon.

BOULDER CREEK.

Mr. James Hughey is making a visit to his Nestucca ranch at present.

Elder Blalock, of Coulsonburg, preached at the Brown school house, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Bays were visiting their many friends on Boulder Creek, last Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. John Brady attended Sabbath school at Wolf Creek, Sunday.

Sam Lucas and Mr. Woods went to the valley last week to meet some Missourians en route to Tillamook co.

Will and Herman Thun are moving to their ranch on Charlie Sear's creek. Will says he is going back to Tillamook in a few days to get his wife, and then he will be ready to settle down.

Have you seen H. A. Chopard's new mail box? He is thinking of having it patented.

D. C. Getchell came up the river last Thursday to measure the slashing he has been doing for W. N. Bays.

John Borba is milking thirty fresh cows at present.

Oregon Must Rustle.

The fact that but a very small percentage of the homeseekers coming to the Coast from the East on the special excursion trains reach Portland is evidence that there is need of an active missionary or two at the Eastern end of the line.

A great many who start for Oregon are blinded by the glittering inducements held out by the emissaries of the Sound cities, who intercept them en route, and persuade them to drop off before the land of milk and honey, the mecca of all well-informed homeseekers, is reached. Spokane and various towns in Idaho and Montana also make successful raids upon the excursion trains, so that not infrequently but from 40 to 50 out of 400 or 500 homeseekers starting out with the intention of seeing Oregon, ever reach their destination.

These facts and this state of affairs only emphasize the lack of any effective effort on the part of Oregon to secure a fair share of this heavy tide of Westward emigration. If Oregon, the best state on the Pacific Coast, wants more people, she will have to take steps to prevent the wholesale abduction of homeseekers by the energetic land boomers of her sister states. Of this there is no question.

Cheese Maker Wants Situation.

A first-class cheese and butter maker wants situation. Can furnish good references.—Address L., Headlight office.

TWO LIVE PAPERS.

HEADLIGHT

and
WEEKLY OREGONIAN

One Year for $2.25.

The regular subscription price for THE HEADLIGHT is $1.50, and the regular subscription price of the Weekly Oregonian is $1.50. Any one subscribing for THE HEADLIGHT and paying one year in advance can get both for $2.25.

Will China Sign?

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Information has reached here to the effect that the Russian Government, being seriously perturbed by the course of China in not signing the Manchurian agreement, largely because of the protest made by the several powers, has conveyed a distinct and unmistakable intimation to China that if this course is persisted in there may be an interruption of diplomatic relations between Russia and China and a termination of the present intercourse between them. This is little short of an ultimatum that China must sign or take the consequence of a termination of her friendly relations with Russia.

Morgan to Build Canal.

CHICAGO, April 2.—A special to the Chronicle from Washington says: In regard to J. Pierpont Morgan's scheme that the United States Government shall abandon its plan of building a canal across the Isthmus of Panama and permit private capital to take up and finish the work already accomplished on the Panama Canal, it is learned on high authority that when Mr. Morgan visited Washington about 10 days ago he first broached the subject. His proposition was that the Administration abandon the present plan of constructing a canal at Government expense across Nicaragua and Costa Rica and recommend to Congress that a corporation composed of American capitalists be authorized to carry out the work practically abandoned by the Panama Company.

It is understood that the syndicate headed by Morgan and Mr. Hill is composed of capitalists who now control the entire transcontinental railway systems in the United States.

President McKinley is said to have listened to the new canal proposition with a favorable ear. He has not made any promise nor indicated what course the Administration will pursue in dealing with the matter.

Mr. Morgan and Mr. Hill may decide to visit Panama, in Mr. Hill's yacht, after they get through in Washington, and Senator Hanna may accompany them.

Inherited $500,000.

WALLA WALLA, April 2.—(Special to the Evening Telegram.)—Mrs. Frank Goodwin, of Wallula, a railroad junction on the O. R. & N., 30 miles west of this city, has been notified that $500,000 awaits her order in the First National Bank of New York City. Mrs. Goodwin is a poor widow with three children, her husband having died in Walla Walla several months ago.

This $500,000 is Mrs. Goodwin's share of a $1,000,000 estate lately settled in the New York courts. Some ancestors of Mrs. Goodwin settled on what has been considered part of the great Trinity Church property. For years the church trustees have been lawing with the heirs, and the latter have won.

There are said to be a number of People in Walla Walla whose ancestors owned part of the Trinity Church site, and who think they will now get a share in the final settlement.

Our Clubbing Rates.

