SOUTH PRAIRIE.

How about spring poetry, Mr. Editor? [Please don't, for the editor has enough to worry him already. The editor will not object to spring chicken being sent in.]

Oscar Loomis and family have removed to Tillamook City.

Henry Ward and family have removed to Tillamook City.

Dennis Billings has rented and is residing on the Daniels place.

Harry Hill has moved on his farm on the upper end of the prairie. We bid all these new comers welcome.

Mr. Wm. Gray, accompanied by his wife, is here operating the South Prairie cheese factory. He is a nephew of Judge Gray, of Astoria, and he operated Mr. McIntosh's cheese factory at Oretown last year, so he can be relied upon as a first class cheese maker. Kasper Schlappi goes immediately to take charge of the factory on the Hathaway place. We regret losing Rasper from our midst.

The Austin Veatch cheese factory at Wellsville will begin operations as soon as the machinery comes from California.

A strange new sound came over the hills from the South the other morning. It was the whistle of the new saw mill at Blumsville.

BARNEGAT.

Barnegat has been visited of late with hail storms for April came in like a lion. Regardless of the weather, there is some travel.

Every Hauxhurst went to Hobsonville Wednesday.

Captain Hunt, of Cape Meares, went to Bay City and to the Hub, and returned Saturday.

Mrs. George Elliot went to the city on business Thursday, but has not returned at the present writing.

Mrs. Annie Johnson and daughter, of Tillamook city, united with friends at Barnegat the past week, returning home Saturday.

Bert Biggs went to the Hub Saturday. Webely Elliott is down on the visit.

Aguinaldo Signs Peace Manifesto.

MANILA, April 8.—General MacArthur says it is impossible to make a statement concerning Aguinaldo now.

It is possible that Aguinaldo will soon be removed from the Malacanan Palace to a large house, with pleasant grounds, 56 General Solano street, a fashionable quarter of the city beside the Pasig river, which is being renovated and prepared for occupancy.

Aguinaldo is purchasing diamonds and other jewelry. He continues to receive certain visitors, but newspaper correspondents are excluded.

It is said that the manifesto which Aguinaldo has been preparing has not yet been signed, and it is added that Aguinaldo is reluctant to comply with the conditions. It appears that the majority of the Filipinos in Manila distrust Aguinaldo, and dislike to see him accord special favors. They say he ought to be severely punished.

MANILA, April 9.—Although the officials are uncommunicative, it is nevertheless said that Aguinaldo signed the peace manifesto this morning. Chief Justice Arellano drafted the document. Aguinaldo strongly objected to two clauses o the manifesto, and considerable argument was required to overcome his objections.

Colonel Ababa, the insurgent leader of Zambales Province, with 13 officers, 83 men and 92 rifles, surrendered to Lieut. Colonel Mancil C. Goodrell, commanding the marines stationed at Olongapo, on Sabig Bay. General Malvar, with about 300 men and as many rifles, is expected to surrender shortly at Silang, in Cavite Province.

TO PREVENT DECAY.

Wood Preserver Used by Uncle Sam on Yamhill River Work.

Merits of Avenarius Carbolinum Recognized by National, State and Municipal Governments.

The fame of Avenarius Carbolinum has steadily extended, as the only bona fide preserver of wood, since its discovery in Germany thirty years ago. It has stood all tests of climate, soil and water and steadily lived down all pretended rivals. Today it is not only employed in all countries for the preservation of wood used for household articles such as houses, barns, fences, etc., but the national governments, both of Europe and America, have recognized its value in saving public constructions from decay. Following their example cities and counties have also adopted Avenarius Carbolinum for bridges, pavements, etc., and the leading ship builders and railroad companies have shown their faith in its merits by treating ship timbers, cars, telegraph poles and ties with the same never failing preventative against incipient decay and rapacious wood boring vermin, both of land and water.

Great bodies move slowly, and only act after mature deliberation. It may therefore be safely stated that governments and corporations did not employ Avenarius Carbolinum until fully convinced of its money saving as well as wood preserving qualities. Private individuals desirous of lengthening the life of wood work and at the same time curtailing expenses, need not fear to follow the precedents established.

Recent local examples proving the truth of the above statements are not wanting. The reconstructed Madison street bridge in Portland has been treated with Avenarius Carbolinum, as has also the pavement at the intersection of four streets in that city where the heaviest street car and wagon traffic converge. The latter use of the compound was made at the earnest solicitation of street car managers who confidently look for gratifying results.

The gentlemen in charge of the United States engineer department for Oregon are now applying Avenarius Carbolinum to the dams and lock work on the Yamhill river, a flattering tribute to its merits which was certainly not extended until searching investigation satisfied the authorities that it was a measure of practical economy.

With such examples before them it would appear that the individual is foolish and the official almost culpable who does not protect his own, or the taxpayer's pockets by using this compound, thus saving from decay, and lengthening the life of all frame structures for which he is individually or officially responsible.

Fisher Thorsen & Co., of Portland, Or., are sole Pacific coast agents for Avenarius Carbolinum, and it can be found at WADE & BRUCE, Tillamook, Or., who will gladly supply information regarding its accomplishments.

