E. Arndt, whose home is in the south end of the county, had his foot badly cut at the Truckee saw mill. He stepped on a piece of lumber, which slipped, and his foot coming in contact with a saw, cut through his shoe and his foot. He will be laid up for several weeks.

Word reaches us that several young men have been destroying the insulators on the telephone poles in the south end of the county and that their name have been handed in to us. A word of caution to them is necessary, for it may not be known to them that monkeying with a telephone or telegraph system is a most serious offence in the eyes of the law. How would a $500 fine strike them?

Arrangements are being made for the Rev. S. A. Smith, pastor of the Methodist church in this city, and Rev. B. F. Peck, of Davenport, Wash., to exchange pulpits. Rev. Peck desires the change to be made at once. It is expected that June 23rd will be Mr. Smith's last Sunday in Tillamook. A change of climate is desired by both parties, hence the exchange. Mrs. Smith telegraphs that she will not return to Tillamook.

We wish to call attention to the fourth annual commencement at St. Alphonsus academy, which will take place on Friday evening of next week, and the program will be found on another page. As the Sisters have in previous years taken a great deal of pains to make this one of the most enjoyable entertainments each year in Tillamook, it is safe to predict that this year's commencement will be equally as entertaining and attract as previous ones, and will bring together just as large an audience.

The stage and mail, which should have arrived in this city on Sunday afternoon did not reach here until between three and four o'clock the next morning, owing to a break down at the zigzag this side of the mountain, and then the horses giving out between here and the toll gate. We may state that the stage has been unusually free from accidents and delays, arriving in this city in good time with passengers the mails, which shows, considering the hard trip, that the proprietors have kept their outfit in good trim. Accidents will happen at times with the best of regulations.

Mr. S. M. F. Sherar has been appointed postmaster at Garibaldi, vice Mr. R. P. York, resigned. Evidently, to the victors belong the spoils, don't count down there, for a popo-popocrat has been exalted to that position, and yet there are two republicans to one popocrat in that voting precinct. Johnny, get your gun. We have since learned that Mr. Sherar was endorsed by the chairman of the republican county committee for fear the office might be discontinued for want of someone to fill the vacancy, not knowing at the time that Mrs. McMillan was an aspirant and had sent in a petition with a large majority of the patrons of the office signed to it.

BOULDER CREEK.

Mr. Freeman Jackson, of Beaver, is engaged in cutting wood for the cheese factory.

Gus Chopard went to Beaver last Saturday, after a band of 39 sheep.

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Bays passed along our street last Monday.

H. L. Jensen has employed H. A. Chopard to do some slashing for him.

C. A. Smith is nursing a badly crushed thumb, the result of the collision of two logs he was rolling.

Mr. Jensen and family, of Hebo, Andrew Anderson and family, C. N. Johnson and family and Miss Susie Judd visited at H. L. Jensen's hospitable home, Sunday.

Mrs. Grace Smith and daughters were welcome callers at Mrs. Chopard's last Friday.

Mark Bays paid a visit to Boulder Creek, Sunday.

Quite a crowd of Boulderites attended the Sabbath school at Brown's on the 9th inst.

Mrs. H. A. Chopard and son Norman visited W. N. Bays' home, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Cady, of Blaine, were in our neighborhood Sunday afternoon.

The road gang are making many much needed improvements along this stretch of road, such as filling up mud holes, felling trees, which shaded the road too much, etc., etc.

Gardens are looking fine in this vicinity, the frost having done but little damage any where, in some places none at all.

We would like to tell a squarsh story and we are confident it will capture first prize. Not long ago Gus Chopard was walking in his garden, and as he passed a spot where he had planted squash seed he saw the dirt moving at a lively rate. Thinking a gopher was stealing the seed, he was about to go for a steel trap, when a fine squash plant came pushing its green crown through the earth. He was so astonished he ran to the house to tell his wife and so did not see the squashes grow and ripen.

Kept Her Daughter a Prisoner.

PARIS, June 8.—The sensation of the week has been the arrest of Mme. Monnier, a rich miserly land owner, living in the neighborhood of Poitiers, and her son, an ex sub-prefect of the Department of Vienna, and a leader of Poitiers society, on the charge of incarcerating Mlle. Blanche Monnier, daughter of Mme. Monnier, for 25 years in a room of Mme. Monnier's house. The police, who were anonymously notified of the woman's detention, entered the house and found Mlle. Monnier shut up in a room in darkness, lying on a mattress, stark naked, and so emaciated that she appeared to be a living skeleton. The room was covered with filth, bones, refuse, food, worms, rats and all kinds of vermin. The unfortunate woman, who had partially lost her reason, was taken to a hospital. It was thought she would die, but she is now improving.

