It is a source of gratification to know that Mrs. McKinley has greatly improved in health, and that President McKinley has assured Governor Geer that he will pay Oregon a visit before his term of office expires.

The best saw on earth. Use the Great Western saws and you will soon be convinced of this fact, for they are recognized to be the best saw now on the market. For sale at McIntosh & Nair's hardware store.

A meeting of the city council was held on Monday, when a letter was read from the Pacific Coast Rubber Co. stating that it did not have the hose in stock which had been ordered by the council and could not deliver it until it arrived from the East.

The next time the city marshal posts a notice on the Headlight office giving the public notice that he going to execute a poor little canine, we shall have to post another under it that we are going to mop the floor with this city official for disfiguring such a nicely painted building.

It is not often that people in Tillamook skip the country leaving a lot of store bills unpaid, but this appears to be what Shelly Bailey did when he made a sudden exodus from the county with his wife and family. It appears strange, as they went out over the Wilson river road, someone cut the telephone wire.

Messrs. Frank Kane and Grant Hughes were over from Forest Grove this week to inquire into the condition of the lease of the Wilson river toll road. We understand that the Forest Grove people are ready to fix the road and bridges as soon as they come into possession of it, having a saw mill ready to cut out the timber for the bridges.

You can depend upon it that D. T. Edmunds has the nicest and most complete line of Summer Dress Goods in the City. Also a fine line of Outing Flannels, Percales, Gingham, Prints, Satines, Muslins, Houselings, Selins, Waist Linings, Taffeta linings, in fact the latest, newest, nicest, cleanest stock to select from to be found in Tillamook City.

There will come a time, and we do not think that it is far distant either, when it will be considered necessary for Tillamook county to purchase a rock crusher, or two for all that. If this county ever expects to make permanent, substantial roads this is the only solution to the problem. It will take rock, and lots of it, before a foundation can be formed, but when this is made, then we shall be making roads which will last. It will take longer to construct road, but we notice that the counties which are through experimenting are falling back on rock crushers to make their roads fit to travel over.

There is no longer any Wilson river toll road, for the reason that the lease had expired and had not been renewed, which makes it a county road. As there will be some travel over that road this year, it is just as well to take precautions to prevent accidents. If any of the bridges are unsafe, and thereby result in someone getting injured or killed, it would more than likely involved the county in a suit for damages.

Mr. Geo. Anderson, expert piano tuner, is in town doing considerable work. Mr. Anderson is with the Eilers' Piano House of Portland, and does work for the best musical people of that city. This is his first trip to this part of the country, but he intends in future to make this city a yearly trip. Orders can be left at the Allen house up to the 26th. After that communicate direct with Eilers' Piano House, Portland, Or.

The Oregonian says: "If Portland builds a direct line to Nehalem and Tillamook, it will be the market for the products of an extensive region. If a transcontinental line builds, it will look out only for traffic for its system, and not for Portland's interests. The transcontinental lines want the long haul. The short haul would best serve Portland." It is to the interest of Tillamook county, as well as of Portland, to have a direct railroad from that city, for we all see the necessity of the dairy products of this county going to Portland by the short route. But we are suddenly brought to a standstill by that little word "If" Portland builds.

We have two monuments of bonded indebtedness in Tillamook City—the court house and the public school. In ten years the bonds on the school building will be paid off, but by that time the building will be useless. In a few months the board of county commissioners will be confronted with the bonds on the court house becoming due, and as there was no provision to liquidate this bonded indebtedness, the county court is up against the same stump that the directors of this school district were. With these object lessons right at home of the effects of the bonding system, there is not much likelihood that the Headlight will advocate getting deeper in the mire.

John Nasser, a Washington farmer, on his way to take up a Tillamook ranch, reported to the police in Portland last week that his daughter was missing. Nasser had gone to Portland with his wife, daughter of 16, and his hired man, Carl Bennett, in search of his son, who was a longshoreman in that city a year ago, but from whom he had not heard for a year. Nasser and his wife started out one way to look for him, while the hired man and the daughter went in another. And as the latter pair had not been heard of Nasser applied to the police, and whether they we lost or eloped could not be ascertained, nor has the father found any trace of the long-lost son.

His Lightning Rod is Out.

