

TILLAMOOK JOTTINGS.

Mr. J. D. Edwards had one of his ribs broken while scuffling in the lodge room the other evening. Boys will be boys, anyway, no matter if they are old boys.

The passengers who left on the Elmore Wednesday were: J. K. Belshe, Maude Belshe, Mr. Wm. Wade, Mrs. Wm. Wade, Miss K. Wade, Mr. Raz, Captain G. Hunt, Mrs. Nine, J. B. Delsman, Mrs. Keller, C. Thayer, Oak Nolan. She took out 46 boxes of butter, 57 tubs of butter and 613 boxes of cheese.

Mr. D. Fitzpatrick's letter in another column throws some additional light in regard to the action of the Portland wholesale merchants wanting 1 1/2 cents per pound for handling Tillamook cheese. One thing he points out very forcibly, and that is that the creameries which have sold their cheese in other markets than Portland have paid their patrons a higher price for their butter fat. This alone does not justify the commission men of Portland making unreasonable charges for handling Tillamook cheese, and proves what a dairyman said on the street the other day, that of all the combines the wholesale merchants of Portland was one of the worst the dairymen had to contend with. We are glad to hear, however, that the cheese manufacturers of this county will not market as much cheese in Portland in the future unless the commission men are disposed to act more reasonably.

How the politicians do hanker to control the press! Still, the moment they get hold of a paper its influence is destroyed. The "power of the press" slips from them, though they may go deep in their bars for the gold to purchase and maintain their properties. Nevertheless, the press, the independent, fearless press, is a power in the land, and this power if justly feared, not only by tricky politicians, but the public plunderers of all breeds and stripes. An honest newspaper wields a great influence; one that is dishonest, that is a mere incident of the political fortunes of disgraced politicians, has no character, wields no influence. The only benefit newspaper ownership can confer on such people is the power to conceal from the public matters that the owners do not care to have the public know. But the public knows this, and therefore is distrustful. Newspaper ownership by self-seeking politicians in the State of Washington will fill a long way short of control of the public sentiment of the commonwealth.—Oregonian.

Plain, Double Jacket Hose Talk.

CHAPTER I.

A little plain, truthful speaking is perfectly in order and to the point about the purchase of the fire hose. When the agent of the Pacific Rubber Co. arrived in the city the first thing he did was to find out who had a "pull," or a "string" on the city fathers, and further than that he admitted that his company made it a practice to pay those who had the influence and controlled affairs. Consequently when the agent appeared at the city council meeting he knew full well what influence he had back of him, and this, he must have thought, gave him free license to damnably lie to the city council as to when the hose would reach here. This may be news to the citizens, but it is facts, nevertheless, and we will defy anyone to deny it.

School Report.

Report of School District No. 6, for month ending June 14th, 1901: No pupils enrolled, 30; no. belonging at date, 25; whole no. days attendance, 426 1/2; whole no. days absence, 49 1/2; whole no. times tardy, 29; average daily attendance, 22 1/2; no. days taught, 19; no. visitors, 7.

The following were neither absent nor tardy: Lona Christensen, Alice and Roy Gardner, Charley Makenster, Carl and Floyd Commons and Daisy Fletcher.

CARRIE JUDD, Teacher.

Bargains in Bicycles.

A Rambler, 1901 model, special light roadster, has been rode about 10 days. Cost $45.00. Will Sell for $32.50.

One 1900 model Rambler for $20.00.

Other Bicycles from $10 and $15. In case that you want one don't forget to call on me.

Agent for the Cleveland and Irve Johnson.

New Bargains every day.

SOUTH PRAIRIE.

Mrs. F. M. Lamb, after graduating with honor at the state university at Eugene, has returned to her home on the prairie.

Miss Martha Molesworth is teaching the school in No. 2, in place of Miss Maude Belshe, who, through continual illness, was compelled to resign. We are, however, pleased to say that her health is greatly improved lately.

Mr. R. Schlappi, we are happy to say, is rapidly recovering from the results of his late accident.

Festus Quick has returned to take a vacation from the Portland Business College, to which he will return in September. We feel sure that Fest is going to "get there" all right.

There was a happy wedding at "Round Prairie," as it was known in olden time, on Sunday. Mr. W. H. Owens was united in marriage with a daughter of our new neighbor, Mr. Hannekrat. The couple starts off in the new life with the best wishes, we are sure, of this entire community. The usual serenade followed in the evening, and the boys who were present report a happy time there at.

