charters between the two ports is one dollar per thousand feet in favor of Grays Harbor.

The loss thus occasioned to Tillamook shippers during about six months of the year 1900 was $7,000. The loss for the first five months of the present year has been practically $5,000.

To this absolute direct loss must be added the undetermi-nate injury resultant from the refusal of ship-owners to make any charters during sometimes five months in the year, and the consequent paralyzing of our lumber industry during that period.

One milling firm alone, the Truckee Lumber Co. of San Francisco, has lost since the inception of its business $129,000, by reason of difference in freights, and $275,000 through inability to obtain charters at any price.

Citizens of other states are directly interested in the improvement of our Bar and Harbor. Lumberman of Michigan own two billion feet in Tillamook county. In New York one an a half billion is owned; in Wisconsin about one billion; in Pennsylvania one billion. California, Washington and other states all have large holdings in our timber lands and all this capital is tied up, until our shipping facilities are sufficient to permit wholesale lumbering, amd when that time comes, all of these holders will become employers and the direct benefit to employees will far surpass anyother item of benefit to be credited to extensive improvements of this port.

Lumber can not be profitably shipped to San Francisco in vessels of less than fourteen feet draft. Vessels engaged in foreign lumber trade have a draft of from 16 to 24 feet. For the fourteen foot draft of vessels there must be 18 feet of water at least on the bar, while for the foreign trade not less than 25 feet of water is necessary.

As a matter of financial jus ness: The total amount of mon ey appropriated and used upon Tillamook bay has been the paltry sum of $78,700

As against this the General Government has received from cash entries for the sale of lands within the boundaries of Tillamook county over one half million dollars.

As a business proposition: The present amount of standing timber within Tillamook County and tributary to Tillamook Bay as shown by figures of theUnited States Engineers Department heretofore given, fifteen billion one hundred and twenty million feet. The United States then, has this amount of standing timber as one of its wealth producing resources. The present stumpage value thereof is one and a half million of dollars.

The establishmnt and maintenance of a channel across Tillamook Bar carrying thirty feet of water opens and renders immediately available to the commerce of the world, this amount of timber. Its stumpage value then becomes fifteen million of dollars. This would be the actual value of the same amount of similar timber available to such a port as Grays Harbor or Coos Bay.

Quaint Features of Life.

A Kansas school board received the following letter the other day from one of the teachers: "I would like to have the refusal of the school as long as you are willing to hold it for me, though I cant't say positively that I will not teach, nor positively that I will. If I am married, as I think I will be, of course I will not want the school. But you know the old story about many a slip, and I would hate to be out of a job as well as the other."

There is a gambling house in Philadelphia which employs an automatic church organ instead of a lookout man. "The scheme," says the Record, "has worked beautifully and neither the neighbors nor the 'fly cops' of the district are onto the game. When the organ is started you might think in passing the house that a prayer meeting or revival service was in progress behind the closed blinds, for it plays nothing but hymns. All the evening it switches from 'Nearer, My God to Thee' to 'Rock of Ages,' and then to 'From Greenland's Icy Mountains.' And all the time the chips are rattling and the 'kitty' is growing fat. Think of raiding a 'joint' where an organ was playing 'Nearer, My God, to Thee?"

Some of the tenures in England are very curious. A farm near Broadhouse, in Yorkshire, pays annually to the landlord a snowball in midsummer and a red rose at Christmas. The manor of Foston is held by a rental of two arrows and a loaf of bread. An estate in the north of England is held by the exhibition before a court every seven years of a certain vase owned by the family; another, in Suffolk, by an annual rental of two white doves.

The following allegation in a bill for divorce against a wife was held by the supreme court of Washington not to state any legal ground for divorce: "She was quarrelsome, vicious in disposition, murderous in threats against the plaintiff and his parents, hysterical and ungovernable in temper, crazy in her actions, and by her causeless and unprovoked boisterousness, screaming, hallooing and other wild conduct, by day and night, an intolerable nuisance to all her neighbors."

This reference to a notable English woman, recently deceased, is reprinted from the London Sketch merely as an example of the humor which sometimes manifests itself in the coupling of incongruities. "The duchess of Cleveland literally adored her beautiful historic home, Battle Abbey, and in a work published by her she attempted to give a complete list of those Norman and Saxon knights who took part in the great fight. But the present interested her as vividly as the past and she greatly valued a fine donkey given to her by Lord Kitchener."

When dealers in leather speak of colored men they mean black men, as other folks do, but when they speak of colored leather they mean leather that is not black. One of them is quoted by the Shoe and Leather Reporter as saying that there is so much sameness to the black shoe that retailers miss the colored one.

"Practically," says an undertaker quoted by the Philadelphia Record, "every corpse nowadays is embalmed. Perhaps not one body in a hundred is buried without having the fluid injected, and that settles it. You won't read your obituary notices then. People are coming to realize this more and more, and the old dread of being buried alive is fast dying out. But these nervous individuals have got to have some post-mortem bugaboo to worry them. If it isn't one thing it's another, and as soon as you convince them that they are not going to be buried alive they get grave robbers on the brain. That's why we are now making a specialty of burglar proof caskets. Fact, I assure you."

Cleveland, O., has a cemetery maintained on a plain that is about to be imitated in Seattle. It is a large, level, well situated plot of ground, owned and maintained by the city in which buriel lots are sold for the uniform price of 75 cents a square foot. The matter of location does not figure in the price, although we believe that purchasers may choose among unoccupied plots. The price includes perpetual care at the expense of the city to the extent of seeding to grass and keeping mown and in good order. For planting flowers and shrubs there is an extra price. This municipal enterprise is reported to be self supporting low as the charges, when compared with those in cemeteries owned by private corporations, when the item of perpetual care is secured. The city of Seattle has purchased a field of 100 acres to be devoted to burials of similar reasonable rates