Headlight and the Examiner..... 2.25
Headlight & Thrice-a-Week World 2.00

Aguinaldo Swears Allegiance.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Secretary Root has just made public the following cablegram received at the War Department this morning at 8 o'clock:

"Manila, April 2.—Adjutant-General, Washington: Since arrival at Manila, Aguinaldo has, at Malacanán, been investigating conditions in archipelago. He has relied almost entirely upon the instructive advice of Chief Justice Arellano. As a result, to-day he subscribed and swore to the declaration on page 11 of my annual report.

MCARTHUR."

The oath referred to is as follows:

"I hereby renounce all allegiance to any and all so-called revolutionary governments in the Philippine Islands, and recognize and accept the supreme authority of the United States of America therein. I do solemnly swear that I will bear true faith and allegiance to that government; that I will at all times conduct myself as a faithful and lawabiding citizen of the said islands, and will not, either directly or indirectly, hold correspondence with, or give intelligence to, an enemy of the United States, or will I abet, harbor or protect such enemy; that I impose upon myself these voluntary obligations without any mental reservations or purpose of evasion, so help me God."

Four asterisks in the cablegram mark a passage withheld from publication, about which the officials will say nothing now.

Aguinaldo in Prison.

MANILA, March 30.—In company with Colonel Vellia, his chief-of-staff, and Dr. Barcolana, ex-treasurer of the Filipino Government, Aguinaldo now occupies one of the nicest apartments of the Malacanán Palace. He is closely guarded and courteously treated. Captain Francis J. Kernan, of the Second Infantry; Captain William L. Kenley, of the First Artillery, members of General MacArthur's staff; Captain Benjamin H. Randolph and Lieutenant Gilbert A. Youngberg, of the Third Artillery, with five guards, are watching him.

Aguinaldo, nervously pacing the floor, and thinking deeply, thrusts his hands through his hair. He smokes many cigars and cigarettes and he also has a hearty appetite. He speaks only a few words of English. He is conscious of his dignity, but tries to talk pleasantly with his guards. He often praises the skill and audacity of General Funston in effecting his capture, saying that only by a strategem could he have been captured. It is said that Aguinaldo is very strongly averse to retreating from his former attitude, but that he must regard the best interests of the Filipino people.

The sisters of Dr. Barcolana have called upon him, bringing a supply of linen. Aguinaldo is well supplied with money and he ordered a supply of new clothes. He is careful of his personal appearance. He celebrated his 32nd birthday before he was captured. The birthday festivities were prolonged and only terminated upon the arrival of General Funston. Aguinaldo tries to read the American newspapers and is anxious to learn the state of public opinion in the United States concerning Philippine affairs. He had a conference with General Trias and the Chief Justice, Arellano, but his future intentions have not been announced. He spends much time seated by a barred window watching the boats passing up and down the Pasig River.

This morning Aguinaldo was recognized by a crowd of natives going up the river in a lighter. The natives gazed on him a while in silence and then began to jeer, calling him Emilio and vile names in the Tagal language. The guards quieted the disturbance and Aguinaldo left the window in disgust. The natives in Manila are undemonstrative concerning Aguinaldo's capture, and it is difficult to ascertain what the majority of them really think of it. It is certain that Aguinaldo's influence is less strong than formerly, though it is still great.

To Control Fisheries.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 31.—The Call says:

A $30,000,000 syndicate deal is pending in San Francisco, and with its successful consummation the entire fishing and packing industry on the Pacific Coast will be controlled by one big corporation. The principal stockholders in this new syndicate, should the deal be closed, will include the well-known New York financiers, J. Pierpont Morgan, August Belmont, W. Seligman, J. Seligman and the presidents of several of the most extensive banking houses in New York City. Negotiations have been pending several months.

Representative of the Eastern capitalists who have been working all over the Coast have secured options on a large majority of the canning plants, and the syndicate will be able to control the entire salmon industry with the exception of a certain per cent that is controlled by the Alaska Packers' Association, of this city. It was learned yesterday that negotiations have been commenced with the Alaska Packers' Association for an option on its plant, but nothing definite has been done.

Among the companies that will be absorbed should the deal go through will be the Pacific American Fisheries Company, of which John Cadahy, of Chicago, is the president, and the Pacific Steam Whaling Company, of which Senator George C. Perkins is the head. Should the syndicate be finally successful, the headquarters of the big corporation will be in this city.

Scandal in Army.

MANILA, March 31.—Interest in the capture and fate of Aguinaldo is well nigh overshadowed in Manila by sensational developments, present and prospective, of frauds in the Commissary Department. How widely these extend has not been ascertained, but enough is known to justify the belief that they are far-reaching. Captain Frederick J. Barrows, of the Thirtieth Volunteer Infantry, Quartermaster of the Department of Southern Luzon, together with several commissary sergeants, several civilian clerks, a prominent Government contractor, the assistant manager of the Hotel Oriente, the proprietors of three of the largest bakeries in Manila, a number of storekeepers and other persons have been arrested. The investigation has scarcely begun, but thousands of sacks of flour, a quantity of bacon and wagon loads of other goods, all bearing Government marks, have been found in the possession of unauthorized persons.