As there has been several tracts of land leased for petroleum purposes, we presume boring for oil will commence soon.

Let every one on the line take the telephone. We feel assured that they will never regret it.

NETARTS.

L. Soloman came over from Tillamook Sunday, looking after his sea lion outfit.

Geo. W. Phelps and family went to the Lighthouse Sunday, and spent a very pleasant day.

Mr. Hannekrat, of Long Prairie, spent a few days on the beach the last of the week.

Mr. Geo. Higgins was at Netarts Sunday.

Isaac Wells, of South Prairie, spent Saturday and Sunday on the beach.

Campers are arriving on the beach almost every day. There is a good prospect of Netarts beach having quite a crowd this season.

ELAINE.

J. T. Moon returned home from the logging camp.

Mr. Jas. Patterson is clearing in town.

John Creecy went to Sheridan to meet his mother, who has been visiting relatives in the valley, among whom is her aged father.

Mr. Jones was in our midst last Saturday.

Virgil Chapman is working for R. O. Richards.

Guess the Grippe has left Blaine to visit more places where it can hold on better.

Dee Moon reports how he nearly broke his arm while on the excursion. It is too bad, Dee, you must not be so careless next time.

What nice weather. Surely Uncle Soul feels real mean for sending frost and rain and will now give us nice weather to pay up for it, but we must not flatter our Dear Uncle, for he might get angry and send some more rain and that would spoil our hay.

Sidney Moon went to Tillamook last Friday and purchased a $20 camera.

We chanced to see the smiling face of Ralph Bunday. What made him smile so? Had he succeeded in winning the? We went say any more for fear of making him feel angry with your correspondent.

Mr. Wm. Kimball has come in from Dallas to visit with his daughter, Miss Mary, who is living with Pearl Coulson and family.

The only sport that amuses Blainites is barking trees.

Wm. Thun was down from Honeybearville, but has no more bee stories for us; he thinks one will last a while yet.

Now, Sidney, you should not take so many pictures next time as you come out from town and cause your father to take a lantern and go and hunt you. After ten it isn't best for little chaps like you to drive so late. You must always get home before ten and not play so long, it looks better.

BEAVER.

Beaver is to celebrate the Fourth of July with a big picnic and speaking. At 10:30 a.m., opening address, then song, "My Country 'Tis of Thee," reading of the Declaration of Independence; speech by Elder Ernest Thorngren, of Tillamook; roast veal by Rev. C. Mills for his old friends, neighbors and all who wish to join in the repast. Afternoon, songs, recitations, speeches and general amusements.

Hello! A new mail carrier, Thurman Coulson.

Beaver will be rather lonesome for the next week or ten days, as J. R. Finley and his family, Rev. Armstrong and family and others will leave this Wednesday for Wheatland to attend the U.B. annual conference.

Oh! My, my! If the people of the east and middle west could only believe how free we are here in Tillamook from either cold or heat, electric storm, drouth, and where crop failure is unknown, and cheap lands, what a rush there would be.

W. A. Sailing's new barn, which is nearing completion, is a decided improvement.

Two men from near Newburg are now at Blaine looking at the country with a view of locating.

We are glad to note that Arthur Jackson's child is better at this writing.

Marcus Swab drove a band of sheep through Beaver in route to his ranch a few days since.

NEHALEM.

Born, on the 7th inst., to the wife of N. P. Alley, a daughter.

There are three gasoline launches on the river now. The tug brought in a pleasure launch for a member of the company.

Mr. Robitch has a son-in-law and his family visiting him. They came with their own rig from Idaho.

Miss Esma and Dudley Newell returned home on Sunday from Albany, where they have been attending college.

Miss G. E. Newell closed a term of School in Dist. 5 on Friday last.

The Hon's. J. W. Maxwell and J. Voorhees visited Nehalem last week, where they attended White Clover Grange, and in the evening Mr. Voorhees spoke publicly on the work of the Grange, advising all farmers to belong, it being the only organization working for their benefit.

Repeal Of Geary Act.