Twenty-five years ago she was a beautiful brunette, and fell in love with a lawyer without means. Her mother disapproved of their love, and confined her in the room which she has only recently left. The son, after his arrest, pleaded that he acted as he did on account of filial piety, and that the mother was responsible. The lawyer died in 1885.

There was another dramatic development in the case today. Mme. Monnier died in prison of heart disease. The gravity of her crimes was brought home to her at the jail. She became ill and died suddenly in the infirmary at the prison this morning.

The most disastrous storm which has ever visited Oklahoma prevailed in Kay County Friday night. A tornado struck Billings, Eddy and Tonkawa and covered a stretch of county 10 miles wide and 36 miles long. Half a dozen people are reported killed and a score injured. Nearly every farmhouse in Northwestern Kay County is more or less damaged, and a windmill has been left standing, and the whole country is covered with debris. Practically every piece of glass in Blackwell was broken. It is believed the damage to crops will reach $100,000. The tornado was the worst at Eddy, where three persons were killed and seven seriously injured.

Uncle Sam Refuses.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The Government has formally communicated to the foreign powers the impossibility of joining in a joint guarantee for the payment of the Chinese indemnity. The difficulties in the way of such an arrangement are set forth in the communication, particularly those relating to the Constitutional restrictions on the President in making a joint of this character.

In view of the determination of the United States not to be a party to the joint guaranty there is anxiety shown in diplomatic circles as to the outcome on the question of indemnities. One view is that the majority of the powers being favorable to a joint guaranty will execute this joint instrument and thereafter carry on a concert of their own.

In that event, it is said, the United States would arrange directly with China as to the major portion of the indemnity. The representatives of most of the European powers do not believe that a resort to The Hague tribunal proposed by the United States will be acceptable to their governments.

Poisoned Her Husband.

TACOMA, June 10.—Deputy Sheriffs are scouring the Eastern part of Pierce County hunting for Stella Brugis, an 18-year old girl who made two attempts to poison her husband, John Brugis, two days after they were married. The second attempt came near proving fatal to Brugis, he swallowing a glassful of wine she gave him which contained a quantity of carbolic acid.

Within the past few days the Deputy Sheriffs have unearthed facts which prove that Worezek, the girl's father, who is a prominent man of Wilkeson, a little town 20 miles from Tacoma, sold his daughter to Brugis for $300. She had a strong antipathy for Brugis, but despite her feelings, was compelled to marry him. She made but little outspoken objection when she found her fate was infallibly sealed, but in her heart determined she would not be the wife of the man, a tender regard she had for another person strongly intensifying her antipathy for Brugis. The elation of the marriage, with the feasting and celebration, cost Brugis $600. Such a marriage has never before been seen in Wilkeson.

This however failed to reconcile the girl-wife to her husband, and 10 days ago just two days after they were married, she offered Brugis a glass of wine, playfully requesting him to drink in at a single draught. He took a mouthful, but it was so strong that he instantly spat it out and refused to drink more, but still did not suspect his wife of treachery. The same afternoon she brought him another glass. This he drank and almost immediately the poison began its deadly work. A physician was instantly summoned, and after hard work, saved the man's life. The girl's father relented when he saw to what lengths the marriage had urged his daughter, and subsequently used every effort to assist the girl well out of the reach of the officers who are searching for her.

Since the real facts have been learned in Wilkeson, sympathy has drifted towards the young woman, and prominent citizens there express themselves sorry that the attempt of the girl was not more successful, and did not include the entire family, with her father, whose avaricious greed placed her in the extremities in which she found herself.

The Pittsburg Coal & Coke Company's shaft No. 2, at Port Royal, Pa., is again on fire, after running steadily for seven years, and at least 30 men are in the mine, many of whom, it is feared, will never be heard from again.

The Washington Legislature meet in special session at Olympia Tuesday, to amend the capital punishment law introduced at the last session of the Legislature. The author of the bill was Senator E. M. Rands, of Vancouver. As passed the measure practically prevented the hanging of criminals now condemned and if not amended may result to their absolute discharge from custody. It is the desire of all concerns that the session may be concluded within a few days, and leading Republicans are urging, as a party matter, that no business be transacted other than that specified in the call. Only once since statehood has Washington had a special session of the Legislature. This was in 1890, when the preceding Legislature adjourned without passing an apportionment law.