Je kins, I wish to thank by friends for the liberal patronage they gave me, and in doing so I have great pleasure in recommending Mr. Jenkins for a continuation of that patronage, who has a first class stock of watches, clocks, jewelry and optical goods. General News.

Mortgage companies and others whose property has been bid in for back taxes in any county in Oregon may, by the provisions of a bill passed by the last Legislature under a very innocent title, escape the payment of all penalties if the tax is paid before July 1. The law also relates to the mortgage taxes over which there was so much litigation. The penalty is 20 per cent for the first, and 10 per cent for the second year. The saving to those who would have had to pay it under the old law is considerable, and the loss to some counties in corresponding amount. Another provision of the act directs that on the first Monday in July the Sheriff shall sell all lands heretofore bid in by the county to the highest cash bidder. It would seem, under this clause, that the old mortgage taxes over which there has been so much dispute, might be bid in by those who are liable, for one-third or one-fourth of the tax due. The mortgage companies own most of the property, having acquired it by foreclosure proceedings, and would, under such a plan, be the principal ones benefited. They have sold off quite a lot of the property since, but are still liable under the warranty deeds given. By a close reading of the law it appears that they may even be able to evade payment of the old mortgage taxes altogether.

The Philadelphia North American says: While British steel and iron manufacturers are alarmed at the prospect of competition with Mr. Morgan's billion-dollar steel trust, British shipbuilders are in the best of humor. So long as the American trust can use the Dingley tariff to keep up prices at home, and at the same time sell its surplus production in Great Britain at less than the American price, the British shipbuilders are secure. As Sir William Doxford pointed out to the stockholders in his company, the American import duties on steel enable the trust to exact from American shipbuilders from $5 to $10 a ton more than the price at which it sells to British customers. He looks upon Mr. Morgan as his good friend because the steel trust will keep up the cost of American-built ships and keep down the cost of ships built in Great Britain.

The rush to Nome this season will be the largest yet. Even at this early date hundreds of intending Nomeites are buying tickets so as to be sure of a berth when the time comes to go. The earliest sailing for that place from Seattle is April 26, that being the date the steamer Jeanie is scheduled to sail. Most all of the berths have been sold already, and the company is thinking of chartering another steamer to take care of the many people who are intending going up to Nome this season. Dozens of steamers, schooners and barges will make the trip this year, and the prospects are that every one of them will be loaded to the gunwales with passengers and freight.

Since the rebellion in the Philippines 50,000 men is the lowest estimate of the War Department of the casualties sustained by the Filipino forces; 7667 rifles have been captured or surrendered, and 65,142 rounds of ammunition have been seized. The number of Filipinos killed cannot be accurately determined, as General MacArthur in his dispatches states that it is impossible to be accurate on this point. It would not surprise officials should the Filipino fatalities reach 25,000, and some say that 50,000 is closer to the real figures. Adjutant-General Corbin is satisfied that the casualties suffered by the insurgents will form a potent reason for the abandonment of further resistance by the natives.

Dispatches from Holland, revive the rumor that Mr. Kruger is bent upon visiting the United States during the Summer. Private information from The Hague leads to the belief that his proposition is strongly opposed to any course of action which will subject him to excitement. Mr. Kruger's general health is fair, but he has weak heart action, and has been warned that he must live quietly. The talk about his American journey comes from Boer sympathizers in Holland, who are unwilling to admit that he has exhausted the resources of diplomacy and has nothing in reserve.

Charles Allis, representing the great plant of the E. P. Allis Company, is in New York in connection with a proposition to consolidate all the big machinery and stationary engine plants of the country. The trust will, if formed, have a capital of $50,000,000 and include over 40 plants. William Allis said that the combination has been under consideration for some time, but that his company has never given an option on the plant. None of the other officers would confirm the report that the combination has been formed and that the Allis Company is in it.

California oil experts have bonded 4000 acres near The Dalles, Ore., from P. L. Kretzer and others. They have made an examination of the land and pronounce it all right for oil. They say an oil belt runs through California, Oregon and Washington to British Columbia. Mr. Kretzer and those associated with him decline to divulge the names or the plans of the experts to whom the land has been bonded. It is said that preparations are being made for boring.

On recommendation of Senator Mitchell, of Oregon, the President has directed the appointment of Hon. George W. Colvig, of Grant's Pass, Or., as United States Consul at Barranquilla, Colombia. Mr. Colvig is a lawyer, and was a member of the State Legislature. For a number of years he was a member of the State Railroad Commission in Oregon.

Representative Hepburn, of Iowa, chairman of the committee on interstate and foreign commerce of the last Congress and who will no doubt remain at the head of the committee, gives it as his opinion Monday that the next Congress will pass the bill authorizing the construction of the Nicaragua Canal.

B. F. Durphy, the Portland man who is accused of having at least three, and possibly four, wives, arrived in that city from San Francisco on Sunday morning in custody of Deputy Sheriffs Matthews and McMillan. He was arrested at Eureka, Cal., on a warrant sworn out in Portland by wife No. 2.

The Albany Democrat says: If Senator Mitchell should stand in with the ship subsidy bill, as an exchange has intimated, some of the men who voted for him will be mad enough to help ride him on a rail. But perhaps he will not do anything of the kind. Wait.