NEW YORK, June 15.—The Tribune says: The Chinese in the United States are preparing for an organization fight to obtain the absolute repeal of the Geary exclusion act at the coming session of Congress. The movement was started in this city early in the week, and it is expected to spread rapidly to Philadelphia, Chicago, Portland, Seattle, San Francisco and other cities having large Chinese population.

A powerful organization has been effected among the Chinese merchants of this city. Within the next two weeks every one of the 15,000 Chinese here will be asked to sign a carefully prepared memorial to the United States Government asking that the exclusion act be repealed. The memorial will protest in the strongest possible terms against having the act extended for 20 years from the date of its expiration in 1902. It will be forwarded to the Government, along with similar memorials prepared in other cities, through Wu Ting Fan, the Chinese Minister at Washington.

Snowing in Colorado.

DENVER, June 15.—Dispatches from Leadville, Cripple Creek and other places in the mountains say that fully a foot of snow fell last night at many points. It was the heaviest snowfall ever known in June since a record has been kept. The weather is mild to day and dangerous floods may result.

In this city and throughout the eastern part of the state there was an unusually heavy rainfall, which will be of great benefit to the range.

Pueblo was the center of a severe hail-storm. In places the hail drifted to a depth of eight inches, and snow shovels were brought out to clean the sidewalks.

Much damage was done by hail to crops in the vicinity of Boulder and Longmont.

Surprised by Boers.

LONDON, June 16.—Lord Kitchener has cabled from Pretoria, under today's date as follows:

"Near Welmansrust, 20 miles north of Middleburg, 250 Victoria Mounted Rifles from General Beaton's column were surprised in camp at Steenkoolspruit by a superior force of Boers at 7:30 P. M. short range and poured a deadly fire into the camp, killing two officers and 16 men and wounding four officers and 38 men, of whom 28 were slightly wounded. Only two officers and 50 men escaped to General Beaton's camp. The remainder were taken prisoners and released. Two pompoms were captured by the enemy. Full details have not yet been received."

It is estimated that repairs to the Oregon, which has just arrived home from the Orient, rendered necessary by the damage sustained when wrecked in the Gulf of Pe Chi Li, will require about six months on the drydock and cost fully $250,000. It is intended to present the

TO PREVENT DECAY.
Wood Preserver Used by Uncle Sam on Yamhill River Work.

Merits of Avenarius Carbolinum Recognized by National, State and Municipal Governments.

The fame of Avenarius Carbolinum has steadily extended, as the only bona fide preserver of wood, since its discovery in Germany thirty years ago. It has stood all tests of climate, soil and water and steadily lived down all pretended rivals. Today it is not only employed in all countries for the preservation of wood used for household articles such as houses, barns, fences, etc., but the national governments, both of Europe and America, have recognized its value in saving public constructions from decay. Following their example cities and counties have also adopted avenarius carbolinum for bridges, pavements, etc., and the leading ship builders and railroad companies have shown their faith in its merits by treating ship timbers, cars, telegraph poles and ties with the same never failing preventative against climatic decay and rapacious wood boring vermin, both of land and water.

Great bodies move slowly, and only act after mature deliberation. It may therefore be safely stated that government and corporations did not employ avenarius carbolinum until fully convinced of its money saving as well as wood preserving qualities. Private individuals desirous of lengthening the life of wood work and at the same time curtailing expenses, need not fear to follow the precedents established.

Recent local examples proving the truth of the above statements are not wanting. The reconstructed Madison street bridge in Portland has been treated with avenarius carbolinum, as has also the pavement at the intersection of four streets in that city where the heaviest street car and wagon traffic converge. The latter use of the compound was made at the earnest solicitation of street car managers who confidently look for gratifying results.

The gentlemen in charge of the United States engineer department for Oregon are now applying avenarius carbolinum to the dams and lock work on the Yamhill river, a flattering tribute to its merits which was certainly not extended until searching investigation satisfied the authorities that it was a measure of practical economy.

With such examples before them it would appear that the individual is foolish and the official almost culpable who does not protect his own, or the taxpayer's pockets by using this compound, thus saving from decay, and lengthening the life of all frame structures for which thus saving from decay, and lengthening the life of all frame structures for which he is individually or officially responsible.

Fisher Thorsen & Co., of Portland, Or., are sole Pacific coast agents for avenarius carbolinum, and it can be found at WADE & BIGGS, Tillamook, Or., who will gladly supply information regarding its accomplishments.