It is alleged that the contractor in person, who has been doing a business approximating $100,000 a month, has spent huge sums in entertaining officers. A prominent commissary officer is accused of leading a scandalously immoral life. It is asserted that large quantities of stores have been lost or stolen in transit, and also that there is a shortage in the Commissary depot. New scandals develop daily. Illicit transaction have been traced back to June, 1900, and it is possible there are others of earlier date. The exorbitant tariff on provisions makes the surreptitious sale of commissary supplies immensely profitable. It is understood that prominent officers of the United States Army may be arrested. Lieutenant P. K. Street, of the Forty-Sixth Volunteer Infantry, is prosecuting the investigation under direction of Colonel Wilbur, Chief of Police.

The Yokohama correspondent of the Daily Mail, who records various indications of preparations for war on the part of Japan, says: "Interviews have appeared with prominent statesmen, all breathing the war spirit and expressing the general opinion that it is impossible to allow Russia a free hand in Manchuria. This is the gravest crisis from the point of view of Japan, since her war with China."

Thus far J. Pierpont Morgan has given $500,000 for a New York technical school, $175,000 for a botanical park at New York, $100,000 for a laying-in hospital, $150,000 for a yacht club, $300,000 for a church, $25,000 for lighting St. Paul's Cathedral, London, and 30,000 rare manuscripts to the New York library. Morgan is a grandson of John Pierpont, the poet. He is 63, and his friends believe that he will enroll himself on the list of the world's most famous philanthropists.

TO PREVENT DECAY.

Wood Preserver Used by Uncle Sam on Yamhill River Work.

Merits of Avenarius Carbolinum Recognized by National, State and Municipal Governments.

The fame of Avenarius Carbolinum has steadily extended, as the only bona fide preserver of wood, since its discovery in Germany thirty years ago. It has stood all tests of climate, soil and water and steadily lived down all pretended rivals. Today it is not only employed in all countries for the preservation of wood used for household articles such as houses, barns, fences, etc., but the national governments, both of Europe and America, have recognized its value in saving public constructions from decay. Following their example cities and counties have also adopted Avenarius Carbolinum for bridges, pavements, etc., and the leading ship builders and railroad companies have shown their faith in its merits by treating ship timbers, cars, telegraph poles and ties with the same never failing preventative against climatic decay and rapacious wood boring vermin, both of land and water.

Great bodies move slowly, and only act after mature deliberation. It may therefore be safely stated that governments and corporations did not employ Avenarius Carbolinum until fully convinced of its money saving as well as wood preserving qualities. Private individuals desirous of lengthening the life of wood work and at the same time curtailing expenses, need not fear to follow the precedent established.

Recent local examples proving the truth of the above statements are not wanting. The reconstructed Madison street bridge in Portland has been treated with Avenarius Carbolinum, as has also the pavement at the intersection of four streets in that city where the heaviest street car and wagon traffic converge. The latter use of the compound was made at the earnest solicitation of street car managers who confidently look for gratifying results.

The gentlemen in charge of the United States engineer department for Oregon are now applying Avenarius Carbolinum to the dams and lock work on the Yamhill river, a flattering tribute to its merits which was certainly not extended until searching investigation satisfied the authorities that it was a measure of practical economy.

With such examples before them it would appear that the individual is foolish and the official almost culpable who does not protect his own, or the taxpayer's pockets by using this compound, thus saving from decay, and lengthening the life of all frame structures for which this saving from decay, and lengthening the life of all frame structures for which he is individually or officially responsible.

Fisher Thorsen & Co., of Portland, Or., are sole Pacific coast agents for Avenarius Carbolinum, and it can be found at WADE & BIGGS, Tillamook, Or., who will gladly supply information regarding its accomplishments.

C. A. BAILEY,

DRALER IN STUDEBAKER WAGON
OSBORNE MOWERS,
Buggies, hay rakes, plows, and other farm machinery. You can save money by dealing with me. Special Prices on Buggies and Spring Wagons.
C. A. BAILEY, Tillamook, Ore.

EDGAR LATIMER,

BARBER AND HAIRDRESSER.
SHAVING, HAIR CUTTING
SHAMPOOING, ETC

Electric Baths nicely fitted up. Good for persons suffering with rheumatism. Building next door to the Post Office.

CHAS. PETERSON,

Barber
SHAVING,
HAIR CUTTING,
SHAMPOOING,
Hot and Cold Baths.
EVERYTHING STRICTLY FIRST CLASS