CAPT. JOSEPH J. DAWSON,
Voluntary Observer.

The Assassin Collapsed.

AUBURN, N. Y., Sept. 27.—Leon F. Czolgosz, assassin of President McKinley, in the custody of Sheriff Caldwell, of Erie County, and 21 deputies, arrived in Auburn at 3:15 A. M. The prison is only about 50 yards from the depot. Awaiting the arrival of the train there was a crowd of about 200 people. Either for fear of the crowd, which was not very demonstrative, or from sight of the prison, Czolgosz's legs gave out, and two deputies were compelled practically to carry the man into the prison. Inside the gates his condition became worse, and he was dragged up the stairs and into the main hall. He was placed in a sitting posture on the bench while the handcuffs were being removed, but he fell over and moaned and groaned, evincing the most abject terror.

As soon as the handcuffs were unlocked the man was dragged into the principal keeper's office. As in the case of all prisoners the officers immediately proceeded to strip him and put on the new suit of clothes. During this operation Czolgosz cried and yelled, making the prison corridors echo with evidence of his terror.

The prison physician, Dr. John Guerin, examined the man and ordered his removal to the cell in the condemned row, which he will occupy until he is taken to the electric chair. The doctor declared that the man was suffering from fright and terror, but said that he was shamming to some extent.

The collapse of the murderer was a surprise to everyone. En route from Buffalo he showed no indication of breaking down. He ate heartily of sandwiches and smoked cigars when not eating. He talked some and expressed regret for his crime. He said he was especially sorry for Mrs. McKinley.

Czolgosz reiterated his former statement that he had had no accomplices and declared that he had never heard of the man under arrest in St. Louis, who claimed to have tied the handkerchief over his hand concealing the pistol with which the President was shot. He says the handkerchief was not tied. He went behind the Temple of Music, arranged the handkerchief so as to hide the weapon, and then took his place in the crowd.

To Jailer Mitchell he sent this message to his father: "Tell him I am sorry I left him such a bad name."

Czolgosz was in a normal condition this afternoon and seemed to have fully recovered from his collapse. There are five cells for condemned men in the prison and Czolgosz was placed in the only cell now vacant, so all are now occupied. Two keepers are constantly on guard in the room which is separated from the main prison, but to guard against an attempt on Czolgosz's part to commit suicide, two more guards have been added, and one will constantly sit in front of Czolgosz's cell and will have a key so that any attempt at self-destruction may be frustrated at once.
