The people of the state of Oregon will be pleased to hear that the American Book Company has met its Waterloo, for it failed to secure any of the text-book awards at the hands of the commissioners.

To accomplish its ends this company worked politics and did no end of leg pulling, succeeding in its efforts by making the people pay big money for text books. The American Book Company ran up against a snag in the text book commission last week, and finding that bribery would not carry it through, had to take a back seat.

"If Capt. Dawson and the conductor of the 'Weather Reporter,' Bro. Baker, will only keep their hands off the weather for a few days now, the farmers will be thankful."—Herald. Such absurdity and silliness is beyond the comprehension of the person in charge of the Headlight this week. Please explain, Mr. Herald, how these gentlemen can possibly get their hands on the weather. There was no diabolical plot in the letter about the weather you broke into addressed to the Headlight. Now, sir, please apologise, or throw some intelligent light upon how these gentlemen, or any human person, can change the weather.

Rev. J. V. Milligan, Presbyterian Sunday School missionary, who was on his way to this city to attend presbytery, received a telephone message on reaching Fairdale, that his son Curtis, a boy eight years of age, had been drowned in the Willamette River on Friday with another boy by the name of Fred Fritsch. They had been playing on some logs and one over-balancing they fell into the water and were drowned before assistance could reach them. Mr. Milligan turned back on receiving the sad news, as those who attended the presbytery were personally acquainted with the family, it was sad news to them also.

A pretty wedding occurred on Wednesday evening, July 17, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Watson, when their daughter, Miss Nettie Watson, was united in marriage to Mr. Charles Hofert, of Elma, Washington. The marriage service was performed by Rev. B. F. Peck, of the Methodist church, in presence of many invited guests. Immediately after the ceremony and congratulations a delicate lunch was served. The Headlight joins in congratulations and best wishes. Mr. and Mrs. Hofert will leave on the next boat for their home in Washington.

July 14th will ever be a memorable day to the Presbyterians of this city. It marks the joyous events of the dedication of their house of worship, the first visit of the Presbytery and the first installation of a pastor. Nature seemed to sympathize with the festive occasion, and arraying herself in all the beauty of one of those balmy summer days which makes Tillamook the most delightful summer resort on the Pacific, she certainly never smiled more brightly upon those who had looked forward to this day with happiest anticipation.

The services in the church, which was beautifully decorated by the ladies, opened with the best Sunday-school session that ever filled the place. Then followed the dedication service, at which Rev. W. C. Wright, of Seaside, the Moderator of the Portland Presbytery, presided. Rev. E. P. Hill, D.D., of the First Presbyterian Church of Portland, preached the sermon, a discourse full of inspiration, which made a powerful impression upon the large audience that had come to hear him. Rev. W. C. Holt, D.D., the Synodical Missionary of Oregon, by a few words gave an opportunity to the people to contribute to the debt which some large hearted men of the congregation have generously assumed. A meeting of the session took place at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, at which six persons were welcomed to the membership of the church. Following this was the celebration of the Lord's Supper. At 7 o'clock a most spirited meeting of the Y.P.S.C.E., led by Rev. A. Robinson, of Hillsboro, was followed by the evening service, which consisted of the Ordination and Installation of Rev. C. P. Metzler. Dr. Hill preaching the sermon; Rev. Wright preparing the questions; Rev. Robinson charging the pastor; and Dr. Holt charging the people. To the enjoyment of the visiting ministers and friends was added an excursion on Monday to the beach and another on Tuesday to the lighthouse.

Church Goes up in Smoke. FOREST GROVE, July 13.—As the result of a fire, believed to be of incendiary origin, the First Congregational Church people of this city are without a house of worship. This church which is one of the finest church edifices in the city, was burned to the ground at 1:30 o'clock this morning. The loss is about $5000, partially covered by insurance.

Circumstances strongly indicate that the building was set on fire, and there are many here who believe that the destruction of this property is the result of the bitter strife that has been existing between the church and saloon elements of this city for several years past. This strife has been more bitter during the past year, and the pastor of the First Congregational Church has been fearless in his denunciation of the liquor traffic as conducted by drug stores.

As there has been no fire in the church building for several weeks the fire could not have been of accidental origin. Two circumstances support the theory of incendiarism. One is the fact that the fire alarm wire connected with the church bell was cut, and the other is the fact that the church doors were tied up with an old pair of overalls. These acts of vandalism could not have been committed without a purpose.

There is little question that the destruction of this church will intensify the feeling between the liquor and anti-liquor elements, and that the crusade against drug stores selling liquor will be waged with greater energy than ever before. Feeling is intense and further trouble is expected.