Mr. J. W. Maxwell has been a frequent visitor in this city the past few weeks, and we are beginning to think that the ex-senator has his lightning-rod out for another political office, for he has time, with a complacent countenance, to button-hole almost everyone he meets. But he hasn't taken the Headlight man into his confidence, so we cannot tell what the ex-senator's aspiration are or whether he has any. More political aspirant there are for political favors the better, for harder will become the hauling and pulling and plotting, but we can confidently predict that when the next republican convention comes to select candidates for political honors the favored sons will be men of ability and integrity, and who will continue to give this county a good reputation. It's too soon for us to speak of the merits or demerits of aspirant, but Mr. Maxwell is not the only person with a political bee in his bonnet and his lightning rod out to sent a current through the unsuspecting.

Fooled the City Dads.

As Mr. Morris, who represented the Pacific Coast Rubber Co., informed the city council that his company had the fire hose in stock at Portland and that the only delay in delivering the hose would be a few days for the purpose of seeing that the couplings were fixed properly, it appears to us that Mr. Morris obtained the order for supplying the hose under false representation, for it now transpires that the Pacific Coast Rubber Co. never had the fire hose in stock and before they can deliver it they have to wait until it arrives from the East. President Cohn pointedly asked Mr. Morris if his company had the hose in stock at Portland, and incidentally remarked that he hoped the company did not have to send to Boston for it, for the council did not propose waiting that length of time, but Mr. Morris assured the council they had the hose in stock and it would be delivered at once. Under these circumstances we think that the city council should have rescinded the order, for if the fire hose to be supplied is on a par with the false representation of Mr. Morris, there will be very little confidence in the new hose. Anyway, how long is the city council going to be monkeyed with in this way? Until someone else gets burned out? On general principles let the council rescind the order if the hose is not on this boat, just to show the rubber company that the people of Tillamook City are not to be fooled or trifled with on a matter which is of vital importance to everyone with property or business interests within the corporate limits of the city.

Commencement at Tillamook.

On Friday evening two classes of graduates, one from the high school and the other from the public school, will be presented with diplomas at the Opera house in this city. There will be ten graduates from the high school and twenty or more from the public school, and the presentation of the diplomas will be made by Representative B. L. Eddy and County Superintendent G. B. Lamb. A short program has been prepared for the occasion. Class colors will be conspicuous Friday, for some of the business men have signified their intention of decorating their stores with class colors. As Friday will bring the school to a close, it being the most successful in the history of the public school of Tillamook City, the commencement this year is of more than passing occurrence, for not only is there a large number of graduates from the public school, but also from the high school. This of itself shows that Prof. B. O. Snuffer and his corps of able teachers have proved themselves efficient and raised the standard of the school. All are cordially invited to participate in the commencement on Friday, the program being as follows:

- Instrumental music, March, "Oriental Carnival," Mr. and Mrs. Dorman Edwards.
- Salutatory.....Miss Cora Teft.
- Mother Goose Drill.....Nine girls and eight boys.
- Instrumental music, Waltz, "Lion Tamer," Mr. and Mrs. Dorman Edwards.
- Summersault Song.....Five girls and five boys.
- Dialogue.....Miss Pauline Hathaway and Henry Wist.
- Fan Drill.....Twelve girls.
- Duette, "The Jolly Blacksmiths," Misses Lily Baker and Minnie Peterson.
- Recitation, "Asleep at the Switch," Miss Annie Waldvogel.
- Barlesque Fan Drill.....Twelve boys.
- Recitation, "Poor Little Joe," Herbert Cooper and Elmer Allen.
- Instrumental music, "Imperial March," Mr. and Mrs. Dorman Edwards.
- "Class Prophecy," John Latimer.
- Valedictory.....Erwin Harrison.
- Presentation of diplomas: Address to High School Graduates, Representative B. L. Eddy.
- Instrumental music, Two step, "Golf Club," Mr. and Mrs. Dorman Edwards.
- Address to Public School Graduates, County Superintendent G. B. Lamb.
- Address by Prof. B. O. Snuffer, Principal Tillamook Public School.

SPECTACLES

My System of Fitting

the eyes is different from most of dealers, especially those who sell the frames all ready fitted with the glasses. By the aid of a large complete trial or test case I can fit any eye, making it a very easy matter to detect any slight variation of the eyes by testing each eye separately.

The Lenses

or glasses are put into frames of your own selection, after the eyes have been thoroughly tested. The same quality of lenses is put into every frame sold, the difference in price being only in the frame. If you don't want to use a pair of spectacles come in and try my system and see whether your eyes are all right or not, then

Let me fill your Prescriptions.