To the People of Tillamook Co.

We desire to submit to your careful consideration some statements of fact.

Some months ago a few Portland business men, who know what the oil field of California had done for that state, and who were not as promising in oil indications as the Coast Range mountains of California, engaged the services of two professional oil land experts and sent them into Western Oregon to examine the territory. These experts, Mr. P. W. Francis and Mr. G. P. Brown, first explored the county around Clatskanie and the upper Nehalem region, and were both highly pleased with the indications and with the formation. They were both, however, strongly impressed by the fact that both surface indications and the oil-rock formation became more and more promising as they neared the Lower Nehalem and the Tillamook County. Returning to Portland, they so reported. At this stage Mr. Brown was called away on business in another field, and Mr. Francis, taking with him Mr. E. S. McCoy, a Pennsylvania oil man of long experience, made a field exploration about the mouth of the Nehalem and around Tillamook Bay, the result was the leasing of about 100 acres, and the formation of a company in Portland, incorporated under the name of the Tillamook Paraffine Oil Company, with the following well-known gentlemen as officers and directors:

President, H. S. Rowe, Mayor of Portland; Vice President J. A. Taylor, of the firm of Honeyman & McBride, Portland; Treasurer, Samuel Connell, President of the Northwestern Door Co. and President of the Board of Trade of the city of Portland; Directors M. J. Roche of the Rio Grand & Western Ry. Co., and President of the Pacific Coast Passenger Traffic Association; E. E. Miller, of the firm of Miller & Miller, Commercial Block, Portland; F. E. Beach, head of the firm of F. E. Beach & Co., the Pioneer paint and Oil firm of Portland, so widely and favorably known over the entire northwest; and P. W. Francis, professional oil land expert.

It goes without saying that men of the standing and credit of the gentlemen managing this Company do not lend their names and influences to any mere stock-jobbing, fly-by-night scheme. They are men you know, men whose reputation is worth more than many thousands as a mere business collateral; men who will see that every dollar of money subscribed to this enterprise is honestly expended in boring for oil, and who will see, too, that the small stockholder's rights are just as carefully protected as the large stockholders.

The Board of Directors have ordered that 100,000 shares of capital stock, each of the face value of $1.00, be offered to the public at 10 cents per share. This stock is full-paid, is non-assessable, and when you have bought it and paid 10 cents for it, your payments are done and there is no further liability of any kind. With the $10,000 realized from the sale of this stock, in addition to the money paid in by the incorporators, we will bore standard size oil wells to a depth of 2,000 feet, if necessary, on the leased property near Bay City. It is proper to say that the work we contemplate will cost from $25,000 to $30,000, and in offering part of the capital stock to the public we do it for two reasons: First, we think it an excellent investment, with a promise of very great profits; second, we think that a public enterprise like this, which, if successful, will add millions to Tillamook's wealth and bring oil operators and wealthy men from all over the Union to invest here, is worthy of public assistance. We are willing to do our share in the hope of profits, and we think you ought to be willing to join hands.

If we strike oil in good quality, the stock now offered at 10 cents will jump to $10 a share in a day's time, and an investment of $100 now for 1,000 shares will net you $10,000. Does this seem exaggerated? Just read a few examples of what has actually occurred in California within three years:

Three years ago the Union Oil Company's stock was $1 per share. It is now $1,500. An investment of $100 made $150,000.

The stock of the Home Oil Company, of Coalings, Cal., sold at 10 cents. It is now $5. An investment of $100 earned $5,000 in two years.

The New York Company's stock in 1897 was 50 cents per share. It is now $200. An investment of $100 earned $40,000.

The Reed Company's stock sold at 25 cents one year ago. It recently sold its holdings for $1,800,000, netting each investor of $100, $40,000 profit.

The chances of these companies were not one bit better than ours to begin with.

We think this the best chance to make big money by a small investment that has ever been offered in Oregon. The stock will be on sale in Portland, Seattle, Spokane, and San Francisco and will not long wait buyers. The first or 10 cent issue is offered in Tillamook county, as we want the people here to be in on the ground-floor. The Secretary of the Company, MR. P. W. FRANCIS, will be in Tillamook for a few days, at the Allen House, and will be glad to see anybody interested and give all the information in his power.

Tillamook Paraffine Oil Company,
